CORRUPTION.—Our cotemporaries have another nut to crack in the following item, which we take from the Washington correspondence of the Philadelphia North American:

"Although the South has heretofore refused in the main to vote lands to the States or Territories for railroad purposes, when Mr. Toombs, who shared those prejudices, under a sudden impulse stood sponsor for the Minnesota bill, his sectional associates joined with him and rushed it through the the Senate without hesitation. It came to the House, and late in the night, Alabama and other States graciously concluded to avail themselves of the chance for a grab. Accordingly, amendments were made giving them grants, which the Senate affirmed. So, with all the cry of corruption, and some evidence of it, too, the Minnesota bill has been carried."

After such proceedings as these, Gilbert, Edwards and Matteson may congratulate themselves that they escaped the contamination of such persons by resigning, and Matteson may even be proud of his vote of censure.—N. J. Republican.

Our exchange papers say, that, although the last year was leap year, the number of marriages in the course of it was less than in ordinary years. This seems to prove either that the women are not so good at courting as the men, or that the men are harder to court than the women. Which is it?—Louisville Journal.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 6, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. I feel as well a Webster as they do me, the latest in words knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRERIE,
Clerk of Steamer Chevlen.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb. 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we know of. Their action being often too prompt to quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of Bilious disease in which I could not safely and promptly yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HAVELOCK, LV. CO., MICH., NOV. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills were good for me in every way. They hurt none, but did good wherever they went. They saved my life. I was sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. Was then commended to try your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. I do not hesitate to say that I owe my life and that with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being benefited at all, even there is no doubt in my mind, in my town, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Imparity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1854.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative, to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of N. Orleans, Feb. 4, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has also been greatly afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA HORSTING.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawks, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your child has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs, which took the form of acute neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of my friends, I tried your Pills. Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful effects of its improper use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Yet, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. It is from these grounds we believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your cold while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable tyrant that fastened on the vitals, calls your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disease, and as they know the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell upon them to secure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and offer it to those who rely on the best skill they can furnish for their cure.

Let the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fanders & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and verify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another feature which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week and month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the commission comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prize vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will be filled and the result of the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Possessing one of the LARGEST AND BEST GALLERIES, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of life. This process which I have adopted, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. G. BURKE.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers connected with Patents, executed on the most liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions. Advice given free to inventors in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, which cannot be had at any other agency of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that some of the MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND SKILL, the subscriber feels abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The long experience of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, together with twelve library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I was Commissioner of the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons applying for that capacity who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the ablest Solicitors of Patents in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of securing their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MAGSON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the state of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. The object is to give the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same reaches the office. The order to include one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. Drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to prevent prizes. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Democrat, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m13 y

Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.
Employing Two Hundred Men,
and finishing
Eighty Instruments per Week.
BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000
of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter all Melodeons made by us will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55

"Messrs. Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials in the shape of letters, and presents, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little of our advertisement, for we seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 16th Oct., 1855.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming Instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodt, Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it the finest and most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily receiving from us, we assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

IN PORTABLE CASE:

Four octave Melodeon, from C to C	$45
Four and a half octave, " C to F	60
Five octave Melodeon, " F to F	75
Five octave, double reed, " F to F	150

IN PIANO CASE:

WASHINGTON AND KANSAS.

We continue our extracts from various interesting statements.

A Washington item of March 16, says:

Gen. Orville Clark, of New York, and several others of that class of Hard Shell politicians, are spoken of as successors to Col. Geary. What will be done could be predicted without the gift of prophecy. Whether the civil war will be renewed, depends wholly upon the strength of the Free State party. If it shall prove strong enough after the Spring emigration to defend itself from the spurious legislation, it will remain in the territory, and may, possibly, by great energy and wisdom, save Kansas to the Union, as a free State. Otherwise, the party will be annihilated and the men composing it will be driven out, and Kansas will be closed to settlement from the North.

Lastly, we give the following from the New York Courier and Enquirer.

The report of the day is, that Governor Geary has resigned. This fact, or his dismissal, was certain. Governor Geary accepted his office upon the condition that the actitious and ruffian "laws" of Kansas should be suspended whenever they came into conflict with his efforts to pacify the Territory. He made this demand after examining the alleged "laws," and after consultation with Mr. Buchanan. General Pierce acceded to the conditions, and promised also to remove Lecompte, Donaldson and other officers, whose course had produced the civil war then raging. This information was given at the time of Col. Geary's acceptance, by one of his Pennsylvanian friends, and we have no doubt of its perfect correctness. It is well known that all these pledges were violated. Geary had hardly reached the territory, before an order was issued by the President and the Cabinet, confirming the validity of the ruffian legislation, and declaring the free-state men to be outlaws. Governor Geary substantially adopted the policy of this order, though he did so with great judgment and discretion, and with specious pretensions to fairness. He dismissed the Missouri invaders, whom he found in arms, and who murdered free-state settlers under his very eyes, and persuaded them to leave the Territory. But he seized and threw into prison 138 free-state men, who had been engaged in armed conflict with the invaders; he appointed an election for Whitfield, as delegate without authority of law, and recognized an election for a new legislature, from which all free-state men were excluded. His subsequent course was necessarily a failure. The pretended legislature, which he had aided to construct, was composed of the most abandoned pro-slavery demagogues in the territory, and as soon as they had organized, they seized the Executive as well as legislative power, and they treated Gov. Geary with studied contempt, and even with gross insult. They passed the most atrocious laws over his veto by unanimous votes, among which was one declaring all resistance to their authority punishable with death. One of their creatures cursed the Governor, and spat upon him in their own legislative hall; and they endorsed and approved the outrage. In regard to this affair, there is no rational doubt that it was Sherrard's intention to assassinate the Governor, and there is reason to believe that that purpose was known to the Legislature, which applauded his conduct. In addition, Lecompte was retained by authority of the Senate. Finding the dignity and power of his office thus insulted, and his life in danger, the Governor has resigned.

The whole series of crimes, blunders and misfortunes, has a well known obvious cause. It is the recognition and adoption by the Federal Administration of the Kansas "laws." The moment you admit that the bodies of men foisted upon Kansas in 1855 and 1856 were legislatures, and that their acts were laws, that instant you render inevitable the horrible crimes, and the train of evils which have made the brief annals of Kansas the blackest page in our national history. It is futile and hopeless to talk of removing or ameliorating them while those scandalous edicts remain and are enforced.

In the judgment of single minded men, there was but one course for Mr. Buchanan to adopt, which was the bold and honest one of declaring them, by proclamation, void and of no effect, and ordering a new election under the organic act, with measures for the preservation of peace as experience has shown to be necessary. The failure to do this has left the door open for trouble, whose magnitude and duration no man can foretell.

☞ A young man went to Worcester, Mass., from Oxford on Friday last, became intoxicated, lost his money in gambling, and then started for home. Feeling dispirited in his drunken and penniless condition, he partook of a drug in the cars, in order to kill himself, and died during the night, He leaves a wife and three children.

☞ Elihu Burrit had engaged to lecture on slavery at Detroit, Mich., last week, but when he arrived, found the church closed against him, from the impression that his speech would be political. It was the first time that any church had been closed against him.

HOTELS AT WASHINGTON.—The bill for a man and his wife, who occupied a parlor and sleeping room one day and two nights, was just $70. The rats could not afford to stay in that house.

EMIGRANTS FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.—It is estimated, says an exchange paper, that at least 4000 persons will leave New Hampshire the present season for the west; among them an unusually large proportion of mechanics,—rather a random estimation, we think.

☞ Thomas A. Comstock, of New Canaan, Conn., has invented a paint which is claimed to be as durable for outside work as the best linseed oil paint, and can be manufactured ready for use at a cost not exceeding two cents per pound.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE FRIEND INDEED.

We record this week the death of Miss NANCY SHERBURNE. She was a faithful domestic in several families in Portsmouth, and had the care of James Kennard, Jr. through his ten years confinement. The devotion to his wants excited in him feelings of affection which he did not wish to limit to his earthly pilgrimage. It was not a sympathy arising from congenial age, tastes or education—for while Mr. K. was a young man of great literary attainments and an effective writer, Nancy was not able even to write her own name. Mr. K. gave vent to his grateful feelings in the following, which was published in the Knickerbocker in 1846.

A nurse more tender, friend more true,
Man never saw, nor never can see,
Than ever unto me has been,
Through many a dark and painful scene,
The good, warm-hearted NANCY!

Her kind attention never flags,
She taileth in no exigency;
No mother to her child could be Devoted more than she to me,
The generous hearted NANCY!

When sorely crippled in each limb,
As one may feel, but none can fancy,
She lifts me then, with gentle care,
From chair to couch, from couch to chair,
The dear, kind-hearted NANCY!

When racked with pain in every joint,
She practiseth true necromancy;
And by her soothing kindness then
Drives pain away, brings ease again:
A true physician NANCY!

When melancholy fills my mind
With many a dark and dreary fancy,
With cheerful voice and laughter gay
She drives my gloomy thoughts away:
A true consoler NANCY!

Of a large portion of my heart
She hath the rightful occupancy;
And there, while life and memory remain,
Her image shall its place retain,
The noble-hearted NANCY!

When I am gone, O, may it prove
No idle and unfounded fancy,
That, whether in her joy or woe,
She'll think of him who lieth low:
I know then will, dear NANCY!

And when I reach the "better land,"
Where sorrow hath no occupancy,
My joy can never be complete
Till in those realms of bliss I meet
With thee again, dear NANCY!

On Wednesday last, the remains of Nancy were followed to the grave by her numerous friends—According to the request of him of whom she so long had the care, her grave was made by the side of his resting place. Vain is the effort to raise the veil which might disclose the realization of the closing stanza. Nor can we yet discern how much of our future happiness may arise from the faithful discharge of duties in positions which we may now regard as distressing and undesirable.

The report of the Election in New-Hampshire is hailed with great satisfaction by the friends of republican principles in every part of the Union. The Albany Evening Journal, in announcing the thorough overthrow of the pro-slavery party in New-Hampshire, thus compliments New-Hampshire:

The vaulted basement of the Capitol, where the Supreme Court sits, is not the only place where judgment has been passed on the Slavery question. There is a higher Court where they administer a higher Law. Down from a Court room whose pillars are Granite Hills, with capitals of Snow, and whose roof is the arch of Heaven, comes the verdict of the Tribunal of Last Resort—THE PEOPLE. Here is their decision:

No More Slave Territory!
No More Slave States!
A Republican Governor!
A Republican Legislature!
All Republican State Officers!
All Republican Congressmen!

MUNICIPAL POLITICAL YEAR.—A correspondent suggests that on some accounts, it would be well to commence our political year for city business with the first of January: in which case our municipal elections might be held in December. We have been requested to throw out this idea for public consideration and discussion; also the suggestion of the fourth Tuesday in March for the election of city officers.

WINNINGSTADT CABBAGE.—As the seeds of this variety were among some papers we have recently received from the Patent Office, to be distributed, the following notice, from the Lewisburg (Pa.) Chronicle, will be interesting to those who may obtain them:

"This is a new variety of cabbage. It is a very early kind, with small heads of a sugar-loaf form, and very compact and solid, and of course heavy for its size or bulk—so compact that no worm or other insect can get between its leaves, and hence its interior, which is of surpassing whiteness, is always nice and clean, possessing a richness of flavor equal, if not superior, to any variety of cabbage yet known in these parts. I would advise all lovers of cabbage and sour krout to procure this variety, and regret that I will have no seed for distribution until next year. The Winningstadt Cabbage drew a premium, and was much admired, at our late Northumberland Agricultural Fair, for its pretty form and solidity."

INDIAN CAPTIVES.—We learn by the N. Y. Journal of Commerce that some showmen had confined in that city thirteen Oneida Indians, among them two women, four boys and an infant, with a view of taking them to Europe, against their wishes. Mr. Meriam was prompt in their rescue. The police had a desperate struggle, and received bodily injury in rescuing them from the ruffians. They were however all rescued and Mr. Meriam publishes a card in behalf of the Indian Chief who came in pursuit of his sons and people.

Elder Elias Smith, first preacher in the building now called the Temple, who died many years since, preached all day last Sabbath in the Academy Hall. So says the lady medium who uttered the words. Would it not be well to invite Sr. . . to preach next Sabbath, and more fully expound Acts 16: 16?

A United States Custom House is to be built at St. Paul, Minnesota, to cost $40,000, with rooms for the United States Courts and post office.

SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1857.

SECTIONALISM DEAD!

The Washington Union says,—and let all the rebels tremble,—

There was but one thing needed to give to the result in the Presidential contest the force of an absolute and final settlement of the sectional issue. That thing was the judgment of the Supreme Court in confirmation of the Democratic doctrines which had received the popular endorsement.—The decision in the Dred Scott case has furnished the closing and clinching confirmation needed, and henceforth sectional fanaticism cannot maintain its warfare without arraying itself distinctly against the constitution. The people have decided that sectional agitation must cease, and the highest judicial authority has declared that the people have decided in accordance with the constitution.

Now let the people of the free (?) States give three cheers. Slavery alone is national, great is slavery. Freedom, free schools, free speech, are all sectional and rebellious. Again the Union says:

We feel, therefore, that the danger is for the present over; that sectionalism is virtually dead—that it has been crushed out by the popular verdict in the presidential election; and that the decision of the Supreme Court has left nothing vital in republicanism.

We shall see about that, in due time.—But had this famous Taney decision been made one month earlier, New Hampshire would have given one or two thousand more majority for the republican ticket than she has actually given.

☞ We stated last week that by the recent decision of the Supreme Court, in the Dred Scott case, persons of African descent have no right to vote at our State elections, a th ugh they may have been born and always resided in the State.

The Portsmouth Chronicle copies this statement, credits it to the Dover Gazette, and says it is incorrect. Let us see.

The Supreme Court have decided that persons of the description named are not citizens of the United States.

The Constitution of this State restricts the right of suffrage to the "free male inhabitants," and the Revised Statutes defines an inhabitant as a native or naturalized citizen of the United States."—Dover Enquirer.

We have not yet seen an authentic statement of what Judge Taney has presumed to decide—but if he has attempted to touch our rights of voting in New Hampshire, directly or indirectly, he has "travelled out of his record,"—and his decision, so called, decides nothing in the premises.—He may mean to do badly enough—that we can well believe of a man who was placed on the bench as the direct reward of an illegal act and a special plea in defence of it—but he has as strange an idea of law as he has of gospel, if he has presumed to do what is so utterly out of his power.

If there is a clumsy blot on the Revised Statutes, that virtually sets aside our State Constitution, let our General Court erase it, and pass a good act in June, r gulating this whole matter, including a few salutary provisions for personal safety, the occupancy of jails, &c.

MR. BUCHANAN'S HEALTH.—The N. Y. Courier & Enquirer's correspondent at Washington, March 15, says:

"Mr. Buchanan has somewhat impaired his health by his over-zealous attention to business, not having yet fully recovered from the attack of the National Hotel epidemic. He informs applicants whose petitions reach his private ear, that their papers will be taken up in due order. A candidate for a first class post in New York tells me that he has engaged rooms until the first of July, judging that his turn will not be among the first."

The same writer says, of the applicants for office in Boston and New York city, "their names would fill a very large sized party dictionary."

The City officers of Washington, called on President Buchanan; and in reply to their address, he said, if Providence spared his life, he hoped to continue to live with them on terms of harmony and good will. On parting he remarked:—"Gentlemen, I should press you to remain, if I had not some pressing friends awaiting my return up stairs."

The Washington correspondent draws curious pictures of the crowds coming.—One says,—

"There are New Yorkers everywhere.—The rural districts contribute an abundant quota, and the City of New York holds not back. From Niagara to Montauk, and from Oswego to Ogdensburg, they come drifting along, train after train, with carpet bags, trunks and shawls, and the inevitable New York morning papers, some of them well lined with salaries, and apprehensive of the awful decree, "Rotation in office;" but with far the most slender pocket-books, empty bellies and cadaverous forms, yet armed with bundles upon bundles of recommendations and petitions, swelling the mighty crowd which surges against the doors of the Presidential mansion, begging for office."

☞ In the Stoughton Poisoning Case, Miss Amanda Drake, the young lady arrested with Briggs, appeared as a witness before the Coroner's jury on Saturday.—The Boston Chronicle says that the examination occupied several hours, and was listened to with eager attention. Miss Drake gave her testimony in a ready, straight-forward manner, and certainly shows remarkable self-possession for a young lady under arrest for participation in a horrible crime. When told by Coroner Gay that she need answer no questions which would criminate herself, she replied with a smile, that she would answer all questions, as she could not criminate herself.

☞ The Coroner's jury, on the Stoughton poisoning case, returned a verdict that Mrs. Lavinia Briggs was poisoned by her husband, Hosea B. Briggs. He is undergoing examination on the charge.

Miss Amanda Drake, arrested as his accomplice, was discharged, the justice seeing no cause to hold her.

☞ Wednesday afternoon, in Boston, a Mr. Lynch of Roxbury fell into the company of Huxford, alias Sullivan, notorious for his assault upon R. H. Dana, Jr. Lynch and Sullivan ate together at the former's expense. After dinner, says the Herald, Lynch invited his companion to take some refreshment at the bar, when Huxford, as we learn, took the change which had been laid back for Lynch, and the latter remarked that it was all right if he wanted the money more than himself. This seems to have been the only provocation to the assault which followed shortly afterwards, when Huxford tripped up Mr. Lynch and cut a severe gash upon his forehead with a razor.

This Huxford was a patriot after the Brooks pattern, and attacked Dana to smite down free speech. He was one of the beautiful men selected to guard a fugitive slave, and so save the Union. Dana was the counsel for the slave, and when he made his plea, he told the truth about Huxford and his compeers, who were the emptyings of the stews and gruggeries and gambling holes of Boston. For this plea, Huxford attacked Dana, in true border ruffian style.—Mr. Lynch, (odd name,) got into this beautiful man's company, and reaped the fruits thereof.

☞ Mr. Boker of New York, whose daughter married John Dean the coachman, attempted to send her to Europe in the Persia on Wednesday, but the faithful husband applied to the police and had the premises watched all night. Dean (says the New York Post) is quite a modest, brisk, bright-looking youth of some twenty years of age. He has a slight brogue, and a decidedly red face, but there is no occasion for calling him either an adventurer or a villain—his sole faults being birth, and love.

☞ The Boston Bee has recently come out in new attire, made up in quarto form, a novelty among New England Dailies. Its type fresh from the foundry, giving impression to first class news, makes it a beautiful and attractive sheet. Its history is an instructive lesson—It has worked its way up from small beginnings to much influence and a high position.

Mr. Samuel F. Carll, one of the founders of the Bee, and also of the Boston Printers' Union, died of consumption last week, at Orange, Mass., aged 38.

☞ The Nashua Gazette says, speaking of the late election, "considering that no effort was made by the Democracy, the vote for Wells is highly creditable to the party."

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

Use Dr. Clough's Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint. A gentleman in West Stockbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"MR. RENNE—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those fits of 'blue devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kick somebody, especially if young persons were about, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your Columbian Pills, and thank God yes and you too, they have cured me. I feel better, look better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and I verily believe them worth all the pills ever made!

These Pills are purely Vegetable!
These Pills expel disease and pain!
These Pills are capital for children!
These Pills are what Mothers need!
These Pills are useful in all diseases!
These Pills never fail to do good!

Sold by Druggists. 25 cents a box, or 5 boxes for $1. Orders addressed to all the pills ever made!

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

EXETER, Friday, March 20.

The Court came in on Monday, at three o'clock P. M., agreeably to adjournment. The afternoon was occupied in empanelling two new Juries.

On Tuesday, the case State v. Halpenny was taken up. He, it will be remembered, was indicted for assaulting and stealing from a sturdy little Milesian, named Smith, on High street, Portsmouth. The affair seems to have taken place in a street-row, after the regular Irish fashion. The case was argued by Marston for respondent, and Bell for State. A verdict of guilty of stealing from the body of Smith, was rendered on Wednesday.

Case State v. Samuel Drew, was then tried. D. was charged with stealing from the freight house of the B. & M. R. R. at New Market. The Jury found him guilty of the theft, to the amount of $15.50. Bell for State; Wood for respondent.

To-day No. 14,—Johnson & Handy vs. Eastern Railroad, is on trial. This action is brought against the defts., to recover damages for goods alleged to have been lost while being transported by them from Boston to Portsmouth. Hatch for plffs.—Hackett for defts.

MUNICIPAL.—In the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, various bills were approved, and papers past. The sum of $75 was voted to A. Q. Wendell, Chairman of the High School Building Committee, for his services. The account of Mr. George Thompson, City Liquor Agent, was presented and approved.

In the Common Council, a resolution of thanks was presented to the President, A. R. Hatch, and the Clerk, F. G. Beal, for their efficient services during the past year. —Gazette.

THE BRIG "MOLLY STARK."—Will be launched next week from Noble's Island, a neat brig of 170 tons, which has been built by Samuel Darton, Esq. She is owned by the builder and Capt. Samuel Cushman who is to take command of her. She is destined for the Cochin China trade, and will be one of the finest brigs ever seen in those waters, having been built of the very best material and with unusual care. She is named in honor of one of the most celebrated revolutionary women.

THE ALICE BELL.—The new ship built by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, and recently purchased by Capt. Daniel Marcy, will be called by the above name.

For the Chronicle.

A GENTLE HINT.

Mr. Chronicle:—Would not this be a good subject for a Lyceum Lecture?

"What kind of manners ought to be shown at public lectures, and what measures should be adopted to enforce them."

If such points are not settled, it is time to settle them. It is hard for a lecturer to be insulted and the offender be unrebuked. Can even a bad lecture warrant bad manners from any hearer? If the lecturer and the lecture be entitled to attention, praise, and gratitude; are not bad manners on the part of a hearer, entirely out of place, and deserving of exposure and bitter reproach? Why should any one go to a lecture to insult the lecturer and the audience, when all the rest of the world outside of the lecture-room, is open to him?—A duty incumbent on every one, in a public assembly, is decency of manners. If there be no law to rule those who are reckless of that duty, I would recommend, when a case of such recklessness shall occur, that the lecturer immediately take his seat;—that the presiding officers of the assembly should rise and announce that the lecturer and audience were annoyed by the noisy misconduct of certain individuals; and then that there be sent two officials to the seats of the disturbers, with a request that they will retire, or else promise to behave with propriety. The room of all such persons is better than their company. They had better stay at home till they have fully learned the lesson, that "Want of decency is want of sense."

Yours, AGGRIEVED.

☞ Cross street, in Exeter, has been changed by a vote of the town to Cass street, in compliment to Gen. Lewis Cass, who was born in a house on that street; and it is probable that his mother, a daughter of Theoplius Gilman, was born in the same house. Gen. Cass's father learnt the blacksmith's trade, and was afterwards a a major in the U. S. army.

We have had a Cass street in Portsmouth for several years.

MEMPHIS, March 13th.—The Arkansas river has overflowed its banks, and flooded the whole country, destroying stock and property to the amount of nearly $100,000. The levees at Cypruss Bend, Berryville, and along the Red Fork Bayou, are all carried away.

FROM EUROPE.

Steamer Alps, at Boston, has Liverpool dates to the 4th.

The most interesting news is the defeat of the Ministry upon Mr. Cobden's motion condemning the Chinese war. The vote was, for the motion, 263; against it, 247. Majority against the Government, 16.

Dispatches from China, show that the war is carried on with unrelenting severity on both sides.

The Chinese massacred eleven Europeans on board the steamer Thistle, and burnt the boat.

On the 12th of January the whole of the suburbs west of Canton were burnt by the British forces. In this service a party of the 59th regiment missed their way, and getting under the city wall were assailed with stones and matchlocks, losing two men killed, eleven severely wounded, and ten slightly wounded. A large fire had also taken place inside the city. The mandarins have issued in various districts the most bloodthirsty edicts against the English, and have offered large rewards to those who may succeed in assassination or incendiarism in Hong Kong.

A war between Spain and Mexico would appear to be almost certain. The Spanish Government does not desire to make the people responsible for atrocious acts, if the Mexican Government would only take energetic steps to repair them.

The Spanish legation in Mexico has been instructed to demand from the Mexican Government the punishment of the offenders and the indemnification of the Spanish subjects who have been the victims. But at the same time, fearing that this demand is not complied with, the expedition will altogether consist of thirty vessels of war, and will have a numerous army on board. The Spanish government deplores the necessity of resorting to such measures towards a nation united to Spain in blood, language and religion; but it hopes everybody will understand the obligation it is under to avenge the national dignity.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A letter was received here to-day from W. W. Drummond, U.S. Supreme Court Judge in Utah Territory, by the Administration. It gives a sad and deplorable picture of matters in that Territory.

The administration have had the matter under serious consideration, and will soon appoint a Governor for Utah, who will take sufficient military force into that territory to carry out the laws to the fullest extent.

Despatches were received from Kansas to-day, giving a detailed statement of complaints against Gov. Geary, who is charged with having become an unscrupulous partizan of the Free State party.

The Southern members of the Cabinet have agreed to insist on a Southern Governor to succeed Geary. Gen. McMullon of Virginia is spoken of as the man.

☞ Rev. Henry Wood, recently consul at Beirut, and formerly of this state, has been confirmed by the Senate as chaplain in the Navy—the reward of his certificate to Gen. Pierce's temperance and religion, between four and five years ago.

☞ Peterson's Ladies National Magazine has been received. This is a great favorite with the ladies, not only furnishing them a large amount of reading, but monthly specimens of needle work, of every conceivable variety.

RUN AWAY.—Owen O'Neal, the land shark, has run away, thereby forfeiting his bail of $1500. We learn that there are fatal errors in the indictment, which would have released him, had he not decamped. —Boston Telegraph.

☞ The New Jersey Senate have unanimously confirmed Wm. L. Dayton as Attorney General for that State, upon his renomination.

☞ The ladies of Manchester, N. H., 3120 in number, have presented a petition to suppress the rum traffic, to the City Council.

☞ Senator Pearce, of Maryland, is seriously ill at his hotel in Washington.

☞ We would call the attention of ladies to the Stock of Dry Goods of H. A. Bigelow, about to leave this city, advertised in another column, to be sold at auction—every day and evening till closed.—Among the Stock is a good assortment of Bonnets, Flowers and Ribbons, affording a rare opportunity to get a Spring Bonnet very cheap.

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.
THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite soliciting prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."
The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.
The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,
and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.
Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,
and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."
Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.
RECOMMENDATIONS.
MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 22, 1853.
MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10. 1853.
Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

For the West.
BENJAMIN NORTON
HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota and becoming acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than sold here. Or Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much larger there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.
Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.
80 acres in section 19, Township 102,
80 do. 18, do. 102,

Dr. Max Lagenschwartz writes an article in the New York News to show that good coffee is a powerful antidote to poison. He says, "If, for example, a patient swallows at seven o'clock a spoonful of Iodine preparation, and then takes, ten minutes after, only one spoonful of good coffee, he will at half past seven have no more Iodine in force in his system, than he has whalebone force in his hairs." Dr. L. does not believe with Liebeg, that the chemical basis of coffee and tea is one and the same thing.

☞ The Congregational Journal, speaking of the Taney decision, says:

At present we have but one remark to make in regard to the effect of this decision. Hitherto the great body of the anti-slavery men of the nation have contended that slavery was sectional, and not to be meddled with in the States. Now it is made national, which will direct their efforts to its entire destruction on the American soil.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED.)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst sick headache by your Pills, and have found one of your Pills, taken on retiring, a cure for Costiveness, which they cleanse at once. If they will do to others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRERLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my family and hospital practice ever since you made them; and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for bilious derangement of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Truly and Respectfully yours,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have saved my life, and have given me back my family. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two boxes of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized by us.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can conscientiously recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of life.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Partaking Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best pills of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions, which have left her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ARA MORGHDOE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Bouton, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 1, 1855.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your pills has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which nothing could remove. Nothing but the best of physicians, the cleanest grow worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Boston, I took your Pills. They did the work. Their effects were sure, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, RHODE ISLAND, JAN., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. J. AYER: I have used your Cathartic Pills and Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT BRIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an equal and remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent, who some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fatal deadly and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the sudden attacks of croup and spasm unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumption it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, and neglect them until such a cough fastens on the vitals, calls your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of pulmonary disease, and they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwelling to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no labor, in the preparation of this medicine, and we can afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

☞ The Boston Courier speaks of the large audience at Mr. Bruce's concert in the Tremont Temple, and says it could not fail to be gratifying to Mr. Bruce, for notwithstanding the inclement weather, the large hall was filled overflowing; in fact a great many were compelled to stand for want of seats. Mr. Bruce was assisted by the large choir of the Bowdoin street Church, and the excellent manner in which the different pieces were performed brought forth hearty applause from the delighted audience. The Misses Nichols, Plumer, McNair, Peak, and Putnam, and Messrs. Brewer, Gilbert, Adams, Plumer, Mozart, and Grover, were particularly perfect in their different parts, and acquitted themselves with much credit.

☞ A party of ruffians lately went to the house Dr. W. C. Hall, in the town of Kent, Madison County, Indiana, took him out of bed, blindfolded him, filled his mouth so that he could make no noise, carried him a short distance and tied him to a tree, and then, with stout switches, gave him a severe whipping on his back, he having nothing on but his shirt. After they had whipped him severely, they attempted to tar and feather him, but he broke loose from them, ran to the nearest house and gave the alarm. Four individuals have been arrested and held to bail. It is said that the Doctor had been paying attentions to a number of young ladies, much to the neglect of his own wife, and hence the proceedings above mentioned.

☞ Dr. Lyman Beecher preached last Sunday at the Westminster Church in South Brooklyn. He is over eighty two years of age, and has not preached before in more than a year. In the afternoon he administered the communion.

☞ Rev. Dr. Kendall, pastor of the First Church and Society at Plymouth, the original church of the Puritans, recently preached his fifty-seventh anniversary sermon, at the age of 90.

☞ Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, whose sermons have created so much excitement in England, is failing, in consequence of his great exertions. His voice gave way at his last public appearance.

☞ Samuel Zimmerman, who was killed the Great Western Railway the other day, is said to have been the richest man in Canada.

☞ Rev. Mr. Ward, of Abington, Mass., a member of the Legislature, intends at the close of the session to relinquish his place in Abington, and remove to Madison, Wisconsin.

☞ Rev. Hiram Whitcher has resigned the Pastorate of the South Free Will Baptist Church of Concord, and purposes to enter a new field of labor the 1st of April next.

Hutchins' Hair Dye.

The very best now in use, as the many thousands that have tried it will testify.

THE great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes

ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spikes of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

TANEY—HISTORY—LAW.

Chief Justice Taney, of the Supreme Court of the United States, makes a very poor figure as a historian. In regard to the citizenship of negroes, he lays down the following proposition:

"It is true that every person, and every class and description of persons at the time of the Constitution, regarded as Citizens of the several States, became citizens of this new political body, and none other."

This is explicit, and all our commentators on the Constitution have agreed that it is accurate and true. But when Judge Taney goes back to ascertain who were "regarded as citizens of the several States," at the time of the Constitution, he finds, he tells us, the following state of things:

"It is difficult at this day to realize the state of public opinion, respecting that unfortunate class, with the civilized and enlightened portion of the world, at the time of the Declaration of Independence and the adoption of the Constitution; but history shows they have, for more than a century, been regarded as beings of an inferior order, and unfit associates for the white race, either socially or politically, and had no rights which white men were bound to respect; and the black man might be reduced to slavery, bought and sold, and treated as an ordinary article of merchandise. This opinion, at that time, was fixed and universal with the civilized portion of the white race. It was regarded as an axiom in morals, which no one thought of disputing, and every one habitually acted upon it, without doubting for a moment the correctness of the opinion."

On this question of facts Judge Curtis takes issue, and convicts the Chief of gross ignorance, if nothing more. He shows—and careful examination more than sustains him—that negroes were citizens, and voting citizens, of several States at the time referred to by Judge Taney. A writer has since arranged the original States in the following classes:

1. States whose Constitutions made no distinction between the white and colored voters, at the time when the Federal Constitution was adopted. These were seven, viz: Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina. The Constitutions of these States were severally formed from 1776 to 1780, as appears by a book published by Gales & Seaton, Washington, in 1820, which contains them in full. It is stated that negroes continued to vote in Virginia up to the year 1850, when a new Constitution was formed, which excluded them.

2. States which framed Constitutions soon after the adoption of the Federal Constitution, making no distinction of color in respect to voters. These were two, viz: Pennsylvania in 1790 and Georgia in 1798. There is no indication that these States or colonies had any such distinctions—if they had, it shows a progress of sentiment directly opposite to that assumed by the theories of Judge Taney.

3. States without constitutions when the Federal Constitution was formed, but which were under the English charters, which made no distinctions of color. These were two, Rhode Island and Connecticut. The fact that negroes voted under these charters (which, in nearly every respect, except as binding to the English Crown, were regarded as State constitutions) is said to be beyond dispute. The particular exclusion thereafter as voters in the Connecticut Constitution of 1820, shows that they had been allowed to exercise the right previously.

4. States which had Constitutional enactments excluding colored voters at the time the Federal Constitution was adopted. These were two, viz: Delaware and South Carolina.

Thus, says the Portland Advertiser, so far as actual citations have met our eyes, it would appear that of the "old thirteen" which adopted the Constitution, only two States had positive prohibitions of the right of suffrage to their colored subjects. In the absence of organic provisions, the English common law controlled the matter, at least presumptively; and that had been laid down by Lord Mansfield, in the Somerset case, in 1772.

What is to be thought of a Judge who, having made a point to rest upon historical evidence, ignores such facts as were immediately supplied by Judge Curtis? If he is so unreliable in history, have we not also reason to suspect his expositions of law and equity?

To the above item from the Advertiser, we would add, that from the moment it was reported that Judge Taney (and other blockheads with him) had decided that a negro could not be a citizen of the United States, we have denounced such decision as contemptible, because false! A lawyer, on the bench as a judge, we know can rule this way or that, on a point of law,—but he cannot rule a historical fact into nonentity or oblivion,—any more than he can destroy the multiplication table by ruling that 2 and 2 make 20, or upset the laws of gravitation by ruling that water never did run down hill.

We know, and many of our neighbors know as well, that in the American Revolution, General Whipple of New Hampshire had his negro body servant Prince with him in Rhode Island, where just before an expected battle the General said:

We expect to have a battle to-morrow! Prince, do you mean to fight?

Don't know, Massa, said P.—do you mean to fight?

Certainly!

Well, massa, what you fight for?

For liberty and property.

O, massa, me have neither liberty nor property: what I fight for?

Do you say so, Prince? Then you shall have both liberty and property! And suiting the action to the word, General Whipple executed free papers for Prince, and gave him and his wife a life lease in their homestead.

This made Prince a freeman, a citizen, a freeholder, in New Hampshire; and he was so for many years. He behaved through the war like a man, and was one of a number of highly respected negro citizens of this State.

There were negro citizens in New Hampshire before she was called a State, there have been ever since, there are now, and will be,—and they are citizens of the United States by its Constitution, in spite of the dicta of old women on the bench, ignorant of history, reckless of truth, recreant to law, and destitute of the simplest ideas of liberty.

THE RHODE ISLAND LEGISLATURE has just adjourned. The committee who were appointed to inquire what amendments, if any, were necessary to the constitution of the State, that colored citizens might exercise the right of the elective franchise over the recent decision in the Dred Scott case, made report that, in their opinion, no amendments were rendered necessary. Mr. Jenckes analyzed the whole matter of the so called decision, and wound up by stating there was only an opinion expressed by Chief Justice Taney. The argument was objected to by several members, but the report of the Committee was finally accepted.

Negroes will be permitted to vote as usual, no attention being paid to Taney's opinion.

☞ The South Carolina Times expresses an opinion on the action of the Kansas Legislature, which we commend to the guardians of the squatter sovereignty dodge. It says that the failure to provide for submitting the constitution, when framed, to the people, for ratification, is not only contrary to all precedent, but in disregard of that popular sovereignty which has been so much lauded of late, and which served for a season to have a talismanic influence.

☞ John Dean, the husband of the rich Miss Boker, has sued out a writ of habeas corpus to obtain possession of his wife. It is to be heard this afternoon. It sets forth the whole history of the affair, — from the marriage of Dean with Miss Marianna Petrinella; her imprisonment by her father, the first writ of habeas corpus, the commencement of a suit by the father to set aside the marriage on the ground of his daughter's insanity, &c. The petition takes the ground that Mrs. Dean's mind is now sane, but that it may not withstand the attacks made upon it, if allowed to continue, and that the affection between husband and wife is now strong as steel.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—A despatch from Washington, dated March 20, says Mr. Babcock, Postmaster at Fort Leavenworth, arrived there on that day. He left Kansas at the same time Col. Geary did. They traveled together as far as Pittsburg. Geary was expected the same evening. He says he does not think Geary can be persuaded to return to Kansas. He reports everything quiet, with the exception of the difficulties between Judge Lecompte, and some of the other authorities who have embarrassed the Governor in every conceivable way.

Gov. Geary's resignation has been accepted, and the appointment has been offered to a distinguished Southern statesmen.

The re-appearance of that ill-omened genius of violence and barbarism, Atchison, will arrest the attention of all who are interested in the fate of Kansas. He is chairman of the "Kansas Executive Committee," and is commissioning ruffians throughout the slave States to raise money and men to aid in making Kansas a slave State, and to "restore the balance of power to the South in the United States Senate."—Tel.

A NEWSPAPER BLACK LIST.—The Brattleboro', Vermont, Republican publishes a black list, in which it gives the names of delinquent subscribers to the amount of $263, and advertisers to the amount of $359, making a total of $622 justly owed to the office, but unpaid. The subscription list includes only those who have stopped the paper without paying arrearages.

This sort of game don't amount to much—at least, it don't pay the printer. Newspapers are all marked down at the lowest possible figure, and no margin left for delinquents. Now if a publisher has a list, say of fifteen hundred; five hundred of whom never pay, let us see where five years will land him. The five hundred consume fifty reams of paper yearly, amounting to a couple of hundred dollars; then for printing and mailing, at least as much more—making the nice little sum of four hundred dollars a year—and in the five years, $2000 with interest.

But while a subscriber is without excuse for neglecting to pay for his reading; publishers are no less blameable for allowing a long continuance of such an evil. Better have half a list, cash; than twice as many, only three-quarters of whom pay.

☞ A fugitive slave—so they call him—was put over the "underground" railroad from Boston on the 18th, in rapid time. He resided as a servant in the family of Geo. B. Blake, Brookline, and has enjoyed his freedom for ten years. His alleged owner, or those who represent him, arrived in the city a day or two since, and, having procured a warrant, were en route for Brookline to entrap their victim. The Vigilance Committee got up earlier than the Virginians, and the colored man left for Canada.

FREEDOM.

BY P. WELLS.

We strike for Freedom!—not alone
To break the chains which bind our Slaves—
To keep unstained the virgin soil,
Wherein are dug our brothers' graves—
Who, on the outskirts of our land,
Went forth as pilgrims went of old,
To rear for Freedom peaceful homes
And States, wherein men are not sold.

For Freedom—from the curse and sway
Of that dark demon of the still,
Who fires all passions in our blood,
And works through them his fiendish will;
Or binds in horrid snake-like coils
The helpless being once a man—
Who then could shake the serpent off—
But now, so madly writhes in vain.

For Fredom! yea, and for the Right
So trampled by the madden'd throng,
Who press, blind guided, to the brink
Where passion leads them right or wrong—
While out of Reason's calm, clear face—
From out her eyes the light seems fled—
Or what faint gleam may yet outshine,
Is the inebriate's glare instead.

We strive for Freedom!—ever will!
While burns within the living flame;
The manhood of our soul seeks this,
The God-like in us seeks the same.
And free—as only they are free
Who rule themselves with wise control,
We strive to be;—and make more broad
The realm of Reason in the soul.

A meed of praise; a song of hope;
To cheer the heroes of our cause,
Who strive not after place, nor power,
But fuller Freedom through our laws.
Free men and true! and who shall say,
When at the last this work is done,
What honor to their names is due?

Though now, in palace, brothel, hell—
Where'er Rum's Rabble nightly throng—
Denounced as fanatics vile,
And lashed and scourged with venom's tongue:
They only hear the louder cry
Break from a million drunkards' graves,
And echo through our reeling earth,
Who seeks his brother man—and saves?

—Poughkeepsie Examiner.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

A PRAYER.

BY WIDESWARTH.

Father, forgive us NOT as we forgive—
For oh, condemned were we o'en while we pray;
As stubbornly we unforgiving live,
And from our brother turn enraged away.
Hatred and malice harbor in our heart,
And wrong and injury stand just in check,
At the first summons on the scent to start,
To spring revengeful at our neighbor's neck.
Could we forgive as we WOULD BE forgiven,
Then would the burden of our offered prayer
Rise as sweet incense to the righteous heaven,
And thence the peace would fall we ask to share.
Were we forgiven AS we forgive our debtors,
Our lot were full of stripes and thorns and fetters.—[Sat. Eve. Gaz.

HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than it sold here. Or Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much larger there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.

Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.

Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint, a gentleman in West Stockbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"Mr. Rennie—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those fits of 'blue devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kill somebody, especially if young persons were about, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind, cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your COLUMBIAN PILLS, and thank fortune and you too, they have cured me. I feel better, much better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and I verily believe them worth all the pills ever made."

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

EXETER, Saturday, March 21.

In case No. 14, Johnson and Handy v. Eastern R. R., the Jury brought in a verdict for pltfs. for the full amount found by the Commissioner. Damages $1,952.61—and costs.

The Jury were then discharged.

No. 3, Noitt v. Webb et als., was then tried before the Court, the result of which we have not yet learned. The Court will probably take a final adjournment this afternoon.

APPOINTMENTS.—Capt. John Paul, of Eliot, Me., has received the appointment of Superintendent of the Dry Dock at the naval station at Portsmouth, N. H., vice Samuel Spinney, Esq.

It is rumored that Stephen Dearborn, Esq., of Exeter, has received the appointment of Collector at the port of Portsmouth, in place of Z. Clement, Esq.

Also that Uri Lamprey, Esq., of Hampton, is appointed Navy Agent at Portsmouth, in place of Nehemiah Moses, Esq.

MUNICIPAL POLITICAL YEAR.—A correspondent suggests that on some accounts, it would be well to commence our political year for city business with the 1st of January; in which case our municipal elections might be held in December. We have been requested to throw out this idea for public consideration and discussion; also the suggestion of the fourth Tuesday in March for the election of city officers.—Journal.

We go in for a special day for election of City Officers—and hope a movement to that effect will be made in the Legislature next June. Who shall be Mayor, Aldermen, Common Councilmen, &c. is of more importance to Portsmouth than who shall be Governor or President. And we should stand a better chance to elect the best City officers, without regard to politics, under such an arrangement.

PAY OF NEWBURYPORT CITY OFFICERS.—In the Common Council on Monday evening, much time was consumed in deciding whether they should pay the City Marshal four or five hundred dollars. It is very singular that men who have been in the city government before, should care to say one word about the matter, for there is not one of them who does not know that the city marshal never got less than $1500 a year, or at least, he oftener gets three hundred more than one hundred less. While they allow fees and extra charges, the marshal will laugh at these arrangements. The city has never voted enough to keep the marshal's horses, let alone paying the officer. The city better vote the marshal a thousand dollars a year, and take the fees themselves, or vote nothing, and let him have the fees. There would be just as much competition for the place without pays as there is now; but when the income is partly from salary and partly from fees, when the council is reducing the salary one hundred dollars, the marshal can put two hundred from fees into his pocket, and they can't help themselves. There are some things that can't be done, as well as some that can. Their present system is a rotten one from beginning to end.—Her.

We don't exactly understand what this "rotten system" is, but the City Marshal of Portsmouth, don't get half the sum named above. The poorest system of all, it seems to us, is to have offices and officers without pay. Service worth having, is worth paying for.

MADAGASCAR RAT EXTERMINATOR.—"Mr. Peddler, I have used your preparation, and the rats are as plenty as ever." "Indeed, marm—why then yours are not the real Madagascar vermin."

"Pa," said a boy the other day, "are there any ministers' rats?" "Why, my child?" Because I see here in the paper Parsons' Rat Exterminator."

"Yes, my child, there are minister's rats, and parishioner's rats—and political rats, and rats in everybody's premises—but if anybody wishes to be rid of them; and also procure any other curatives, preventatives, conveniences or luxuries, he has only to look at Mr. Thacher's advertisement to find them."—Journal.

BOSTON MUSIC SCHOOL.—Prof. B. F. Baker's new Music School will open the first Monday in April. Three months' tuition in almost all of the branches of a music education may be had at this school at a price so low as to enable all to avail themselves of its advantages. Instruction will not only be given in the vocal department, in harmony and the various branches of musical composition, but competent instructors are also engaged for the various instruments, including the pianoforte and the organ. This institution offers advantages of which no other school can boast, and at about one-sixth of the cost of private lessons by the same teachers. The board of instruction includes Messrs. B. F. Baker, J. W. Adams, Levi P. Homer and J. C. D. Parker. There will be two terms each year, of twelve weeks each; the complete course will extend through three years; and a new class will be formed at the opening of each term.

FROM NICARAGUA.

NEW YORK, March 20.

The steamship Tennessee, from San Juan via Aspinwall, 10th, with 260 passengers, arrived this afternoon. Her passengers came over the Isthmus in two hours and a half.

The Tennessee left San Juan March 7.—The United States ship Saratoga was lying at San Juan, as also five English war ships.

Walker's position is unchanged. He still holds Rivas. The allies remain at St. Jorge. Walker had attacked the latter place, without effect.

A party of rangers, under Col. Caycee, had been attacked by Costa Ricans, and driven into San Juan. Col. C. left again on the 7th, with a party of recruits from San Francisco.

The failure of Col. Lockbridge's attempt in Castillo, was owing to the cowardice of Col. Titus, who led the attacking party. Titus subsequently left Lockbridge and went over to Rivas. Lockbridge's main force is on Carlos Island, a short distance below Castillo, and he has a garrison at Serapiqui.

The Aspinwall Courier says:—While Titus was besieging Castillo, he held parley with the enemy, who agreed to surrender, provided he would permit a messenger to pass his lines to inform Gen. Mora. He agreed to this, but next day was attacked by a large force under Gen Mora and driven back with loss.

Titus, with other officers, went down the river in the steamer Rescue, to Greytown, where the boat was seized by an English officer, who offered protection to any one who wished to leave Walker's service. Titus used insulting language to the officer, and was seized and carried on board the English frigate Cossack, but was subsequently released.

The allies made two attacks on Rivas, March 4, but were repulsed.

The British steamer Clyde arrived at Aspinwall 9th, from Greytown, with 30 deserters from Walker.

The Saratoga was still at Greytown, and the St. Mary at the San Juan del Sud.

The sloop-of-war Decatur arrived at Panama on the 9th.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.—Dates from Valparaiso of Feb. 15, and Callao Feb. 17, are received at Panama. Several vessels were loading guano at the Chinchas, under contract with Vianco, at $18 and $25 per ton.

News had been received at Paita that Gen. Caravedo had taken possession of Picota, after six hours' hard fighting. Loss of killed and wounded very considerable on both sides.

A JOKE.—One of the regulations of that excellent educational institution for young ladies, the Charlestown Female Seminary, is, that "visitors not introduced by parents can see pupils only at the discretion of the Principal." Well, one day last week, the young ladies asked permission for a social party, and were given liberty each to invite one friend. When evening came, the matron and superintendent were much suprised to find the house full of young gents—the most desirable "friend" of each being a beau! The orthodox minister and his wife, who had been invited by the matron to a social re-union of pupils, didn't stay long; but the "friends" were not so much in a hurry—and the Advertiser says "their only dissatisfaction was that they had to 'go home alone.'" Well, "the time may come they need not fly."

☞ Sherman Blood, who killed William Burritt, at Bridgeport, and has been kept in custody, is said to be wild with delirium tremens. It has required several persons to take care of him.

Dr. W. M. Howard, of Bradford, Vermont, who was lately mulcted for an assault with intent to commit a rape, has been again bled, in the sum of $1400, for mal-practise in not perfectly setting a broken leg, and is now under complaint for selling the pork of a diseased hog.

We regret to learn that the health of Hon. R. B. Hall is not improved since his return from Washington. Since his arrival at Plymouth, Mass., he has been very ill, and fears are entertained that he may not recover. He still suffers from the poisoning at the National Hotel.

☞ We would call the attention of ladies to the Stock of Dry Goods of H. A. Bigelow, about to leave this city, advertised in another column, to be sold at auction—every day and evening till closed.—Among the Stock is a good assortment of Bonnets, Flowers and Ribbons, affording a rare opportunity to get a Spring Bonnet very cheap.

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.
THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one which has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."
The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.
The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness, and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.
Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to their fretsome children.
Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.
RECOMMENDATIONS.
MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir,—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NAYLE BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.
MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Hirentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.
MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the disease incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

ANTIPHLOGISTIC SALT;

A Perfect Substitute

For the Lancet, Leeches and Blisters!

OF ITS INTRINSIC VALUE, THE ENLIGHTENED COMMUNITY, AND NOT THE DISCOVERER, MUST BE THE JUDGE.

MANY medicines offered for sale are accompanied by doubtful certificates, (their chief virtue) and claim to be universal remedies, curing all maladies—a burlesque on common sense. As the discoverer of this Salt solemnly protests against having it placed in the category of frauds and impostors, he has resolved that it shall go forth to the world like the pure gold—without any other passport than its own true value. If the public find it genuine they will receive it—if spurious, they will reject and condemn it. Instead of being a panacea for all ills, it has control over but one ill—has but one aim and accomplishes but one thing, to wit: SUBDUE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen; extremities or skin.

When the discoverer, after a long series of labious and costly experiments, succeeded in satisfied in his conviction that the Antiphlogistic Salt which he now has the happiness to present to the American public, was a

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which H FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and is commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is conducted in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the subscriber calls attention to, is that the managers have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A ticket is drawn every day in Baltimore. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. To tickets numbered cent unlike the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, as the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Possessing one of the LARGEST IMPROVED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, exprressly adapted to the purpose, together with other improvements, I can offer to both at rates such as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a single head upon Paper, so as to represent the size of Life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, attends to Patent Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American, or foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent will be sent by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any other agency in the country, which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that no other agency has been more, or charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a great variety of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full patents granted in Great Britain, United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business extensively engaged in the business of Patent Office, as a Solicitor of Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and he invariably transacted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in stating further, that I cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure the patent, and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most expert and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and his venom commissioner appointed by the State. Their drawings are duly certified that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public of Maryland, for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all parties who have heretofore put to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery is drawn every day throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next after the same reaches the office. According to the scheme one ticket in every hundred draws a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $20,000, every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New-York Herald, Philadelphia Ledger, Baltimore Sun, Boston Bulletin, Charleston Mercury, Charleston Standard, Richmond Enquirer, Richmond Dispatch, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

Prince & Co.'s

Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these Instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL.

secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Sole Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued. Heretofore all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use the new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactures."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly EIGHT THOUSAND, of which testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have since greatly increased our facilities, and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We there fore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct. 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Flagler, Hodges, Wm Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very truly. JAMES F. ELLA."

We have every reason to believe that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be sent to them as well finished and equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THIS compound is a safe, speedy, and effectual Pill, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain for restoring nature in the proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful, they are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper order, and the blooming cheek, instead of the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from a cold, fever, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or irregular or suppressed menstruation, pain in the limbs, lowness of spirits, hysteria, &c. Now are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHESEMAN, Box No 4531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

LAW IN HINGHAM.—At an annual meeting of the voters in Hingham, Mass., held on the 9th inst., the following vote was passed:

"That a committee of five be chosen to enforce the anti-liquor law (so called,) the law against the renting of buildings in which intoxicating drinks are sold, and also for prosecuting to final judgment any cases of perjury, that may occur in so doing."

The vote was passed in full meeting, with but few dissenting voices.

On the 19th inst., Mrs. Letitia E. White and Mary Hall were arrested on complaint of the Chairman of that Committee, charging them jointly with selling liquors to several. Upon examination before James S. Lewis Esq., Miss Hall was discharged. Against Mrs. White four distinct sales were clearly proved, for which, fines, costs and imprisonment were respectively imposed, amounting in all to about $130, and one year in the House of Correction, at which institution, her husband is serving out a sentence for nearly the same length of time for three similar convictions on the 18th ultimo.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT WITH REGARD TO INSURANCE.—The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, by which it is settled that "fire" is not one of the "perils of navigation," unless expressly stated in the bills of lading in steam and other vessels, has induced an important movement on the part of masters and owners of freighting vessels at St. Louis. At a meeting held there on Friday last, it was resolved to add "fire" to the exceptions usually contained in bills of lading; and that no bills of lading be signed by officers of boats not containing the clause, "dangers of navigation and fire only excepted." It is supposed that the shipping interest in other cities will follow up this movement.

PRESERVATION.—Mrs. Partington was presenced this evening, with the freedom of Court street in an elegant silver snuff box lined with gold, by a distinguished individual in that vicinity. The speeches were brief but vigorous. The donor held the box in his right hand, and with much emotion said—"Take it." The old lady extended her right hand and received the gift, and bowing her head very gracefully, replied,—"Thank you.—Boston Gazette."

A FAT SALARY.—The fees of the Collector of this port of Newburyport, for the first quarter in 1857, was 92 cents. That is one of the offices to which the rotation principle might be applied without much damage to anybody but the person who was robbed in—Herald.

FRIGHTENED BUT NOBODY HURT.—One night last week, about the time ghosts are creeping to graveyards, a worthy citizen of Newburyport was aroused with all his family, by a violent knocking upon his door, and the cries of a female who had fled for succor, without stopping to put on her morning dress. Our friend was quickly at her habitation, which it was affirmed, had been broken open by robbers, and the husband was attempting to detain them in his parlor by holding the door with one hand while an uplifted mallet was in the other. "They are in here—in here!" cried the frightened man. "Yes, I heard them when they broke in!" echoed the wife, who all the time had forgotten to change her head dress. "Give me a club," said the man, "and I'll start them out." The owner of the house had no club, but a gun was secured and loaded, the door opened cautiously, the hammer all the time uplifted in the clenched hand, when—bang went the musket, the fur flew, and a dead Tom cat rolled over in the middle of the floor, while the parties yet trembling, sneaked away to their beds.—Herald.

☞ The horse-fanciers of Manchester have purchased the celebrated Vermont stallion "Young Morrill," for $4,500; and will keep him in that city. The Mirror, whose editor is considerable of a sporting man, deems him the fastest stock horse in the country; and rejoices at the prospect of improvement in horse flesh in New Hampshire. A Morrill colt, four years old, was sold for $1500; a three-year old for $600; and another for $850. "Blood tells," in the price, if nowhere else.

CONSOLATION.—Scriptural quotations and allusions are always effectual for this purpose. Witness the following from the Mobile Tribune:—

When Noah's ark rested on the mountain at Ararat, and waited patiently for the flood to subside, Noah and his family, eight in number, went forth and re-peopled the earth! The American ark this day rests on the mountain of Maryland, and Fillmore with his eight votes is waiting for the flood of Democracy to dry up, when he will go forth and re-people the earth, and arrange for Americans to rule America!

☞ Rev. Calvin Colton, well known as the writer of the Junius Tracts—a series of political papers of great popularity in the campaign of 1840, also editor of the Speeches and Correspondence of Henry Clay, died a few days since at Savannah, Ga., whither he had gone in pursuit of health.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known to the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1857.

For the Chronicle.

TO HIS HOLINESS, POPE OF ROME.

The Protestants of America have long devoted much attention to the tenets of your worship, or what is the same thing, the tenets of the Romish Church acting under your authority. They understand that religious creeds must emanate from you, and first receive your sanction, and that all who do not receive the doctrines you establish, are denounced as schismatics.

It is true that with the more general diffusion of knowledge in the world, you have felt under the necessity of assuming a milder form of government, and we no longer hear of thousands being burnt at the stake for being schismatics from the doctrines of your holiness. The truth is, that civil liberty, especially religious freedom, has given a heavy blow to the doctrine of your infallibility. And here, in the United States of America, where the people are allowed to examine the sacred scriptures, and form their own opinions, they are generally dissenters from your infallible creed—they do not believe in your purgatory, or that the "masses," or prayers of your priests can send a human soul thereto, or take it therefrom, whatever sum of money may be paid therefor for the benefit of your church—nor do they believe in the worship of images, whether of the Virgin or your saints, sculptured out of stone or wood.

But your holiness may not be aware how near the churches of Protestants have at length come to those privileges and perfections, which you boast of as peculiar to your own; so near, that many of the most quick-sighted and sagacious persons have not been able to discover any other difference between us, as to the main principle of all doctrine, government, and discipline, but this one, namely, that you cannot err in anything you determine, and we never do: that is, in other words, that you are infallible, and we always in the right. We cannot but esteem the advantage to be exceedingly on our side in this case; because we have all the benefits of infallibility, without the absurdity of pretending to it, and without the uneasy task of maintaining a point so shocking to the understanding of mankind.

We esteem it as great a privilege in us to be in the right, without the pretence of infallibility, as it can be in you to be always in the wrong, with it.

Our American synods and conventions get along very well, without openly setting up an infallibility; but if there be wisdom in a multitude of council, would not their decrees be more likely to be infallible than those of one man?

Your holiness has a very numerous body of passive subjects in America, who now implicitly receive their creed, emanating from you, from the Catholic priesthood; but soon as they shall, generally, learn to read and write, and read the holy Bible, and form their own opinions, you may depend upon it they will soon abjure the wild errors and gross superstitions of the Romish Church. For the worship of your Church is made up of superstitions.

They will disappear before the light of truth, as dew-drops before the morning sun. Therefore, in vain may you continue to send millions of money to this country to build churches and propagate your creed—a creed that tends to undermine the basis of our free institutions.

A man who implicitly obeys the orders of a corrupt priesthood, is not fitted for a free government, nor can he rationally enjoy its blessings. He scarcely rises higher in the scale of existence than a mere slave. We must here relate an illustration. A female Catholic domestic in a family of our acquaintance, was asked whether if the priest should order her to give poison to a member of the family, she would feel it her duty to obey? After some hesitation, upon being pressed for an answer, she replied —"Why, if I should not obey, the priest could turn me into a cat or some other animal."

Similar superstitions, no less ridiculous, characterize the Popish religion. Wherever it prevails, in any part of the earth, the people are involved in mental darkness. The priest claims power over the human soul, upon death, to send it either to the abodes of happiness, or to endless punishment. Purgatory is used as the means of extorting money for the support of the priesthood. Now we American Protestants esteem your holiness, although possessed of much learning, and arrayed in the most gorgeous apparel, to be a fallible man, and that you cannot take from, or add to, one iota of the sacred scriptures,—that you have no right to control the free exercise of the consciences of your fellow beings, nor trample in the dust their civil rights.

We would inform your holiness that so dangerous is your creed considered to be to political freedom, that it is an exception to the general rule of free toleration of all religions; and that in one or more of our State constitutions it is wisely ordained (in substance) that your Catholic subjects shall not be eligible to the highest civil stations. The founders of our government have evidently more fully examined the matter than some of their descendants. They well know that confiding the political control of the State government to the hands of your subjects, would be, in effect, entrusting it to the hands of the Roman Pontiff.

God grant that, discarding all your present superstitions, rites and ceremonies, you may embrace the pure precepts of the Christian religion, which would restore your ignorant and degraded subjects to their natural and inalienable rights. By so doing, you would elevate your character in the civilized world. AMERICUS.

The Republican press is down on Gov. Gardner's Proclamation for Fast, for advising the clergy to keep clear of politics. They say it is none of his business; but the advice is good, whether it was his place to give it or not.—Newburyport Herald.

The governor has not advised ministers to keep clear of politics—but only, on fast day to "abstain from political discussions, and secular considerations, to address the individual heart,"—so as to be like our fathers, who used to do exactly what Gov. G. advises the sons not to do.

And if he had advised them to keep clear of politics, it would be about as good advice, as to tell the citizen he must keep clear of religion, the parent he must keep clear of education, and the business man, he must keep clear of conscience.

The minister, among puritans, is supposed to be a man, neither more nor less. Our government is in theory, a Republic, in which the democracy, that is, the whole people have a voice and a vote.

Gov. G. advises, or rather prays, the ministers to avoid secular considerations.

According to this wise recommendation, it would not do for clergymen to pray on fast day, for a good crop of corn, nor to ask the Divine blessing on our commerce, our fisheries, or other industry, nor on schools—for all these are secular things!

But hold!—In Gov G.'s bombastic proclamation, in the same document where he gives this advice, he says:

On that day, whether by their firesides, or in their accustomed places of public worship, let our people remember only the day, and its appropriate subjects of contemplation, confess with contrition individual and national transgressions, and humbly imploring divine forgiveness, realize that the promise of the blessings is, in its measure, as the sincerity of repentance.

How we can confess national transgressions, without considering secular and political affairs—is rather a puzzle to us.

Sins of oppression, tyranny, injustice, intemperance, murder, &c., may be national transgressions;—surely these are all secular affairs:—and they may, sometimes become political. Then forthwith, no decent man, certainly no minister, must dare to consider them.

Verily, Gov G. is conspicuous throughout all dunkeydom by the peculiar hue of this vermillion edict, as they call such things in China.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCES. — The Boston Courier contains Rev. Mr. Lovejoy's plea before the Legislative Temperance Society of Massachusetts, in which he recommends a license law, and groans over churches emptied by temperance efforts, every one of which he finds fault with.

Many papers mourn over the degeneracy of the modern or present ministry, and the declension of the churches, consequent on preaching politics, recommending, a la Governor Gardner, a return to the good old times.

But lo! the Democratic Standard contains an essay by Benj'n Barstow, aiming to prove that old Puritanism and Federalism are identical—and really showing that ministers all over New England preached politics in 1812.

THE ACCIDENT AT HAMILTON.—A person from Hamilton says that that city is a scene of general grief, and every third house has sign of mourning. It is stated that Hon. John T. Clark, formerly chief engineer of the Great Western Railroad, pronounced against the plan of the bridge previous to its completion, but his advice was unheeded.

CHILDREN'S TEMPERANCE REFORM.—Peter Sinclair, Esq., of Scotland, is addressing the children of Boston on the subject of Temperance. This is a good field of labor for those who are interested in the sobriety of the people.

MURDER IN CONNECTICUT.—The last one has lately come to light, and is located at Payne's Mill (Bridgeport.) It appears that a man named Blood, in a drunken fit, killed one William Burritt, some five or six days since, and that after he had done the deed, and become sobered, confessed the crime to his neighbors. His statement however was not credited, although corroborated by that of his wife, until several days afterwards, when the fact of the man's disappearance led to an enquiry into the matter. The body of the missing man was found in the cellar of the house where Blood resided—and he testified to having removed it from an upper room where the deed was committed. The body gives evidence of having lain several days, and the nose had been entirely eaten off by rats.—Blood was arrested Saturday evening, and lodged in jail.

AWFUL ACCIDENT FROM BURNING FLUID. At New Haven, Conn., on Wednesday evening, a servant girl in the boarding house of Mrs. Stevens attempted to fill a burning lamp from a can full of fluid. The lamp burst, and the fluid in both vessels were at once on fire. The poor girl was enveloped in flames, which also spread in the kitchen; she rushed upstairs and threw herself upon the bed where Mrs. Stevens lay sick, was taken off and covered with carpets, and then taken to the yard and water thrown upon her. Medical assistance was rendered, but her hands and parts of her body were burned to a crisp, and she became unconscious before long, and died the next day.

☞ Rev. Dr. Woodbridge, says the Hampshire Gazette, has asked a dismission from his pastoral charge, on account of increasing infirmities. He has been settled in Hadley for a period of forty-seven years, including an absence of a few years in New York. Dr. Woodbridge was installed colleague of Rev. Samuel Hopkins, D. D., at Hadley, in 1810, and succeeded to the pastorate on the death of Dr. Hopkins, in the following year.

☞ The Garrote Cotillion is being practiced in Albany. The ladies swing corners. Having done this, gentlemen place their arms around their necks and kiss them on the left cheek. Young ladies screech and fall into young gentlemen's arms. Gentlemen seizes young women around the waist and waltz to their seats. It is said to be very popular.

COOL. — The New Haven Register, a Democratic paper, says:

Gov. Geary has resigned the office of Governor of Kansas, and is on his way home—having seen order restored, and the affairs of the Territory quieted. Gov Geary is deserving great credit for the vigor with which he assumed the responsibility, and discharged the duties of that difficult position.

☞ James M. Whiton, Esq., Superintendent of the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, was attacked with a fit on Saturday, while at Plymouth, N. H., and died about noon.

☞ The Mayor and Aldermen of Newburyport have appointed a large corps of liquor sellers, in addition to the druggists of the city, who were all appointed last May.

☞ The Herald states that in consequence of the active liquor prosecutions in Essex County, several liquor dealers in that city have lately closed their business.

☞ In making preparations to remove a building in New Bedford, the bank of earth underneath was found frozen to the depth of five and half feet.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called at to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

Use Dr. Clough's

Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint. A gentleman in Woodbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"MR. RENNE—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those fits of 'blue devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kick somebody, especially if young persons were stout, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your COLUMBIAN PILLS, and thank fortune and you too, they have cured me! I feel better, look better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and I verily believe them worth all the pills ever made."

☞ It will be seen by their advertisement, that the Mercantile Lyceum Committee announce another last lecture. We understand Rev. Dr. Lamson is to deliver his lecture on "The Family," which has been received elsewhere with so much favor.

☞ We regret to hear that our neighbors who are printing the city accounts, had the misfortune to pi a "form" yesterday. We presume this won't be regarded as a "dispensation," on account of participating in lotteries.

☞ There has been a crazy woman wandering about our streets for several days—said to be a Miss Trash or some such name, from Durham. She has applied at various places for board for a term of years, but will hardly find accommodations. She has evidently strayed from her friends. She is well dressed, but sometimes rather oddly, having appeared out in a white silk dress—which is even more out of character than the dress of ladies generally. On Sunday she attended church, and burnt her hand whilst fixing the fire.

The new City Government will be organized this morning at 10 o'clock, at the Court House.

SPENCER'S UNITED STATES.—Nos. 23 and 24 are laid on desk, by the prompt and gentlemanly distributing agent. And richly are they worth examining, with the beautiful engravings, clear print, and well digested matter.

☞ The editor of the Lewiston Falls Journal says of Knight, who murdered his wife at Poland, Me:

We visited him yesterday, and found him walking his cell. Since his conviction, until within a few days, he has been very much deject d. He has eaten but little, and is growing somewhat poor in the face. He says nothing to any one.—He called for a bible about two weeks since, and reads it every day.

Speaking of this case, of money vs. love, the Newburyport Herald says:

We take it that this John G. Boker is a rich old fool, and his Petrinella is a soft-headed imitation of her father; while the coachman—if he is a decent man—has been terribly taken in by his hasty marriage. Appearances at least indicate this. If Dean is an industrious, sober, worthy coach driver, and this Marianna Petrinella is the worthy wife of such an honest man, for the very soul of us we can't see that any body is disgraced by the connection. How much better ten thousand times better, to marry a coachman, who is a useful and honorable man, doing something for the benefit of the human race, than to throw herself away upon some empty-headed, hairy-faced, wine guzzling fop who never earned a cent in his life, and would go to the workhouse tomorrow but for some rich father or relation, simply because he has money or will have, and is reckoned in fashionable circles? Ten to one this coachman Dean is more of a man than Boker, and by far too good to marry into such a family.

MEXICAN BAROMETER.—On board the Mexican steamer is a barometer of the most simple construction, but the greatest accuracy. It consists only of a long strip of cedar, very thin, about two and a half feet in length, about one inch wide, cut with the grain, and set in a block, or foot. The cedar strip is backed or lined, with one of white pine cut across the grain and the two are tightly glued together. To bend these when dry is to snap them, but on the approach of bad weather the cedar curls over, until the top at times touches the ground.

This simple instrument is the invention of a Mexican guitar maker, and such is the accuracy that it will indicate the coming on of a "norther" full 24 hours before any other kind of barometer known on the coast. Had this been the production of Yankee ingenuity, it had been patented long ago, and a fortune made by its inventor.—Mobile Register, 1st.

☞ The Kalloch case is to be called up on the 7th of April, and probably an effort made for further postponement. The defence state that they are desirous of time to procure evidence to impeach the character of the Lechmere House.

PRESENT TO PETER SINCLAIR, ESQ., OF EDINBURGH.— The Massachusetts Temperance Society has made to this Apostle of Temperance a present of $100, in testimony of the appreciation in which his services are held.

A HINT TO SMITH AND HIS CREDITORS.—If Smith, the Boston colored caterer, should happen to make purchases of provisions in another State, for one of the entertainments for which he is continually called to provide, and should refuse to pay the bill, he cannot be now sued in a U. S. Court.

"You can do anything if you have patience," said an old uncle, who had made a fortune, to a nephew who had nearly spent one. "Water may be carried in a sieve, if you can only wait."

"How long?" asked the petulant spendthrift, who was impatient for the old man's obituary.

"Till it freezes!" was the uncle's cool reply.

A BANQUET AT LECOMPTON.—The correspondent of the Missouri Democrat writes, under date of Feb. 23:

Gov. Geary has invited the members of the legislature to visit him at the close of the session. Having adjourned, they went to the Governor's rooms, and enjoyed the feast of reason and the flow (of rye whiskey) until daylight. Geary made a speech. He complimented the laws they had made, and assured them that he would see them enforced. The utmost good feeling and jollification prevailed. There are various rumors that Geary is to be removed. There appeared to be perfect good will between the Legislature and the Governor. He is suspected by the pro-slavery men, although the conservative portion conceal it. Mr. Hall of Missouri is talked of, and also Mr. Faulkner of Virginia. The wildest of the pro-slavery men still insist on making D. R. Atchison Governor, and some of them swear they will elect him if he is not appointed.

WASHINGTON, 22d.—Gov. Geary reached this city at 5 this evening. He is not unwilling to resume the government of Kansas, if the administration will sustain him therein, but he can do no good there unless Lecompte and all other federal office holders, who are in league with the border ruffian oppressors and ravagers, be promptly removed, and the military commandant instructed to sustain him in putting down all disturbers and spoilers. There is no rational ground for hope that these conditions will be complied with.

Clark, Calhoun, and Whitefield are here, pressing the President to accept Geary's resignation and appoint a Southern successor. I think no appointment will be announced at present, leaving the Government in the hands of Secretary Woodson, who is the willing confederate of the Border Ruffians.

☞ On Friday, William Gillisbie, working in one of the old Damon Mills, at Bedford Centre, N. H., while carrying a piece of timber, stumbled, and fell on a circular saw, the whole weight of the timber pressing his right arm directly across the teeth. It was almost completely sawed off, between the elbow and hand, and amputation was performed.

There seems to be a singular fatality attached to these mills. Some years ago, old Mr. Damon fell down through by the board saw in the other mill, mangling him dreadfully, so that he lived but a few days; and last year a young man was drowned in the mill-pond just above the mills.

Beautiful is the love, and sweet the kiss of a sister.—Old Play.

Exactly, and of a pretty cousin, too. If you have not a sister or a cousin, try somebody's else sister, or cousin—it's all the same.

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness, and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; cure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,
and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir,—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
Yours truly, NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

☞The Rhode Island Legislature refuse to restore the death penalty. The Providence Tribune says:

"This subject has been agitated in both Houses at various times during the present session; and it is very worthy of remark, that many members who at first were strongly in favor of restoring the death penalty, voted against it yesterday; their minds undoubtedly having undergone a regenerating process on that topic.—Messrs. Jenckes and Durfee each made very able pleas against its restoration, and they gained their point. The entire representation of Rhode Island manifested the feelings of their constituents on the question. Mr. Jenckes said he had no doubt about the right of a State to inflict the penalty, if its safety required it. He contended that imprisonment was as efficacious as death, and we think conclusively demonstrated such to be the fact."

☞We notice our friend of the Ohio Scion of Temperance, thanks somebody for the present of a couple of heads of cabbage. Well, editors do have considerable dealings with cabbage-heads—but they are not commonly thankful for the chance.

ANTIPHLOGISTIC SALT;

A Perfect Substitute

For the Lancet, Leeches and Blisters!

OF ITS INTRINSIC VALUE, THE ENLIGHTENED COMMUNITY, AND NOT THE DISCOVERER, MUST BE THE JUDGE.

MANY medicines offered for sale are accompanied by doubtful certificates, (their chief virtues) and claim to be universal remedies for all maladies—a burlesque on common sense. As the discoverer of this Salt solemnly protests against having it placed in the category of frauds and impostors, he has resolved that it shall go forth to the world like the pure gold dollar, with no other puffs than its own true value. If the public find it genuine they will prove it—if spurious, they will reject and condemn it. Instead of being a panacea for all ills, it has control over but one ill—but but one aim and accomplisher but one thing, to wit: extreme tumefactive inflammation—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin.

When the discoverer, after a long series of laborious and costly experiments, became fully confirmed in his conviction that the Antiphlogistic Salt was about to bestow the happiest boon to present to the American public, was a

for Blood-letting, Leeches and Blisters, his mind was so agitated that he could not sleep for many nights. The cause of his agitation was the striking fact that the manner of its operation, like that in the vaccination, could not be satisfactorily explained upon any known principle. How, in what way, it so effectually subdues inflammatory diseases and so others, was at first wholly inapplicable to any rational theory. That it had proved that by its power over the veins, arteries and glands, it equalizes the fluids of the body, the want of an equilibrium in which, is the sole cause of inflammation. It exerts, like the vaccine poison, an extraordinary influence over the circulation—resulting in a gradual decline of inflammation as indicated by the pulse, which soon resumes its natural state, as the heat and pain disappear.—Such is its potency, that like the virus just mentioned, it requires what merely adheres to the point of its lancet, to effect its purpose of it to effect the entire system—but must be instantly used to prevent decomposition and secure its full virtue. Three smills in as many two to three minutes, every twenty-four hours, till the heat and fever have subsided and a perfect cure effected.—When it takes the place of leeches, stimulating cuttings and blisters in local inflammations, as Brain Fever, Croup, Toothache, Pleurisy, &c., its mode of administration is two-fold. (See directions for Blistering, &c.)

☞The peculiar excellence of this Salt is that without the useless loss of blood and strength, it effectually cures Inflammatory diseases; no others by producing an equilibrium in the fluids in the body and a consequent uninterrupted circulation. The following different forms which the unbalanced fluids assume, and many not here mentioned, that have more or less fever and pain, are so perfectly subdued by the Antiphlogistic Salt, as fire is extinguished by water.

1—Cases where the unbalanced fluid affects the HEAD AND THROAT—to wit: Brain Fever, Headache, Fits, Inflamed Eyes, Ears and Nose, Canker, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Erysipelas, Bronchitis, &c.

2—Cases where the unbalanced fluid affects the CHEST AND ABDOMEN—to wit: Pleurisy, Asthma, Inflamed Lungs and Liver, Colic, Cholera, Heartburn, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Venereal, &c.

3—Cases where the unbalanced fluid affects the EXTREMITIES AND SKIN—to wit: Rheumatism, Gout, Scrofula, Ulcers, Chilblains and Small Pox, Salt Rheum, and all itching and other Cutaneous Eruptions.

This Salt greatly alleviates the inflammatory pains peculiar to married ladies, (before and at the time of confinement,) and many female Complaints; and is very efficacious in Fevers, Ague, Wounds, Nervous and Spinal Affections, and any other form of mark this inflammatory disease, attended with heat or febrile symptoms.

☞Persons who have a tendency of blood to the head and heart, or load inactive liver, or breathe the impure air of manufactories and the poisonous fumes of metals and mineral, or live in unhealthy climates are exposed to a peculiar vitiation of the fluids of the body, which one dose, without affecting well persons, prevents disease for three months, would invariably prevent. It is believed to afford protection from infectious diseases; and, therefore, it is recommended to travellers, sailors and soldiers.

☞To protect the community from imposition by counterfeits, the proprietor will employ no agent, and has made such arrangements that he can send the medicine in any quantity, free of expense, to any part of the United States or foreign countries. Its prime cost to the discoverer is $1.50 per drachm—price $2 per drachm—and is put up in drachm phials, with a pamphlet (with directions, &c.) at $2; three drachms doses for chronic cases, $5; and five drachms do. for families, $8—a not profit of fifty cents on each package.

☞While many nostrum makers victimize the good natured and pill ridden public by ordering from side to dozen boxes or bottles to cure any malady, no matter what, the undersigned is happy in being able to state, that the severest forms of recent inflammatory disease are overcome by one Acute package, and the most obstinate and long standing cases by one Chronic package. Although thirty days have not elapsed since this new medicine was introduced, yet partially known to the citizens of Boston and a few neighboring towns, yet such have been the results of its trial, that during the past week, twenty-six packages were sold in this city and Boston, and equal and express for 163 Family, 347 Chronic, and 357 Acute packages. In one instance, six persons clubbed together and were all relieved by one package, (of the "Little Giant," as they called it) to be rewarded to one address—thereby saving expense to themselves and the proprietor.

☞Letters from persons or individuals with money (if over $10) should be registered at the post office where mailed, as if done (at the cost) it will insure delivery safely.

☞The Discoverer now hereby submits his Perfect Substitute for the lancet, leeches and blisters, to the tribunal of an intelligent public, declaring that it does just what it claims to do—no more, no less; that it effectually relieves, (as others,) whatever be its form or locality, by restoring the lost balance between the fluids of the solids. Family packages $8, Chronic $5, Acute $2; to be had (free of expense) only of the proprietor, through Box 822, Boston, Mass., or at his office, No. 3 WINTER STREET.

Cut out this advertisement and his communication in another column, for the benefit of your neighbors and your own, if your wife, child, or any other friend is afflicted.

From the present Commissioner.
Answer 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and to see that everything is conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to transact business connected with the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all tickets filled in the order in which they are sold, to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten thousand is a prize. Tickets are $10; half, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that no one can deceive himself in them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000. Schemes of the time being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Democrat, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the finest galleries in VAMERIA, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to give satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. By means of which I have the ability to make any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. WM. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, entitled, ESCULAPIAN REVELATIONS, Or, This Owes Doctor, by WM. YOUNG, M. D., is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this work. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that must be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents, addressed to WM. YOUNG, No. 164 SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years exp.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills is the result of a long and careful study; they are mild in their operation, and effect a restoring nature to its proper channel. In instance have they been found unsuccessful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and pain and death prevented, which must follow if they one. No female can enjoy good health if she is regular and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or other cause, the author of life immediately begins to declare, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptives among females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever this is the case, the Pills should be used as a remedy. In all cases of painful menstruation, nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, these Pills, Julepes, &c., are the best efficacious in the cure of those complaints commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they will cause a miscarriage. We recommend purely Vegetable, and free from all injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions should be read, accompany each box. These Pills are put up in large boxes, and sent to Persons residing where there are No Agents established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, addressed to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, and have them sent to their respective address, by return of mail.

Morning Chronicle

The most active exertions are making in the Massachusetts legislature to reform the militia establishment, which now costs the State $80,000 per annum, while the military of Maine costs that State but $9000.

The militia of New Hamp hire costs but a trifle. When the Whig and Independent Democrat coalition were in power in this state, they amended the militia laws so as to dispense with musters, and to pay the uniform companies alone for training. The democratic party made the militia a great plank in the platform whereon they swam back to power. They got the power; and restored the militia, musters and all, to ancient glory, almost. But somehow, we never knew how, in about two years, they gave the animal such a knock on the head with their legislative beetle, that it has never moved since.

Selectmen and town clerks do our enrolling, and nobody trains, except perhaps half a dozen volunteer companies in the State, certainly not 500 men in all. Our only fort, Constitution, is garrisoned by one soldier only, with his family—and yet we sleep safely.

The musters in Massachusetts are a very costly humbug,—round which gather the vilest of the vile.

SUICIDE OF MR. CRAWFORD.—We have received a letter from Mr. Joseph S. Hall, of East Burke, Vt., in which he informs us that Mr. W. H. H. Crawford, son of Abel Crawford, who committed suicide while in his employ some weeks ago, was suffering from mental derangement at the time of the fatal act. He was an amiable and obliging man, and the report that he confessed that he murdered a person at the White Mountains several years since is without the least foundation. No person ever disappeared strangely at the Mountains except such as were afterwards found, and there are hundreds who will remember Mr. Crawford as a kind and peaceable guide in the laborious trip to the Summit of Mount Washington, and who will regret to hear of the sad event which resulted from mental alienation and depression of spirits.—Manchester American.

☞ Most of the small vessels built in Massachusetts, are now constructed in Essex, where ten are now on the stocks, of about 75 tons each, to be added to the fishing fleet of Beverly, Gloucester, &c. There is one other vessel—a packet of 150 tons, now building there.

☞ In the Police Court of Lowell, Mass., March 18, John Lamere, common seller, was ordered to the Court of Common Pleas in $200, and Pat. Manice, for liquor selling, was ordered to come in on Saturday.

A GOOD ADVERTISING DODGE.—The Boston Times states that on Sunday evening last, as A. Jenkins, Broker, was taking his family from a carriage in which they had been riding, the horse became unmanageable. Mr. Jenkins, who is a strong man, exerted all his power upon the animals, but in vain; the reins broke, they started at a brisk rate for the stable, where they arrived without accident. Mr. Jenkins supposed that his youngest daughter was in the carriage at the time, but was soon relieved of his suspense, by finding the carriage empty and his family all safe. In consequence of the blessings showered upon him by Divine Providence, Mr. Jenkins will give three hundred loaves of Bread to the poor of Boston, on Tuesday morning, at his place of business, and the Times advises all to call on him, who are in want of the staff of life.

☞ The Farmers of Newbury, Mass., have a Club for debates, lectures, procuring agricultural books, papers, &c. They have a public discussion this week, on "The application of manures." This is a vast deal better than going out west—learning to cultivate the land at home.

Why don't the farmers of Rockingham County do likewise?

Let it be remembered that Judge Taney is a Roman Catholic; that La Casas, a Roman Catholic, first introduced African slavery into America — that "history shows" that Roman Catholics, for more than three centuries, have "regarded" all Protestants of every sect, as "beings of an inferior order, and unfit associates" for Catholics, either socially or politically; and as beings who "had no rights" which "Catholics were bound to respect," and therefore might be reduced to slavery.—Stars and Stripes.

SOUTH BERWICK TOWN OFFICERS.—Moderator.—John M. Goodwin, (rep.) Town Clerk.—Benj. Franklin Parks, (dem.) Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of the Poor.—Barth. Wentworth, (rep.) Mark Goodwin, (dem.) John Hanscom, (dem.) Treasurer.—Benj. F. Parks, (dem.) Town Agent.—John N. Goodwin, (rep.) School Committee.—Rev. John Richardson.

I do not believe that men are naturally lazy, but that laziness is chargeable mainly to a false system of society, which compels them to do what they have no attraction for doing. Remove all aristocracy, every cause that makes labor degrading, and give men an opportunity to follow their true attractions, with an equal share in the blessings of life; and certainly work would then become play.—J. R. Miller.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1857.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Gov. Geary, having notified the President of his arrival in Washington, was invited to call at the White House, this afternoon, which he did, and was there introduced by the President to the Cabinet, and had with them a long conversation on the general affairs of Kansas.

The President, it is said, contemplates making his summer residence at Georgetown, to avoid the sickness with which former inmates of the White House have been afflicted during that season of the year.

UTAH AFFAIRS.—Dr. Bernhisel, delegate from Utah, denies the truth of the discreditable statements concerning that territory. He says they emanate from enemies, who have been striving to foment difficulties between the Mormons and the general government.

The latest report was, that Brigham Young had destroyed the U. S. archives there. This, we suppose, is the discreditable report—but Dr. Bernhisel does not consider the polygamy and lewdness there to be at all discreditable, as we suppose.

WASHINGTON, Monday night.—(Cor. N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.)—Affairs in Kansas have occupied the Cabinet all day. Gov. Geary was consulted. The Governor's resignation has not yet been accepted, but it will be, and the appointment of a Southern man in his place is probable. Geary had an interview with Gen. Pierce and qualified some of his charges. It is reported that dispatches have been received from Messrs. Morse and Borland, relinquishing the hope of a peaceful adjustment of the difficulties with Granada, and that force will therefore be necessary.

Cor. Tribune.—Gov. Geary's resignation has not been accepted. He attended a Cabinet meeting this afternoon. No results were reached, the President being taken ill before the interview closed. A decision is looked for to-morrow, certainly.

APPROPRIATENESS.—The N. Y. Musical Review states that at a concert at Sag Harbor, on the 5th inst. Some of the audience seemed not to be filled either with a love of music or respect for ministers; for, in the course of the evening, "the conductor introduced the Rev. Mr. Hopper, who gave some timely hints on singing, but was often interrupted by applause and laughter. Nothing daunted, however, he administered a severe rebuke to a clique of young scape-goats in the galleries, whose highest aim seemed to be to interrupt the proceedings of the evening, by an outrageous exhibition of whistling, yelling and insulting any one who attempted to interfere with them. Indeed, while the Rev. gentleman just mentioned was alluding to the 'whistling' in church, the 'whistling' rose so loud that the voice of the clergyman was nearly drowned in the tumult."

Well, this may suit some folks—at least, those who go in so strong for the free expression of delight through canes, boot-heels, &c., ought not to find much fault. If there were any decent men in the house, those chaps ought to have been forced to have, made "more noise or less."

A correspondent of the Review also gives a description of a concert given in Henry Ward Beecher's Church, Sabbath evening, by the celebrated Reading Chorus Club. The proceedings were fully as disgraceful, as at the Dover concert we spoke of recently. What a soul for music a man must have to announce the beautiful Anthem for Easter, as 'one of our pieces what hain't got no metre!' and what a devout audience to receive such an announcement with noisy applause, in church, on Sunday evening!

☞ The Concord Statesman comes down on Ross, the Soap man; also on a "book sale" in that city, and on gift enterprises generally—though it qualifies its remarks by saying that "were lottery schemes only employed for praiseworthy objects, there would be less need" of denouncing them. Well, we like to have all served alike; though for the life of us, we can't see the difference between an art union, or a gift enterprise, and much of the every day business of life, including all insurance, "speculation," &c. And as to the "object," the law is explicit and entirely prohibitory of "the lot"—so that nothing can legally be distributed by it, even though given away. We are no particular friend or defender of games of chance; but we like to see consistency. F.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states "that a larger number of Irish residents are leaving that city for the West, this spring, than usual. As often as every other day, a delegation of them are seen at the depot, and generally they are the best of their class—persons who have saved money when times were better, while many of their companions have neither money to go, or work to stay." There is more room for the Irish out West than in New England—and the latter region, if not both, would be better if the bulk of them made the change.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

VARIETIES IN EXETER.

EXETER, Monday, March 23.

Dear Chronicle:—The accidental death of young Thurrell of North Berwick, who was a member of Phillipps' Academy, has been before mentioned in your columns.—This event is one of the saddest that has ever transpired in this village. The generous and noble traits of his character, the robust and manly form he always exhibited, and the awful suddenness with which he was snatched from the world, conspired to throw an unusual gloom over all the circumstances connected with the tragical affair. Every outward mark of respect towards the memory of the deceased, which might serve to alleviate the anguish of his parents, was exhibited. At a meeting of the school, resolutions expressive of sympathy with the friends of the departed were adopted, and the students voted to wear crape on the left arm for the remainder of the term. The loss of an only son must fall heavily upon the loving parents, who had lavished so many fond hopes on their bud of rich promise.

The Supreme Judicial Court, which has been sitting here for three weeks, adjourned sine die on Saturday last. An unusual amount of criminal cases seems to have been disposed of during this session of the Court. *Among these also several persons have been "hauled over the coals" for keeping and selling intoxicating liquors, "contrary to the form of the statute in such cases made," &c.

Master McCarty, the well known blind pianist, gave one of his pleasing concerts at the Town Hall, last Tuesday evening.—He was assisted by the Boston Quartette, and well-filled seats testified to the fact that their musical talent is rightfully appreciated here.

The Brothers Woodroffe, who were, we believe, at Portsmouth a few weeks since, have opened their attractive entertainment at the old Town Hall during the past week. The wonderful little steam engine, made entirely of glass, is a puff in itself. If the following incident did not happen at this exhibition, it is just such an one as might have happened there, and so we give it:—

An observing old lady, who was bound to realise her money's worth, and to be fully posted up in all the, to her, mysterious particulars of the glass blowing, fixed her attention very closely on a small decanter, containing a reel, which looked as though it must have sustained an uncommonly tight squeeze in entering the narrow neck.—"How do you get the reel out without breaking the bottle?" asked she of the Doctor, who happened to be standing near. "Oh! very easily; follow his example," said Doctor, pointing out of the window to a poor chap who was staggering along in the Virginia fence style, under the influence of a "leetle too much of the critter." Nobody laughed except the Doctor himself, while his victim taking the hint after some moments of mature deliberation, muttered something about "people living in glass houses, &c.," and walked away.

If you hear of any rich old fellow, with a large lot of money which he doesn't know what to do with, please inform him that he can very easily expend it in lining our streets with brick pavements, which are badly enough needed. To say nothing of the possibility, it is not a very poetical operation—this wading through the mud, which with very rare exceptions, lies stuck in the devious pathways of this good, old town. F. G.

THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Hamilton, C. W., March 23.—The interest which is attached to the locality of the railroad accident at Desjardines Canal, was to-day renewed by the raising of the submerged engine, and the testing of the bridge, which is now repaired. The engine was raised with pulleys and derricks to the top of the water, and showing the forward truck wheel of the engine on the right side broken off. From the position of the engine, as it lay on the bottom of the canal, on its side, it seems quite impossible that the wheel was broken by the fall. Everything goes to show that the axle was broken, either on the bridge, or very near it, and the breaking of the bridge was from the concussion which ensued. The bridge was tested with three heavy English engines attached, and there was not the slightest vibration perceptible. It seems remarkably strong.

☞ There is to be a social Assembly and Levee, at Gunnison's Hall, Kittery, on Friday evening, March 27. Dancing to commence at 9 o'clock. Supper at 11 o'clock. Tickets $1, admitting a gentleman and lady.

FAILURE.—New York, March, 23.—John Devlin & Co., dealers in millinery, in Chambers street, failed on Saturday. Liabilities $250,000, due chiefly to French importers.

ILL.—Rev. Dr. Caldicott, pastor of the Baldwin Place Baptist Church in Boston, is seriously ill.

Hon. Mr. Damrell, M. C. of the 3d Dist. of Mass. is also very ill.

☞ The New York Herald says that Dr. Robert Hunter of that City has been accomplishing the most extraordinary results in the treatment of Consumption, by Inhalation, decreasing the mortality more than one thousand in the past two years. The following are the figures from the City Inspector's Report:

The Deaths from Consumption in 1854, 3,032; in 1855, 2,624; in 1856, 2,357.

Showing an actual saving of life truly miraculous, when we consider that this disease has heretofore been regarded as hopelessly fatal.

SOMETHING NEW AT LAST.—The Manual Alphabet for the Deaf and Dumb, and for the convenience and amusement of all.—By means of it any one, young or old, can acquire a perfect knowledge of the deaf and dumb language in two hours so as to converse in it, or impart it to others.—Sent by mail to any address on receipt of 25 cents, or to clubs of 5 for $1. A very liberal discount to dealers. Those wishing more information relative to it, must inclose a three cent stamp. Address WM. N. DUNNELL, Engraver, 195 Broadway, Cor. of Dey Street, New York.

COSTAR'S RAT, ROACH, BED BUG, &c., EXTERMINATOR.—We invite special attention to "Costar's", advertisement in another coulmn. These Remedies for all domestic pests, such as Rats, Cock-Roaches, Bed Bugs, Ants, Fleas, &c., are said to be invaluable; indeed we can speak from actual knowledge of their rare merits. The name of "Costar" is a "household word" to New Yorkers, and his Depot, No. 388 Broadway, is thronged by thousands daily. As the summer approaches, we advise every one who would be rid of the above named pests to send and procure a timely supply of the Exterminator. Druggists and Dealers also should send their orders early if they would secure a trade in articles for which there is a constant demand, and on which a fair profit may be realized.

These Remedies, we learn are being extensively introduced throughout the Canadas, West Indies, and South America, as well as the United States. Orders (large or small,) accompanied by the cash, will receive prompt attention if addressed to "Costar's Principal Depot, No. 388 Broadway, New York."—Richardson's Journal.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Phila lelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry (Italy), and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

7 DAYS LATER BROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Steamship Africa, from Liverpool 7th inst., arrived at half past ten.

The chief incident by this arrival is the announcement by Lord Palmerston of the course which his government intends to pursue, in consequence of their recent defeat on the Chinese question. As the state of the public business would not permit an immediate dissolution of Parliament, he proposed to dissolve the House in May, and until then, to go on with such measures as call for immediate action, viz:

1. In the House of Commons, a reduction of the income tax for the year, April 1857 to April 1858, from 7d. to 5d. per pound; also, instead of 1s. 7d. per pound on tea, 1s. 5d., and precisely the same scale of duty on sugar. These changes were carred by a majority of 62, and take effect from 5th April, 1857, to 5 April, 1858.

2. To defend their rights and improve their relations with China in a firm but peaceful way; and, in conjunction with France, and, he hoped, with America, to secure an extension of commercial advantages.

Lord Palmerston has been invited to become a member for the city of London.

The city of Liverpool has sent him an address.

The signing of the treaty of peace with Persia is officially announced, and a copy has been despatched to Teheran for ratification. Its chief feature consists in granting right of residence to British Consuls in the cities of Persia.

A treaty of Commerce has been ratified at Tehuan, by the Shah, between Persia and the United States, granting the same terms, viz: that American consuls may reside in the chief Persian cities.

Cotton dull, and lower qualities depressed; provisions unchanged; breadstuffs trade dull, and prices dropped a shade.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

The City Government of Portsmouth was duly inaugurated for the year, on Tuesday. The public ceremonies took place in the Court House, commencing punctually at 10 o'clock.

The new mayor, Robert Morrison, appeared and took the oath of office.

In the Common Council, Augustus Jenkins was chosen president, having 10 votes; Hampti Konney had 8.

Freeman G. Beal was chosen clerk, having 10 votes; S. G. Folsom had 9.

In Convention,

Mayor Morrison presiding; balloted for City Clerk. Whole number of votes 25, of which John Bennett had 23, and was elected.

Prayer was then offered by Rev. Dr. Lamson. After this the Mayor's Address was delivered, as follows:

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

We are now convened for the purpose of organizing the City government for the ensuing municipal year. Having accepted the trust committed to us by our fellow citizens, and taken our respective oaths of office, we have incurred responsibilities of no ordinary nature. To us is committed the general welfare of the city; and the public look to us for its healthy and moral condition. Whatever, therefore, tends to the quiet of our streets;—to the safety of our dwellings; to the good condition of our streets and public roads; to the means for the education of our youth;—and to relieving the condition of the helpless and unfortunate, will be fit subjects for your consideration, inquiry and action.

CITY REPORTS

As the Reports have not yet been published, and not having been conversant with the different departments of the municipal government for the past year, I cannot speak from personal knowledge of their condition. These reports will be in the hands of every citizen in a short time; the public will be made acquainted with the condition and wants of every department; and all subjects which may seem to require your consideration, will be submitted to you, from time to time.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Sufficient, I believe, is known of our Public Schools, that we can speak of them in terms of the highest praise. At no time have they been in a more prosperous state. Their healthy influence upon the community is the best safeguard for the perpetuity of a free government. A liberal sum should be raised for their support, and their faithful teachers should be suitably encouraged.

POLICE.

Our Police should be men of unexceptionable character; skilled in the knowledge of human nature; firm, yet conciliatory; and who observe the laws they are called upon to execute. They should be vigilent in suppressing disorder and detecting crime; and should exercise a healthy influence on the morals of the city. If our laws are violated, they must be enforced; not in a fanatical spirit, but in a manner calculated to accomplish the most good.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

With the exception of one engine, the Fire Department is in complete order. It should at all times, be fully prepared for any emergency, for upon its prompt action the safety of our dwellings often depends.

ALMSHOUSE.

The almshouse establishment, used for the triple purpose of an Almshouse, House of Correction and a Retreat for the Insane, is a credit to the city, and speaks well for the foresight, wisdom and philanthropy of its projectors. Its inmates are well cared for, and the management by the present Superintendent, I am happy to learn, has been satisfactory to the Board of Overseers.

CITY FINANCES.

No part of your duties will require greater care or more discrimination than the management of the City Finances. While every expenditure should be made with regard to strict economy, the appropriations should be amply sufficient for the purposes to which they are to be applied. Contingent expenses can never be calculated with certainty, and it is better that we should diminish the city debt than increase it.

By reference to the city records, I find the City Debt to be $75,500, nearly half of which is funded at only five per cent; the balance mostly under six; and only $11,250 bearing legal interest; to meet which there is $10,219.58 in uncollected taxes, debts due the city and cash on hand. These assets will reduce the City Debt to $65,280.42.

It is gratifying to know we that for this debt, so favorably funded, we have in our midst more than an equivalent in the very objects for which it was contracted—our School Houses, Almshouse and City Farm. One of the school houses was finished the past year, for the High Schools, which, in point of architectural beauty and the arrangement of its apartments, can hardly be excelled. A debt thus contracted, for the cause of humanity and the accommodation of our Public Schools, the just pride of New England, can be looked upon in no other than a favorable light.

TO THE CITIZENS.

I cannot suffer this occasion to pass, without thanking my fellow citizens for the very cordial manner in which I have been invited, after an absence of fifteen years, to so honorable a position in the councils of the city of my adoption. If I can but meet their reasonable expectations, it will form the happiest period of my life.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

I shall be happy to cooperate with you in all measures calculated to promote the interests of the city, trusting in Divine Providence for our success.

☞ We learn that the Reading Room connected with the Mercantile Library Association in this city, is to be discontinued, immediately—as it does not pay expenses. At first view, it might seem cause for regret that this source of information cannot be well sustained; but with the liberal circulation of daily papers at everybody's door, now-a-days, the working or otherwise busy man can get his reading cheaper if not better at home.

HOSIERY BUSINESS.—The burning of the Hosiery Mill at Franklin, N. H., on Friday of last week, was probably occasioned by spontaneous combustion. The fire broke out in the picker room between two and three o'clock in the morning. More than one thousand individuals have been thrown out of employment, and a severe blow has been inflicted upon the prosperity of Franklin. Although most of the looms were saved, the loss will reach $75,000. The total insurance is about $45,000.

The Portsmouth Stocking Factory has been burnt twice, prehaps by the same cause; and part of the buildings probably by an incendiary. This is a most beautiful and favorable location for most any manufacturing business, particularly that of making hosiery goods; and now is a fine chance to set the machinery flying here again. Better do this by far, than go out West. Let the weavers who emigrated to Franklin, set their looms a humming in old Portsmouth again—the home of the stocking business.

ROWDYISM.—On Monday evening, a bottle of rum or other liquor was thrown through a front window of the house of Mrs. Pickett on Summer street—ruining the carpet, and doing other damage; and a similar outrage was committed on a house in Chapel street. The ornamental fence of Rev. Dr. Burroughs' residence was also broken and defaced. It will be seen that a reward of $50 is offered by the Mayor and Aldermen, for the detection of the perpetrators of these or other depredations.

☞ The price of good fresh codfish at the Spring Market, has been about four cents a pound. On Tuesday, one of the old salts wishing to drive off an intruder, offered fish alongside him, at two cents—and soon our hero was crying his stock at one cent a pound, at which rate, business went swimmingly for a while. Don't be in hurry to get a fish at this price, now, however—for it "costs more than that to raise them," and the fin business can't stand such competition long.

AUCTIONS.—See Auction column for rare chances for investment.

It will be seen that the sale of the Blacksmith's Shop, advertised by Mr. Morse, auctioneer, is postponed.

A desirable residence on Islington street, is to be sold at auction on the 4th of April.

Also a brick store on Market street, in one of the best locations in the city, is to be sold by H. F. Wendell, Esq., next week.

Mr. D. L. Stover is almost giving away the balance of goods in the City Sales Room.

KANSAS MATTERS.—St. Louis, March 23. The Topeka correspondent of the Democrat says the Kansas Free State Convention was in session at that place, on the 10th and 11th insts., C. F. Currier presiding. The Committee on the Platform reported a series of resolutions, stating that the people of the territory cannot participate in the election called under the pro-slavery Convention act, without compromising their rights as American citizens, and jeopardizing the public peace; that the Topeka Constitution is still the choice of a majority of the citizens of the territory; and they urge upon Congress the immediate admission of Kansas as a State, under that Constitution; that peaceful relations between all its citizens are regarded as indispensable to the welfare of the people of the territory, and they urgently appeal to all men to submit all differences of opinion, growing out of the question of its domestic institutions, to the ballot-box, provided that any attempt to abridge or impair the freedom of speech, or of the ballot-box, shall be held as just cause for departure from this policy; that no tests shall be made for membership of the Free State party, save the exclusion of slavery from Kansas; and finally, that they are inflexibly determined to abide by the principles of equality and squatter sovereignty, as enunciated in the Kansas-Nebraska bill.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than it sold here. Or Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash being much larger there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.

Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Fever, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,
and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.

Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy;—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

DR. AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

SEE NEXT PAGE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and Judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to strike from the stomach, and they cleanse at once. If they will do to others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, EDS. W. BERNER,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for all diseases of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and paining away for three years. We offered to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from fifty dollars down to doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be patronized.

HEN. J. GRIFFEN, Distributor.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of health.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hanna, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful not to send you this testimonial of what your Pills have brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which I suffered for nearly three weeks. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effect were short, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease, which has lasted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country where the continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Yields to the decided powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs. It is also the pleasantest and safest cough medicine that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We think we may safely venture to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until we have fastened upon us the fatal disease marker that, fastened on the vitals, ends your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and so they know the virtues of the remedy which we need not be more clear than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then offer it with the assurance that it is the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which E. FRANCIS & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commission issued by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who send to a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Baltimore, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the comm unity generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic style.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and more than any in the country, I am thus enabled to produce pictures of any size desired, and of the most perfect finish, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

Rooms No. 33 Congress st. (opposite City Hotel) where specimens as above can be seen and the water proof process secured.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. WM. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One His Doctor, by W. M. YOUNG, M. D. It is written in plain language for the general reader and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that should be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents. Address Dr WM. YOUNG, No. 152 SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, assignments, and all Papers or Models for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and to give all other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages not to be obtained by others, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The immense fees given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of his subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official documents relative to patents. Now, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, which has been usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons who had that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most faithful and meritorious Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and worthy, and more capable of obtaining their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as solicitor. He has thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MAGRUDER,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as those who live near. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery is authorized by a law specially enacted by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after their receipt, and arranged according to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets are sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. The combination of numbers cannot be mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; the sum of prizes being drawn, and result of drawing published to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Daily Delta Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Democrat, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued—Heretofore all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were wholly devoted to our Melodeons, as we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We haveore give one testimonial we have received.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is! It has been played upon by Wallace, Doct. Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful Reed Instruments they have ever touched. Very resp'ly, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are about to buy, that we will be pleased to have them call and see the Instruments, and be satisfied that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. Our styles and prices are—

IN PORTABLE CASE:

Four octave Melodeon, from C to C	$45
Four and a half octave, " C to F	60
Five octave Melodeon, " F to F	75
Five octave, double reed, " F to F	150

IN PIANO CASE:

GOV. GEARY OF KANSAS.

We learn that Gov. Geary, appointed by Franklin Pierce, has resigned his office, and returned to Pennsylvania. His reasons are, that the Executive would not call to his aid such military force, as he required to protect the citizens of Kansas in their new homes, against the border ruffians, and to preserve peace in the territory. He gives an account of some horrible murders in the territory, and how the murderers were screened from arrest and punishment, by the ruffians. If Northern men will not believe his statement, as well as the past tragical narrations, neither would they believe although one rose from the dead. We have long believed that if the oligarchy should be permitted to triumph in overpowering the free settlers of Kansas,—in other words, in excluding freedom and christian principles from Kansas—the liberties of our country would perish. Our reasons we need not assign. But it is very clear that the Oligarchy will use every possible effort to convert Kansas into a Slave State—that the struggle, instead of being over, is but just commencing, and, in all probability, will end in blood. Mark our prediction. We would rejoice to find it erroneous. Among the reasons for the Governor's resignation is the fact that about fifty advocates of slavery had bound themselves by solemn oath, to take his life, should he refuse, in substance, to support measures to establish slavery in Kansas. Was he, therefore, justified in resigning? We think he was, and that he was not bound by moral duty to surrender up his life to the vilest band of assassins. Turn to the Apostle Paul's narration—vide Acts Chap. 23. When Paul learned that more than forty men had bound themselves with an oath to kill him, he took measures to save his life from the hand of the assassin. Who will deny that he did right?

Of course, we will not compare Gov. Geary with the inspired Apostle. But the objects which each had in view would result in about the same thing—for the spread of the Christian religion is the safest security of freedom: and the safeguard of freedom, in the present civilized age, opens the door to the Christian religion. They are hand-maids, and the one cannot prevail without the other. It is wholly impossible in the nature of things, that the principles of Christianity can actuate, or govern the public mind, where slavery predominates, because the latter is in violation of the solemn injunctions of the Decalogue.

CANDOR.

HE SOLD AND WAS "SENT OVER."—That is the whole story about a liquor dealer—Timothy Quinn, an Irishman, who was, on Monday, for one sale, sentenced by Judge Marston, to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and to imprisonment in the Ipswich House of Correction for twenty days. There are perhaps fifty other Irish places in Newburyport where liquor is sold.—Herald.

NEWBURYPORT MORALS.—The Herald having stated that there were fifty Irish grog shops in that city, a correspondent writes them as follows. As some portions of the remarks, at least, may apply elsewhere, we copy them.

THE IRISH RUM HOLES.—Your estimate, Mr. Editor, of fifty Irish grog shops, is altogether too low. Seven years ago, when there were as many Irish in town as now, there was not a rum hole kept by them, and the priest was very active to prevent their drinking; now nearly every other house they inhabit has rum to sell. Some of these are terrible places. One man, a time since, made a barn of his cellar and kept his horse there; and on his first floor sold rum, and didn't do anything better on the second. It is no uncommon thing to find pigs, little children as dirty as pigs, and drunken men and women more brutal than pigs, all tumbling upon the floor together.

Is there no way to stop to this? Messrs. Editors, where are the Mayor and Aldermen of this city? and where are the police? and where are the men—temperance men, pious and christian men, who let their buildings for such purposes? There is not a policeman in the city, from those who guard the streets in the day time, to the watchmen of the nights, that cannot put his hand upon twenty of these places in an hour. Why then are they not crushed out—the men carted to the County House, and the women and children sent to Tewsbury? And why is not the law applied to the house owners who own such rookeries?

To this, the editor of the Herald replies;

Our correspondent may give quiet to his soul—the city authorities have taken hold of the matter in good earnest, and almost every day one or more parties are arraigned before the Police Court, and convicted—convicted of selling spirituous liquors, though some of the miserable stuff has very little rum in it. We noticed that one was sentenced on Monday. On Tuesday, Timothy O'Connor was before the Court for violation of the law. On the first complaint, he was sentenced to pay a fine of $18 and costs—the amount of fine and costs together being $25,28; and to be imprisoned in the House of Correction twenty days. On the second complaint, he was fined $20 and costs, amounting to about $35, and to be imprisoned thirty days. The complainant in a liquor case may employ counsel for government, who shall receive $10 for his services, to be taxed in the costs of prosecution. So by the existing Liquor Law the defendant, if he pays the court taxes, has to pay ten dollars for helping him into trouble. O'Connor will have in the whole a fine little bill, besides fifty days at hard labor.

Our only regret is that the prosecutions are confined to the poor Irish. We would have no partiality—treat them all alike; and close up also the groggeries kept by Americans, where gambling and other offences no better, are mixed up with dram-drinking—begetting vice, social troubles, rowdyism, and crimes.

Hutchins' Hair Dye.

The very best now in use, as the many thousands that have tried it will testify.

THE great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

NO AUTHENTIC REPORT.

We have, as yet, seen no authorized report of Judge Taney's opinion, nor of the decision of the Court. The U. S. Senate failed to pass the resolution for printing twenty thousand copies of the opinions of the Supreme Judges. This the Boston Post says 'is to be regretted.' The Washington Union complains that Justices McLean and Curtis, by furnishing copies of their opinions to the press, have contributed in advance "the elements of political assults on their brethren, who have been fiercely condemned without being heard." The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

Wide circulation will be given to the long opinions of Justices McLean and Curtis, for political effect, and in preparation for the next presidential campaign; while the opinion of the majority of the court, as pronounced by Chief Justice Taney, is, in effect, suppressed, or very partially circulated. It has not yet been published in full anywhere. But the dissenting opinions, though not on record in the clerk's office of the court, were give to the public very promptly and in full.

This correspondent adds what we have supposed will be the case, that parties in the non-slaveholding States will be organized upon the issue presented by the decision. "The democracy will plant themselves upon it as a strong and secure platform." Even in Massachusetts the Buchanan men are already taking their stand. The Worcester Bay State dictatorially informs the people of that city that they may "wriggle and squirm,"—the decision of the Supreme Court is law."

In the meantime the opinion of Chief Justice Taney and his Southern compeers, that negroes are not citizens of the United States, and were never so considered, is being terribly cut up by appeals to history. It is shown that of four men taken from the Chesapeake by the British captain of the Leopard, in 1807, two, or one-half of them, were negroes. In President Jefferson's proclamation, issued soon after, excluding British vessels of war from American waters, he alludes to these men, as "native fellow-citizens of the United States." In Gen. Jackson's address to the colored soldiers of his Louisiana army, in 1814, he alludes to their "white fellow-citizens."—The celebrated Chancellor Kent, whose commentaries on American Law will be known when the names of Judge Taney and his compeers will have been for centuries forgotten, says, "it is certain that the constitution and statute law of New York speak of men of color as being citizens." He further says: "If a slave born in the United States be manumitted, or otherwise lawfully discharged from bondage, or if a black man be born within the United States, and born free, he becomes thenceforward a citizen."

George de Grasse, a colored man, was naturalized in 1804. The father of Chas. L. Remond, a colored man, was naturalized in 1811; both were colored "citizens of the United States." Rev. Peter Williams, a colored man, received a passport in 1836, from John Forsyth, Secretary of State, in which he was declared "a citizen of the United States." Robert Purvis and wife, colored, received passports in 1834.

It must be recollected that Judge Taney & Co., based their whole opinion on this point on certain assumed historical facts; for they have said (though they may blot it out in revising) that—

It is true that every person, and every class and description of persons at the time of the adoption of the Constitution, regarded as citizens of the several States, became citizens of this new political body (the United States.)

Now if it is proved that negroes were citizens of any of the States at the time the Constitution was adopted, they became citizens of the United States by the admission of Judge Taney & Co. themselves, and their opinion falls to the ground. That negroes were considered citizens in eleven of the thirteen States, is proved beyond controversy! Let the slavocracy plant themselves on that "decision" as soon as they please. If they do plant themselves there, (says the Lowell News) they will never sprout afterward.

ROBBING THE DEAD.—An attempt was made on Saturday week to rob bodies who had been killed by the great disaster at Desjardines. The ruffian was discovered by one of the hands of the railroad company, who knocked him down, and an officer took him into custody. The late Mr. Zimmerman always carried with him a valuable bag, with a number of silver articles useful in traveling and for the toilet:—These were worth a hundred pounds, and were all stolen. Each article was marked with his name.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION.

The N. H. Patriot said just before election:—

If the voters of New Hampshire wish to get a correct view of the Palace for Prostitutes and Criminals, as the Hindoos propose to make it, let them look at the engravings given in the Commissioner's Report to the Legislature.

Every vote for Haile, is a vote to squander at least $125,000 to build and adorn a palace for juvenile and female criminals, which the people will be taxed to pay.

Every vote for Wells is a vote for economy.

Such statements as these, and a handbill called a Reliable Estimate, were relied upon, at the last pinch, to carry the election. Yet in the face of it all, the people elected Mr. Haile, tho' it was "a vote to squander," &c.

The reliable estimate turns out to be one grand humbug, so far as the impression it made is concerned,—for the estimates therein are made on the whole plan, ornaments and all—whereas the appropriations of last year are only for the central building, without ornament.

The other parts may be added or not, hereafter, as the people may ordain, by their Representatives,—but it they do as the Patriot said the votes for Haile would indicate, they must vote to spend all the money!

The Statesman of March 21 says:—

Happily, the newspapers on that side might as well have been baying at the moon, as make the pother they did about the Reform School; but to show the exceeding injustice of their charges in this behalf, it is well to refer to the law of June, 1856.

Those who were in Concord at the time the last appropriation was made for this institution, will remember that the Plan thereof created very general belief in the minds of many Republicans, that the work had been projected upon a scale altogether too large. This apprehension was created by the amplitude and ornamental portions of the contemplated building, as exhibited upon the engraving. These apprehensions were freely expressed at the time, and not a dollar would have been voted unconditionally, as became at last evident to all who were conversant with the views of the Legislature. Mr. Smith, of Manchester, one of the Commissioners appointed by the Governor to carry forward the undertaking, appeared before the Senate, and upon the statement of that gentleman, the Legislature appropriated $15,000 with which to complete the central building, making stipulations, to be found as follows, being the 3d sections of the Act. (See Pamphlet Laws, page 1744, ch. 1834, June Session, 1856.)

"SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of said commissioners to apply the aforesaid appropriation (15,000, stated in the 1st section,) exclusively to the purchase of the land mentioned in section 1st aforesaid, toward erecting, finishing and preparing for use the center building provided for by the plan aforesaid, and so to fit and arrange the same as to accommodate the largest number of patients, having reasonable regard to a future completion of said plan; and also to finish both the exterior and interior of said building in a thorough and suitable manner, and with strict economy, and dispensing with all unnecessary embellishments; and to defer the erection of the remaining buildings until further action of the Legislature; and, until such action, shall not expend on said main building a sum exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars."

The Statesman remarks, "this law completely confines the Commissioners to the sum named within it, beyond which they can not go except at their personal risk. Still the Republicans were virtually charged with expending $132,000 in erecting a "palace for prostitutes and thieves," and copies of the Plan exhibited here in June, which then instantly awakened the alarm of the prevailing party, were displayed all over the State as exhibiting the identical edifice the Republicans voted to build.

"It is well to show up, especially after Election, this reckless procedure of the Slave-driving press, so that when they renew their fabrications next winter, they may be more powerless than even during the campaign just brought to a close."

The Manchester Mirror, not a party paper, but whose editor is by no means unfriendly to the democratic and whig parties in the state—said just after election:

The Democrats have tried, of late, to make political out of the expense incurred in building the House of Reformation for Juvenile Offenders, located in this city. To suit their ends, most extravagant and romantic stories have been told, and some believe them. This institution is designed to do great good, is built economically enough, and its outlines are meagre enough for the credit of the State.—No one here, seeing the building, thinks it too expensive and to those not politically biased, away from here the thought would never occur.

A few days ago, a violent Democrat, who had swallowed the lies about the institution, was descanting, in the cars, upon the expenditures attached to it, and promised to show the passengers, when they arrived opposite the building, what a king's palace it would be. It is in sight of the railroad; and an eigth of a mile this side of it, Mr. A. M. Eastman is building a nice, large brick house. The Democrat pointed to the house and said, "That is one wing, and what you see up yonder is the other wing. Now, if those are the wings, what a mint of money it will take to build the main building between!" The haw-haw that followed gave the man no chance to explain, and showed plainly that though he might be green, the passengers were not.

DEATH IN THE GREEN ROOM.

We learn from the Philadelphia papers of the 23d, that on Saturday evening, while one of the largest and most brilliant audiences ever seen in America, was enjoying the splendid performance of Linda di Chamouni in the Philadelphia Academy of Music, there was a scene of startling contrast behind the curtain. A very worthy member of the female chorus, whose services, from her long experience, were very valuable, died suddenly in the Green Room, just as the opera was about to begin,—of disease of the heart. It was a shocking and a solemn incident, and created a great deal of agitation among the performers, especially among the choristers, who had been so long accustomed to follow her directions in the performances.

The woman who died was Louisa Locatilli; she was a large thick set woman, and will be remembered by the frequenters of the opera, as a conspicuous member of the chorus, in the companies which have visited Boston.

It was some time before the singers could recover their composure sufficiently to enable them to go on. But the vast audience before the curtain, knew nothing of the sad tragedy that had occurred, and it was not deemed advisable to inform them of it. There was a delay of ten or fifteen minutes in the commencement of the performance: but then the curtain rose, and the Swiss villagers appeared, smiling and gay in their rustic costume; and not one thought that within a few yards of them lay the corpse of one of their number, arrayed like them in the bright dress of the canton. The prima donna, and all, forced down the emotions that the tragedy excited, and went through with their parts with apparent composure. The audience were more than usually enthusiastic and gay. Cheers and bravos greeted the prima donna, and bright boquets were showered at her feet. To the few who had heard of the grim intrusion of the king of terrors into the temple of mirth and festivity, the scene before the curtain had in it something of the awful. It is not often that a festal and a funeral scene are brought into such close contact.

☞ The barn of the State Lunatic Hospital, at Taunton, Mass., was struck by lightning on Thursday noon—causing no other damage than the killing of two hogs, a Guinea hen, and the premature birth of a calf.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on the side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanted his former self in the affections of the lady, who caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of D. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

YOUNG AMERICANS' LYCEUM.—The closing lecture of this course was delivered on Wednesday evening by Master Charles C. Salter. His subject—"Are Animals endowed with reason?" he maintained should be answered in the affirmative, quoting authorities and citing anecdotes to uphold his position.

A report of the Finances of the Club was read by their Secretary, Master S. J. Nowell, by which we learn that their receipts for the six lectures have been $33.20, and their expenses $10.63. $20 of the surplus is to be donated to the Howard Benevolent Society.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—The annual election in the Second District occurred on Wednesday afternoon.—The following ticket was chosen, being nearly the same as last year:

Robert O. Treadwell.
Lyman D. Spalding,
Joseph H. Foster,
Thomas L. Tullock,
John Knowlton, 2d,
I. Bartlett Claggett,
Wm. B. Lowd, 2d,

☞ We learn from Boston, that Mrs. Emma A. Wentworth will give her annual Concert in this her native city, on Fast evening,—Thursday, April 2d. Of course she will have able assistance. We shall give particulars in a day or two.

SUGAR CANE.—We are indebted to our friend Shores for seed enough to plant we don't know how much land—more than we have got at any rate. It is black, and looks very much like,—some other kind of seed, but we forget what. Our friend and fellow laborer with the sweet tooth, says he is going into the sugar raising business—but though he can "raise Cain" fast enough, we shall wait the result of his experiments, before we guarantee his sugar-bowl crop. See advertisement.

For the Chronicle.

DRINKS.—I would respectfully submit the opinion in regard to that valuable article of diet, Milk,—that instead of legislating upon the subject, the best way to obtain an abundant supply of a pure quality, would be to raise the price to a remunerating point, be it 8, 10, or even 12 cents per quart. Let the farmers then abandon the female slavery of butter and cheese making.

Could there be supplied to every man, woman and child, a quantity equal to about one half a pint of pure milk daily—it would be one of the most potent influences against the use of ardent spirits as a beverage; many a drunkard would abandon his cups—and many a dealer (as such) a degraded, if not a very guilty man, though I have not so low an opinion of my fellow man as to believe that any of them would persist in such a business in the face of all light and fact) would find an ennobling, a remunerative, and a pleasant calling in the raising of stock,—and in addition to the general improvement in the health and general constitution of the community, the lessening of vice—we should have the article of beef in more abundance than at present—and generally a better increase in the fruits of the earth. P. Q.

A FACETIOUS RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPER.—The St. Louis Presbyterian gives the following:

A newspaper writer, imitating the prevalent practice among editors, of puffing everybody who has shown them the commonest civility, "for their courteous and gentlemanly conduct;" returns his thanks to "the parson and proprietors of the Stone Church," in a city he had just visited, "for the privilege of promenading up and down the broad aisle of the same on Sunday last, in search of a seat, unmolested."

A SKIRMISH.—Commander Swartout, of the United States steamer Massachusetts, has made an interesting report of the engagement fought on the 21st of March last, between the crew of that vessel and a band of North Russian Indians, near Port Gambia, Washington territory. The Indians were incamped in large force, but under cover of the guns of the steamer, Lieutenants Simmes and Forrest, with a party of twenty-nine sailors and marines, made a very gallant charge upon them, driving them from their incampment into the woods. The Indians fought with desperate courage and determination. During the whole day a fire was kept up from the Massachusetts upon the Indians whenever they were seen in the woods. The United States force had one man killed and one wounded, and the Indians lost twenty-seven killed and twenty-one wounded—among the latter one of their chiefs. The Indians sued for peace, and promised to go to Victoria, and never visit Puget Sound again.

The Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican, in a letter to that Journal, says:

"I understand that, in deference to Gov. Gardner's recomendation to the clergy to preach on Fast Day on the subject of individual sins, the Rev. Theodore Parker will on that day take up the subject of lying."

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Gov. Geary tells me that for weeks before he was aware of the fact, the border ruffians in the streets of Lecompton openly announced that his power was broken, and that he was used up. He heard of these boasts frequently, but believed it was nothing but brag, as he had received no intimation from President Pierce that a change of policy had been determined on, and new orders issued to Gen. Persifer Smith not to give him the aid of the troops.

When the contingency did occur, and he called upon Gen. Smith for a company to prevent an anticipated riot, he was answered that he could not have them, and that all the troops in the Territory had been detailed for other and distant services.

Robert J. Walker, at the urgent solicitation of Mr. Buchanan, has accepted the Governorship of Kansas. At first he peremptorily declined, but subsequently accepted, after a free consultation of upwards of three hours with the Cabinet, with the understanding that he is not to be embarrassed in any manner, and that the administration are to make such appointments in the Territory, as he suggests.

John Appleton has been tendered the position of Assistant Secretary of State, but it is not settled whether he will accept.

Another dispatch of the same date says:

Mr. Robert J. Walker has the refusal of the Kansas Governorship until to-morrow morning. A Northern man is to be appointed Governor of Nebraska. Five members of the Cabinet have signified to Mr. McMullen of Va., he might have Brigham Young's place.

25th.—Robert J. Walker has, thus far, neither accepted nor declined the Governorship of Kansas, but will give his final answer to-day.

Gosport stands politically 12 to 12, with one for Haddock. A few years ago it was all bogus. The Haddock voter went for the Democratic candidate for representative, and elected him. Very natural.—Next year Gosport will send a Republican, and the Hampton boys have agreed to build a bonfire on the beach so large that the Shoals folks can warm themselves by it.—Manchester American.

MARRIED.—Col. Lane, of Kansas notoriety, is married again, his former wife from whom he had been divorced, being his wife.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogue, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Phila lelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the article. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simille of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most valuable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and as also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

BENJAMIN NORTON

HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than if sold here. Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much lower there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.

Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.
80 acres in section 19, Township 102.

Also 39 Lots in the town of Stockton, 8 miles from Winona; little Indianola—being a warranty deed from the Judge of Probate for Winona County. A Plan of the Town can be seen on application to the subscriber.

I intend leaving for Winona, Minnesota, by the 1st of April; and all business entrusted to my care will be promptly attended to. Money will be taken, and invested in Land, or paid to interest—as may be desired, as money lets in Winona for from 3 to 6 per cent per month, on the best of security. Residence 11 AUSTIN STREET,

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in the country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,
and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not full to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 20, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gross. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

RIGHTS—OUGHT TO BE.—The Eastern Argus, in a lame defence of Judge Taney, says:

"Judge Taney does not undertake to say what negro rights ought to be, but what they are under the Constitution, which he is sworn to interpret truly."

What confusion of ideas and terms! Right is what ought to be. Privilege is that portion of right which we enjoy. The slave has as many rights as a freeman—but he does not enjoy so many privileges.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,
Dyspepsia, Pain in the Side,

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to strike from a foul stomach, which they clear out at once. If taken well in the morning fasting, the fact is worth knowing.
Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRENTE,
Clerk of U. S. Circuit Court.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.
SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we possess. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease in which I consider that it did not really yield to them.
Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

FORT OFFICE, HAZELHURST, LEV. CO., MISS., Nov. 16, 1855
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. We broke off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her of a severe two months' attack of bloody flux. A dozen of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars for doctors' bills, and had their patients die under their hands, and then had to bury them. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.
GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in district. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the best medicine I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. Y. HIMES.
WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.
DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.
JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, Humors and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her neck and face, which defied all treatment for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.
PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.
HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your Pills have brought me if I did not expect my case from you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best medical advice, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.
SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.
DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which has afflicted me for years. VINCENT BLISSELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its efficacy, or know yet few communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fearfully fatal and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that has ever relieved the sufferer and preserved persons. Parents should always have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by its timely promptness to prevent those from ever dying who have taken it when first they felt the symptoms of a cough or cold, and yet cures more lives by its power to cure than any other medicine. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until no human skill can reach the incurable disease they induce, and it is too late. Keep it in your kitchen, and cure your little ones of croup, whooping cough, and bronchitis, and save them from the terrible sufferings and danger that attend these fearful diseases when they have to be treated by the physician. Keep it in your bedroom, and cure your wives of those fatal coughs and incipient consumptions which are so common, and which, if neglected or improperly treated, so surely lead to the grave. Keep it in your hospital, and your patients will thank you for the comfort and relief it gives them in their sufferings, and the speedy cures it effects. Keep it in your manufactories, and your operatives will be saved from the ravages of those fatal pulmonary complaints which are induced by their occupations, and which are so fearfully destructive to the lives of those engaged in these occupations. Keep it everywhere, and everywhere it will be found the most reliable remedy for the diseases of the lungs and throat that the world has yet produced. Its unrivalled excellence is the result of long and careful chemical investigation, and every year of its trial has shown that it is more and more deserving the confidence and hope of those who are liable to or suffering from pulmonary complaints. Its composition is such that it can do no harm to any one, and it is adapted to the most tender and delicate as well as to the robust and hardy. Its effects are so prompt and decisive that it cures most of those who are given up by other physicians, and who have tried all other remedies. Its power over those dangerous diseases which fasten upon the lungs of the children of the cold and hoarseness, is such that parents may safely rely upon it when their children are in the most imminent danger from these fatal diseases. Its tried friends in every town and county in the land are ready to testify to its wonderful cures of the most dangerous and fatal pulmonary complaints. Its agents will furnish our friends with our American Almanac, in which their cures are recorded, and we publish only a few of the most remarkable cases that come to our knowledge in our own immediate vicinity, to show the character of the medicine when its virtues are known. Its effects are so different from those of other medicines, and so much more decisive and beneficial, that it is but justice to itself and those who need its services that its qualities should be known. Its cures are so numerous, and many of them so much more than those of any other medicine, that it is but justice to the sick and suffering that the fact should be known that there is such a medicine. Its cures are so much more numerous and decisive than those of any other medicine, that it is but justice to those who need such a medicine that the fact should be known that there is such a medicine.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRAZER & CO are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the managers, who are also residents of Maryland, are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons having the right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no prize ticket in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. The tickets are, however, sent at the same price as the scheme is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes range in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made in the Patent Office or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating to the administration of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unexcelled by any other agency anywhere to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. A PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason for believing that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a very collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full account of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
The necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, was employed at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and none who more who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Delaware, and a commissioner appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that state. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same is received. The price of tickets in the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers required, the drawer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.
All Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

Improved Melodeons.
THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.
Employing Two Hundred Men,
and finishing
Eighty Instruments per Week.
BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000
of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.
THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, for which we received a Medal at the Fair of the Volunteer Company in the new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture.
It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly SIXTEEN THOUSAND of Volunteer Melodeons, to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received, which we have not but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the most complete and perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.
New York, 15th Oct., 1855.
"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming Instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodd, Hodges, Wm Mason, and a number of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very truly, JAMES F. HALL."
We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with the same quality of tone and style. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are:

IN PORTABLE CASE:
Four octave Melodeon, from C to C.....$45
Four and a half octave, " C to F.....60
Five octave Melodeon, " F to F.....75
Five octave, double reed, " F to F.....130

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

AFFAIRS IN KANSAS.

GOVERNOR GEARY'S STATEMENT.

At length we have a story of the wrong inflicted by the border ruffians in Kansas, which we think may be credited. Let us hear no more of "free State perversions" and "abolition lies." The correspondence that has appeared in the columns of the Democrat from time to time has only been untrue in its failure to fully represent the atrocities of the proslavery outlaws who have gained foothold in Kansas.

Gov. John W. Geary, at Lecompton, on the 4th inst., forwarded his resignation of the Governorship of Kansas to the department at Washington. Having notified Mr. Woodson, Secretary of the Territory, of this fact, and having surrendered to that officer the official control, he in a few days after quit the country and started for the East. He arrived in this city on Sunday evening, accompanied by his private Secretary, Dr. Gibon. Yesterday afternoon he called at this office, and in the course of a long conversation gave us a complete history of his administration in Kansas, and more than confirmed all the reports which have reached the public through the Democrat of the outrages of the proslavery bandits and rebels in that unhappy Territory.

The Governor states the cause of his resignation to be the failure of Ex-President Pierce to fulfil the pledges made at the time of his acceptance of the appointment. The promises of Mr. Pierce, he says, were to support him (Geary) with the United States army, the militia, and the treasury, if necessary; but instead of receiving this aid, either in men or money, from the President, he has paid $12,000 out of his own pocket for the support of his own administration; and with regard to military support, he has even been refused a detachment of two companies of cavalry, for which he applied under the most urgent circumstances, and received the haughty answer from the officer in command, that the army of the United States was not employed to protect him. In addition, the Judiciary of the Territory, as well as the military of the government, refused its support. Judge Lecompte thwarted him on all occasions, and having the means to execute his judicial decrees, was enabled to overrule him in every important measure.

Again, throughout his whole official career, he has been an object of hatred to an organized and sworn band of conspirators in the Territory. He says that fifty men were under oath from the day he went into the country until he left it, to assassinate him, provided his official career should deviate from that course which they had marked out for him.—His life thus in constant jeopardy; the judiciary bitterly opposed to him; the military inactive and stubborn, and the government without money or means of any kind, he was necessarily compelled to resign. The Governor regrets the steps he was obliged to take most sincerely, and feels confident that had he received the assistance promised him, he could have administered the affairs of the Territory in a manner acceptable to the honest settlers of both sides.

In relation to the robberies, arson and murders at the hands of the proslavery ruffians, which have taken place in Kansas, the Governor say the one half has not yet been told.—He says the murder of Buffum by Hayes was one of the most cold blooded and atrocious affairs ever witnessed. The Governor reached the spot a few moments after the affair occurred. As the poor fellow was lying upon the earth in his agonies, the blood streaming from his wounds, and the cold sweat of death upon his brow, he seized the Governor's hand, and declared, that as he looked for mercy hereafter, he was innocent of all cause of offence—that it was a most foul and unprovoked murder. He asked his assassin why he sought his life, or desired to take his property—that upon his efforts depended the subsistence of an aged father and mother, a deaf and dumb brother and sister—that he himself was a cripple and therefore harmless. To this appeal he was told that he was a "d—d abolitionist, and that they intended to destroy the whole of them." Upon which Hayes, one of the gang, seized him by the collar, and placing the pistol against his stomach, shot him.

The Governor pledged him, while holding his cold hand in his own, that he would use all his power to bring his murderers to justice. "I spent," said the Governor, "five hundred dollars to have his assassin arrested; and I would have spent five thousand dollars to have done so, if it had been necessary." It is well known that the Governor had Hayes arrested, but scarcely was he put in prison when Lecompte issued a writ of habeas corpus, had him released and set at liberty upon straw bail. Hayes is now in Missouri, and is playing the gentleman. The Governor further states that after the release of Hayes, Surveyor General Calhoun took occasion, in a public speech upon the matter, to declare that the discharge of Hayes was perfectly legal, and that it was a mistake to suppose that the territorial laws were enacted for the benefit of any other persons than the proslavery men.

Speaking of the insult offered him, which led to the death of Sherrard, the Governor gave a detailed account of the transaction, and the manner in which his assassination had been previously planned. His own firmness, however, prevented its execution. Sherrard, the Governor states, with three others, waylaid him in the hall of the Legislature. He discovered them, and knew their purpose, but passed on, when Sherrard spat upon his back several times. As soon as these facts became known a public meeting was held, composed principally of proslavery men, for the purpose of denouncing the act. It was at this meeting that Sherrard was shot. When the resolutions were read, Sherrard said that any person who endorsed them "was a liar, a coward, and a scoundrel." Mr. Sheppard then arose and stated that he endorsed them and was neither a liar, scoundrel nor coward. Sherrard then drew his revolver and commenced shooting at Sheppard, who received three balls in his body. Mr. S. then snapped a pistol at Sherrard, but it failing fire, he rushed upon him and struck him with his weapon. They were separated, and Sherrard then drew another pistol and advanced upon Jones, whom he had previously insulted because he was a member of the Governor's household. Jones, perceiving his danger, drew a pistol in self defence; a number of shots were then fired at the same time, and Sherrard fell. The Governor says that the account of this affair published in the Republican as furnished by some Mr. Jones, is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end.

Among other things, the Governor complains most bitterly of the annoyances which he suffered in the obstruction and mutilation of his correspondence. The mail bags he says were constantly opened and all communications to and from him systematically overhauled and, if objectionable, abstracted. Mr. McClain, chief clerk in the Surveyor General's office, boasted of the fact, and stated that he himself had destroyed and suppressed two bushels of mail matter.

In view of these things, and under the operation of the act of the ruffian Legislature, which provides for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, administered as it will be by the dominant faction who hold all the offices, he thinks it inevitable that a slavery constitution will be established in Kansas.

The Governor is, probably, correct; but nevertheless it is one thing to frame a proslavery instrument and another to establish the institution de facto in the territory. The friends of free labor in the North must redouble their efforts.

The above statements are corroborated in the following brief extract from the Cleveland Leader of Friday:

"Gov. Geary of Kansas passed through Ohio yesterday afternoon. He is in exceeding poor health, and suffers severely from the effects of a disease of the throat. He states that he has resigned the governorship of that territory. He fears a collision between the proslavery and free state men, and expressed his belief that, under existing circumstances, Kansas must inevitably be a slave state. The laws passed by the bogus Legislature for a convention to form a State Constitution, were so enacted as to prevent a vote of the people on the great question of Freedom or Slavery; thus securing the ascendancy of the slave power, and the annihilation of the principle of freedom. Half the wrongs and outrages committed on the free state people had never been told.

He had himself been compelled to leave the territory under cover of night, in order to escape the fury of ruffians and preserve his life. The government had no doubt connived to insure the success of the proslavery party. Under the courts, as they now exist in Kansas, there was no security either for the lives or property of the free state men; and all northern men were regarded in the light of abolitionists, and consequently as legitimate subjects for the attacks of the proslavery party. He complained that his own letters and papers had frequently been abstracted from the mails. Prior to the Presidential election he had been in active correspondence with the General Government; but immediately after, when the result was known, all communication on the part of the Executive had ceased. He was left to combat, single handed and alone, all the obstacles presented to prevent the proper administration of the territorial government.

He expressed his belief and hope that the free sentiment of the state would sustain him and his measures."

MACHINERY FOR SEBASTOPOL.—The machinery and four caissons now in course of construction at Philadelphia, for the company who have contracted to raise the sunken ships at Sevastopol, will be ready this month. The caissons are fifty feet long, forty wide, and thirteen feet deep, and when put in position will be sunk about ten feet, which will give to each a lifting capacity of 1,360,000 pounds. In the bottom of the caissons is a valve for the admission of water, to get rid of which there will be an engine on the deck of each, driving two pumps, with sufficient power to empty them in one hour and a half. The engines have 10 inch cylinders and 24-inch stroke, and are geared so as to reduce the speed of the pumps. Upon the pump shaft are placed two barrels for winding a rope for hoisting purposes. After the deck of the sunken ship has been brought to the surface, a hose is to be attached to the pump on the caisson, and then placed in the hold of the ship for the purpose of relieving her from water. The chains which are to be placed under the bottom of the vessel, and then secured to the caissons, are very heavy, and constructed upon a novel pattern. The links are double, and made of flat pieces of iron, one and a half inches thick, four and a half wide, and twenty-two inches long, each link weighing about 60 pounds, and the entire chain capable of lifting about 350 tons. There will be four or more of this character.

EMIGRATION TO LIBERIA.—By a statement recently published, it appears that the whole number of emigrants sent from the United States to Liberia, from 1820 to 1836, inclusive, was 9502. Of this number, 3676 were born free; 336 purchased their freedom, and 5500 were emancipated. Massachusetts furnished 34; Rhode Island, 32; Connecticut, 46; Virginia, 3315; North Carolina, 1158; and Georgia, 1030.

GOOD SAILING.—Of 130 vessels which have been sent direct to Liberia by the Colonization Society since 1820, all have arrived safe, without having to make any claim on the insurance officers for damage. This shows a generally smooth sea, and safe navigation between the United States and Liberia.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

WHERE PEPPERMINT CORNS FROM.—Two towns in St. Joseph county, Mich., produce large quantities of peppermint, from which the oil is extracted by manufacturers there. In 1855, 25,000 pounds of oil was produced, which brought in the New York market three dollars a pound. From eight to twelve pounds is produced from an acre of the plant. The first crop requires a good deal of care, but the next two years it yields without attention. After the third year the crop must rotate, in order to rest the land. The mint is cut in August, and the oil extracted by distillation, filtered through flannel, and put in cans for the market.

NEW YORK APPOINTMENTS.—Although it is understood that the following appointments for New York, were made, the official promulgation has been withheld: Collector — Augustus Schell; Surveyor — Emanuel D. Hart: Navy Agent—George B. Saunders; Marshal—Capt. Isaiah Rynders; Naval Officer—Mr. Birdsall.

The Hon. Robert C. Walker was at the White House to-day, and was offered the Governorship of Kansas, which his friends say he declined.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser says persons who have accompanied GOV. Geary to that city, state very freely their opinion that a civil war will take place there within 30 days, if the Government takes part with the Border Ruffian party.

☞ The Manchester Mirror states that a liquor shop in that City, was searched two days ago, and plenty of stock in trade found. The keeper agreed to close up and send all his combustibles back to Boston in forty-eight hours, quit the business, and go to work, if let go. He is doing what he said. Some fifteen liquor shops have been closed in a quiet way, in that city, within three weeks.

The following oath is said to have been administered in the Iowa Legislature, to a little boy ten years of age, chosen to fold up documents:

"You do solemnly swear to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and to fold papers to the best of your ability, so help you God."

This is about a fair sample of the thousand useless, vain, profane (?) oaths administered in government affairs.

TO MINISTERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE, OF ALL DENOMINATIONS.

Gentlemen:—The alarming growth of drunkenness among the young men of our State, and the long neglect of the old defence,—the Pledge—against it; move us to entreat you to call together, the youth and children in your parochial care, for the purpose of restoring among them the use of that original, and strong guard against youthful drinking.

These reasons for so doing please to consider:

1.—Few children are tainted by the taste of alcoholic drinks; or have habits which lead to the use of those poisons.—They need but to be kept by moral and other means—as now they are,—the determined friends of temperance.

2.—The enormous spread of drunkenness, is from the ruin of the young. Drunkards are commonly DRINKING YOUNG MEN GROWN UP. If not ruined young, they probably never would be. So they must be saved while young, or not at all.

3.—Children pledged against the use of these fatal drinks, will do much towards drawing and keeping parents from the use of them.

Other reasons may occur to you. Will you, Sirs, as Friends of Humanity,—on next Fast Day, or soon as you can,—call together the children:—lay the Pledge with its uses and benefits, its solemnities and meaning, before them, and in some judicious mode, give to every child and young person in your Church a chance to set their name to it:—pledged against rum drinking. They in turn, may carry the pledge to those older and more endangered.

Gentlemen: Do you need any exhortation to arise for the succor and protection of the beloved children and youth of the State, who so rapidly are sinking homes in our cities, and large towns, where they find such elaborate and dreadful seductions to the use of deadly drinks and the crimes they lead to? Do they not need principle, fixed by early practice, to keep them from being a prey to these fatal allurements?

Our appeal is from the well-known awful progress in this sin, and from the dismal future it sets before us, if not stopped,—and also from the great success in Scotland and begun in this country, of this effort for the young.

Will you join with others in lifting up your hand to gather in the beloved children—while they are children.

T. S. ARBOTT, Chairman.
H. H. HARTWELL,
J. M. HERRICK,
J. FOLSOM,
D. P. LEAVITT,
T. H. MILLER,
J. E. GOODWIN,
J. W. RAY,
State Temperance Committee.

March 27th, 1857.

☞ All newspapers in the State, favorable to moral effort in promotion of temperance, are respectfully requested to give the above one insertion.

FORM OF PLEDGE.

We, the subscribers, deeming intoxicating drinks to be useless to persons in health, and in various ways injurious to the community, do hereby pledge ourselves to abstain from their use, and in all suitable ways to discourage their sale and use as a beverage.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

It will be observed that the names of the committee are not all appended to the above circular.—We have no doubt the three or four remaining members would sign the same, as their views are known to us—but we would not use their names without their consent. We invite special attention to the reasons given in the circular, for pledging the youth in the temperance effort;—and we suggest one more: viz. that the temperance efforts of the next twenty years, are not to be carried forward by the old, who must die or be disabled,—but by the young, those chiefly who are now youth, or even children.

The temperance efforts among the youth at this time, may be, (in some cases they will be,) connected with Sabbath Schools; in others with a congregation, or a town; as a fixed uniformity of action is of no consequence; but co-operation and early action are very desirable.

☞ Harper's New Monthly, for April, 1857, is received by A. Williams & Co., Boston; and J. F. Shores, jr., Portsmouth. It contains a fine instalment of Little Dorrit, The Holy City, A June Jaunt, Moses. All these are finely illustrated. And a dozen other articles from able writers.

☞ Putnam's Monthly for April, illustrated, has been received by A. Williams & Co., Boston, and by John S. Harvey & Son, Portsmouth. The articles illustrated are the Chinaman, and an essay on Tails. Both articles of much pith and humor.

SPECULATING IN BUTTER.—It is stated that speculators have bought up nearly all the butter in this region, and this accounts for the present high prices.—Bos. Tel.

☞ The Rochester Union says that Hon. O. B. Matteson is not expected to recover from the attack of the epidemic from which he was suffering, when he returned from Washington. Hon. C. C. Chatfield, a well-known democratic politician of Illinois, and ex-Senator Bayard of Delaware, are dangerously ill of the same epidemic.

A RUSH.—At Washington, the departments are being overwhelmed with applications, personal and by mail, for minor appointments, growing out of a misapprehension of the principle of rotation which, as a general rule, is only intended to apply to the larger class of offices.

☞ The citizens of Newburyport, without regard to party, are to give Gen. Cushing a grand public reception, on his return to that city, his native place, in a few days. There will be a salute, procession, addresses, loves, &c.

☞ At the recent grand ball in Paris, a beautiful young Countess appeared in a rich dress, "with an under skirt looped up at one side, so as to display the ankle, round which a bracelet was clasped."

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while shaving in the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—price it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

☞ Uncle Toby acknowledges, with thanks, the gift of a convenient and elegant Glass Inkstand, from a clergyman of this city. It is expected that the lucubrations from such a fountain will hereafter be more luminous than ever. And that an odor of good humor, cheerfulness and hope may be diffused by both the donor and receiver.

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists will hold a meeting at Fremont on Wednesday and Thursday, April 22 and 23 ; commencing on Wednesday at 2 P. M. Visitors stop at Raymond Depot.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

THE CHARLESTOWN STATE PRISON MURDER CASES.—The trial of McGee and Cater, for the murder of the Warden and Deputy Warden of the State Prison, is assigned for Monday next, before the Supreme Court. The Traveller hears that the counsel for the defence in the case of Cater desire an extension of time, in order to give them an opportunity to collect their testimony, as the defence, most probably, will be insanity. A gentleman visited Cater in the jail a day or two since, to whom he declared that no such plea as insanity should be set up for him : that after his lawyers had got through, he had a story to tell the jury in regard to his treatment by the officers of the prison. McGee since he has been in jail has exhibited a subdued and penitent disposition.

H. A. Scudder, Esq., counsel for Cater, appeared in the Supreme Court, Boston, on Wednesday, and moved for a commission to issue for the purpose of taking the depositions of Oliver Lord and Eben Goodwin, South Berwick, Me., and Dr. John H. Boardman, Portsmouth, by whose evidence he proposed to prove the insanity of the grandfather, mother, and two if not three aunts of his client. So recently had he been called to the case, that he had feared that he should be obliged to ask for a postponement, and to avoid this, he made the present motion. After some discussion between counsel, the motion was allowed and a commission ordered.

BARBAROUS.—Recently, one Peter Hendershot, while at work with cattle in the woods near Buffalo, N. Y., became exasperated and attacked the oxen with an axe, killing one of them and severely mutilating another. He then started for the clearing, and on his way met a man named Wm. Mackintosh, whom he peremptorily ordered to drive the oxen home. Mackintosh refused, whereupon Hendershot struck him with the axe, cutting a frightful gash through the skull. Leaving Mackintosh senseless upon the ground where he had fallen, Hendershot then flew at another man who stood near. He avoided the blow aimed at him, and Hendershot was then secured by others who had hastened to the bloody scene. Hendershot was addicted to drinking and often appeared crazed with liquor. Mackintosh's situation is very critical. Both parties were about thirty-five years of age. Mackintosh was regarded as a respectable man, with the exception that he sometimes drank to excess. The attending physician thinks it barely possible that he may recover.

☞ James M. Whiton, for many years known as a wholesale dry goods merchant in Water street, Boston, as head of the firm of Whiton & March, and later of the firm of Whiton, Hutchins & March, died suddenly at his residence at Plymouth, N. H., of a fit or a sudden heart complaint. Mr. Whiton, says the Boston Courier, took a most lively interest in the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad enterprise, and devoted much of his time, money and labor, to its success and completion.

Mrs. Partington has bought a horse, so spirited that he always goes off in a decanter.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—Albany, March 25.—The steamer Isaac Newton ran ashore at an early hour this morning, while on her way from New York to this city, between Caldwell's and Stony Point. A dense fog prevailed, and the pilot mistook a light in a dwelling for the pubic light, and before he was aware of his proximity to the shore, the steamer grounded. She is sunk below her cabins. Her passengers and freight were transferred to the Hendrik Hudson and brought to this city. The Steamer New World and Francis Skiddy, during the day made ineffectual attempts to draw her off. The Isaac N. is owned by the People's Line, and cost $250,000.

KANSAS LEGISLATURE.—Chicago, March 25.—We have a report from Topeka, Kansas, which states that the resolutions introduced into the free-state Convention on the 10th inst., an abstract of which was published on Tuesday, adverse to any participation in the approaching election ordered by the bogus Legislature, were passed by the Convention on the 12th.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The opinions of a majority of the supreme Court Judges have not yet been filed in the Clerk's office. Judge Taney's is now undergoing a second revision in manuscript. Judge Catron's was printed privately, expunging the clause reflecting on the majority for discussing the merits of the case, after denying the jurisdiction of the Court. Judge Campbell refused to allow his to be examined, even by his colleagues, and especially by Judge Grier. The possibility is that they will be materially modified.

WESTERN NAVIGATION.—Detroit, March 25.—Boats now reach Lake Huron without difficulty. Steamers will run daily hereafter to Cleveland, Toledo and Port Huron.

ARRIVAL OF PROVISIONS.—Within the last 24 hours, there have arrived at Boston 4828 bbls flour, 15,300 bushels corn, 4000 bushels potatoes, three oyster vessels, large quantities of beef, pork, lard, &c. The markets generally are well stocked with provisions of all kinds.—Trans.

☞ The parishioners of Rev. S. H. M'Collister, of West Swanzey, N. H., lately presented him with a "liberal purse," besides other substantial gifts.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' rejection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne; Drum—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be marked in the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which rejects from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-Western States are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles ; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Strictures, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

☞ A subscriber at New Hampton, N. H., encloses us $2, in a brief letter worth more than that. He says he was for many years a teamster, and refused to drink or even move a drop of the ardent—that he never used tobacco, and has been a temperance man (that is, a total abstainer) for more than twenty years. He says there is no liquor sold in New Hampton, nor in the vicinity; that there is not even a "restorator" in the place: and that students at the Institute there are almost out of temptation in this respect, as no liquors can be obtained, but by going a considerable distance

He urges upon young men, not to use tobacco or intoxicating liquors; and thinks the evil of intemperance is on the increase in some parts of the State. He wishes the Temperance Law enforced, without regard to this or that party, and thinks it is time to awake to the importance of this subject; and save the young men of New Hampshire from being drunkards, and the young women from the horrid fate of the drunkard's wife.

EVEN SAILING. — Ships Wild Pigeon, Capt. Hanson, and Florence, Capt. Dumaresq, which arrived at New York on the 23d, and ship Panama, Capt. Cove, which arrived there on Friday, all left Shanghae the same day, Dec. 13.

HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants; buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than it sold here. Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much higher there than here. Prompt remittance made, at a small expense

Also, for sale 440 acres of the Timber Land.

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and have been extensively used and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

Lawrence's Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of
and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and weak Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who have not not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir,—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaint, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted. A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and your Carminative ever since you first were introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
JOHN DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Faxon & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is conducted with honor. It manages so that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which must interest all who wish to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day except Sundays. Upon receipt of orders, the drawing is attended to, and the result of the drawing is published in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets range from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and 1 crazy combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address T. H. HUBBARD & CO.,

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called
Photographs,
as well as those on GLASS, known as Ambrotypes,
and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Pictures taken by the Daguerreotype CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such PRICES as cannot fail to satisfy.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture to any Cabinet or other size, on LIFE. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A GLORIOUS FACT.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into Patents or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents, or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The subscriber is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office can more, or even as, charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access of patents issued by the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the patent office as he had, and few who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

THE EX-PRESIDENT.—It is reported from Washington that the Ex-President is about to spend a month in Philadelphia for the benefit of medical advice for Mrs. Pierce, whose health is much impaired. So says the Manchester Mirror.

The Manchester American learns from a reliable source that General Pierce will return to New Hampshire about the middle of May next.

Another gentleman of Virginia, says a correspondent of the Richmond Inquirer, has invited General Pierce to become a resident of the Old Dominion. He offers for his residence 200 acres of land near Elysium Springs, three miles from the border of the Tenth Legion and five from Capron Spring. There he can have the benefit of that pure, balmy atmosphere, well impregnated with the purest Democracy. The name of the gentleman is withheld until it is necessary to be known. He will also give $100 towards the purchase of any residence in the State of Virginia, which the ex-President may select.

A THOUGHT FOR PARENTS.—A New York daily inquires and replies:—"Who are your aristocrats? Twenty years ago, this one made candles, that one sold cheese and butter, another butchered, a fourth thrived on a distillery, another was a contractor on the canals, others were merchants and mechanics. They are acquainted with both ends of society, as their children will be after them—though it will not do to say so out loud. For often you shall find that these toiling worms hatch butterflies, and they live about a year. Death brings a division of property, and it brings new financiers; the old gent is discharged, the young gent takes his revenues, and begins to travel towards poverty, which he reaches before his death, or his children do, if he does not. So that, in fact, though there is a sort of moneyed race, it is not hereditary; it is accessible to all; three good seasons of cotton will send a generation of men up—a score of years will bring them all down, and send their children to labor. The father grubs and grows rich, the children strut and spend the money. The children in turn inherit the price, and go to shiftless poverty; next their children, re-invigorated by fresh plebeian blood, and by the smell of the clod, come up again."

☞ A building on the farm of Dr. Calvin Cutter, in Jaffrey, N. H., was destroyed by fire on the 16th inst. Dr. Cutter's mother was badly burned. Loss of property $1000; insurance $1200.

CASES IN BOSTON UNDER THE LIQUOR LAW. In the Superior Court, before Judge Nash, the case of Joel Holden vs. John Cosgrove was tried: an action to recover the value of a note given by defendant to a third party. The defense was that the note was given by defendant for intoxicating liquors, sold in violation of the law, and of which the plaintiff in the present case, who is on the note as an endorser, had sufficient notice. Verdict for the defendant.

Before Judge Abbott, the case of William F. Kennedy vs. John C. Willey, was tried: an action brought to recover damages for false imprisonment. The defendants are police officers of Cambridge, and arrested plaintiff while he was driving a load of liquors through that town. The arrest and seizure were made under the law of 1855. On the day of the arrest the defendant Willey, made his complaint before a police magistrate of Cambridge, but it was dismissed on technical grounds. The case involves the constitutionality of that portion of the liquor law which authorizes such seizures. Pro forma verdict for deft.

COL. FORNEY.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times furnishes the following in relation to his present appearance:

Col. Forney is now in this city, but so utterly broken, apparently, in spirit, as to excite the commiseration even of his enemies. His influence, too, seems to have received a sad blow, from which it does not recover.—This results, in a great measure, doubtless, from the fact that the Col. seems to have very little recuperative moral energy. The defeat of his Senatorial hopes appears to have crushed him that he has not spirit enough to rise above the disaster, and renew the battle in which he has hitherto spent his life. This evident despondency naturally involves him in an under-rating of his own powers, and if he claims nothing in the world and strife of politics, and assumes nothing, he is but a mummy of a fossil.

The State election in Pennsylvania settled the question, who was to be the next President. If Pennsylvania had gone for Fremont, so would Indiana; and it was owing almost entirely to the zeal, tact and shrewd management of Forney, that Pennsylvania came out of the contest as it did.

☞ Charley Robinson, of the Green Bay (Wis.) Advocate, has had his moral sensibilities outraged again by another horse-race in the vicinity of that rejuvenating borough. He says:

We felt badly about this race, we admit, and went up on the ice to see about it; but we saw at once that they were bound on having a trot; and so to see that fair play was had, we accepted a place, as one of the judges. The only way to put down depravity, you know, is to go right into it.

INFANTILE OBITUARIES.—The editor of the Charlestown Advertiser has evidently been bored with requests to publish praises of deceased children, of no sort of interest except to their parents. He recommends the following form, in all cases where the subject is under six months old:

The tendrils of his little life had entwined about the hearts of his father and mother; but little ——— has gone to heaven, and his brothers and sisters will never see him any more.

☞ A Western editor announces the arrival of a twelfth responsibility at his house, and makes the following appeal thereatter: "More subscribers wanted at this office."

☞ The New Boston people propose to build a model High School building at their village next summer, opposite the Baptist Church. The work is in the hands of a competent committee.

Hutchins' Hair Dye.
The very best now in use, as the many thousands that have tried it will testify.
THE great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

The election in District No. 1 will be held on Monday evening next, at the Ward Room on Elm street.

THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

JUDGE MCLEAN'S OPINION.

After stating the facts relative to the subject, Associate Justice McLean held that the plea as to jurisdiction is radically defective. It has never been held necessary that to constitute a citizen, a man should have the qualification of an elector.—Females and minors may sue in the Federal Courts, and so may an individual who has his domicil in the State in which he may sue. The most general definition of a citizen is a free man. The plea does not show Dred Scott to be a slave. It does not follow that a man is not free whose ancestors were slaves.

It was said colored citizens were not agreeable members of society; but this was more a matter of taste than of law. Several of the States have admitted such persons to the right of suffrage, and recognized them as citizens; and this has been done in slave as well as free States. On the subject of citizenship, we have not been very fastidious. Under the late Treaty with Mexico we have made citizens of all grades, combinations and colors.—The same was done in the cases of Louisiana and Florida. No one can be doubted, nor a Court held, that the inhabitants did not become citizens under the treaties. They have become citizens without being naturalized.

Throughout the Continent of Europe, without exception, it has been held that slavery can exist only in territory where it has been established, and beyond that the master cannot save himself, save by some express stipulation. There is no nation in Europe which considers itself bound to return the master his fugitive slave, under the civil law, or the law of nations. The slave is held to be free where there is no treaty obligation, or contract, to return him to his master. In the case of Prigg against the State of Pennsylvania, the state of slavery is deemed to be a mere municipal regulation, founded by, and limited to the range of the State which enacts it. This was the decision in the case of Somerset, in England, which was decided before the American Revolution. Congress has no power to interfere with slavery in the States, or to regulate what is commonly called the slave trade among the several States.

We know that James Madison—that great and good man—was particular to regard slaves escaping from service, or labor, as "persons," and not as property. While he, (Judge McLean,) agreed that this Government was not made for the colored race, yet many of them in the New-England States exercised the right of suffrage, when the Constitution was adopted; and it was not doubted that its tendency would be to ameliorate the condition of that race. Many of the States took measures to abolish slavery; and it is a well known fact that the belief was cherished by leading men, both of the South and the North, that the institution of slavery would gradually decline, until it should become extinct.

All slavery has its origin against natural right. If in making the necessary rules and regulations respecting the public lands, in Territorial, or temporary government is requisite, Congress has the power to establish it. The power to acquire carries with the power to govern. Congress can exercise no power prohibited by the Constitution, nor has it power to regulate the internal concerns of a State. Congress deem slaves, or true persons of color, various to a Territory, it has the power to prohibit them from becoming settlers therein. When a Territorial government has been established on the Territory, it has uniformly remained in that condition; so when the Territory was free; and it was attended with satisfactory results. The sovereignty of the Federal Government extends to every territory of the United States. If we have the right to acquire territory, we have the right to govern it; and this has always been exercised.

The Constitution was framed for the whole country, and the prohibition of slavery north of 36 30 was constitutional. Where there is no local law abolishing slavery, the master cannot control the will of the slaves by force, and the presumption is in favor of freedom. The master in going into a territory, does not carry with him the law of the place from which he removes. Slavery, he represents property in human beings, does not arise from the international, or common law, but from mere municipal regulation. There was no just ground for the argument that this was exclusively a Missouri question.

Dred Scott and his family are free under decisions given within the last twenty-eight years.—Everyone who acquires his freedom by his removal to another State cannot be reduced to slavery by returning to the State from which he emigrated. Order from this being merely a Missouri case, it is to which comes under the twenty-fifth section of the Judiciary Act, and therefore may be brought up for revision of this Court from the Supreme Court of the State of Missouri.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1857.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Union State Convention of Republicans and Republican Americans, assembled at Harrisburgh, has nominated David Wilmot as its candidate at the next October election: and William Millward for Canal Commissioner. Messrs. James Veech and Joseph L. Lewis have been nominated as candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court.

The Union Convention adopted a series of anti-slavery resolutions, condemning in strong terms, the late decision of the Supreme Court, asserting the power of Congress over the territories, and declaring their unwillingness to abridge the rights of any class of citizens.

Chief Justice Lewis, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, declines the Democratic nomination for re-election.

☞ Ex-President Pierce intends to leave Washington for Philadelphia, where the health of Mrs. Pierce will require him to remain for some time. In what part of New Hampshire he will take his future residence, remains undetermined. Portsmouth was at first selected, but he finds the land in its neighborhood too dear for the comparative small fortune he has been able to save from his Presidential income. He, therefore, hopes to buy a large farm in a less populous region of his native State, where for the rest of his life, he he will devote himself to the raising of horses and stock cattle. Three of his horses left Baltimore, last week in a steamer for New Hampshire. So says the Boston Telegraph.

☞ Hon. Edward Keating, of Alton, Ill., recently died in New York. He was born in Portland on the 29th of August, 1816. He was graduated at Bowdoin College in 1834, at the age of 18 years, one of the best scholars in his class. He studied law in the office of Judge Goodenow, of Alfred. In the year 1837 he went west, and located himself in Alton, where for nearly twenty years he pursued his profession with success. Two years later, July 23, 1839, he was married to Miss Hannah Miller Moody, a daughter of Capt. George Moody, of York, Me.

During his residence in Alton he has filled various offices, as a member of the Common Council, as Mayor of the city, and as a member of the Legislature. He was also, for a period, the Superintendent of the St. Louis, Alton and Chicago Railroad, and was retained in its employ as Counsel, up to the time of his death.

We understand he leaves four children. He had recently purchased the house of the late Wm. Haven, Esq., in this city, and was making extensive repairs to fit it for a residence.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

At Dover, the Grand Jury were discharged on Thursday, after finding 28 indictments, the most of which were for violations of the liquor law.

George Walker, Edward Durgin and George Hoitt, for breaking and entering the dwelling house of Rev. Arthur Caverno in the night, and stealing sundry articles therefrom. Durgin plead guilty, and was sentenced to three years in the State Prison. Walker was tried and found guilty, and received the same sentence, and Hoitt acquitted.

Crosby v. Grant. Action of assumpsit brought by the indorser of a promissory note. Defence was that it was given for liquor sold in violation of the law. Verdict for plaintiff.

Nathaniel Card was sentenced on an indictment to which he had plead nolo contendere, for burning Col. Samuel Snell's barn, in Dover, last September, to 2 years in the State Prison.

Clarissa Gove was sentenced for receiving stolen goods, to two years in the State Prison.

☞ At Taylorsville, Mich., a son of Dr. Alvord, of Detroit, was walking with a lady, when coming to a piece of soft marshy ground, he stepped over it, and while stooping to pick up a stone to throw in for the lady to step on, a pistol which he carried in his pocket fell upon the stone and discharged its contents through his breast, severing the right sub-clavian arteries, and killing him instantly.

☞ A Washington despatch of the 25th says the President has had a slight return of his disease, and for the last two days has again been partially disabled.

☞ Rev. Mr. Moody of Canterbury, who asked a dismission from his pastoral charge some weeks since, has withdrawn his request at the unanimous solicitation of his people.

FIRES.—The Wilmington, N. C., papers of the 24th, have accounts of a fearful fire which had been raging between that city and the Sound for several days, the wind blowing freshly from E. N. E., and the fire reaching within a few yards of the southern and eastern limits of the town. A large quantity of pine timber, turpentine and fencing was destroyed.

The New Bedford Standard states that the store of Albert H. Simmons, in Adamsville, was burned down on Thursday morning, 26th. Loss on goods $2400—insurance $1600. The store was not insured.

At Baltimore, March 26, the Alcohol distillery of J. Higbie & Co., was burnt in consequence of the bursting of the steam boiler. The building was badly shattered, the timbers and bricks being thrown to a great distance, and injuring many persons. Four dead bodies have been taken from the ruins, and it is thought there are others beneath them. Loss unknown.

The steamboat Sultana was burned to the water's edge, a few miles below Hickman, on the Mississippi. Two persons were burned to death on board, and others were seen to jump overboard, and are supposed to have been drowned.

The Petersburgh Railroad bridge over the Roanoke river caught fire by sparks from a locomotive, on Wednesday, and was totally destroyed. It cost $60,000.

☞ Died in Newburyport, aged 76, Mr. Joseph Wilson, a highly respected citizen, who had been a wood-carver of some celebrity, and in his youth carved the images that surrounded Lord Timothy Dexter's place on High street, the three last of which, in front of the house, will be remembered by many persons. For more than fifty years, Mr. W. had been a subscriber to the Herald.

FAILURE OF THE ARMY APPROPRIATION.—The National Intelligencer states that the appropriation of $360,000 for the national armories, reported by the committee of ways and means, does not appear in the law signed by the President. The appropriation consequently fails.

THE NEW YORK CLANDESTINE MARRIAGE. The case of Dean, the coachman, who married his master's daughter in New York, was decided on Monday, the wife being given up to her husband, on a writ of habeas corpus.

☞ The "Florida War" appears to be in full operation again. A costly amusement, indeed, has been our whole career in Florida, a territory which we bought to make slavery profitable in Georgia and Alabama.

MAINE.—Gov. Williams of Maine has appointed April 23d for the annual Fast day in that State.

FAST DAY IN VERMONT, Friday, April 10.

A LONG SLEIGH RIDE.—The Dixon Telegraph, Minnesota, chronicles a sleigh ride of three weeks' duration, and eight hundred miles in length. It was performed by Messrs. S. and H. T. Noble, with their respective ladies, and starting from Dixon, ran to St. Paul's, Minneapolis, and Minnesota, and thence back to Dixon. The Laplanders could scarcely beat this, although, as the Telegraph says, they harness the deers before the sleigh, while we put our dears inside of them.

THE WHITE HILLS IN FASHION.—Starr King, who is up to all sorts of rhetorical capers, thus puts the White mountains into fashionable attire:

And at every turn, old Washington was bulging into the cold and brilliant blue with irregular whiteness; or Madison, in more feminine symmetry, displayed a fresh view of sloping shoulders, clasped to the waist in an ermine basque, that contrasted charmingly with the broad brown skirts of dreary wilderness, puffed out to the full sweep of fashion by unseen hoops of granite

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually compelled to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of DR. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The President to-day received intelligence, by telegraph, of the death of his nephew, the brother of Mrs. Lane.

Gov. Geary had a long interview with the President this morning. Walker is willing to accept the Governorship of Kansas, but his family objects.

Ex Gov. Medill of Ohio, who has been appointed First Comptroller of the Treasury, vice Whittlesey, enters upon the duties of the office on the 1st of May.

Mr. Walker's acceptance would have been announced to the Cabinet to-day, had not a meeting been prevented by the intelligence of the death of the President's nephew.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]—It is rumored to-day, that the Second Comptroller, Mr. Brodhead, is to be removed, in consequence of his unwarrantable interference in behalf of the re-election of his black Republican brother-in-law, Mr. Pike, to Congress from New Hampshire. The documents are said to be very strong against him.

Mr. Appleton has decided to leave the Union newspaper, and return to Maine, accepting the Collectorship at Portland. The Union will henceforth cease to be the organ, Mr. Buchanan, having decided that he does not need an instrument of that character. There are are only two members of the Cabinet favorable to an organ.

LOCAL.

☞ The brig "Molly Stark" is to be launched from Mr. Darton's yard, on Noble's Island, this afternoon at half-past one o'clock.

☞ The store of Messrs. J. B. Upham & Co., in this city, was broken into on Wednesday night, and ten dollars in change stolen from the drawer. The thieves entered through the back way.

☞ We learn that a little son of Mr. Joseph Yeaton, of New Castle, six years old, was drowned in a cove back of the Island, on Thursday afternoon. It is supposed that he fell from a cake of ice, as his body was found on the beach, with a pole near him.

☞ Since all our city cotemporaries have expressed their opinions of our Postmaster, we feel inclined to add a word of acknowledgement and thanks for favors received. Mr. Rundlett, wherever we have had occasion to call upon him officially, (and the gratuitous services we have asked of him have been neither few nor small—especially during the last year,) we have always found prompt, courteous and accommodating. And it is with satisfaction that we refer to a very pleasant and profitable six months we spent in his employ, previously, when he was editor and publisher of the Gazette. We shall be entirely suited, if the present Postmaster is retained. We say this without reference to any other applicants for the office. r.

☞ A friend suggested to Uncle Toby, that if a change of Postmaster is to be made, Mr. Wm. J. Laighton would be very acceptable to the public, in that station. Whereupon he replied, that he supposed the wishes of the public would really have nothing to do with the appointment—but rather the supposed interest of the party in power. Mr. L. is a thorough gentleman, however; and we have no doubt his appointment, if made, would be generally well received.

SHADOWS without TYPES.—The "goaded conscience" of the editor of the Journal, "finds utterance" in yesterday's paper, in spite of his "efforts to subdue it." At any rate, we don't know of anybody about here, whose conscience has been "goaded," and therefore suppose it must be his. It is not true,—the Journal's statement that "the Chronicle endeavors to hide the evil influence of public gambling and to raise opposition to the law against lotteries." This is only the reiteration of the same statement, which we have before asked the Journal to prove. The Chronicle has never recommended lotteries of any kind; or endeavored to hide their influence; or anything of the kind.

We think the Journal's record of the drawing of the City Accounts, in the Printers' Lottery, is incorrect. At any rate, we don't see the vast difference between the probable influence of the Gift Concerts held in Portsmouth, and this matter.

What we complain of is, that the Journal has not a word of condemnation for soap schemes, Glass schemes, book schemes, and the like; it never "says boo" to these—but reserves all its pop-guns for entertainments certainly no more objectionable.

As to "lottery pianos"—those burned had both been sold by the drawers thereof, so that the loss fell on the Home Insurance Co., and on a gentleman who had purchased one of the instruments the day before the fire. Neither of the parties had anything whatever to do with the lotteries. So a "dispensation," won't stick there.—As to "the cause" of that fire: we can't say that "fire from heaven" was not sent down, on purpose to consume those pianos—for we don't see where else it could have come from; unless, indeed, it came up, from the opposite place—where Dr. B's demons are probably located.

As to the Journal's advice to certain people—we think it well for all "enthusiasts to take heed;" and that it is a hard chance for "the human soul," when any demon" has "gained a mastery" over it. We had always supposed that a different power from demons, had "the disposal" of the lot:" but the Journal seems to be wise above what is written" in the good book. F.

☞ A loose pig in Congress street, occasioned considerable merriment among the youthful specimens of the masculine gender who enjoyed the fun of chasing him; and created quite as much disgust and fear among the older specimens of the opposite sex who happened to be in the vicinity at the time, for fear that he might damage a crinoline.

☞ The Mercantile Library's course of lectures was closed for the season on Thursday evening, by an excellent lecture from Rev. Dr. Lamson, on The Family.

☞ Dr. Dyball, Veterinarian, whose advertisement will be found on our outside, is a thoroughly educated physician and surgeon,—fully qualified, in theory and by extensive practice, to perform any operation on, or prescribe for any disease of, the horse, cow, sheep, pig, or dog. He has successfully treated many difficult cases, of sickness or injuries to horses, in this city and the neighboring towns; and can be safely relied in all such. See his card, with references.

For the Chronicle.

A GENTLEMAN AND A TAILOR.—Messrs. Editors:—When we observe young men whose habits are commendable, whose attention to business and straight-forward conduct have won for them the esteem of the community,—when we see such commence business on their own responsibility, and strive with a laudable zeal to work out for themselves an honest maintenance, we always feel as if the public should sustain such by their patronage, and we are pleased to notice that in Portsmouth this feeling governs a portion of the community, and accounts in a measure for the patronage which has already been and is now being bestowed upon our young friend Chas. W. Martin, who has established himself at No. 22 Market street, over the store of J. C. Carr. We hope those of your readers who are in want of goods in his line, will call upon him; he will be pleased to see them, and treat them in his usual gentlemanly manner. C.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

☞ See Auction column, for sales today—Blacksmith's establishment; Dry Goods, Glass Ware, Furniture, &c.; Engravings; Varieties.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink.—Cogne Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to elude a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, lumbago, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar character is different from other gins; is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

FROM EUROPE—7 DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF EUROPA.

HALIFAX, 27th.

Steamship Europa, Captain Leitch, from Liverpool 14th, arrived here about noon.

Her news is one week later than received by the Africa at New York.

The political news by this arrival is meagre, and generally unimportant.

A quiet Cotton market, without any material change.

Spain continued preparations for invasion of Mexico, and was endeavoring to secure the influence of France and England in keeping the U. S. neutral.

Nothing to change the complexion of the Chinese question.

Market for Breadstuffs dull, quotations nominal. No considerable sales could be effected, except at a decline from the prices current for some weeks past.

Provisions quiet at former rates.

ARREST.—Mr. Wagonseller, the defaulting cashier of the Newcastle Bank, Pa., has been arrested at Philadelphia, and taken to Pittsburg.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—Daniel A. Bowe, Esq., editor of the Coos Republican, published at Lancaster, N. H., died on Sunday morning. His disease was consumption.

☞ Dr. William Yates, who first introduced vaccination into the United States, died at Morris, N. Y., on the 7th instant, at the age of 90 years. He was a native of England, but arrived here in 1799.

MRS. PARTINGTON ON GARROTTING.—"People garreted in New York," said Mrs. Partington, as she heard for the first time of the new mode of choking money out of, people. She remembered simply the name, and construed it in her own way. "People garreted in New York! well it isn't so bad after all as being cellared in Boston, where wretched men and women live, more like rats than Christians, under ground, and their children sprout in the damp air like potatoes. These garreted people must be the ones that write the poetry for the papers, because they have always lived in 'em and had their ideas come in through the skylight, like pigeons through a barn window. But the poor things that lives in the cellars, heaven save 'em! can't help it. There they be, like Daniels in the lion's den, with rags on their backs and misery on their faces, that a little soap and water would help some. Talk of being garreted; depend upon it, being cellared is a great deal the worse." She here subsided, as the murmurs of water subsides when the jug empties itself; and, lost amid the whirl of knitting needles, she became oblivious, forgetting that Ike was round near where the preserve jar stood.—Bos. Gaz.

☞ The late Mr. J. M. Whiton had an insurance on his life with the New England Mutual Insurance Company of Boston.

Mr. Nathan Merrill, lately deceased in Charlestown, Mass., we are told, had an insurance on his life, of $2,000. A wise provision in most instances.

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in Boston, and has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Dysentery and the most Affectionate Sore Mouth, Restlessness, and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct Acidity in the Stomach, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who value their children, will be sure to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NAH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 28, 1852.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and your "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Truly, JOSIAH DARVIS, M. D.

Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fairfax & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and see that everything is conducted with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present. Schemes and drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by your laws in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the order and money comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tenary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. W. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One His Own Doctor, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that must be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one in the post office for twenty five cents. Address Dr. WM. YOUNG, No. 1 1/2 SPRUCE street, below Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, Belgium, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made in Washington, or elsewhere, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent issued, by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the undersigned. Success IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office in the U. S. can such superior professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast amount of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business in the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with this office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed by the legislature of that state, to certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for the accumulation of fortunes, with a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all prizes drawn in the right to sell tickets in Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every day in the month, and all tickets ordered being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten is a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so plain that one can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $20,000, according to the number of tickets and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Banner, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.
Employing Two Hundred Men,
and finishing
Eighty Instruments per Week.
BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000
of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Heretofore, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Volumes of testimony bear to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguised Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received, which far we have not inserted, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most complete Manufacturing establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

New York, 15th Oct. 1855.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming Instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodworth, Wm. Mason, and a number of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very resily. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeons in any quantity have arrived in this where we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

THE COACHMAN'S MARRIAGE CASE.—Mary Ann has been restored to John. The medical commissioners appointed to examine into the sanity of Mrs. Dean, decided that she was sound of mind, and Judge Davies dissolved the injunction by which Dean was forbidden personal communication with his wife.

Mr. Bertholf asked the lady if she fully realized the hardships which her new position would entail upon her, &c. How she would like to get up at five o'clock in the morning to get a mechanic's breakfast? and would it not be repugnant to her feelings to go to market with a basket in one hand and fifty cents in the other, to procure their daily food? with other similar questions. She answered in the true lover's way, she could do all this and more for the man of her choice,—his earnings at his trade (he is is a ship carpenter) with what she made by teaching music and the languages, would amply support them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean propose to make Louisville, Ky., their future home.

Parents in "high life," with marriageable daughters, had better keep a good lookout for their welfare, now that Mrs. Dean has succeeded in her attempt at love in a cottage. Young ladies are sometimes very romantic.

Women are called the "softer sex," because they are so easily humbugged. Out of one hundred girls, ninety-five would prefer ostentation to happiness—a dandy husband to a mechanic.

True enough, no doubt—and "pity 'tis 'tis true." But there are almost as great a proportion of men, who make the same mistake—who would prefer an idle "lady" to a good staunch woman who will earn her salt anywhere.

NARROW ESCAPE, INDEED.—Near Gardiner, Me., recently, a son of Mr. Walter Stuart coursed on his play-sled upon a weak place on a pond, and went under.—An alarm was immediately raised, and a hole was cut some fifty feet below where he went in. He floated back to the first hole in the ice, foot foremost, and a young man seized him by his clothes, drew him out, and though apparently lifeless, animation was restored to him.

☞ The book-keeper of one of the largest stock houses in Wall street is reported to have won $20,000 in a gambling house in Broadway, a few nights since; and to have left in the Persia for a tour on the continent.

A CONSIDERATE DOCTOR.—A poor girl who had just recovered from a fit of sickness, gathered up her scanty earnings, and went to the doctor's office, to settle her bill. Just at the door, the lawyer of the place passed into the office before on a similar errand.

"Well, doctor," said he, "I believe I am indebted to you, and I should like to know how much."

"Yes," said the doctor, "I attended upon you about a week, and what should you charge me for a week's services, or what do you realize on an hour's work, or a week's services?"

"O," said the lawyer, "perhaps seventy-five dollars."

"Very well, then, as my time and profession are as valuable as yours, your bill is seventy-five dollars."

The poor girl's heart sank within her, for should her bill be anything like that, how should she ever pay? The lawyer paid his bill and passed out, when the doctor turned to the young woman, and kindly inquired her errand.

"I came," said she, "to know what I owe you, although I know not that I can ever pay you."

"I attended you about a week," said he.

"Yes, Sir."

"What do you get per week."

"Seventy-five cents," said she.

"Is that all?"

"Yes, Sir."

"Then your bill is seventy-five cents."

The poor girl paid him thankfully, and went back with a light heart. An old and rich man of my acquaintance was once remarking to the doctor, that no one earned their money so easily as the doctor, or could get rich so easily. The doctor reminded him of the many losses incurred, as they must visit the poor as well as the rich. "Well," said my old friend, "you must charge the rich more, and then you can afford to lose by the poor."

Not many weeks after, the old man was obliged to employ the doctor for some time. At the last visit, the bill was presented, and was protested as enormously high.

"But," said the doctor, "You know what you said to me, and I have only followed your advice.

Not a word more was said, but the amount was immediately paid.

RUM KILLED HIM.—Probably all who have been in the habit of passing through Court Square, Boston, have noticed a man who has for some years been a fixture in that locality. His name was Jedediah Sawtell. He was quite infirm, and his stooping posture and his constant use of his cane, together with the unmistakable marks of liquor on his face, convinced every one who saw him that he was a broken down man and was destroying himself with drink. He generally stood near Parker's old Restaurant. He was formerly in the grocery business and accumulated quite a fortune. He however took to the bottle and lost it all. Afterwards he was appointed constable, and was judged to be, at one time, an energetic and competent officer. After a while, he abandoned all employment, continued his habits of drinking and died a few days ago at Deer Island. Thousands of people have enquired about him, and "Jed," as he was called, has been for years a mystery.

This is the history, in substance, of thousands who die every year from intemperance.—Tel.

A MAN SHOT WHILE IN BED.—A Mr. Halsey, of New York, was shot in the thigh, a day or two since, while lying in bed, by a rifle ball discharged from a window of the house corner of Wooster and Houston street, by Charles A. Morse, who, it appears, had been steadily drinking for the past few days and was affected with delirium tremens. When in this condition of mind, he suddenly sprang from his bed and fired the rifle through the window.—He was arrested by the 15th Ward police. Mr. Halsey's injuries are of a dangerous character.

MASSACHUSETS TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—At the annual meeting of this Society, on Tuesday, March 24, the following officers were elected:

President—Hon. Stephen Fairbanks, vice Dr. John C. Warren, deceased. Vice President—Richard Girdler. Treasurer—Moses Grant, Esq. Secretary—J. C. Warren, Esq. Chancellors—Robert B. Storer, B. P. Richardson and Jacob Sleeper, Esqs.

Peter Sinclair of Scotland was present, and introduced to the members of the Society. A proposition was made to secure his efforts, if practicable, with the children of the State of Massachusetts.

☞ A man who resides in Moravia, N. Y., in order to gratify his penchant for cruelty, braided a wire into the lash of his whip, with which to cut his horses. At the first stroke of the whip, the lash flew back in a singular manner, and achieved an unconscious act of retribution by putting out one of his eyes.

MONDAY, MARCH 30, 1857.

RICH AND RARE.

We give a few Extracts from the Concord, N. H. Democratic Standard, on the Taney decision; with notes by Uncle Toby.

Two of the points settled, materially affect the society, sentiments and prejudices of the people of the free States, viz, 1st. That negroes are not citizens, and consequently have no right to vote or hold office in any State in the Union. 2d. That the master may travel with his slave, and sojourn temporarily in any State in the Union.

If these things were settled, there would be no free States. But they are not quite settled yet.

One of the first results of this decision will be, to disfranchise all the negro voters in the free States.

Not one can be disfranchised by it.

The decision pronounces this government to be one of White men, and not of Africans, nor Chinese. And no State law can make them citizens.

State laws don't make citizens. Negroes are citizens in New Hampshire, by original usage, and by the State Constitution—and they are Citizens of the United States, by the Federal Constitution, over which, neither Judge Taney nor Judge Dogberry has the least power.

Another result will be, to bring among us, a great many of our Southern friends, with their slaves, to sojourn temporarily; to spend their money amongst us; and to interchange the kind offices of hospitality and humanity. We should not wonder if within ten years, the shores of the Connecticut and Hudson rivers, and of Lake Winnepisogee, were lined with the residences of Southern planters, who will spend their summers in the North and their winters in the sunny South. * * * Besides, it would tend to make the master more tender and careful of his slave. He would be among a watchful and jealous people, who would look after him, if he abused his bondman.

Exactly: no doubt he would have to be careful! The watchful would not only look after him, but they might look after his bondman—and the bondman might look from Winnepisogee to Canada once too often. Such stuff must be made for the Washington market—in New Hampshire it is merely ludicrous.

A HANDSOME CONTRAST.—We cut the following item from the Portsmouth, Va., Transcript:

The circumstance detailed below is in handsome contrast to the course generally pursued by the citizens of free States in like cases. The facts are given by the Louisville Courier of the 11th inst.:

A few nights since three negro men, the property of W. D. Reed, on the line of the Frankfort railroad, ran away. A reward was offered for their apprehension, but no trace of their whereabouts or the way they went was found until yesterday morning, when a party of honest, right-minded citizens of Indiana made their appearance at the jail, with the three runaways in safe custody. They caught two of them just as they were crossing a corn field near the line of Jeffersonville Railroad. They were soon captured, and the third one found under a bush, pretty well starved out, and already tired of freedom.

Tired of freedom, indeed, says Uncle Toby—the freedom of being hid under a bush and starved, and then soaked out and carried back into bondage! Well, we should think anybody would be tired of such freedom as that!

And then the honest, right-minded citizens who so magnanimously kidnapped the three negroes for sake of the reward! Is not this in handsome contrast with those mean fellows who let them run as they can; or those meaner still, who give them bread and water, and even money to help them off. Is it not really beautiful, to see free citizens catch negroes? John Randolph would sneer at them, when he shook his long finger. His spirit might scorn Virginia and Indiana now.

☞ The appointment of Augustus Schell as Collector of New York, is likely to make quite a sensation among the "Softs." Mr. Schell is a veritable "Hard Shell"—and is indeed the father of the euphonious name which has been adopted as a distinctive cognomen of one wing of the Democracy. Mr. Austin, the new Collector for Boston, belongs to the same wing; and so does the notorious Capt. Rynders, whom President Buchanan has honored with the appointment of U. S. Marshal for the district of New York, as well as other of the New York appointees. The "Hards" are decidedly in the ascendency with this administration.

A LONG JOURNEY.—M. Boileau, late of the French legation at Washington, and his wife, (daughter of Col. Benton,) are sojourning a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fremont in New York, preparatory to their departure for Calcutta, whither M. Boileau goes in a few days on a diplomatic mission.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

DOVER, N. H.

Michael McGuinness, indicted at the last term for selling liquor in violation of the law,—plead nolo contendere, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Henry D. Freeman, for violating the provisions of the same statute, 2 indictments, fined $50 and costs in each.

Patrick Lyons, for offending against the same, plead nolo contendere, and fined $50 and costs.

State vs. Andrew Wentworth and Gilbert Stone.—This was an indictment found at this term against the prisoners, for placing obstructions on the Boston and Maine Railroad near Great Falls village, on the 4th day of March current. Jury disagreed.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—Perley, of the Boston Journal, says:

The "National Hotel" remains closed, greatly to the disgust of the stockholders, who fear that they will lose their rent, which is one thousand dollars per month, for the building alone. The theory of Dr. Boyle is endorsed by these stockholders, but many shake their heads incredulously, and can hardly realize that the mere remaining in the house long enough to dine once, (as was the case with Elisha Riggs and others) should infect persons with "blood poison" which was in the atmosphere.

John A. Washington has graciously consented to sell Mount Vernon for two hundred thousand dollars (under the incumbrance of the Washington family around the grave of the illustrious dead) to the State of Virginia! So the ladies of Virginia are organizing to obtain the funds from the State and other portions of the Republic, in the proportion probably in which troops were furnished for the revolutionary struggle. When the money is raised, it is to be given to Virginia, and Virginia is then to make the purchase. New England will be expected to furnish, directly or indirectly, a large portion of the "needful," but Virginia is to own the sacred soil, nor should the Yankees hope for the privilege of visiting it, even by paying tribute, as they have to now.

It may be news to the reader, (as it was to me this morning,) to learn that an American College has been founded at Louvain, in Belgium, for the education of Catholic priests who are to minister at the altars of our Republic. The rector-elect is the "Very Reverend Father Kinderkins, Vicar-General" of the Roman Catholic diocese of Detroit, who hopes there to keep his flock free from the contaminating influence of our country. "Belgium," he states, "is eminently a Catholic country. The true ecclesiastical spirit is formed to a high degree of perfection in the ecclesiastical seminaries which there abound." and an idea of this institution may be gathered from the concluding paragraph of his address, viz:

"The College will bear the name, 'The American College of the Immaculate Conception,' and it will be commenced under the auspicious patronage of the Great Patroness of the United States, Mary Conceived without Sin."

Mr. Benton is in New York, where he will remain a few days to bid adieu to his daughter, Madame de Boileau, who will soon sail for Calcutta, where her husband has been appointed Consul General of France.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—[Correspondence of the Commercial Advertiser.]—The Kansas difficulty is the chief one now before the administration. A man of such character and standing as will meet the crisis is not easily found. Mr. Buchanan has personally urged Mr. Robert J. Walker to accept the office, not as a routine official, but as a high commissioner to restore order in Kansas, and prevent a civil war. Gen. Persifer F. Smith, who is here, thinks that Mr. Walker would do that in thirty days. Mr. Walker has listened to the representations and promises of the administration, and he will accept the office, with a view to enhance his reputation and at the same time probably to lay the administration under immense obligations to him. He will not remain there after he shall have effected the high object of his mission, and his Secretary, whom he is to choose, will remain as the Governor. He is not only to go out with full powers, but will dictate his own instructions. He will, as I believe, do justice in regard to the political, as well as the personal quarrels which prevail in Kansas.

[Correspondence of the Evening Post.]—Governor Geary declared his intention of leaving Washington to-morrow morning, on which Mr. Buchanan desired his address, as there might be some further occasion for his services. It is, I understand, Geary's intention, after a brief residence in Westmoreland county, Pa., to re-visit Washington. He will not, under any circumstances, accept a re-appointment after the office has been offered to another man, although he might have done so had it been tendered to him first with the same almost absolute powers with which it is proposed to clothe R. J. Walker.

Hon. Robert J. Walker's acceptance of the governorship of Kansas was announced to the Cabinet to-day. It is understood that he will proceed to the territory about Monday week. Frederick P. Stanton has consented to accept the office of Secretary of State of Kansas.

Will not somebody please to say, now, that there have been no more troubles in Kansas, than in most new territories? The Kansas business has used up three governors, one president, and numerous Senators and Representatives:—and the end is not yet.

GLOUCESTER.—Fears are entertained for the safety of schooner Oolong, Capt. James Kendall, which sailed about five weeks since for George's Bank. She was last seen on the south side of the shoals. The Oolong had a crew of nine men, eight of whom were married, leaving wives and 10 children at home. The schooner was two years old, well found in the fitting out.—Capt K. was a smart, enterprising citizen of Gloucester, and a good navigator.—It is hoped that she may yet be safe and return to port.

Gloucester has suffered greatly the last ten years in prosecuting the dangerous business of halibut fishing on George's.—There is hardly a year passes by without the loss of one or more of the fishing fleet; not a solitary person has been saved among the crews to tell the sad fate of those on board. At least twenty-five vessels, manned by 200 men, have been lost on George's in the last twenty years, in fishing after halibut. Not a vestige of the vessels has ever been found, or any information obtained as to the manner in which they were wrecked.

NOT A TINALITY.—The Dover Gazette says, of the Taney decision:

But we are far from anticipating that this decision will put at rest, the eternal agitation about negroes and "the aggressions of the slave power."

STRIKE.—About seventy operatives in the Lyman Mills at Holyoke, all Irish, are on a strike for increased pay, but are apparently not likely to get it.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

TO OUR READERS.—Read the advertisement of Lawrence's celebrated Carminative in today's paper.

"BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS"—A COUNTERFEIT. A person pretending to have been a partner with W. P. Fetridge in the above article, is palming off a spurious preparation on the public. All are counterfeits unless the name FETRIDGE & Co., is written on the side, and W. P. FETRIDGE & Co., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who frown down counterfeits and imposters.

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the Balm of a Thousand Flowers would render it sweet? m28 dawlm

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on the sidle of forty, though somewhat heavy-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday, Mrs. Chase, wife of John Chase of Kensington, N. H., met with a singular and painful accident, while watering a horse. She was leading the horse back to the stable, with the halter somehow tied around her thumb, and when she had entered the building the door swung to with violence, leaving her within and the animal on the outside. The Horse was frightened and ran, taking off her thumb and drawing the cords from her arm up to the elbow.—Newburyport Herald.

THE STANDARD SERIES OF

SCHOOL READERS,

BY EPES SARGENT,

Author of "The Standard Speaker," etc.

THE Publishers can confidently assert that no Series of Readers ever before attained, in so short a time, so extraordinary a circulation as Sargent's, or was received with so much favor by our most intelligent Teachers and Committees.—Though the series has been completed only within the present year, already have these books been partially or entirely introduced into a majority of the public schools of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island; also in public Schools in Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and many other of the principal cities and large towns throughout the country.

The Series comprises the following books:

5. The Standard Fifth, or First Class Reader.
4. The Standard Fourth Reader.
3. The Standard Third Reader.
2. The Standard Second Reader.
With illustrations by Billings.
1. The Standard First Reader,
With illustrations by Billings.
The Standard Primer.
With illustrations by Billings.
The Standard Speller.
The Smaller Standard Speller.

The testimonials as to the superiority of this Series, are of a character not to be resisted.

The books will be supplied to schools on liberal terms. To school committees and teachers, who are desirous of examining the same, with a view to introduction into schools, copies will be furnished gratis, on application to the publishers.—Or they will be sent by mail, prepaid, when the amount of postage is sent in stamps. The postage rates are, on the Fifth Reader, 24 cents; the 4th, 18 cents; the 3d, 15 cents; the 2d, 12 cents; the 1st, 9 cents; Standard Speller, 12 cents; Primer, 6 cents; Smaller Standard Speller, 6 cents. Use Dr. Clough's

Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint. A gentleman in West Stockbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"MR. RENNE—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those of my fellow devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kick somebody, especially if young persons were about, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind, cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your Columbian Pills, and thank fortune and you too, they have cured me! I feel better, look better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and I verily believe them worth all the pills ever made.'

PREMATURE,—The launching of the brig "Molly Stark," on Saturday afternoon, by which many persons were pleasantly disappointed. Instead of the delay often incident upon such occasions, the little craft glided into her future element about fifteen minutes before the time announced for that operation; and instead of launching at half past one, she was by that time nearly through the draw.

FAST DAY.—TEMPERANCE MEETING.—Arrangements are making for holding a Temperance Meeting in the North Church, on the evening of April 2d, Fast Day. The object of the meeting is to address the children and youth of the city. Addresses will be made by several clergymen. LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE ILLINOIS.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Steamer Illinois arrived at 8 o'clock, bringing California dates to the 5th inst., and nearly $1,200,000 in specie. She connected with the Golden Age. The latter boat passed March 10th, off Cape Corientes, steamer Sonora, bound up. Steamer Panama, from San Juan, arrived at Panama with 125 deserters from Walker. They were in a most destitute condition. Their passage up was paid by the Costa Rican government. One hundred left in the Granada for New Orleans; the remainder came in the Illinois.

The Illinois left Aspinwall on the evening of the 19th.

Costa Rican papers state that 3000 troops are to be added to the allied force.

Gen. Cavas would march with fifteen hundred men upon Rivas, and 1000 would march against San Juan del Sur. The intention is to surround Walker with 6000 troops. Nothing later from Walker's position. His case is considered desperate.

Some of the deserters from Walker state that his troops had unanimously refused to leave Rivas to fight, but were willing to defend their position.

The California news is unimportant.—Markets generally dull at former prices.—Flour $16, with some speculative movements. State stock dull; nominally at fifty.

Mining news meagre, owing to the heavy flood throughout the State.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Secretary of the Interior has had a conversation with Senators Douglas and Weller, Mr. Chipman of Nebraska, Mr. Rice of Minnesota, and Mr. Denver, relative to the wagon roads to the Pacific, authorized by the act of the last Congress. The whole question was discussed, and they came to the conclusion that there should be a general superintendent of the work, which should be divided into three sections, with a sub-superintendent to each. It is said that Col. William H. Nobles of Minnesota was regarded by all of them as eminently fitted for the general superintendency.

RAILROAD DISASTER,—Pittsburgh, March 27.—This afternoon the locomotive attached to the East Liberty accommodation train over the Pennsylvania railroad, when rounding the curve at Denny's station, a mile east of Pittsburg, ran off the track, falling down an embankment fifty feet, and exploding with a great noise. The tender and three passenger cars were also carried down the embankment a short distance, but fortunately did not turn over. One hundred passengers were in the cars, but none of them were seriously injured, except a young man named Valentine, employed on the train, whose leg was horribly shattered. The locomotive is a complete wreck, and the tender and cars are but a little better. The accident is attributed to a defective rail.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—About 6 o'clock last evening, a terrific explosion of powder, occurred in the gun store of T. U. Aldrich, on Maine street, blowing the building to atoms, together with the extensive hardware establishment adjoining, of Kraft & Co. It is impossible to get the full particulars to-night, but, as far as ascertained, four persons have been killed, and several others seriously wounded. The ruins of the building are now burning.

DESTRUCTION OF A HOTEL BY FIRE.—St. John, N. F., March 3.—Foley's Hotel, at Harbor Grace, was destroyed by fire on Saturday morning, together with all the outhouses. The Fire broke out while between thirty and forty souls were asleep on the premises, six of whom perished in the flames. The others escaped by leaping from the upper story windows, for the fire spread with such rapidity that all other means of escape were cut off. Those who were burnt to death were Capt. Corbin, in the employ of Mr. Donnell, Stephen Scallen, ——— Canty, two traders from Placentia, and a young child of Mr. Foley.

Canty had got out safely, but on learning the child of Foley had not escaped, he rushed back for the purpose of rescuing it it, and was not seen afterwards.

CALAIS, Me., March 27.—The St. Croix river is clear of ice, and vessels can now come up.

WASHINGTON, 28th.—It is arranged that Edmund Burke of New Hampshire is to be editor of the Union.

R. I. TEMPERANCE LAW.—The R. I. Legislature, just adjourned, passed a law which authorizes places where liquors are sold, or gambling carried on contrary to law, or other vicious places, to be proceeded against as nuisances; and unless the nuisance is abated within five days, makes the owner of the building responsible criminally.

The law punishing drunkenness with imprisonment for a short time, was repealed. There is now no State law against drunkenness, but it is punishable by city ordinance.

☞ Tennessee, North Georgia and Virginia papers, are jubilant over the brilliant prospects of the growing wheat crop. The fields, under the influence of warm rains and mild sunshine, look wondrously green, and a plentiful harvest is everywhere anticipated. So also in the western and northwestern States the prospect is good. Wherever the snow has disappeared the wheat looks sound and healthy, and as an unusual amount was sown last year, we may expect abundant harvests.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—Ex-President Pierce and wife arrived here this afternoon from Baltimore, and are at the La Pierre House.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Drum—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Phila lelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c, and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who claims the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be reliefed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which exclude from the spirit every organic particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and Southwest are peculiarly liable, the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin!"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

NEGRO CITIZENSHIP.—In the New York Assembly on Wednesday a vote was passed —75 to 27—providing for an amendment of the Constitution of the state by abolishing the property qualification with regard to colored voters, and also to set aside the three years' residence which has heretofore been required for colored voters.—There was no debate, and the resolutions were passed under the previous question. The Senate will probably agree with the House, and then the subject will go to the people.

☞ Mr. James A. Stearns of Manchester, well known as a raiser of premium Suffolks, brought one of his hogs to that market last week, which was sold for $72.—66. The Suffolk breed are noted for their small frame, and their usual full grown weight is about 360. This animal is the one which drew the first premium at the U. S. Fair at Boston last fall. He has been fed on grain since the first of December, and weighs 519 pounds.

☞ A Mr. Hunt of New York, went to Laura Keene's theatre, and bought tickets for the dress circle, and was told that there were vacant seats. Upon entering, he found not a seat vacant, and returned and demanded his money, but was refused. He then brought a suit, to test the legality of the practice of selling tickets for seats, after the house is filled, and the jury gave him a verdict with full costs.

☞ Henry Beck, a German, has been arrested in New York, on the charge of attempting to poison the family of his employer, Mr. George Gregson, by putting arsenic in a pot of victuals which was boiling on the stove.

HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum in holders of Warrants than at home. Or Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much larger there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.

Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.
80 acres in section 19, Township 102,
80 do. 7, do. 102,
80 do. 14, do. 102,
80 do. 2, do. 105,
80 do. 17, do. 104,
40 do. 11, do. 104.

Also 30 Lots in the town of Stockton, 8 miles from Winona; little indisputable,—having a warranty deed from the Sioux of Prairie du Chien in Winona County. A Plan of the Town can be seen on application to the subscriber.

I intend leaving for Winona, Minnesota, by the 1st of April; and all business entrusted to my care will be promptly attended to. Money will be taken, and invested in Land, or put to interest—as may be desired, and paid back in Winona for from 3 to 6 per cent per month, on the best of security. Residence 14 AUSTIN STREET,

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interest of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons residing at a distance can send for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, order the next available first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent out of the country for the same to remain in the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes range from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likenesses on paper, called
Photographs,
as well as those on GLASS, known as Ambrotypes,
and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and having in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such PRICES as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of LIFE. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a deceased friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,
BY DR. WM. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, The POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One his Own Doctor, by DR. WM. YOUNG, M. D. This is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a work that must be kept from the young, and not in about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents. Address Dr. WM. YOUNG, No. 152 SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents, in the United States, also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for the government, executed in liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other opinions rendered in matters relating thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. THE PATENT OFFICE than is the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has substantial reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years has accumulated him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive Law Library, and Mechanical Library, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had as much business as he, at the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most competent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law and rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every day throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to multiply the buyer's chances. Prizes vary from $50 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Lawrence's Carminative,
OR
CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of
DISEASES OF CHILDREN,
and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically
A CHILD'S MEDICINE,
and is the only child's medicine in this country intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,
and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Mothers have long been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will prove a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, JOSEPH DARTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 16, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy and childhood, complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A man named Barr took a girl named Margaret Cunningham to his room, corner of Broadway and Ninth street, New York, on Wednesday. She demanded money, and an altercation ensued, and she either jumped out or was pushed out of the window. It is probable that she will die of her injuries. When the officers attempted to arrest Barr, he shot himself in the head, and now lies in a precarious situation.

FOUNDATION FOR CONTRIBUTIONS.—A gentleman of Philadelphia offers to give $1000, if ninety-nine others will join him in a similar manner, for the establishment in that city of a Free Gallery and School of the Arts! and another thousand on the same condition for the establishment of an Academy of Music, where the art may be taught as completely as in the great academies and conservatoires of Europe.

☞ The body of a man was found on Friday last, shockingly mutilated, on the Long Island Railroad, near New York. Two women, both clock repairers by profession, claimed the deceased as their husband. Both identified him satisfactorily, to the confusion of those whose duty it was to decide the question.

☞ The New York thief, James Wilson, who was detected in his nefarious practices in Washington during the recent inauguration excitement, has been tried before the Criminal Court and convicted.—He was sentenced to six years' hard labor in the Penitentiary, and commenced working for Uncle Sam on Saturday.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.—Mr. Ira Baker, a farmer of Washington, Conn., was endeavoring to extract a charge from his gun on Saturday;—his foot accidentally touched the trigger, causing the contents to be discharged through his heart, and producing instant death.

☞ The Boston papers contain rumors of another poisoning case, in Lowell. The body of a Mr. Nathaniel Sweetser, buried Feb. 20th, has been disinterred, and an autopsy was held, under the superintendence of a Coroner. The stomach was sent to Boston. Nothing definite is made known.

☞ Prof. Brocklesby, of Hartford, has been computing the age of the Charter Oak, from the rings, and concludes that the tree was 945 years of age.

AN OLD OFFICER.—Died, in New Orleans, March 12, Capt. P. C. Wederstrandt, late of the U. S. Navy, 78. He was the second student entered at Georgetown, D. C. He received his warrant as midshipman in 1797, and was attached to the "Constellation," and continued in the service until 1810.

☞ A passenger on the Camden and Amboy Railroad had a wallet, containing $1900, cut from his pantaloons pocket on Wednesday evening.

☞ A gentleman who passed through Franconia Notch on Wednesday, 25th, reports six miles of good sleighing from one mile above the Notch to the Flume House.

The trial of Col. Doddridge C. Lee, for the murder of David Hume, of Alexandria, at the Pension Office, commenced in Washington on Wednesday.

CHEATING THE DOCTORS.—A merchant in a country village recently ordered two barrels of old Bourbon whiskey. The casks were sent, but were found to contain common neutral spirit. The grocer notified the seller of the fact, whereupon two bottles of some flavoring article were sent, to to give the spirit the smack of the genuine whiskey. And it is probable that such is about as near the true Bourbon article as can be found at any of the grocery stores. Pure Bourbon whiskey cannot be retailed less than from $2 to $2 50 a gallon, while a base counterfeit is usually sold at $1. The Monongahela whiskey is likewise made from neutral spirit flavored with kreosote. The first article we have named is flavored with what is said to be a violent poison. And thus, while the physician prescribes the real Bourbon whiskey, his patients are only quaffing a noxious poison. These are facts to which the attention of physicians and patients should be every where called.—Boston Tel.

APPLE TREES BY THE ROADSIDE.—In Germany it is common to line the highways with choice varieties of the apple. The owner marks alternate trees by tying to them a red string, which, in that country, means "If you leave this fruit, you may have the rest;" and we have been told, though we cannot vouch for the truth of it, that the public generally keep the contract. Would it be so with us? We fear not. But have we not agriculturists who would set a few Golden Sweets, Summer Pippins, and some fall and winter varieties, along the highway that skirts their land? Their children might not; but many a poor child, whose parents own no soil, might have delicious fruit without stealing it;—many a wayfarer might regale himself from it; and the owner would have the satisfaction of knowing that, in so far at least, he had been a benefactor.

BENJAMIN NORTON
HAVING spent most of the past year in Winona, Minnesota, and become acquainted with business matters there, will give his attention, the coming season, to the location of Land Warrants, buying and selling Land, paying Taxes on the same, &c. Those holding Warrants would do well to have them located, as the land can be readily sold for cash, and will yield a much larger sum to holders of Warrants, than it sold here. Warrants will be taken to Minnesota and sold for Cash—the cash price being much larger there than here—and prompt remittance made, at a small expense.
Also, for sale 440 acres of fine Timber Land.
80 acres in section 19, Township 102,
80 do. 18, do. 102,

POLITICS—TEMPERANCE—BOOKS.

WESTERN VERMONT, Mch. 28, '56.

Dear Uncle Toby:—As my paper keeps coming and I cannot get rid of you, I become reconciled to my fate. And as your paper will come, and I cannot help reading it, I will try to pay for it, by writing some things which may be useful to your readers. But, by the way, I am getting a little reconciled to New Hampshire politics. I think, after Rum and Democracy (I mean, of course, the great Democratic party) have made a few more campaigns against the people, their laws and their pulpit, it will at length be settled whether a party shall rule the Granite State.

By the way, a great change has come over our Postmaster here. He has been a good P. M. and a staunch Democrat. He has served the party all the better, because he is slightly respectable, and of unblemished morals. But he has had to exert himself to retain his office, and call in the aid of all his friends, "without distinction of party." He now openly renounces the doctrine of rotation in office, and of giving men offices, to remove them. Had he only been removed, I have little doubt but he would have fought The Party, the rest of his life. I thought it a hard case, that a man who had led the forlorn hope, in Vermont, in such very disagreeable circumstances, their vote returned contemptuously as scattering in some towns, and zero in others, should have to struggle for the consideration of his labors.

I have lately been to Vergennes, the only city in Vermont. It was made a city when it had about two thousand inhabitants, and appears never to have grown any since. The Railroad from Rutland, lies along the banks of Otter creek, which flows north through a very broad, fertile and beautiful valley, at the west foot of the Green Mountains. Vergennes stands at its last waterfall, (a very considerable one) at the head of navigation, and a few miles from Lake Champlain. The water serves for a gristmill, foundry, forge, harness manufactory, and a manufactory of agricultural implements. To these has been added (the only modern growth) a manufactory of scales as near like those of Fairbanks as can be without infringement of patent laws. I saw no difference save only that a greater selection in results could scarce be hoped in the smaller establishment where more things are done in the same room and by the same artizan.

I asked why Vergennes did not grow, and they did not tell me. They said Burlington was a very ambitious place, had purposely located nearly a mile from the falls and had ultimately caused the branch track that went down to the landing to be taken up. But if Rutland, Brandon and Middlebury want anthracite, they can always find it at Burlington, 20 miles further north.

But they confessed that Vergennes had been a "hard place," that is, as I understand, it that drinking and other sins which do not conflict with the two popular commandments, the sixth and eighth, have not been as disreputable as in most other places. Still it is supposed it would be positively dull at either of the hotels. So it seems that the jovial element can operate on a city as on a man, and keep the best business place in Vermont stunted for 80 years in succession.

But better times seem to be awaiting Vergennes. They are holding temperance meetings and signing the pledge. In order to rid themselves of an anti-temperance democratic session, the church voted to request all the deacons to resign. All the others did and were reappointed. But his conscience would not let him resign, for he had read, "once a deacon, always a deacon." But I am told the move did him a great deal of good.

I mean to speak a word occasionally about school books. The making and puffing them is a great speculation: next to quack medicines. The introduction of a particular spelling book, grammar, geography or arithmetic, is a matter of publisher's skill, and the merit of the book has little to do with it. An enormous fortune may be secured by the exclusion by law of all rivals to one of these from the public schools of a large State. And fortunes are spent in the struggle. I mean to speak of school books from time to time, but will now mention but one branch, Botany, the study for spring. The best works for this study, by all odds, are those of Prof. Asa Gray of Cambridge. Five distinct works are of interest to the botanist, but two only are necessary to the million. The first of these is last in time, being just issued by Ivison & Phinney. It is Gray's Lessons, and is a capital book. It is beautifully written, with original illustrations drawn from American plants expressly for this work by Sprague, the first artist in this line that ever lived in America. It describes the anatomy and physiology of the vegetable kingdom. The other book is Gray's Manual. It is a description of all the plants that grow north of the Carolinas and east of the Mississippi, except fungi and sea weeds. The lower orders have a beautiful illustration of each genus, also by Sprague.

These books will never be equalled in our day by the independent writing of any American Botanist. Twenty years ago, Asa Gray was the second botanist in America. He has devoted all his time to Botany ever since, and has made several visits to Europe expressly to study American plants. He writes with immense care, and it takes him a long time to adjust a book to his mind—much longer than it will take some other authors to steal out of it all they know the value of. A cheaper edition of the Manual omitting all the lower orders, except Ferns (which are illustrated) is sold by Ivison & Phinney for $1.50, perhaps the cheapest scientific book I ever saw.

The third book is the "Text Book," much more full than the Lessons, and harder.—Teachers of Botany should study it. The next in importance is the Flora of North America by Torrey and Gray, unfinished, and likely to remain so. Lastly, Gray's North American Genera, two volumes only published ($6 each) and the rest not soon forthcoming. Each volume contains 100 copper plates.

These books I thus recommend, not from any interest in this sale, for I have not the least, but from a desire that those who are enlightened enough to buy botanical works should get the best.

I close by mentioning another, a very different book—Yasel: a Pilgrimage in the East, by J. Ross Browne. It is a book of genuine travels, but as a work of genuine humor it has given me the most cruel fits of laughter I have ever endured since I first read Don Quixote (the proper orthography is Don Qui jote.) I mention the book because, though all I show it to, like it, none have see it before. The Harpers publish it. Yours, OTTERBARK.

THINGS ABOUT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 23.

Mr. Editor:—I have seen more consumptive faces and forms, and heard more "grave yard coughs" in this city, than in any place I ever visited. Everybody seems to have a cold. A cold has stuck to me, like original sin, for the last four weeks; and I believe I should be in my grave, if I were to remain here six months longer. It is said, that those who become acclimated, enjoy good health, (acclimated to what?) The atmosphere is filled with sulphur, from the burning of such vast quantities of bituminous coal, and the city, like Pittsburgh, is enveloped in sooty smoke. No desirable place for those who love a clear sky,—and a clean shirt collar. The water is worse than the atmosphere. The water comes from the Mississippi river, and is so muddy as to be quite opaque. You cannot possibly see through a tumbler full of it.

I have not seen a lady with a bright, clear complection since I have been here.—No wonder, with nothing but muddy water to wash in. It is an old nursery saying, "that everybody must eat a peck of dirt during life." Here the people drink bushels.

Money is abundant, and the people spend it freely. Dr. Boynton has recently given a course of nine geographical lectures, and received two thousand, six hundred dollars. The lectures must have been very attractive, or the people very liberal, though probably both led to the result. No pennies are in circulation—nothing is purchased short of five cents, not even a postage stamp. A man would feel insulted were you to offer him pennies in change. Apples are sold "two for five cents—three for a dime," &c.

Everbody "drinks," and everybody "treats:" it is very little to the discredit of a man to get drunk, or go on a spree occasionally. The wonder is, how they keep sober enough to do business. It is not at all uncommon to see three or four partners of a great establishment walking off to a saloon together, about 11 o'clock, to take a drink. But, with this laxity in regard to temperance, all bar rooms and saloons are (apparently) closed on Sunday. The people are unanimously kind, open hearted and liberal. This city and State, of all the places I have visited in the West, offer the strongest inducements to an Eastern man to make investments. The resources of the State are only begining to be known, even here. A man must be stupid indeed, if, with well directed energy, he cannot make a fortune in St. Louis.—Corr. of Boston Transcript.

MANCHESTER, N. H.—The board of Aldermen in Manchester, N. H., have unanimously adopted an order directing the "City Marshal and the whole police force" to "use extraordinary efforts for the suppression of the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors. This action was taken in response to a petition from three thousand ladies.

THE EXPLOSION AT BALTIMORE.—Three colored draymen were killed by the late explosion at the alcohol distillery at Baltimore. They were waiting for the delivery of some alcohol; they had started to run when the explosion came and were crushed and burned to death by the falling walls. A German carman was passing at the time and was killed, his head being smashed horribly by the falling bricks; none of the people who were within were seriously injured.

☞ The Boston Chronicle, Atlas and Traveller newspapers are to be merged into one, and published in quarto form; Samuel Bowles of the Springfield Republican to be editor in chief, Worthington Flanders & Co. of the Traveller, proprietors. It will be a very strong paper.

☞ In the United States District Court, Boston, on Saturday, Jacob H. Plumer of Newburyport, master of ship John N. Cushing, tried for cruelty and unusual punishment of two sailors, named Howard and Woodward, was found guilty on both charges.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—At the meeting at the State Department last night, at which Gen. Cass was present, and a few other members of the Cabinet, together with Mr. Stanton, the new Secretary for the Territory of Kansas, all the preliminaries were arranged, and Mr. Stanton will leave for Kansas a week from to-morrow. The instructions which he will take with him were prepared by Mr. Walker, and meet the hearty concurrence of the President and every member of the Cabinet.—Mr. Woodson, the present Secretary of Kansas, will be transferred to some other position in the Territory.

Fayette McMullen of Va., has refused the Governorship of Utah. The administration intend now to offer the appointment to some military man.

HOMICIDE.—Washington, March 29.—The jury in the case of Lee, an ex-Clerk in the Pension Office, indicted for the murder of Mr Hume, a respectable merchant in Alexandria, Va., this (Sunday) morning, rendered a verdict of acquittal. They were governed by the instructions of the court, granted at the instance of the counsel for defence. Lee, it will be recollected, openly but erroneously, at the last public reception of President Pierce, charged Hume with picking his pocket. Next morning, when Hume called at the Pension Office to convince him that he was mistaken, Lee not only refused to retract, but firmly reiterated the charge. For this Hume caned Lee, who shot him.

RAILROAD DISASTER.—Chicago, March 28.—As a gravel train containing a number of laborers, near Lasalle, on Thursday, was passing over an embankment which had been undermined by recent rains, it gave way, and precipitated the train 26 feet below, killing four men and seriously wounded eight others.

ST. LOUIS, March 28.—The explosion yesterday at Aldrich's store was caused by the accidental discharge of a pistol into a canister of powder. Three persons were killed instantly, one severely injured, and several slightly hurt. The stock in both stores was entirely destroyed. Loss probably upwards of $50,000.

There was a large fire, last week, at Liberty, Mo., which destroyed property to the amount of $50,000.

RE-APPOINTMENTS.—Washington, March 28.—The following Postmasters have been re-appointed:—Jacob Carter, at Concord, New Hampshire, and Reuben S. Cheney, at Jackson, Michigan.

Lieut. Meade's Case before the Naval Court of inquiry is being concluded, having occupied 17 days. That of Peter Wager, Jr., late a Master in the Navy, will be taken up to-morrow, Monday.

"BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS"—A CONNE FEIT. A person pretending to have been a partner with W. P. Fetridge in the above article, is palming off a spurious preparation on the public. All are counterfeits unless the name PETRIDGE & Co., is written on the side, and W. P. FETRIDGE & Co., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who frown down counterfeits and impostors.

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the Balm of a Thousand Flowers would render it sweet? m28 dawlm

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which induced him to make himself known; but she in a dry still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burthen of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for all the ills of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

Dr. Stacy,

The Cancer & Humor Doctor,

HAS removed his Office to
No. 56 Congress Street,

where he may be consulted on all diseases the human system is heir to. The Dr. would say to invalids they may rest assured that he is duly qualified by study and experience to treat disease successfully. By his intuitive powers he will with accuracy describe the disease and feelings of any person, whether present or absent, without any previous knowledge of the person or nature of their system, without asking a question; and will prescribe a cure, if curable.

Dr. STACY cures Cancers and Cancer Humors, without the use of the knife, without pain, and but little inconvenience to the patient.

The Dr. begs leave to assure his friends and the public generally, that all his Medicines are of a purely Vegetable character.

Office Hours from 8 A. M., to 9 P. M.

LOCAL.

☞ The Brick Store, No. 10 Market Street, was put up at auction on Monday, but called in at $2850.

☞ At noon on Monday, just as the company were gathering in Market street to see a store sold by auction, a man was lying on his back, drunk, on the pavement at the corner of Market street and Market Square. He was 50 years of age or more, had a rule in his pocket, and was dressed in good working clothes,—but drunk, the sport of boys, and loafers, and the shame of his friends.

☞ A man, apparently about 25 years old, fell down in a fit, in Congress street, on Monday, but recovered in a short time.

GAS.—Messrs. Editors:—Can you inform your subscribers residing at the North End, whether it is necessary that the watchmen should put out the gas-lights and retire to bed before ten o'clock. For a week past the lights in Vaughan street have been extinguished as early as ten o'clock. The old rule used to be to keep them burning till eleven P. M.

It seems to us that they are of the most service between 9 and 11 o'clock. Q.

☞ We understand that the Public Meeting, to promote Temperance, by pledging youth to total abstinence, is to take place on Thursday afternoon, Fast Day, at the Temple, at 3 o'clock.

☞ The Journal of last Saturday, charges the Chronicle with "classing together matters which have as little relevancy as noonday and midnight"—meaning thereby, the Printer's Lottery and Gift Concerts. It says, further:

"We have been content to take our chance in the small matter of printing the City Accounts, for the last five years. It would be an insult to the understanding of our readers for us to array before them an argument to show that fixing upon the right price for a job, and then leaving the disposition of it to the disposer of all events, is not in any sense an immoral gambling transaction—or that it is not a proceeding in which anything is put at risk with the chances of any loss or hope of rich returns—or a proceeding in which individual or public interest is not made to suffer."

Well now, let us see wherein the difference lies, between "taking our chance" in one scheme or another. One of four printers is to have a job—and rather than bid for it, and so cut down the pay, they draw lots to see which shall have it at a fixed rate. The thing which is put at risk with the "chance of loss," is the certainty of getting a job in turn with the others, once in four years; which is balanced against "the hope of rich returns," in the shape of the profits on a good job. The price of tickets in this scheme, is the possession of a printing office—although one ticket-holder may of course sell out his "chance" to another, as has been done in one instance, at least. Now we should like to know if it would alter the case at all, if there were a hundred printing offices to draw, and the job was twenty times as large and desirable? And does this differ at all, from the case of any other scheme, where a thousand, or any number, "are content to take their chance;" to lose one dollar or gain many? We don't see the odds.

Twice, at least, our neighbor of the Journal has charged the Chronicle with favoring public gambling or lotteries, &c. This is not correct—the Chronicle never contained any such sentiment. The most we have done, was to defend the musical portion of a gift concert. Whereas, the Journal has continually advocated the Printers' "gambling transaction;" and a few months since, spoke in approval and commendation of a "book scheme" in this city—a veritable illegal lottery. We have referred to this subject before, and now, because we think the Journal has misconceived or mistaken our views in the premises. We do not defend "games of chance" of any sort; but, after a people leave the most simple, primitive forms of life, and engage in business where they may lose or gain; we don't see the great moral difference between a direct lottery and much of their other business,—such as insurance, speculation in goods or stocks, Eastern or Western lands, California or Australian gold mines, and the like. That's all we say, or ever have said—if one is wrong, condemn all.

If the editor of the Journal thinks that in the schemes wherein he has "been content to take his chance," the settlement of the matter has been made by "the Disposer of all events;" we should like to know what power he means, when he speaks of "the demon of chance" mastering souls, who take tickets in other schemes? Is the Printer's lottery the only fair one, or what? T.

☞ We intend to issue the Chronicle on Fast Day, as usual, but not on Friday.

OUT OF SEASON.—The sleigh-ride by our office, which we observed a man enjoying, on Monday, though there was not a particle of snow in sight.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—District No. One held their election on Monday evening—quite a stir being got up, and 226 votes thrown. The following ticket was elected by about 15 majority:

George Chesley, Justin Hanscom, Benjamin Chcever, John S. Harvey, Jabez Dodge, Joseph H. Berry, S. P. Treadwell.

FROM HAVANA.—Charleston, March 27. The steamship Isabel has arrived here from Havana, via Key West 25th inst. She has on board two companies of artillery under command of Major Arnold, from Fort Myers bound to New York. The duties on maize and corn had been reduced one third at Havana. Soldiers were being concentrated for embarkation to Mexico.—The condition of the Island was prosperous and the weather sultry. Sugars were in greater demand and prices higher.—Many cane fields had been burned. Coffee was unchanged, and corn lower and in full supply—freights dull; exchange variable. The steamer Granada had arrived at Havana, with 100 deserters from Walker's army, bound to New York.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

TRYING ONE'S LUCK.—Everything in this world hinges upon trying one's luck; and those who never attempt to try their luck, always remain in the slough of "Despond" so graphically described by John Bunyan. Every man can try his luck, if he chooses. All that is required is the will, and a few moments of decision and action. Enclose ten, five, or two dollars and a half for a whole, half, or quarter of a ticket in one of the lotteries which are drawn every Saturday, by the managers Messrs. Swan & Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, and the chances are that you will not have tried your luck in vain. All their lotteries are legalized institutions, drawn under the supervision of the State authorities, and they are prompt with their correspondents in every respect, being men of high character. ADV

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cognac, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on unsuspecting purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such man should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE,
22 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (no difficult from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

DR. AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headaches any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will a 'n others as they do me, the world will know them.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PEERLY, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quite marked, and consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Preternaturally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 14, 1855

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine They have done my wife great good. Her case was such she had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, which others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Practicing Merchant of N. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long crippled by abscess upon her thigh, which your Pills have cured her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MOEGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawker, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which could not be controlled by opiates. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were like magic. In a few days, by persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATOR CRAWFORD, EATON ROUGE, LA., 3 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has tortured me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous to a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or any substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, AND CONSUMPTION,

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, the wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and there yet are the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. Which is the most powerful antidote you know to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, is it also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by its consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable mother that fastened on the whole, rests your life alone. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than assure the public that the best that can be, We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tyson & Sons are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and see that everything is conducted with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present at the drawings. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state, and the drawings are drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication is received in hand. The prices of tickets range from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are got upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawings mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of "Inventions—and legal opinions—and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has solicitors in Washington, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—During the time the subscriber has been for twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity who were more attentive to the rights of patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most faithful patent solicitors in the country, and can have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order received, to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; halves, 50; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that any person can understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m3ly

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Doses of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A number of its kind have been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Carminative" and "Child's Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Yours truly, JOSEPH DARTON, M. D.

Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

THE RACE FOR LIFE,
OR AN ADVENTURE WITH THE GARROTERS.

Messrs. Editors:—The recent excitement, caused by the introduction of the barbarous method of robbing by the garrote, brings forcibly to mind an incident, which, but for this talk in the papers, would have been buried in oblivion.

Many years since, I was on a visit to a friend in a maritime port in England. His house stood far away from any other, on a point that made out from the north-eastern corner of the city, where an arm of water ran up, sufficiently deep to float a craft of decent size when the tide was at its full, but shallow, even in the channel, at low water.

One evening as we were about retiring, a tremendous knocking called us to the door, and requesting to know who was there, [we were answered it was Captain J——, of the brig Mary Ann, which lay adown the arm about a mile, and that he either wished to stop with us for the night, or for us to inform him where he might find a companion to accompany him to his vessel, as he had a considerable sum about his person, and was suspicious of some men who had been dogging his footsteps for some time.

Feeling as if I should like a little excitement, I volunteered to go, unless he chose to sleep on a sofa, which was the best accommodation we could offer him. He concluded he would return to the brig, as his absence might occasion some uneasiness.

The moon had gone down, and thick masses of dark clouds flitted over the face of the sky, rendering it impossible to see more than the outline of any object, while a damp, chilly wind, which blew in fitful gusts, and nearly took my breath away as I issued from the door, did not add much to the enchantment of the scene.

We proceeded without much trouble, notwithstanding the darkness, till we reached the end of a pier within half a mile of the vessel. While we were debating if it were best to take a boat and try to follow the channel, or to walk over the bridge a few piers above, we heard a quick, light tread, and suddenly the Capt. felt a heavy body leap upon his back and a strong grasp on his throat. I made a clutch at the rascal who had attacked the Capt., and caught him by the neck just as they both fell from the wharf, carried over by the shock occasioned by the fellow's momentum when he jumped on the Capt's back. Over they went, and over I went with them, into the deepest part of the channel, but not so quick was this, though it all passed in an instant, but that the fellow made a peculiar whoop at which a number of men started from the farther end of the bridge where they had evidently been lying in wait.

We plunged head foremost into the water, but the channel was so narrow that we could touch its muddy edge with our feet. Strange how human passions will rage; there, in that appalling situation, we each seemed imbued with a desire to take life, and it became a question of life or death.

From our struggles, and the manner in which our breath bubbled though the water, (wasted in our efforts to drown another and save ourselves,) it was evident the conflict would soon draw to a close. But short as was the time, it seemed to me longer than all the rest of my life; and my hair is as white as snow.

I had expected the Capt., with the grasp on his throat, would give out first, but the odds were in our favor, and our united exertions overcame the garroter. Gradually his hold relaxed, till we were almost free, then a convulsive clutch, a gurgle, and the strangler had perished by strangulation.

As we arose from the water, exhausted and weak, we heard the heavy footfalls of the dead man's accomplices as they ran on the very pier at the end of which we were standing. This infused new life into us, for weak as were, we knew we could make no resistance, and should probably be sacrificed to atone for their associate.

Through the deep, rank mud, under wharves, over old timbers which lay half embedded in the slimy ooze, at a headlong pace we ran, startling the old rats, who, in all their sojourn, had never witnessed the equal of this race at midnight, which invaded their abodes and disturbed the solemn stillness of their most secret haunts. On, on we went, looking neither right or left, falling over slippery rocks, cutting our hands on muscle-beds, floundering in pools of standing water, but never stopping a second till we reached the side of the brig, on board of which we were soon safely standing.

We heard no more of the garroters, who had too much regard for their own safety to attempt to follow our erratic and dangerous trail.

Before I left the city, I understood from a friend who was a medical student, that his preceptor had bought the body of a man, who was evidently strangled, from a couple of hard looking customers. These were probably his comrades, who, baulked in their attempt to get the captain's money, determined to "turn an honest penny" by selling the corpse.

The captain sailed the next day, but not before he had presented me that splendid watch which hangs, ticking, over my dressing-case. NAUTA.

THE RELIGIOUS PRESS.

A DIALOGUE.

Eastern Argus.—With avowed political papers, it is easy to deal in this matter. We can meet them in open combat, and hold up to public reprobation, the revolutionary spirit which they breathe, trusting to an intelligent public to decide between truth and error, between those who are, and those who are not for perpetuating the Union.

But with the religious press, it is otherwise. Professedly outside the political arena, it sits in judgment over not only the party press, but over the public consciences. In all affairs pertaining to any subject deemed important to be discussed, it exercises an influence more potent than any thing else, not excepting, in many instances, the bible itself.

Uncle Toby.—The religious press does not generally profess to keep itself outside the political arena, though it does generally profess to be independent of parties; There is quite a difference between these two conditions.

The Boston Pilot, the Roman Church paper in Boston, abounds in political discussion, and has Government Advertising for its pay.

Argus.—Nor is it a hopeful sign of the times, that among papers of this class, those are the most popular, and most authoritative, which most abound in radicalism, and are the most proscriptive. For instance, there is the New York "Independent," the leading organ of the Congregational denomination. It is said to have the largest circulation of any of its cotemporaries, and it claims to exert a wider and more controlling influence over New England orthodoxy, than any other publication.

Uncle T.—It does have a large circulation, and exerts much influence.

Argus.—It will readily be seen then, that a paper conducted with ability, having an immense circulation, and lording it over the consciences of men, with the authority for which that is proverbial, has it in its power to do immense mischief. Should it happen to make a mistake, the evil is wide spread, is contagious, and becomes, in the nature of things, almost irremediable.

Uncle T.—Hear, hear!

Independent.—We affirm that Chief Justice Taney, from his high seat of power, pronounces that to be law, which in his inmost soul he knows to be not law. We affirm that, deliberately, and after a winter's study, he alleges as historic fact that which he knows to be not fact. And this in time of Lent! Perhaps his Grace the Archbishop of Baltimore allows too much "flesh meat" in time of Lent to the faithful in his diocese. Perhaps a closer adherence to a fish diet would have had a favorable effect on the judicial conscience of the high functionary.

Argus.—Here is a charge involving the Chief Justice, against whose character there has never been a breath of suspicion, in falsifying his honor, and committing downright, wilful perjury!

Uncle T.—Judge Taney was put upon the Bench as the reward of a crafty piece of special pleading, drawn up to please the President, and to justify an illegal act. And he was jumped up to the place of Chief Justice, over the head of an older judge and better lawyer—we mean, Judge McLean, who was not so supple a tool. Judge Taney was born on St. Patrick's Day, 1777. He was a very bitter partisan politician; so much so, that the Senate rejected his appointment as Secretary of the Treasury, also as Associate Justice; but after the death of Chief Justice Marshall, he received the appointment of Chief Justice, in March, 1836, and was confirmed.

Argus.—That we may not be accused of partiality and misrepresentation, we quote from the Boston "Watchman and Reflector," the Baptist organ.

Watchman & Reflector.—The decision is a scrilege against which the blood of our fathers cries from the ground. No man who has in his veins, a drop kindred to the blood that bought our liberties, can submit to their decree. But if the free states will sit down in the dust, without an effort to vindicate their sovereign rights; if the majority of the people are so fallen away from the spirit of their fathers, as to yield their birth-right without a struggle; then it becomes the solemn duty of every conscientious freeman to regard the Union of these States, as stripped henceforth of all title to his willing allegiance.

Argus.—The doctrine of this article is, that submission to the decision of the highest tribunal known to the law, is sacrilege, and that loyalty to the Union, under such circumstances, is a sin.

Uncle T.—Sin is Sin,—tyranny is tyranny, whether in the Union or out of it. The editor of the Watchman has some ideas that certain acts are right, and others wrong—and if any Court, or Union, or mob, happens to commit a wrong, why not say so?—The idea that the King, or the Court, can do no wrong, is a slavish idea, unworthy of Roger Williams, or of his followers.

Argus.—Of course, from such authority, there is ordinarily no appeal. Its readers are bound hand and foot, and if a secular paper ventures to suggest that "it is better to bear ills we have than fly to others that we know not of," the suggestion has no force because it speaks not "by authority."

Suppose, then, such sentiments do have their legitimate effect. Can it be otherwise than to sow wide-cast a disunion spirit, and can it but tend directly to bring about a revolution? And are we prepared for this? Are such respectable papers as the Boston Reflector prepared to join hands with Garrison and Parker? Is this the way the world is to be christianized? Is disloyalty to the Constitution to become one of the articles of faith in Baptist circles?

Uncle T.—No indeed! Baptists will be as loyal to the Union as any body,—if it behaves itself as it ought. But if it becomes a mere refuge of oppression, then ——

WALKER AND KANSAS.—In a telegraphic article from Washington, March 30, we read the following:

The outlines of the instructions to Mr. Walker, are agreed upon, and he is to proceed on the principle of recognizing the statutes of Kansas valid.

By the statutes of Kansas, we are to understand the enactments of the Bogus Legislature,—those very acts which the U. S. Senate declared infamous. These are to be valid, are they?

The principal business with which he is charged is as heretofore surmised—to see that the people have free, independent, and uninterrupted expression of opinion and exercise of suffrage concerning the affairs of the territory; in carrying out the provisions of the Census law, and Registry law, and that for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

The people are to have free and full power to carry out the pro-slavery programme in all these particulars: but will not on this plan be suffered to do anything to the contrary.

The troops heretofore employed in the territory are to be removed, and others who have not been engaged in former difficulties, are to be ordered thither. It is apprehended, however, that there will be no use for the militia. The administration are resolved that the laws shall be maintained at all hazards, and have full confidence in Mr. Walker to carry out their instructions.

The country will watch their proceedings carefully.

GAMES OF CHANCE.—A sensible writer in Porter's Spirit says:

"I once knew a man who paraphrased a popular quotation by saying, 'To play is human, to withold supine;' be that as it may, gambling is one of the great intuitive principles of the human race; all men gamble in one way or another. Your merchant, who speculates in tea or tallow, for a rising or falling market; your stock broker, who goes for a 'bull' or a 'bear' on Erie; your real estate jobber who 'puts his pile' in bricks and mortar, with brown stone or marble facings; your politician, who 'sets the castor' against the public treasury, and if he can get 'pull against the bank' considers it quite fair play. What are they and many more, but inveterate gamblers? though they would turn up their eyes with pious horror at the very mention of faro, roulette and French hazard; any one of which, by the way, when 'played on the square,' are much fairer games than those they daily practice with impunity." r.

This is all true, no doubt; though it is hardly safe to talk so plainly—for, ten to one, you will be set down as favoring gambling.

ACCIDENT.—One evening last week, an individual hired a valuable horse and chaise of Greenleaf Boardman, Newburyport, to drive to Georgetown. When just out of town, passing under the railroad bridge, he drove into a loaded team, which broke both shafts, and the horse being disengaged, after running a short distance, struck his head against a railing around a culvert, dashing his brains out, thus committing suicide. The loss of Mr. Boardman is $200.

On Monday afternoon, near the Plains, we came across a couple of gentlemen, practising the carriage repairing business, in the road. Their horse had stumbled down a hill, and all hands "brought up" in a heap at the bottom. A couple of elm poles were rigged in for shafts to their chaise; and they drove on—with more "heed to their ways," probably.

☞ The Elm St. Baptist Church in Exeter, recently invited Rev. T. H. Archibald to become their Pastor. He has accepted the call unanimously extended to him, and will enter upon his labors on the first Sabbath in April. This church appears from the News Letter, to be a new one, recently formed.

LOW WATER.—New Orleans, March. 30. The large number of 73 ships are detained inside and outside the bar, at the southwest pass of the Mississippi, for want of a sufficient depth of water.

The Steamship Empire City is coming up, bringing 90 deserters from Walker's ranks.

Mexico.—We have three weeks later news from Tampico, from which we learn that the western states of Mexico were still in a disturbed state, and revolutionary movements were in progress.

A PILFERER.—A Newburyport correspondent of the News Letter says:

A young man by the name of George Kane, who had been in the employ of Bachman & Co., dry goods dealers, on State street, was discharged a short time since, for stealing. Kane boarded at the house of his employers, and one morning as the Irish girl was making up his bed, she discovered what appeared to be a man, beneath the carpet. A closer examination proved it to be a well selected stock of dry goods, which he had pilfered from the store; amounting to upwards of one hundred dollars' worth were found. He was immediately discharged without legal proceedings.

The same rogue, a few days since, obtained credit for twenty dollars' worth of goods, at Great Falls, N. H., on the pretence that he was peddling in that vicinity, and on the same day sold the goods to a peddler for five dollars. He is still at large.

VERY NEAT.—Lawrence's Carminative or child's pain killer is not only a neat, but the best medicine for children, with which we are acquainted.

"BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS"—A COUNTERFEIT. A person pretending to have been a partner with W. P. Ferridge in the above article, is palming off a spurious preparation on the public. All are counterfeits unless the name FERRIDGE & Co., is written on the side, and W. P. FERRIDGE & Co., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who from down counterfeits and impostors.

Where THREE, Passengers BEATS a Stagecoach COMPLEXIONS can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the Balm of a Thousand Flowers would render it sweet? m28 dawlm

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat heavy-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually charmed to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

TO CURE A COLD.

A Recipe that rarely ever fails.—Now, while winter, with its burden of Colds and Coughs, is with us, we think a remedy that will relieve such visitations should be highly prized, and all who know the worth of this remedy, will do as we do—prize it doubly. Take a double dose of Dr. SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, and it will give greater relief than any other medicine we ever tried, for we have rarely to repeat the dose to be entirely free from Cough, and as soon as the lungs have time to throw off the collected matter, the cure is complete. As a family medicine for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangements of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.

Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint. A gentleman in West Stockbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"MR. RENNE—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those fits of 'blue devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kick somebody, especially if young persons were about, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind, cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your Columbian Pills, and thank fortune and you too, they have cured me! I feel better, look better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and I verily believe I am worth all the pills ever made."

Dr. Stacy,

The Cancer & Humor Doctor,

HAS removed his Office to

No. 56 Congress Street,

where he may be consulted on all diseases the human system is heir to. The Dr. would say to invalids they may rest assured that he is duly qualified by study and experience to treat disease success fully. By his intuitive powers he will with accuracy describe the disease and feelings of any person, whether present or absent, without any previous knowledge of the person or nature of their system, without asking a question; and will prescribe a cure, if curable.

Dr. STACY cures Cancers and Cancer Humors, without the use of the knife, without pain, and but little inconvenience to the patient.

The Dr. begs leave to assure his friends and the public generally, that all his Medicines are of a purely Vegetable character.

LOCAL.

LAUNCH.—The ship Alice Ball will be launched from the yard of Messrs. Toby & Littlefield, on Noble's Island, this (Wednesday) afternoon, at five o'clock.

SHIPBUILDING ON THE PISCATAQUA.—Besides the ship to be launched to-day, from Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield's yard—there are four ships now in course of construction on this river. The Union Ship Building Co., on Noble's Island, have a ship of about 1200 tons nearly completed—and to be launched in a few weeks; at the yard of George Raynes & Son, a ship of about 1000 tons is progressing towards completion; Samuel Badger, Esq., across the river, has a ship on the stocks, also of about 1000 tons; Messrs. Marcy & Pettigrew, at their new yard at the South End, have just laid the keel for a ship of about the same tonnage. The three first named, we believe,are all for sale, and consequently without names as yet.

Besides these, we are glad to learn that there is a prospect of another ship being built on Pierce's Island, this season; and that Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield may soon lay down another keel.

NAVY YARD.—We learn that work in the Engineer's Department on the Yard, has been resumed in good earnest. To-day a large number of names of mechanics and laborers are added to the rolls, and it is intended to accomplish as much as possible this season. This has caused great rejoicing in the family of many a poor man who has barely survived a hard winter,but now can breathe and smile at the prospect before him. Our citizens are hardly aware how much our city is indebted to the officers at this station.

☞ The blacksmith shop and land of Hon. John Dame, on Water street, was sold at auction by J. P. Morse, Esq., on Saturday last, for $450. Mr. Major Hooper was the purchaser. The tools, fixtures, &c., in the building, brought about $150 more.

☞ The Concert, to-morrow evening, will of course be an entertainment of much attraction to lovers of music. We have not the programme, as yet; but Mrs. Wentworth will not fail to sing something richly worth hearing,—indeed, she always favors her Portsmouth friends with a double list of pieces. The instrumental performers are among the best, and are great favorites wherever heard. Mrs. Wentworth's numerous admirers here should be on hand; and all who appreciate and enjoy excellent instrumental and vocal music.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

On Fast Day, Thursday, at 3 o'clock, P. M., there is to be a public meeting at the Temple, to be addressed by the pastors of several churches in this city—when a pledge will be circulated for the signatures of young persons of both sexes, to abstain from intoxicating drinks.

The exercises are designed to interest persons of all ages, who desire to see temperance prevail among the young, and thus lay the foundation of a virtuous and happy life.

The three sections of seats in front of the stage are designed for the young people,and the older portion of the audience will please occupy the two side sections, to the right and left.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—The High School Committee for the current year, consists of Messrs. Robt. O. Treadwell, Hon. Abner Greenleaf, and George Chesley.

Respecting the election in the First District, which was held on Monday evening, there were all sorts of stories flying. The chairman on the ticket chosen, which we reported on Tuesday morning—who was instrumental in cutting down the salary of the Principal in the Girls' High School, last year, was said to be in favor of raising it higher; while the young gentleman who headed the ticket defeated, was reported as wishing to oust that deservedly popular teacher, &c. We were at once satisfied these last reports were without the least foundation—as we are now sure they were—but enough excitement was created thereby, to get out an unusually large vote; and to defeat a man every way fitted for the position—at once a gentleman and a scholar, and who has ever evinced a deep interest in the cause of education,and proved himself a most efficient and popular member of school committees. We make these remarks of our own free will, and because we like to have the truth known.

☞ The trial of I. S. Kalloch for adultery, commenced on Tuesday morning, at Cambridge, Massachusetts. The proceedings are reported in full in the Boston paper — of which Mr. Morse has ordered enough for everybody to read and judge for themselves.

☞ We have before us an Indian Pipe, which was found by a son of Mr. Stimpson, in Kittery, while digging, near the Piscataqua. A year or two ago, they dug up an Indian tomahawk, near the same spot. The pipe before us is made of cast brass, rather coarse; has a stem 6 inches long; the bowl is barrel shaped, nearly 6 inches in circumference, and would contain about two ounces of tobacco; the pipe weighs 14 ounces, and when loaded, ready to fire off, must have weighed a pound—a ponderous affair for the mouth. It was probably the property of some chief among the red men.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Navy Yard Department is making exertions to get off the steamer Niagara by the 10th of April. Owing to the great weight of the submarine wires, she will not take her armament with her.

Kansas.—The cabinet have had several night consultations on Kansas affairs.—Stanton, the Secretary, leaves next Monday, and will be acting Governor until Walker arrives.

Mr. Woodson who is superseded by Mr. Shanton, the Secretary of State, will certainly be appointed to the Land office in KANSAS.

The following Postmasters have been re-appointed: Samuel M. Chambers at Jersey City; George Bowers at Nashua, N. H.; Thos. P. Peirce at Manchester, N. H.; David Small at York Pa.; Thomas Brasheers at Stubenville, Ohio.

Rush Spencer has been appointed a Register in the Land office at Hudson, Wis., vice Herring, removed.

Secretary Cass has been confined to his bed all day by sickness.

☞ B. F. Ayer, Esq., returned from the West on Thursday, having decided to locate at Chicago, to which city his family will remove in a few weeks.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded,in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York,Boston and Philadelphia,started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin,&c, and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and south-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE,
22 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

THE MANCHESTER MOVEMENT.

The following is a copy of the Report made to the City Government of Manchester, N. H., on the petition of the 3000 women.

TO HIS HONOR THE MAYOR AND THE CITY COUNCIL:

The Joint Special Committee to which was referred the petition of three thousand one hundred and twenty women of Manchester, praying for the suppression of the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors in our city, have had the same under consideration, and would ask leave to submit the following report—

Your committee have no need to inform the City Council that there are a large number of places in the city where this traffic is carried on, or that the number of these places has been rapidly increasing for several years past.

The statements of your petitioners in regard to these points are well known facts. As a natural consequence of this state of things, intemperance has rapidly increased, not only burdening the city and county treasuries by the paupers and criminals it makes, but also jeopardizing in numberless ways, the property, the health and the lives of our citizens.

In this connection we beg leave to refer the City Council to the statistics and well-timed remarks on this subject embraced in the Inaugural Address of His Honor the Mayor.

Your committee believe that the great public sentiment of the community, that which, at its will, gives authority or nullity to statutes, was never before so unanimous in calling upon the constituted authorities of our city to suppress this traffic, and so to remove the burden which it imposes on the people. Any honest effort to accomplish this purpose will command the respect and approval of all good citizens—But whether it meet their approval or not, there can be but one opinion as to what is the duty of officers who have sworn to execute the laws, and that is, that they must do all in their power to abolish the traffic.

Your committee find that, in years past, the City Council have passed resolutions instructing the police force on this subject. But such resolutions, if once made, should be systematically carried into effect, and the duty of the City Council is not discharged till they see their instructions thoroughly fulfilled.

Your Committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, by the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council, That the City Marshal and the whole Police force are hereby directed to use extraordinary efforts for the suppression of the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors; and that they are directed to prosecute all violations of the laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors which may come to their knowledge; and they are also directed to enter and search, in due process of law, all suspected places.

The Report was accepted, and the Resolution was unanimously adopted, by a Council which was not chosen on the special ground of temperance. The evil is seen to be great and grievous:—and all good citizens of Manchester would be glad to see it removed. But the citizens are not all good citizens: sots and rowdies and loafers abound; insomuch that earnest and persevering effort is called for.

LIQUOR CONVICTIONS IN BRISTOL COUNTY. At the Common Pleas Court of Bristol County, now in session at Taunton, Mass., says the Boston Telegraph, the following liquor cases have been tried:

Michael Burns of Taunton, for two cases of violation of the liquor law—convicted on one, acquitted on the other. Michael Hoye of Taunton, one case—verdict guilty, Matthew Moffat of New Bedford, common seller—verdict guilty. Margaret Moffat of New Bedford, common seller—verdict guilty.

Michael Burns of Taunton, common seller—verdict guilty. Charles A. Shaw, for passing a bottle containing "the critter"—or modern intoxicating liquor—to a prisoner in the Court House in custody of the Sheriff, was carried before Justice Ellis, and thereupon ordered to recognize in the sum of $200 to June term of the Court of Common Pleas, and was committed.

☞ An interesting meeting has just taken place at Paris. The French Protestant clergymen, with the elders and deacons of the Protestant churches, have come together to prepare a "fraternal but severe remonstrance" to the Protestant slaveholders of America. The address, which has been most extensively signed, asserts that Protestantism has been charged with its toleration of slavery, and conjure the American Protestants to wipe out this reproach.

PRIVATEERING.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Times writes that he hears from a correct source the intelligence that forty-four of the forty-six States of Europe who have signed the maritime treaty of Paris, abolishing privateering, have also signed, or at least given in their adhesion to Mr. Marcy's proposed amendment to the treaty. England is one of the States that yet holds back.

☞ The Savannah Republican remarks that it is rather strange to see printing paper sent to the North; but singular as it may appear, such is the fact. The Pioneer paper factory at Athens, Ga., is shipping paper to Philadelphia for the use of the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is a very superior article.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which B. TRUMAN & Co are the managers, are guaranteed by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is conducted with the honorable integrity and care that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers will attend to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week. If any particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets range from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will meet prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it takes place.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness, on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such PRICES as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of LIFE. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Examinations made at Washington or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating to patents. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other one, to be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office in the United States charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-eight years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and other obscious relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, will accompany the patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and I take this occasion to assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the Boston Commercial Gazette.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R.H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the business of Patent Solicitor, or Agent, or Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would especially call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; halves, 85; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no postmaster deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England; and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The peculiar mode of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children, reduced debilitated and sour Stomachs relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due caution has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaint, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for its complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L HATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
YOUR FRIEND, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restore the system to a healthy state. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, from whatever cause they may enter the proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever any obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins

DEBATE.—The Empire State, New York, has taken the lead, in reference to the late decisions in the Supreme Court of the United States, by a resolution for a Committee of Enquiry to report the proper action of the Legislature. After a private debate, the resolution was adopted, 49 to 24, and the Committee appointed. In the debate it was jeeringly asked, "what are you going to do about it?" and "how do you expect to help yourselves?"

Mr. Baker referred to the fathers of the revolution, claiming to exercise the right to adopt and enjoy the body of the common law of England. The recent decision is but one step, (overthrowing the ancient maxim of the common law adopted by the Colonies,) in the progress of the combined and concentrated pro-slavery power in this Republic, which is destined, at no distant day, to extend the institution of slavery over the entire country.

Mr. Woods believed the resolution to be introduced merely as a basis of bunkum speeches, to re-open the bleeding Kansas excitement. Niggers were never contemplated by the Constitution to be free men.

Mr. Hogboorn said the doctrines of the Court were not called for by the case before it. It was a voluntary opinion to crush freedom. [So eloquently argues Judge Curtis. If the Court believed that negroes had no rights, then the Court has no jurisdiction. The case was dismissed on this plea; but the Court then volunteer to denounce the ordinance of 1857, the Missouri Compromise—that negroes were property, and can be taken everywhere; and that Congress has no power over Territories.] Those (Mr. H. said) are sadly mistaken who can now sneer at "bleeding Kansas," or with a hollow laugh refer to the blackest spots resting upon our history's page.

Mr. Mahon believed that the South had the same right to bring their property (men) North, as the North had to carry their property (horses, cattle, and pigs,) South.

Mr. Hyde sustained the resolution as "addressed to his manhood and humanity." "He stood where he could see the position of the democratic party. He had gone up from the lowest depths of that party to the mountain heights of republican freedom.—He had pitied their degradation—he had mourned over their servility. They are ready now to bow down their necks to this most inhuman of all decisions ever announced from any Court in this country. They met at Cincinnati with all their broken vows upon them, and then sunk still lower in the slough of moral perjury. Now they call upon us not to agitate! But the people will agitate, from the Senate Halls of New Hampshire to the crystal lakes of the free West, until freedom becomes the established principle of the republic."

THE DRED SCOTT DECISION.—Many of the ministers of New York and Brooklyn, in their sermons last Sabbath, alluded in terms of condemnation and rebuke, to the recent decision of the Supreme Court, nationalizing the institution of slavery, and disfranchising an entire race of men, both bond and free, from citizenship in the American Republic. Dr. Cheever preached, according to previous announcement, on "The judgment of God against the judgement of the Supreme Court of the United States." The Church of the Puritans was crowded in every part, almost to discomfort; and even the lecture room, at the rear of the pulpit, was thrown open to accommodate a large number of persons, who could not find a place in the main building. The text was Deut. xxvi. 19—"Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger," etc.

The discourse was one of the most powerful which Dr. Cheever has ever delivered, exceeding even his masterly and eloquent series of arguments on the great question which opened the mouths of so many pulpits last fall. He condemned the decision as a stain upon the ermine of justice, and rebuked the judges who made it as wantonly trampling under foot the rights of men and the laws of God. Few ministers so frequently quote the word of God, and with such terrible effect as Dr. Cheever; and in this discourse he kept back no denunciation which the Scriptures pronounce upon the wickedness of wicked men in high places. The sermon was remarkably solemn and eloquent, and the occasion throughout presented a scene of moral grandeur unusual even to the house of God.

We are happy to learn, also, that the Rev. Dr. Tyng, the distinguished rector of St. George's Episcopal church, preached a sermon on the same day somewhat similar in its character and influence, and falling not behind it in eloquence and power. We are told, that he denounced the decision of the Supreme Court as 'monstrous;' declaring it to be a violation not only of the principles of our government, but of the laws of God, and calling upon Christian men to arise and rebuke such an outrage perpetrated in the name of justice against the rights of men.

These two sermons have made no little stir in town; and is to be hoped that now since the stone has been dropped into the water, the circles may widen and spread over both town and country, and that every free pulpit throughout the land may freely speak against such perversion of justice, and such an attempt at oppression.—N. Y. Independent.

WELL BEGUN!—The City Marshal of Manchester on Saturday notified the dealers in liquor to close up the business on Saturday night. This morning the Perkins' shop took the lead in shutting up the business entirely, and the smaller craft, O'Donahue, John S. Kidder, McCabe, &c., followed suit. This is a good beginning. American.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1857.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The instructions to Mr. R. J. Walker are full, clear, and explicit, and in them are quoted the exact words of Mr. Buchanan's inaugural, viz:—"It is the indispensable duty of the government to secure to every resident inhabitant, the free and independent expression of his opinion by his vote." In this the Cabinet cordially concur. They and those who will shortly administer the affairs of Kansas, believe that there is nothing to prevent such result in the adoption of the State Constitution, as the Legislative Assembly at their last session repealed that portion of the election law which requires a challenged voter to take oath to support the fugitive slave law. Gentlemen who have made personal inquiry relative to this subject have been assured that the Administration and Mr. Walker will endeavor to carry out their promise in good faith, being fully impressed with the importance of the result.

We wish they would do justice in the premises—and any body who supposes Gov. Walker will promote liberty, or give it an even chance with slavery, may amuse himself with the idea.—But we place no great reliance on any of the above professions. We remember too well the professions and the actions of the last four years, by Douglas and Pierce, Atchison and Stringfellow, Butler and Brooks.

Are the conspirators against liberty, now to be put down? If so, by whom? By Judge Taney? Robert B. Walker? and by the National Administration, whose organist is reported to be Edmund Burke? Credat Judæus.

THE PLACE TO BE JOLLY.—Humboldt tells of a South Sea Island, whose natural productions must render it the very beau ideal of idlers, a perfect 'loafer's paradise.' There is a tree grows there which produces ready made shirts. The natives cut off pieces of the tree about two feet long, from which they draw off the fibrous bark as the boys draw off the bark of chesnuts to make whistles. Each man selects a tree near his own diameter, so that the shirt may make a good fit. When the bark is off, they cut a hole in each circle to admit his arms. The shirts do not require any washing, starching, or ironing, and a more convenient article for loafers cannot be imagined. As the same country produces bread fruit, a fellow may get his board and clothes gratis.

A CONNECTICUT CITIZEN IN A SOUTHERN JAIL.—The New Haven Palladium states that about eight months ago, a young colored man from Stratford, Conn., employed on board a coasting vessel, was reported by some of his shipmates while at a port in North Carolina, either out of spite or in joke, as a runaway slave from Richmond. He was arrested and lodged in jail, and the vessel sailed, leaving him to his fate. Recently a native of Stratford, Conn., was elected to some office at the above named port, which brought the jail under his inspection, when the story of the poor negro was made known to him. He immediately opened a correspondence with Stratford, and the result is that there is a fair prospect of the negro's liberation. At the expiration of a certain period he would have been sold to pay his jail fees.

☞ A letter in the New York Tribune, dated Flemingsburgh, Kentucky, gives an account of the murder of a master by his slave. The slave admitted the deed, and alleged as a reason the personal abuse suffered from the master, but particularly the treatment of the wife of the slave, by compelling her to submit to the master in his vile passions. When the murder had been committed, the slave and wife fled from the house; the wife drowned herself in a creek near by, but the man was captured and is to be hanged on the 14th of April.

☞ The mansion house of Cheever Newhall, Esq., in Dorchester, Mass., was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning, between two and three o'clock. A piano and a few other articles were all that was saved of the furniture.

The house had been unoccupied during the past winter, and Mr. Newhall, who intended to have moved into it on Tuesday went out from Boston on Monday, and ordered his man to make a fire in the furnace, to get the house dry and warm. There was probably some defect in the flues. The house was an old but elegant mansion, the value of which, together with the furniture, could not have been less than $15,000. Insured for $4,000.

For several years, when stoves were a new thing, houses were burnt by poor stoves and funnel, badly put up, or with wooden chimney boards.

Now, we have more houses burnt by half built furnaces, put up in houses not built for them, than from any other cause.

A WIFE AND MOTHER ON HOOPS.—The following extract from a communication in the New York Tribune, is spunky and keen, and very suggestive, too:—

I allude to "hoops." You do not like them; very well, you do not wear them, I suppose; consequently you know nothing of their convenience. If I tell you that a hooped skirt relieves the hips and body of the wearer of a load which would be necessary in its absence. You will say, why necessary, either with or without hoops? I reply, I would ask you, how you would like to see the streets of New York city ornamented with women in pantaloons? and do you not think that they (the pantaloons, of course) would be quite as becoming as drapery which shows the figure with every movement? No woman ventures, unless compelled by necessity, into the street when the wind blows, if scant drapery be the reigning fashion. No true man would make remarks about the flying skirts, but there are plenty of miserable wretches who would; and but few high minded women have independence enough to brave the jeers of such creatures. A person can walk with much greater ease with a hoop, even if the same amount of clothing be worn; there is a buoyancy in the balloon, like structure, which is a a great relief to all who are unfortunate enough to wear skirts. You say that the Empress Eugenie, "for purposes of her own," introduced this "terrible fashion." Pray, do let the Empress Eugenie's, and your wife's, if you have one, and your neighbor's wife's, and everybody's wife's purposes, alone. If women are foolish enough to get married, do please let their dress alone. If they can contrive to appear in public one-fourth of a year at a time, do let them do so. Respectfully yours, A WIFE AND MOTHER.

A young lady informed us a few days since, of another use of hoops, which may be new to some of our readers. Speaking complainingly of the continual comments upon ladies and their fashions, made by editors, said she:—"If it were not for the ladies, you would have nothing to put in your sheets—that is, I mean, you would have to print your papers half in blank!" We editors certainly ought to feel thankful for so great a blessing—take it either way. Y.

Correspondence of the Chronicle & Phenix.

THE CAUSE IN CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT, March 29, 57.

"Uncle Toby"—whom I never saw, but whose face I can easily imagine is well worth seeing, from the fact that such pleasant thoughts are reflected from it upon your newspaper, and thence upon its readers,—I am happy to say that an influence, new and strong is felt among us, on the subject of Temperance. We have had rather spirited meetings, of late. We have organized a new Temperance Society, on the simple, old, tee-total pledge. We have the simplest possible machinery as to officers and constitution. We have over three hundred names affixed to our Pledge, which is as follows:

PLEDGE

OF THE CLAREMONT TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

We mutually pledge ourselves to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage—that we will not furnish them to our friends or those in our employ; and that we will use our influence to save the community, and especially the young, from the evils of intemperance.

We have the purpose to have addresses often, and so keep the ball rolling.—We have an eye especially to the young.

Should not other places do the same thing? There is a strong feeling here that temperance must and shall be prevalent over the rumseller, by law, if need be.

Yours truly, TEMPERANCE.

LIBEL CASE.—New York, March 31.—The steamship New York, of McSymon's line of Glasgow Steamers, was to-day libelled by Capt. John A. Gardner of Nantucket, for an unpaid bill for coal, etc., put on board at Nantucket, last January.

The Burdell Murder.—It is stated that the counsel of Mrs. Cunningham and Eckel are confident of their acquittal on the charge of murder. They say that they are not only able to establish their clients' innocence, but to give the name of the actual murderer, and show how the deed was done.

The dwelling house of Mr. Hutcheon, near Mallorytown, Canada West, was burnt last week and four children perished in the flames.

ANNEXATION.—New Orleans, March 31. It is stated upon good authority that instead of the purchase of Lower California and Sonora, our government will conciliate the South by paying the designated sum of $15,000,000 for the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. It is also rumored that Senator Benjamin has been offered an appointment for the purpose of accomplishing this purchase.

PRESIDENT AND CABINET.—Washington, March 31.—The President this morning dismissed his many visitors until to-morrow, stating that his Cabinet met to-day at an earlier hour than usual, on special and highly important business.

Mr. Case was sufficiently recovered to attend the Cabinet meeting.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Mr. W. F. B. Jackson, recently of this city, has been tendered and has accepted a situation as teacher of Latin, in Phillips Exeter Academy.

G. H. RUNDLETT, P.M.

JAMES, don't forget to step into Dr. Preston's and buy a bottle of the Carminative on your return this evening; it is free from opium and other drugs and always cures the Colic.

THERE IS AN ARTICLE SELLING Throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known as a remedy for Liver Complaint. We have reference to DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. It is, in truth the greatest remedy known for Dyspepsia, Jaundice, or a general debility that invariably baffles the skill of our most eminent physicians.

Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the eminent physicians of New York, and it is said, most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with such invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a public medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, headache, languor, or slow, lingering fever, will try a bottle, we think they might save physician's bills, and days, perhaps years of suffering.

"BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS"—A COUNTERFEIT. A person is now intending to have been a partner with W. F. Fetridge in the above article, is palming off a spurious preparation on the public. All are cautioned against unless the name of FETRIDGE & Co., is written on the side, and W. P. FETRIDGE & Co., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who frown down counterfeits and impostors.

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the Balm of a Thousand Flowers would render it sweet? m26 dawlm

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

Dr. Stacy,

The Cancer & Humor Doctor,

HAS removed his Office to

No. 56 Congress Street,

where he may be consulted on all diseases the human system is heir to. The Dr would say to invalids they may rest assured that he is duly qualified by study and experience to treat disease successfully. By his intuitive powers he will with accuracy describe the disease and telling of any person, whether present or absent, without any previous knowledge of the person or nature of their system, without asking a question; and will prescribe for the cure.

Dr. STACY cures Cancers and Cancer Humors, without the use of the knife, without pain, and but little inconvenience to the patient.

The Dr. begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that all his Medicines are of a purely Vegetable character.

Office Hours from 8 A. M., to 9 P. M.

Portsmouth, March 25, 1857.

Use Dr. Clough's

Columbian Pills,

IN Dyspepsia and Indigestion, as well as for Liver Complaint. A gentleman in West Stockbridge, troubled strangely for years with indigestion, says:—

"Mr. RENNE—I was so terribly affected that sometimes when those fits of 'blue devils' were on me—although myself of a naturally pleasant and jocular turn—I felt as though I wanted to kick somebody, especially if young persons were about, laughing and happy. I was truly a victim to indigestion, with constant sour stomach, without energy of body or mind, cast down, afflicted, tormented, almost loathing any society, until I commenced the use of your COLUMBIAN PILLS, and thank fortune and you too, they have cured me! I feel better, look better, and weigh 20 pounds more than when I commenced their use, and, I verily believe them worth all the pills ever made."

These Pills are purely Vegetable!
These Pills expel disease from the system!
These Pills are capital for children!
These Pills are what Mothers need!
These Pills are useful in all diseases!
These Pills never fail to do good!

LOCAL.

☞ To-day being appointed as the annual Fast in New Hampshire—will be generally observed as a holy day or a holiday. There will be religious services in most or all of our churches, in the forenoon, as usual—and such occasions are generally improved by clergymen, to offer something a little different from Sabbath discourses.

In the afternoon, there is to be a Temperance meeting at the Temple—especially for the young.

In the evening, Mrs. Wentworth and the fine orchestra which accompanies her, will fill the Temple with delicious music; and we hope the hearers will also fill the seats,—and the ticket-seller's box with quarters.

There is to be a Social Assembly at Congress Hall—with tickets at a low figure, though the music will certainly be tip-top—and we doubt not the company ditto.

There is also a dance for the "old folks," at Rockingham Hall—under the direction of efficient managers.

ENGINE NUMBER SIX.—A new Board of Officers for the ensuing year, was elected by Atlantic Engine Company No. 6, on Tuesday evening.

Foreman—B. Frank Martin.
Assistant Foreman—Oliver Ham.
Clerk—A. Shaw Walden.
Steward—Wm. Black.
Pipesmen—Geo. Woods, Albert Foye.

The Atlantic Company is one of the best, most prompt and enterprising in the city; and they are always up to their motto:—"Deeds, not words." They have finished off handsomely, the Hall of their Engine House, and decorated it beautifully, with pictures, &c.

The Hook and Ladder Company occupies a portion of their building—rather circumscribing the limits of the Engine Company's room. Six's boys are desirous of having the whole, and could do their duty easier if they had it. We think they deserve it, and hope the Hooks and Ladders will be assigned other quarters.

☞ The closing lecture of the Mechanics' Lyceum, was given by the Rev. Dr. Burroughs of this city, Tuesday evening, at the Temple. The subject was the Red Man; the Lecture was full of interesting Historical facts concerning the North American Indians, as to their manners and customs, religions, and general character; and it received the attention and favor of a numerous audience.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

This day, Thursday, at 3 o'clock, P. M., there is to be a public meeting at the Temple, to be addressed by the pastors of several churches in this city—when a pledge will be circulated for the signatures of young persons of both sexes, to abstain from intoxicating drinks.

The exercises are designed to interest persons of all ages, who desire to see temperance prevail among the young, and thus lay the foundation of a virtuous and happy life.

The three sections of seats in front of the stage are designed for the young people; the elder portion of the audience will please occupy the two side sections, to the right and left.

NOTICE.—In order the better to serve the interests of our patrons,—and so our own, we have appointed Mr. JOHN H. MILLER reporter and business agent for the Chronicle and Phenix, both in and out of the city. In that capacity, he will attend to any business in our line, in Portsmouth or the neighboring towns, and wherever our paper circulates. He is fully empowered to make new contracts for subscriptions, advertising or printing, or to settle accounts of any sort appertaining to our business. We bespeak for him, at home and abroad, the same courteous reception and liberal encouragement with which we have ever been favored.

☞ The case of Pickering vs. Robinson was on trial Tuesday and Wednesday, before W. W. Stickney, Esq., of Exeter, and Hugh Crombie, Esq., of Auburn, as Referees. Robinson is charged with committing sundry trespasses upon the land of the pltf. The defence set up is that the land on which the trespasses were alleged to have been committed, was Robinson's property and not Pickering's.

☞ The ship Alice Bell was launched in good style, by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, on Wednesday afternoon,—pretty nearly "on time."

VEIL FOUND.—The lady who lost a Veil on Tuesday evening can have the same by calling at the Chronicle Office.

☞ We intend to issue the Chronicle on Fast Day, as usual, but not on Friday.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(Correspondence of the New York Herald.)—Moses McDonald has been agreed upon as Collector for Portland, Me.

Despatches were received yesterday at the State Department, from Minister Bowling and Commissioner Morse, at New Grenada, informing our Government that they had failed to accomplish anything.—The New Granadian Government contend that they are not responsible for the property destroyed at the riot and mob at Panama, and that the demands of this Government will not be complied with. The mission of our Commissioner, and the demands of our Minister having failed, they return home in the next steamer. Gen. Herran, the New Granadian Minister, called on Gen. Cass to-day at the State Department, and had a quite protracted interview relative to our difficulties.

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—Sante Fe dates to the 28th ult. have been received.

The Indian depredations were on the increase.

Several skirmishes had occurred between the Mexicans and the Indians, and numbers of both parties were killed,

It is reported that Judge Hoppin, James Lucas, and two other Americans, had been killed by the Indians near El Passo, and also that James Hubble, who had gone to Sonora to purchase mules, was killed by the government party.

A letter from Santa Cruz River, dated Feb. 30, says, that if the people of Sonora had encouragement, they would declare themselves independent of Mexico, and ask to be annexed to the United States.

The country is overrun with Indians, who are robbing and murdering the people in every direction.

INDIA RUBBER CASE.—Providence, March 31.—In the U. S. Circuit Court to-day, for the Rhode Island district, in the case of Charles Goodyear and others, Shoe Associates, versus Bourn, Brown and Chaffee, Judge Pitman delivered an elaborate opinion, and granted an absolute injunction upon the defendants from the manufacture of vulcanized rubber boots and shoes.

☞ We would call attention to the new and elegant Parlor Furniture of Henry A. Bigelow, (who is about to leave the city,) advertised in our auction column, to be sold on Saturday, April 4, unless previously sold at private sale. Said Furniture can be seen on any day previous to the sale.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Phila delphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c, and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely invaluable. While, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

"Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them you only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

AN OLD SKITTLER.—The Keene Sentinel mentions the death of Mr. Josiah Hapgood, aged 78, in Peru, Vt. Feb. 18, 1857. Mr. H. emigrated from Marlboro, Mass. to Peru, in the year 1800, when the only method of crossing the Connecticut was by swimming, which he did at Walpole, carrying his clothes in a bundle upon the top of his head, and his axe in his left hand, while he used the right for his oar. He built the first framed house in town, there being but three log huts previously. Three years subsequent to his arrival at Peru, he removed his family and effects, consisting of a wife, household furniture and farming implements—all of which, he carried on a single horse's back; and for a considerable time after their arrival, the family subsisted principally upon the flesh of bears, having in their possession but seven cents of money, and no food except a little seed corn. Mr. H. was a very honored member of the Orthodox church in Peru, and for twenty years was seldom if ever known to be absent from public worship on the Sabbath—or to neglect family devotions morning and evening.—In the great moral questions which arose in his day, he ever sympathized with the right. He survived to see a numerous and respectable family grow up around him, and a township of five hundred inhabitants, among whom there is not a runseller nor an inebriate. Truly this man's life was a legacy of integrity and holy zeal to that community; he rests quietly beneath the green sods of his mountain home, "and being dead yet speaketh."

☞ A boy named Foster, of Charlestown, Mass., was on Friday last pushing a stick some five feet long before him on the grove of the rail of the Middlesex Horse Railroad, when it cathe suddenly in contact with the end of a rail that projected above the rest. The boy was thrown backward to the ground by the blow, and on Saturday died from the injuries received.

ROBBERY IN NASHUA. — On Thursday morning, a bold robbery was committed in Nashua. Dr. J. G. Graves went to his room to retire for the night, and remarked that he thought he heard a noise in the adjoining apartment. His wife replied that she thought it was the cat, so both went to bed. In the morning Dr. Graves found that some rascal had stolen his wife's porte-monnaie and watch, also a large number of notes and papers. An entrance was effected through a cellar window.

SEVERE CHARGE.—A Washington item about 10 days ago, said:

Despatches were received from Kansas to-day, giving a detailed statement of complaints against Gov. Geary, who is charged with having become an unscrupulous partisan of the free state party.

☞ A horrible affair, resulting in the death of two men, occurred in Philadelphia on Wednesday. Stewart Law and a Mr. Sheridan were found dead in a lime kiln on Wood street, under circumstances which showed that they had lain down during the night, and being intoxicated, fell into the kiln, and were burned to death.

☞ George Sumner says in a recent lecture—"The excessive use of salleratus is a cardinal cause of the American ill health. It is a deadly poison, the use of which should be shunned as the slaughter of the infant and the destroyer of the strong man."

Our friend Hallett takes his description very coolly, and has, if he is not belied, got off a joke upon it. He says, he "constructed a platform at Cincinnati, and has fallen through it and broken his neck."—Fall River Monitor.

THE HORSE RACE.—Albany, March 30.—Taylor the New York horse, is the winner of the one hundred mile race. He arrived at Milestown at 5.30 P. M., making the distance in twelve hours and a half. The Albany horse was a quarter of a mile behind.

☞ An old lady named Startevant, living in Rockland, Me., near the base of Streaked Mountain, was burned to death on Tuesday last. She was a Revolutionary pensioner.

USING A SEWING MACHINE.—Jessie Fremont, the accomplished woman whom so many thousand people voted for last fall to make the lady of the White House, we noticed yesterday at her seat among a group of ladies who were learning how to use a sewing machine.—N. Y. Times.

☞ John P. Hale has recovered from his recent illness.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which Messrs. Cohen & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend the drawing, and everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are well protected as if they were present in person. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000, every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to ticket holders.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the Lawrence Cameras, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I am prepared to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. W. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, The POCKET EDITIONS of this celebrated One His Own Doctor, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this work. It discusses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that should be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents, address W. YOUNG, No. 152 SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all Papers connected with Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of any Patent or invention, on moderate terms, and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by mail, enclosing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given are those which have been received by me at THE PATENT OFFICE, then the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimonials, which can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The facilities of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond doubt, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity who had as much practical knowledge of Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure them early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Ancor 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and everything connected therewith, with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all drawings being published in the Georgia papers. To take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten drawing a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite selfe entitle prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful in any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Pinch of Opium."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians of the City, living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the respective cures of

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething, and to complete eradication of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your Cherry Pectoral, and your "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced to you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases for which it is intended, and for complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring the system to perfect health in every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are subject, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and distressing dreams always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and hysterical affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysteria, &c. Now are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to the health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, are attached to each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established,

A TRIP DOWN EAST.

EXETER, March 30.

Dear Editors:—There are three positions, in which I am sure Job could never have been placed, and still have kept a patient spirit, viz: that of a school master, a waiter for the distribution of the mail, and lastly, that of a correspondent of a newspaper. But I sit down without knowing what to write, and shall end in perfect ignorance of what I have written; so, if "ignorance is bliss," I shall be doubly happy.

Since I last saw you, I have been making a short visit in Maine, the land of pumpkin pies and pretty girls, where the liquor law is so stringent that it hinders the thermometer from getting high, and indicts the moon for taking an extra horn once a month.

I jumped aboard the cars of the P. S. & P. Railroad, went to Portland, and took passage thence in the cars of the Grand Railroad (called so because most of the passengers carry big trunks) to Bryant's Pond; and thence, by stage, to the place where I designed to stop. It is a small town, surrounded entirely by mountains, which frown down upon it, as a party of stern-browed chieftains might be supposed to look down upon their fallen captive. (I intended something very poetical in that last sentence, but it doesn't seem to be just the thing.) The place is peculiar, on account of the great number of its youthful inhabitants—I mean children—whose principal occupation, in winter, is evidently the laudable one of throwing snow balls at any "solitary traveller" who may be passing; and in summer, that of making mud pies in the delightful lanes of this suburban town—eighty miles from any civilized place.

The town has, also, two other peculiar institutions—the Sewing Circle and Social Assemblies; the former of the two meets every week at one of the several houses in the village, and is considered a matter of household economy by those who attend—except the hostess; for she is required to furnish a supper to all who honor her with their presence. For, if they meet once a week through the entire year, each woman, including several of those before-mentioned children, with their paternal progenitor, gets fifty-one suppers for one in exchange. Why they call it a sewing circle I cannot imagine, for nothing but knitting is done; I can account for the circle part of it, for they all sit round in a ring.

My pen trembles as I trace these words, for I always had an instinctive horror of sewing circles, and never could be made to like them. I have seen some men, however, who acquired a taste for them, as if they were tobacco, olives, or some other nauseating article; as for myself, the next time I go into the country, I shall be inoculated against them, as against any other contagion.

With a few words about the Social Assemblies, I must close. These are a series of dances which take place about eight nights in a week, not including Sundays, and are kept up with great vigor until break of day,—the lads and lasses possessing an unconquerable determination of not retiring to their several places of abode, until blushing Aurora has left the saffron-colored couch of old Tithonus; in other words, not to go home till morning. The style of dancing is peculiar; consisting entirely of contra dances, (very contrary, ha! ha!) and he is called the most skilled in the "poetry of motion," who can execute the greatest number of steps in the smallest amount of time; and "do" them as if he had a red-hot copper in one of his stockings, and was afraid of treading on it.

These are the only "peculiar institutions" of the place; the hooping fever has not reached it as yet, though several of the children had the whooping cough—as I learned, from driving hoop on one of those thawy days of February.

I might relate some accounts of my success in trout fishing, but I fear I shall tire your readers' patience. You will receive another letter from me, when I write.

Yours, TOMPKINS.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says there seems to be a fair prospect that breadstuffs will be reasonably low during the coming season. In England the prices are low and falling, while the Liverpool circulars say they have three months stock on hand, and the young crops are very promising. We can therefore expect no great demand from abroad. All that keeps flour in New York now at about six dollars, is the small supply upon the seaboard; and when the means of conveyance shall be fully in operation, there must be further reduction of prices.

☞ A plan is on foot in Washington, "to revive the smouldering embers of whiggery" for the next Presidential contest. The plan is to place its position upon the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, and to make an issue against the Democratic party in favor of the distribution of the public lands amongst the States, together with a few other clap-trap ideas, which are now sought to be engrafted into the affections of the people.

☞ A shocking murder was committed in Moyamensing Prison, in Philadelphia, on Thursday last. When one of the keepers entered the cell, early in the morning, one of the occupants was lying dead on the floor, and the other was wiping up the blood which flowed from a frightful wound on his head. Both the murderer and his victim had been committed but a few hours before, for beating their wives. The fatal act was done in a fit of madness brought on by intoxication.

☞ Miles Greenwood, of Cincinnati, founder and proprietor of that immense establishment known as the Eagle Iron Works, celebrated his fiftieth birth-day, and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the works, by giving a festival to all under his employ, with their families, numbering nearly 900 persons.

LET THERE BE NO SECRETS IN MEDICINE, or rather no pretended secrets. The Medical Faculty publish as soon as made, all their discoveries, and almost all that is known of real value, for the cure of disease, has been discovered by them. Dr. Ayer takes the honorable honest course, and right because it is honest. He goes to work and invents the best remedy which medical skill can devise for the cure of certain complaints: then publishes what it is, and maintains his monopoly of it solely by making it cheaper, better, more perfect, than anybody else can. If the people would exact this of all who offer medicines, they would have much less treacle and trash to swallow.—New Orleans Organ.

☞ The New Orleans Crescent says the free negroes of that city are possessed of property to the amount of $4,000,000.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

GREAT TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The meeting at the Temple on the afternoon of Fast-day was crowded. The services were introduced with prayer by Rev. Dr. Lamson. The object of the meeting was then allegorically and very happily expressed by Rev. Mr. Whiting. Rev. Mr. Holman followed with a brief address on the exposure of the young to temptation. He was succeeded by Rev. Mr. Patterson, who spoke of the influence of this movement on the parents of those who signed the pledge. Then came the Rev. Mr. Whiting, spreading out the prospective influences of this movement, and Rev. Dr. Lamson followed with some remarks on the influence of the pledge as a safeguard, a protection to the young themselves.

At the close of these addresses the following brief pledge was presented for signatures:

"I do solemnly pledge myself to totally abstain from all intoxicating drink, except when used for strictly medicinal purposes."

Then followed a scene of interest such as we have never witnessed in any temperance meeting in this city. A large number of lads rushed to the table eager to put their names to the paper.—These were followed by groups of older lads, and these again by groups of young men. At the same time papers were circulated through the seats to receive the signatures of the young ladies. On counting the names that were obtained to the pledge it was found there were four hundred and thirty-five. Before the meeting closed these four hundred and thirty-five stood up, a noble army, every one of whom had enlisted under the banner of teetotalism.

Now we believe this is a movement nobly begun, in the right place, in the right manner and in the right direction. Nothing, in our view, of equal promise to the cause of Temperance has taken place in this city for years. Let the movement be followed up. Let similar meetings be held till the pledge has been offered to every child and youth in the city. We have obtained over four hundred names—but there are at least two thousand names which ought to be obtained to this pledge.

It is cheering to know that similar efforts are being made in other cities and large towns.—These efforts cannot fail of good. They will create a healthy public sentiment,—and their influence will be felt in every home.

Dr. Peabody most cordially sympathised in this movement and was to have addressed the meeting, but was unexpectedly called away from the city.

W.

THE OLD DRY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT.—With our earliest days are associated recollection of the store of WILLIAM JONES. There were by its side the stores of the venerable father Neil, B. Brierly, L. Draper, H. Haven, D. J. Bigelow, S. Melcher, and others. But time has swept away all the local marks of these old neighbors, although some of them yet flourish elsewhere. Through every change and fluctuation of business, however, the establishment of Wm. Jones rode out the gale, and in the fair weather of good times the diligent proprietor, by ever keeping on hand a good stock, by fair dealing and urbanity of manners, laid in a heap of wealth, probably unsurpassed by any other individual in New-Hampshire. A few days since looking in upon the oldestablishment, now under the firm of JONES & MENDUM, we could perceive no material change in the extent of the well selected stock,—and the same courteous attendance is paid to customers that marked the former days. Time, of course, has introduced many new styles of goods formerly unknown—among them a great variety from the recent sales of French goods at New-York; and as for carpeting, their new and splendid styles, in rich variety exceeds any we have before noticed at this establishment. With such inducements as this and our other dry goods stores hold out, we should think the most fastidious purchasers might be suited to goods, without going to distant cities.—Journal.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM POISON.—We find the following statement in an English paper:

A strange rumor is rife in the neighborhood of Waterford, relative to an occurrence, which, if true, is quite remarkable.

It appears, as near as we can gather from reliable sources, that a man (we omit names for obvious reasons) a short time since died, bequeathing his property to his brother's wife, who has been suffering from continued ill health to such an extent as to render the services of a nurse indispensable. It also appeared that a few mornings ago her husband took up to her room two cups of coffee, one for his invalid wife, which he gave into her own hands, and the other he placed by the side for himself, after which he left the room for some purpose. In his absence his wife complained of the coffee being cold, and the nurse exchanged her cup for the one on the hob, which the wife drank; soon after which her husband returned, and drank the coffee which had so innocently been substituted for his own, when he was immediately seized with the most racking pains in the stomach, and in every other respect exhibited the usual attendant effects of the most virulent poison. In five minutes the man expired, but from what cause at present can only be conjectured. The inquest will, doubtless, clear up the mystery.

QUEER POSTAL ARRANGEMENT.—The Madison (Wisconsin) Journal is informed of rather a singular post office arrangement on the Wisconsin river. He observed the captain land with a mail bag, the contents of which he emptied into one side of a large dry goods box, partly buried in the bank.—He then took from the opposite side of the box whatever mail matter was therein contained, and returned to the boat. There was no human habitation within five or six miles of this novel post office, the locality of which was marked by a small white flag flying from a neighboring tree.—Neither was there any postmaster or other official to take care of it; but the captain, on his reaching the proper office, was expected to mail the letters therein found, and inquire for any belonging to his section.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1857.

☞ Rhode Island election took place on Wednesday. For Governor, Dyer, American Repub. had 9621; Potter, Dem., 5123. For Lieut. Governor, Turner, Rep., had 5947; Mann, Amer., 3339; Hale, Demo., 4652.

In the Eastern Congressional District the vote stands—for Durfee 5442, Burnside 1961, scattering 17. In the Western District, which the Buchanan party expected to carry, Brayton has 3933, Jackson 3209, and scattering 86.

In both Houses of the General Assembly the friends of the administration have elected but thirteen members, viz: five Senators and eight Representatives. The Fillmore Americans have elected three.—All the others are Americans and Republicans. In joint ballot the Legislature stand 87 to 14. No choice, 4.

In five New England States, viz: Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island and Vermont, the administration party has not succeeded in electing a single member of Congress.

THE KALLOCH TRIAL has occupied the Boston papers several days, with all its filthy details. The testimony is all in for the government, and we do not believe that twelve men can be found in the commonwealth, whatever may be their private opinions, who will render a verdict of guilty upon such testimony. The offscourings of earth's vileness have been raked, and the dregs of pollution been discovered. Kalloch may be guilty—we should not wonder if he was; he admitted too much for us to think him otherwise than guilty or a fool; but not by such witnesses should any man, who had a fair reputation to begin with, suffer; and it is passing strange that any respectable papers will render themselves agents to circulate the vile words.—Upon the opening of the defence, Mrs. Kalloch appeared in Court, and a great number of her friends were present. It, is said that not less than fifty came voluntarily and at their own cost from Rockland, Me., to testify, if need be, to Mr. K's former exemplary life.

"BANNER OF LIGHT" is the name of a new and handsome weekly paper, in quarto form, the first number of which is just issued by Luther Colby & Co., Boston. It is finely printed, and edited with a fair share of ability. Besides a large amount of miscellaneous literary reading, there is a page headed "The Messenger"—purporting to be communications from the departed, or "spiritual manifestations"—received through the "medium" of Mrs. Conant, who lectured in this city, recently, and who is a native of Portsmouth, a daughter of Mr. Peter Crowell. Among the twenty five communications published, we notice one signed Lewis Barnes, and another signed George Palfrey, late of this city.

☞ In the trial of Magee, at Boston, for the murder of Mr. Walker at the State Prison, the jury disagreed: Eleven were for conviction, and one, John Fenno, for acquittal. A Mr. Wheeler, junior counsel for Magee, had conversed with Fenno, about the trial. He will probably be tried again next week.

The trial of Cater for the murder of Tenney, was commenced on Thursday.

INTERESTING FROM NICARAGUA.—New York April 2.—Steamer Texas arrived this evening, from San Juan 20th, and Aspinwall 23d ult. She connected at the latter port with steamer Orizaba.

The Texas brings no later news from California.

News from Rivas, the headquarters of Walker, is the 18th. The Purser reports the army in good condition and well provisioned.

Walker, with 400 men, attacked the allies at St. George, gained the Plaza, and burnt the important part of the town.—He then retreated to Rivas, which Chamorro, at the head of 1200 men, had in the mean time attacked, and been driven back with great slaughter by Hennington.

Walker met them retreating, and they were consequently placed between two fires, and becoming completely paralyzed, suffered intensely. The allies are said, by their own account, to have lost 327 killed and over 500 wounded, while Walker estimates their loss at 600 killed and 500 wounded; and states his own loss at 2 killed and 21 wounded. Walker had the bodies of the dead buried.

The U. S. Sloop-of-War St. Marys was still at San Juan del Sur.

Collector Peaslee, Boston, received from the clerks in the Custom House, on his retirement, a service of plate valued at $1000.

Mr. Austin, the new Collector, entered upon his duties on the 1st of April, and has appointed Rev. J. C. Lovejoy his private secretary.

APPOINTMENTS.—Washington, March 1. Several Maine appointments were made today. No re-appointments were made, except in one instance, Mr. Shepley, District Attorney of York District.

The appointments are friends of Messrs. Clifford and Appleton. When they were made known, there was a general stampede among the Maineites for the first train North. Mr. Appleton has been appointed Assistant Secretary of State.

The President informed a gentleman today, that after to-morrow, he would not make another appointment for two weeks; he had other matters of more importance to attend to; the Secretaries will make a few connected with their departments. Our New Granada questions are assuming a more satisfactory aspect, although the Government have received advices that render it certain that Mr. Morse has failed in his mission.

The question of our interest in China, is increasing in importance, and, as the government must soon decide upon the policy it will pursue in that region, a committee of merchants engaged in the trade there, is expected to arrive here to-morrow, from New York and Boston.

☞ The law to the contrary, notwithstanding, there are said to be between eight hundred and a thousand lottery-policy swindling shops in the city of New York.

WILL THE READERS OF THE "CHRONICLE" please notice this;—Lawrence's Celebrated Carminative is selling in this city, and is highly recommended by the Medical Faculty. See advertisement on the outside of to day's paper.

LOCAL.

Mrs. Wentworth's Concert, on Fast evening, was a good one; and we were pleased to see so large and appreciative an audience—in spite of other attractions and the fact that the weather was not such as to attract people out of doors. She sang as charmingly as usual, and was called out two or three times to answer to an encore. Her "Gipsey Maid" we liked the best of all her songs—and it is in such ballad singing as this that she excels.

The Quintet Club played admirably—and have evidently improved much since their last appearance here. They could hardly have done better—and we only wished there were five times as many of them. As an accompaniment to singing, this band is excellent; and the difference between this and a piano is not small, in favor of the fiddlers.

Mrs. Wentworth takes the responsibility of no concerts, save on her annuals visit to Portsmouth; and it must be gratifying to her to be received so cordially, at home, year after year,—which fact proves that she is as popular "in her own country" as abroad.

The Boston Journal says Mrs. Wentworth "has not been idle the past winter. She accomplished her thirty-second concert engagement of the season, at Providence, a few nights since. The concerts in which she has appeared have been given in the principal cities of New England, where she is an esteemed favorite, frequently receiving three, and even four encores to her songs, besides numberless boquets and presents—all of which she deserves."

☞ We learn that the Mercantile Reading Room is not to be discontinued, as we announced was probable, a few days since. By the exertions of Mr. Jas. C. Brown, one of the Directors of the Room, a sufficient addition was made to the list of subscribers to warrant its continuance, as it can now be supported without expense to the Association.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. C. M. Meinerth, for a paper of seeds of the new Gigantic Hemp, which is said to grow 12 or 15 feet high, in any good land not too much exposed to mud. Plant about the middle of May, and you can have quite a grove for shade in August. Mr. Shores will furnish the seed. It is an old saying, that "the hemp is not planted with which to hang" a certain rascal—but if this kind grows at the rate stated, a fellow must be pretty bad to deserve hanging before a rope can be raised from the seed.

Sights and Sounds.—A few evenings since, as a gentleman was walking up High street, he stumbled over something—which proved to be a well-dressed man, of middle age, lying directly across the sidewalk. As no one about there knew the stranger, he was allowed to sober off in the Watch-house.

About dusk, three or four days ago we saw an oldish man, with a younger companion, both drunk, riding about Market Square—and at last the front wheel of their wagon caught underneath the body, so as almost to upset it. They were straightened up by some passers, and started for home—from whence they would do well not to venture again till they learn better habits.

On Fast day and night, there was considerable drunkenness apparent; and among the rest a party of young men from a neighboring town were conspicuous—two of them having at once measured their length on the sidewalk.

☞ The pay of Hon. J. M. Weare, the Superintendent of construction of the Custom House Building here, is to be $6 per day—and it will probably take about two years to complete the job.

☞ That Portsmouth sportsmen are not easily gull-ed, is evident from the fact that about fifty of these interesting birds were in quiet possession of the South Millpond all day Friday, without so much as even smelling gunpowder.

The Lyceums.—Three of the four Lyceums we have had, the past season, have been concluded—the Granite State Club, it will be seen, have another lecture next week. Of all, or at least of the three which have closed, the Young Americans' course has been most successful, pecuniarily—having netted $20 and upwards, while report says the Mercantile and Mechanics' courses did not more than "pay." Last year, both Lyceums offered musical attractions, and were well repaid therefor—and this year, the only one of the four which had music, has been the most successful. Whether this can be fairly put down as the cause and effect, or not, we hope we shall have no more Lyceums without music.

☞ The Journal has considerable comment on, but no answer to, our remarks on lotteries, gambling, &c. The editor talks of two kinds of lotteries, "illegal" and legal, though the law knows not of such a distinction. It makes an odds to him, too, it seems, whose ox is gored.

By the way, we never defended even the musical portion of a Gift Concert, except as compared with other concerts—never as a cover for a lottery. The Journal knows that, and yet has a paragraph of special pleading, founded directly on this assumption. As to the appreciation of music, however,—some people have altogether too much of an ear for that; so we should hardly look to them for an opinion in such matters. F.

☞ Rev Mr. Holman will deliver a lecture to the young men of Portsmouth, at the Methodist Church, on Sunday evening—services to commence at 7 o'clock. We understand an opportunity will be given for any who desire, to sign the temherance pledge.

☞ The joiners and masons are to commence repairs and improvements on the Chronicle Building, next week; to make ready for which, Mr. H. H. Ham is removing his watchmaker's establishment to the shop recently occupied by Mr. George Manent, on Congress street,—and Capt. Clark has taken up his quarters in Mr. George M. Marsh's shop, on State street. The Chronicle is going to try and stick by the wreck; but we shall probably have to suspend publication for a day or two at least, if nothing more, during the scrimmage.

Appointments.—John A. Dixon, Esq., of Kittery, Me., has received the appointment of Carpenter of in the U. S. Navy, and is ordered to the sloop of war Dale, at Norfolk, Va.

Thomas Lydstone of Kittery, has been appointed Foreman of the Navy Yard, with a salary of $1200—a new office, we believe.

☞ We learn that a son of Albert Blaisdell, Esq. of Greenland, was severely injured by a fall out of a barn window, on Thursday afternoon, though it is hoped not fatally.

☞ Rev. Mr. Fisk, of the congregational church at Kittery Point, was dismissed from that charge on Wednesday, April 1,—to become pastor of a like church at Fisherville, N. H.

☞ See Auction column for sales to-day.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

New York, 2d.—The Belgian steamer Constitution arrived at this port this afternoon at 4 o'clock, bringing London dates of the 17th ult.

Steamship Indian, from Portland, and Asia, from New York, arrived at Liverpool, 16th.

The London market is dull. Consols on Monday, 16th, 93 a 93 1-3. Closing weak. Corn market heavy.

Liverpool, Saturday.—There is increased enquiry for Wheat at full prices. Manchester money market improved. Paris money market improved.

The Spanish expedition against Mexico assumes a more imposing aspect. Gen Pezula is spoken of for the chief command.

A despatch from Copenhagen says the Sound Dues Treaty was duly signed March 14.

The Overland China Mail has arrived in London.—Its advices confirm the telegraphic accounts of wholesale attempts at poisoning by bakers, at Hong Hong. Several hundreds were poisoned, but none fatally. The proprietor of the bakery was arrested on his way to Macao, and was to be tried immediately at Hong Kong.

A large number of junks were collecting for the purpose of attacking Hong Kong. Some fears were entertained by the English on account of the smallness of their allied force, and an application was made to the Governor General of India for a regiment, which was refused.

The French ships were anchored at the head of the Bay of Hong Kong. The American frigate Levant was also in the harbor. The San Jacinto had proceeded to Lenaz, to look after some junks that had attempted to intercept the American Steamer Lily.

Gov. Yeh had addressed Commissioner Parker, asking why he had not ordered the American ships and subjects not to intermeddle in present troubles. Mr. Parker's reply is not known.

Tea continued to advance at Shanghai, and the market was excited. Several chops Congou had been taken at 14 taels, of the same quality as sold at 8 taels in October.

A Paris letter says a French Charge left Marseilles on the 12th for China, with instructions to French fleets in China to operate with English forces, conformably to arrangements concluded between the two governments.

Russia is making preparations for a Circassian campaign to Caucasus. She has 100,000 troops along the shores of the Caspian, and had, beside, secured the active co-operation of several native chiefs.

Liverpool, 16th.—There is an improved tone in the Cotton market. Sales two days 12,000 bales, of which 2500 were on speculation and for export. Prices closed with a turn in favor of the buyer.

THE STANDARD SERIES OF

SCHOOL READERS,

BY EPES SARGENT,
Author of "The Standard Speaker," etc.

THE Publishers can confidently assert that no Series of Readers ever before attained, in so short a time, so extraordinary a circulation as Sargent's, or was received with so much favor by our most intelligent Teachers and Committees. Though the series has been completed only within the present year, already have these books been partially or entirely introduced into a majority of the public schools of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island; also in public Schools in Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and many other of the principal cities and large towns throughout the country.

The Series comprises the following books:

5. The Standard Fifth, or First Class Reader.
4. The Standard Fourth Reader.
3. The Standard Third Reader.
2. The Standard Second Reader.
With Illustrations by Billings.
1. The Standard First Reader.
With Illustrations by Billings.
The Standard Primer.
With Illustrations by Billings.
The Standard Speller.
The Smaller Standard Speller.

The testimonials as to the superiority of this Series, are of a character not to be resisted. The books will be supplied to schools on liberal terms. To school committees and teachers, who are desirous of examining the same, with a view to introduction into schools, copies will be furnished gratis, on application to the publishers. Or they will be sent by mail, prepaid, when the amount of postage is sent in stamps. The postage rates are, on the Fifth Reader, 24 cents; the 4th, 18 cents; the 3d, 15 cents; the 2d, 12 cents; the 1st, 9 cents; Standard Speller, 12 cents; Primer, 6 cents; Smaller Standard Speller, 6 cents. LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRAZER & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a perfect right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, if no prizes remain unclaimed, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent out without the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertiary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $30 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to this purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet size, or the size of Life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, may have a large and beautiful large Photograph executed from it.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. WM. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, The POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One His Own Doctor, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the most impaired health, should read this invaluable book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that must be kept locked up, and not be about the house. It will be sent by mail, post paid, for twenty-five cents. Address Dr WM. YOUNG, No. 152 SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st., Opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Extensions, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the question of utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but it is believed, it numbers have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The subscriber would be now given proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; or as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate by a collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

The necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons so skilful in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1853.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly conversant with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the state of Georgia, and have been commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the number one ticket in any lottery must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $30 to $100,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

The list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to R. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now successfully used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Convulsions, Wind, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as their peace depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of the kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir:—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves so powerful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Yours truly, JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.

Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

A WHITE MAN SOLD INTO SLAVERY.—The Buffalo Express learns that a young man named Barnhart, the son of early emigrants to Linden, Cattaraugus county, from the Mohawk Dutch settlements, has been sold as a slave by a company of strolling play-actors, with whom he engaged to travel in December last. Young Barnhart is an excellent player on the violin, and accompanied the actors into Maryland and Virginia in the capacity of musician. He was of rather dark complexion, and his companions, representing him to be a negro, sold him to some Virginia slave dealer. The evidence of this was doubted at first, but is now believed to be true, and Barnhart's father was making preparations to seek for and rescue his enslaved son.

HUGH MILLER'S NEW WORK.—The London Publisher's Circular, under date of March 2, says: "The publication of Hugh Miller's new work, the Testimony of the Rocks; or, Geology in its bearing on the Two Theologies, Natural and Revealed, is unavoidably delayed, in consequence of the unexpectedly great demand for copies. The demand for Hugh Miller's works was so great after his death, that the stock of all but one was very soon exhausted. They are now re-printing with all despatch."—The publication of the work here is delayed for the same reason. Messrs. Gould & Lincoln of Boston have nearly the whole already stereotyped, and will issue it as soon as they receive the few remaining pages.

A TON OF SILVER IN A BEDSTEAD.—A correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, in writing to that paper an account of a visit to the Egyptian Pasha's palace, at Alexandria, says: "Our guide led us to the sleeping apartments of the Pasha, and there, under the lofty ceiling, in the center of the room, stood the bedstead of this luxurious Lord of Egypt, and all of solid silver, weighing one ton. This was the assertion of our dragoman, confirmed by the testimony of the accompanying officials of the palace; and after a careful examination by our party, we could not detect the deception if there was one." The mint value of this "chunk" would be over forty thousand dollars.

☞ Rev. E. W. Allen, pastor of Howard street Church in Salem, has renewed the resignation of his office tendered last fall, and it is expected, will be dismissed on the 21st inst.

A SURPRISED PARTY.—One day last week some forty of the married ladies of Nashua came to the conclusion that they had as good a right to have a supper as the gentlemen. Accordingly they ordered one at the Indian Head House, and it was a good one, as all Col. Gillis's are. They occupied the west dining room. After they had been seated at the table, the doors between the west and east dining halls, which run parallel with each other, were thrown open, when the ladies discovered their sovereign lords and masters in the east hall, partaking of supper, as cosy and unconcerned as if nothing had happened. Thereat great surprise was manifested, as a matter of course. The whole affair was concluded with a dance.

☞ A rich Spaniard named Fresnada, at Havana, Cuba, has lately been sentenced to three years' hard labor in the chain gang, and to settle an annuity of $1000 a year upon a young man, whose eyes he had hired a negro to put out with vitriol. This diabolical outrage was committed because the young man had purchased a female slave with whom he was in love, and whose possession the Spaniard himself coveted.

☞ At a ball in Sansom street Hall, Philadelphia, Monday evening, a man named William Owen had occasion to draw down the lower sash of the east window; and while in the act of doing so, the window being very high, his hands slipped, and he was precipitated out of the window to the ground beneath, breaking his neck and killing him instantly.

THE COST OF SCHOOLING.—The following statistics show the amount raised by tax per scholar, for schools last year, in the principal towns of New Hampshire:—Nashua $7,20, Portsmouth $5,17, Somersworth $5,12, Exeter $4,95, Dover $4,38, Manchester $4,05, Keene $3,75, Concord $3,29; the average being $4,74 per scholar.

The amount appropriated per scholar in Massachusetts is:

In Nahant $18,47, West Roxbury $11,05, Boston $10,25, Roxbury $8,48, Lowell $8,24 New Bedford $8,02, Nantucket $6,09, Lawrence $6,89, Charlestown $6,73, Lynn $6,47, Worcester $5,72, Salem $4,99, Springfield $4,63, Taunton $4,81.

OPINION OF THE JUDGES.—The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce has ascertained that there is no mode of procuring official copies of the opinions of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, until the reporter of the Court (Mr. Howard) shall have them printed in his series of reports. The volume which is to contain them is nearly ready, and is only delayed till he can obtain a revised copy of the Opinions. The opinion of the Court—read by the Chief Justice—had not been filled up to Saturday.

☞ Washington Irving, who is now in his seventy-fifth year, recently received an invitation to be present at the oration delivered by Edward Everett at Albany. He returned an answer regretting his inability to attend, on account of his being so busily occupied in getting the last volume of his work on Washington through the press, and his being incessantly subject to the printer's call.

Capt. Rynders went to the White House the other day, to thank the President for his office as Marshal. Mr. Buchanan said to him good humoredly, "Well, Captain Rynders, I hope you will do your duty well, and that I shall not hear of your getting into any more fights." "Not unless the country needs it," said Rynders; to which the President added that he had strong hope the country wouldn't need anything of the kind.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

LIQUOR SELLING IN MANCHESTER.—There seems to be a temporary, and we hope it may prove a permanent check to the liquor traffic in this city. The city government propose to enforce the law, and we presume the case of yesterday is but a beginning of the investigation before the proper authorities.—American.

The first instance of proscription under the Dred Scott decision occurred a few days ago, in the town of Gloucester, R. I., where the name of a colored citizen, entitled to vote under the State law, was stricken from the list by the doughface Board of Canvassers.—Boston Tel.

Who is so doing, donkeyized themselves, and exposed themselves to a suit at law.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1857.

KANSAS.—A correspondent of the Missouri Republican, writing from St. Joseph, Mo., on March 15th, says:

Our ferry boats are busily engaged from daylight until dark in carrying over trains, and the proportion of free soil to the pro-slavery emigrants is as fifteen to one.—This is not confined alone to our point of crossing, but it is so at every other that I can hear from, and it satisfies me that the political destiny of Kansas is fixed beyond all question, and that an other year will fill all of her prolific plains with a thrifty population. Wars and rumors of wars she'll hear no more, but peace will brood over her beautiful prairies, and prosperity will reign throughout her borders. I am a pro-slavery man, and would prefer to see my favorite institution established there; but I am nevertheless, convinced that the energetic, enterprising Yankees will develop the resources, and build up the country, sooner than we could, and treat by living in harmony with them as our neighbors, they will do us no injury in our peculiar property.

The Republican is a Border Ruffian paper in St. Louis—but the elections and business there have modified its tone.

☞ The Hon. Robert J. Walker, who has been appointed Governor of Kansas, although now residing in New York, was for a time a citizen of Mississippi, and is strongly identified with Southern interests. At the same time he is a Union man, and has the confidence of the conservative men of all parties at the South. The New York Evening Post says of him and his mission:

"We greatly mistake him, if he is the man to place himself at the head of the sort of civilization which Atchison and Stringfellow have inaugurated and are trying to perpetuate in Kansas. And if a statesman of Mr. Walker's experience, conciliatory manners and tact, fails in the effort to restore peace and order to the Territory, as he certainly will, the government may come at last to realize, as we have done from the beginning, the utter folly of attempting to sustain, within the jurisdiction of our free, federal government, a barbaric regime like that which is required to maintain the pretensions of the Southern States in Kansas. If Mr. Walker tries and fails, the story of his experience will be a lesson by which both he and the nation may profit. But if he goes, he must have power; let him not be left, like his predecessors, at the mercy of every ruffian whose passions or caprice he may thwart."

THE BURDELL MURDER CASE.—In the Supreme Court of New York, on Thursday, Maria Augusta Burdell-Cunningham and John J. Eckel presented petitions through their counsel, asking that their trial for murder, of which they both declare themselves innocent, may be removed from the Court of General Sessions to that of Oyer and Terminer, the latter being presided over by a Judge of the Supreme Court. The petitioners state that, as advised by counsel and as they believe, important questions of law as well as of fact will arise upon trial, and that it should be held in the highest court of jurisdiction in the state. The application was granted in each case. Both courts commence sessions next Monday.

THE DRED SCOTT DECISION.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post mentions that there are some funny reports about the answer of Chief Justice Taney to the application of the National Intelligencer for a copy of his opinion in the Dred Scott case. One of them is that the Chief Justice, in order apparently to administer a slap at the conduct of his associates, Curtis and McLean, in publishing their opinions in advance of filing them, replied somewhat as follows:

Chief Justice Taney returns his compliments to the editors of the National Intelligencer, and in reply to their request, begs to inform them that he does not prepare opinions for the use of juvenile debating societies or of political newspapers. He would add, that when his opinion is filed, it will be published by the reporter of the Supreme Court, who alone has the right of publishing its decisions.

MORE CONJUGAL MURDER.—At Melrose, Canada, Edmund Russell, keeper of a popular tavern, recently died suddenly. As soon as he was cold in his grave, his wife married Neil Beaton, who had been employed by Russell, but was discharged for using improper familiarities with the wife of the latter. The body was exhumed at the request of the neighbors, when the widow and her new husband attempted to escape to the United States, but were arrested. A medical examination showed the presence of arsenic in the stomach of the deceased man.

☞ Rev. Dr. Marble closed his labors March 23, as Rector of the Episcopal Church in Concord.

A GOLDEN WEDDING took place on Thursday in Newburyport. Mr. Samuel Safford, seventy-five years old, was married to Polly Hobbs, now his wife, and seventy-one years old, on the 26th of March, 1807—fifty years ago. They are both in good health, and likely to live for a long time to come. Mr. Safford's father was Benjamin Safford of Exeter, N. H., who lived to be 93. Mrs. Safford's father was Abraham Hobbs of Topsfield, and her mother, who had twelve daughters and one son, lived to be 91, and her great grandfather reached 102 and rode on horseback when he was 100 years old. This will show how the qualities of parents are transmitted to their children.

On this fiftieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Safford's marriage was a gathering of their family—consisting of nine children, all married but one, varying in ages from 49 to 33 years—with their husbands and wives, making seventeen. This is a striking fact that no death has occurred, in these long years, in their immediate circle.

Mr. Safford has had also, 29 grandchildren, of whom 26 are living, and 18 were present to break bread and rejoice with the oldest of their race.

THE PSALMS OF LIFE

This is indeed a new book; a book struck out on a new thought. Its full title is, The Psalms of Life; a compilation of Psalms, Hymns, Chants, Anthems, &c., embodying the Spiritual, Progressive and Reformatory sentiment of the present age. By John S. Adams. "Life is real; Life is earnest."

The book contains 225 tunes; 46 chants; and 522 Hymns.

The Hymns embrace a very wide range of subjects,—acceptable to Christians generally, without regard to sect. They are from authors of almost all persuasions, and are selected with much care and taste.

The Psalms of Life would be a good book for a new society. And it would also be an admirable supplementary book in churches that have an o'd book and wish to keep it:—as there is so much in it that is new, and so little that is old. It is, moreover, very neatly printed and bound.

A RICH CASE.—Memphis is decidedly a great place in its way. A few days since, a case was pending in the common law court of that city, in which a Mr. and Mrs. Helbing sued Philip R. Bohlen for breach of marriage contract, in failing to marry Mrs. Helbing when she was Miss Agnes Handwerker, and the jury gave the injured parties $1,250 damages. The idea of Helbing suing Bohlen because he did not marry his wife, is certainly the richest thing of this fast age.

☞ The Washington Union says that one of the gold fish in the capital reservoir, caught near the surface at the commencement of the cold weather, was frozen in the ice and remained in a torpid state until the warm weather in February released it from its icy prison, when after lying on its side on the surface for awhile, a slight motion commenced in its side fins, which continued to increase, until it slowly moved off to join more comfortable fellows below the reach of frost.

☞ The explosion at St. Louis on the 27th instant, which blew down and burned up the gun factory of T. G. Albright, as mentioned by telegraph, has not been accounted for. Two persons were killed,—one a farmer, who had just arrived in the city with a load of produce, and the other a lad in the employ of the manufacturers. There was a good deal of powder in the building, and the surrounding stores shared in the damage by fire and concussion.

☞ We see it stated in the papers that Rev. B. S. Fanton, formerly settled in this city with the Christian Society, became pastor of the Unitarian Society in Trenton, New York, in December last.

☞ Rev. James Andem, now of Raynham, Mass., has accepted a unanimous call to become pastor of the Baptist church, Newport, N. H.

ASSAULT AT SEA.—At Philadelphia, on Wednesday, Robert N. Walker, a sailor, was charged with an assault and battery upon Capt. Moses, of the ship John Henry, of Portsmouth, with intent to kill, while on the voyage from Liverpool to Philadelphia.

☞ Bonaparte once at a party placed himself directly before a witty and beautiful lady and said very abruptly: "Madam, I don't like that women meddle with my politics." You are very right, General," she replied, "but in a country where women are beheaded, it is natural that they should desire to know the reason.

☞ The North American Review for April, 1857, is a lively and spirited number. The Review of Sprague's American Pulpit, and Oliver's Puritan Commonwealth and Biography, were particularly interesting to us. Publishers, Crosby & Nichols, Boston.

☞ Rev. S. H. Patridge of Hillsboro' Centre, has asked a dismission from his pastoral charge of the Congregational Church in that place.

Joseph Dale of Oakham, aged 82 years, died suddenly last Wednesday morning.—He had never employed a physician during his life. At about twelve o'clock, he got up, and went to another part of the house, to the room occupied by his son, and asked him to get up, remarking that he "felt sick, and should not live many minutes longer." He then retired to his room, and soon after expired.—Worcester Spy.

THERE IS AN ARTICLE SELLING

Throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known as a remedy for Liver Complaints. We have reference to DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. It is, in truth the greatest remedy known for Dyspepsia, Jaundice, or a general debility that so often baffles the skill of our most eminent physicians.

Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the eminent physicians of New York, and it is said, most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with such invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a family medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, headache, languor, or slow, lingering fever, will try a bottle, we think they might save physician's bills, and days, perhaps years of suffering.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of ours, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was eventually chagrined to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—[St. Louis Morning Herald.

Dr. Stacy,

The Cancer & Humor Doctor,

HAS removed his Office to No. 56 Congress Street, where he may be consulted on all diseases the human system is heir to. The Dr would say to invalids they may rest assured that he is duly qualified by study and experience to treat disease success fully. By his intuitive powers he will with accuracy describe the disease and location of any person, whether present or absent, without any previous knowledge of the person or nature of their system, without asking a question; and will prescribe a cure, if curable.

Dr. STACY cures Cancers and Cancer Humors, without the use of the knife, without pain, and but little inconvenience to the patient.

The Dr. begs leave to assure his friends and the public generally, that all his Medicines are of a purely Vegetable character.

☞ Irishmen don't make all the blunders in the world. We noticed on Saturday that "One good new second-hand chaise" would be sold at auction, at least thus read the posted bill. Of course the printers are accountable.

☞ Died in Bustleton, Penn., 29th ult., Isaac Wendell, Esq., aged 71, a native of this city. In connection with the late John Williams, Esq., Mr. Wendell was one of the first to introduce the business of manufacturing into Dover, and for a number of years, the firm of Williams & Wendell were largely engaged in the enterprise both in Dover and Great Falls.

☞ We understand that Augustus Jenkins, Esq., has been appointed Collector of this port, and Gen. Josiah G. Hadley, Surveyor.

AN EXCITING SCENE took place at Niagara near the Suspension bridge on the 31st ult. Mr. E. O. Taylor of Herkimer county had attempted to descend by the perilous steps near the flour mill on the river bank, and on reaching the bottom he slipped and fell into the water just below the bridge near the shore, and when first seen was rolling over, being borne along by the strong current, until he reached a rock, and with some difficulty reached its top. People gathered on both sides of the river, and it was determined to send down a rope, though he could not be seen from the projecting point over his head. When it was lowered about a hundred feet, it got entangled among the rocks and trees, and three brave men undertook the hazardous service of freeing it, and for more than an hour worked hard to conduct the ladder down the precipice, while it was let down from above, until cheers and a handkerchief waving on the other side of the river, showed that it was accomplished. Mr. Crane, a "Dutch butcher," went down to help the man up, but he declined his help, leaped to the shore and commenced the ascent 300 feet, the crowd being frantically excited. He reached the top, and was caught up and borne upon their shoulders, much exhausted and gave his thanks. He is 51 years of age. Crane, the brave butcher, came up after him.

"SPORTING MEN" is the dainty phrase by which a telegraphic dispatch characterizes two persons who on Monday undertook to drive their rival horses one hundred miles without food or rest, starting from Albany at 5 A. M. and going west to Whitestown, beyond Utica. The frogs in one of Æsop's fables reminded the boys who were stoning them, that what was sport to one party was death to the other; and it seems to us that the laws of any humane and Christian people ought to punish severely the cruel wretches who could plan and drive such a race as this.—New York Tribune.

LONDON, Saturday evening.—It was announced in Parliament last evening, that it was the Queen's intention immediately to dissolve Parliament, in order to ascertain in the most constitutional manner, the sense of the people in the present state of public affairs.

THE JEWISH PASSOVER.—The Jews are beginning to make preparations for celebrating the feast of the Passover, in commemoration of the passing over of the Israelites, when the first born of the Egyptians perished, and of their escape out of Egypt. It commences on the 9th of April, (the first full moon of spring,) which is the 15th day of the Jewish month Nisan, of their year 5617, and it lasts seven days.—This time they eat "mazot," or unleavened bread. The "mazot" is made of the finest wheat flour and purest water, kneaded by a wooden lever, and afterwards rolled out between wooden rollers, and cut by machinery, without being touched by a human hand. It looks and tastes like some kind of water crackers, and is rather meagre food for an entire week.—Boston Courier.

NEW YORK, Mch. 3.—A man registering his name Wilson, from Albany, was this morning found dead in his bed, at the Rainbow Hotel, in this city. Cause not yet ascertained.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Drum—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. ADOLPHO WOLFE, 23 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

DARING HOUSE ROBBERY.—About two o'clock Sunday morning a daring robbery was perpetrated at the residence of William H. Hill, Esq., on St. James street, Roxbury. At this hour Mrs. Hill, who is confined to her room by a dangerous illness, observed a person standing at the entrance to her chamber with a dark lantern, the rays of which falling upon her face disturbed her. She faintly inquired, "Who's there?" but receiving no answer, and supposing the person was some member of the family, she fell asleep. Half an hour after, a daughter of Mr. Hill entered the sick chamber, and discovered the loss of a valuable gold watch and a costly cam eo brooch. In the morning the domestic found the doors leading to the basement, and the door of the bulkhead entrance to the cellar open. In the lower part of the house there was a large quantity of silver plate, which was undisturbed, and in a chamber adjoining that of Mrs. Hill, occupied by her husband, was a pocket book, containing $200.—Boston Journal.

A PILE OF SERMONS.—His biographer says: "Dr. Wm. Symmes of Andover, wrote over 4500 sermons. He burned the whole pile near the close of his life, remarking that 'if he had not been obliged to write two sermons a week, he might have produced some worth saving.' He did n't have time to do anything well."

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

FOR THE PURPOSE OF

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been a sufferer from the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a bad stomach, which they clear at once. I think they will do so to others as they do to me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, EX. W. PEEBLE,
Clerk of Common Carries.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my present and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say that they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver and digestive organs is such that they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the organs. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease in which I did not find them beneficial.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

FORT OTTOMY, HAMILTON, LIV. CO., MICH., NOV. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Worst off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two boxes of your Pills, which others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hinze, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among the poor I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can conscientiously recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HINZE.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my neighbor, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Prominent Merchant of St. Louis, Mo., A. 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable by other means. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions, for which she tried her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawks, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PITTSBURGH, PA., Dec. 1, 1854.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your pills has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A most severe attack of gout brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which could not be controlled by opiates. Nevertheless I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent, I commenced taking your invaluable pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATOR CHERRY, HAVEN HOTEL, Dec. 5, 1854.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely free from my old foe of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had kept me for years. VINCENT SLOCUM.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow from its improper exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout this and other portions of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country in this continent without some personal experience of its efficacy; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Will it be the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest cordial that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unawares. Let the timid and those fearful of consumption believe the CHERRY PECTORAL cures more than it promises, that it prevents more than it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until an incurable cough sets in, and you may as well think to stop a runaway horse with the bridle, fastened on the wheels, save your life every. All know the dreadful fatality of lung diseases, and so they know too the virtues of the remedy we offer. We need not dwell upon them, for it will speak for itself if you give it a fair trial. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then afford those who rely on it the best agent which the world can offer for their relief.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRAZER & CO are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to execute the laws and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are fully protected, all they have to do is to be present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to the agent of the office, and be served by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. Each particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication is received on hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Progression.

I WOULD respectfully inform my friends and the community generally that I am now prepared to make the new and desirable likeness on paper, called

Photographs,

as well as those on GLASS, known as

Ambrotypes,

and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. This process alone I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture, taken perhaps, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

MARRIAGE GUIDE.

BY DR. DIO. LEWIS.

YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, THE PRICE REDUCED TO ONE DOLLAR, Is Now Out Once for All. This work is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and being the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It disclosed secrets that every one should be acquainted with, which would be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 70 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, prepared on the shortest notice and dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unattainable by all not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below speak for themselves MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that the testimonials below, which he can and do prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., solicitor, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were few who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful solicitors in the United States, and I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them the speediest and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend the drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investments, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten thousand will be a prize, and it is firmly believed, $1 quarters, $250. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that no one can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every number is drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the lottery with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The great merit of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

The regimen must be taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir:—Having made trial of your Carminative, in my family, severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the relief of infants for which it is, I think, the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.

Yours truly, JOSIAH DARTON, M. D.

Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for children, and have no hesitation in recommending it in cases of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

A TRUE AND TOUCHING INCIDENT.—The Glasgow Christian News gives the following, as "no fiction, but the plain truth":

A young man and his wife were preparing to attend a Christmas party at the house of a friend, some miles distant. 'Henry, my dear husband, don't drink too much at the party to-day; you will promise me.' 'No, Millie, I will not, you may trust me.' And he wrapped his infant boy in a soft blanket, and they descended. The horses were soon prancing over the turf, and a pleasant conversation beguiled the way. 'Now don't forget your promise,' whispered the young wife as she passed up the steps. Poor thing! she was the wife of a man who loved to look upon the wine when red. The party passed off pleasantly; the time for departing drew near, and the wife descended from the upper chamber to join her husband. A pang shot through her trusting heart as she met him, for he was intoxicated—he had broken his promise. Silently they rode homeward, save when the drunken man broke into snatches of song or unmeaning laughter. But the wife rode on, her babe pressed closely to her grieved heart. 'Give me the the baby, Millie; I can't trust you with him,' said he, as they approached a dark and swollen stream. After some hesitation she resigned her first-born, her darling babe, closely wrapped in a great blanket, to his arms. Over the dark waters the noble steed safely bore them, and when they reached the bank the mother asked for the child. With much care and tenderness, he placed the bundle in her arms, but when she clasped it to her bosom, no babe was there! It had slipped from the blanket, and the drunken father knew it not. A wild shriek from the mother aroused him, and he turned around just in time to see the little rosy face rise one moment above the dark waters, then sink forever. What a spectacle! The idol of his heart gone—gone forever—and that by his own intemperance. The anguish of the mother, the remorse of the father, are better imagined than described.

A SAW-HORSE SURPRISE PARTY.—Yesterday morning, one McCarty, a smart Irishman who was recently so unfortunate as to lose his eye sight, having taken a pile of wood near the City Hall, containing about fifteen cords, to saw for the city, was surprised to see about a dozen of his countrymen come upon the ground with saws and saw-horses, who did the job up in a few hours. This spontaneous benevolence, so creditable to the Irish character, was one of the best surprise parties of the season.—Bangor Journal.

Mrs. Cunningham, an intemperate lady, was found frozen to death, in Needham, Mass., near Newton Lower Falls, Feb. 10. She leaves seven children. Her husband was killed about a year ago, in the paper mill at the Lower Falls.—

U. S. SUPREME BENCH.—We received a letter a few days since from a gentleman who recounted a conversation which he held with Daniel Webster, in 1851, concerning the character of the Bench, in which Mr. Webster said:

"The time was, sir, when a well-read lawyer, who thoroughly understood his case, could form an opinion as to its result before the Supreme Court; but not now, sir, but not now. That Court has become a court of expediency."—Atlas.

We are reminded by the above remark of an opinion which was advanced by Judge Story but a short time before his death. In a letter to Hon. Ezekiel Bacon, dated April 12, 1845, he said:

"I have been long convinced that the doctrines and opinions of the old Court were losing ground, and especially thus on great constitutional questions. New men and new opinions have succeeded. The doctrines of the Constitution, so vital to the country, which in former times received the support of the whole Court, no longer maintain their ascendency. I am the last member now living of the old Court, and I cannot consent to remain where I can no longer see those doctrines recognized and enforced. For the future, I must be in a dead minority with the Court with the painful alternative of either expressing an open dissent from the opinions of the Court, or, by my silence, seeming to acquiesce in them."

Under the influence of these views, Judge Story came to the conclusion definitely to resign his seat in the Supreme Court, and to fall back on his law professorship at Harvard College, a station which he had occupied for several years; and with this view he returned from his last term of service at the session of 1845. His death, however, occurred before he had an opportunity of accomplishing his design.—Bos. Jour.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM DR. DEWEY.—The New York Evening Post has a letter from the Rev. Dr. Orville Dewey, in reply to a recent attack upon him by a writer in Charleston, S. C. We have room for a single paragraph, the best in the letter. The reverend gentleman thus addresses his assailant,

And is this a day when freedom—the sweetest boon of nature—is to be gravely argued against as an evil and a curse to all but the privileged few, and bondage is to be held up to admiration? When the sentiments of all mankind have been slowly rising up to a solemn remonstrance against it; when our own government has gained honor in the eyes of nations, by pronouncing the foreign trade in slaves to be piracy; when England has nobly emancipated the bondsmen in her colonies—nobly, whether in the manner and form, wisely or not; when the nobler part of the whole civilized world bursts out with acclaim to every honest effort to break all chains, and let the world be free; now, in this age, in free America, is a body of civilized and Christian men to rush in the face of the world and of all humane public sentiment and to say that slavery is a good thing—that it is right—not temporarily and in relation to certain circumstances, but intrinsically, essentially, and everlastingly right? And is every man that honestly protests against this fatal and frightful perversion of the natural feelings for sacred humanity, to be without scruple, assailed as a traducer and villain? God forbid that I should say that Southern men do that. I know them better. Said a Southern man to me: "I detest the Fugitive Slave bill as much as you do; a poor fellow running for his liberty—I would help him, and not hinder him." Who—what man at the North or South dares to say that he has not a perfect right to run away from bondage, if he can? I would run away if I were a slave—you would—every man would. And how, in the name of Justice—how, with this innate and everlasting conviction pleading in the bosom of humanity—is it possible to say that human slavery is a right, just, beautiful and admirable thing? Human Slavery!—the words do not belong to one another; they fly asunder, as with a thousand explosive forces.

ELOPEMENT WITH A WIFE AND TWO DAUGHTERS.—A man named John Cooper, residing in Monroe county, New York, arrived in Detroit, a few days ago, in search of his family, consisting of a wife and two daughters of the respective ages of twelve and fourteen years. The substance of his tale was, that they had eloped with a man named William Story, of the same place, who left behind him a wife and three children of his own. The party had brought with them their trunks and baggage, and were well provided with all the necessaries in the way of clothing, &c. The elopement had been carried into execution on Sunday, the 8th of March. Their protracted absence aroused Cooper's suspicions, however, and he started in pursuit, leaving an older daughter at home. The woman is about fifty years of age. The Detroit police took the matter in hand and soon found the woman and children—they having been robbed and deserted by Story. Mr. Cooper took charge of the girls, but repudiated his erring wife and left her at Detroit.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spikes of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

HIGHER AND LOWER LAW.

Speaking of the Taney opinion, Putnam's Magazine says, in closing an article:

"The result of that decision is the loss of respect in all manly minds, for a republican tribunal, which in spirit decides against humanity, and consequently against God."

The Nashua Gazette remarks:

This extract from Putnam's Monthly is nothing more nor less than the re-statement of the "higher law" doctrine, which has been so fondly embraced by the blacks, during the past few years.

Truly this is a statement of the higher law, and a very good one, indeed, for one so brief.

But now listen to the lower law, as expounded by the Nashua Gazette.

If the "higher law" principle could be carried out, in accordance with the creed of our opponents, the judges would be obliged to disregard their oath, by which they are bound to support the constitution of the United States, and the laws made in pursuance of the same. It is their duty to look to that instrument as their guide.—All their decisions must be in strict consonance with the spirit of that sacred compact. * * * * They have nothing to do with questions as to what morality or "humanity" may demand. They are bound by their oath to obey the constitution, and carry it into full effect.

This is really very low law. The judge who has nothing to do with right or wrong, is surely not fit to sit on any case whatever, and he who has no higher guide, than a paper constitution, will be likely to fall into some ditch of absurdity or infamy.

But listen again.

If that instrument is "against humanity" or "against God," it is the duty of the people to alter it, and set it right.

True, and right.

The judges have no moral or political obligation to obey the teaching of any other philosophy, than what the constitution inculcates.

Nonsense: the constitution does not purport to teach philosophy, at all, nor yet christianity. It is a bargain, or contract, and must be interpreted and judged like other bargains, as right or wrong.

If they cannot conscientiously carry out the rules imposed by it, they should not commit moral perjury, as Putnam's Monthly would have them do, by making the constitution square with their own ideas of moral right and fitness, but should resign their offices.

Indeed! the judges must not go on by their own ideas of moral right—but by somebody's else ideas; for surely it must be interpreted by somebody. Now if Judge Taney must not give his own ideas of moral right and fitness—whose shall he adopt? Must he borrow Uncle Toby's ideas? or must Uncle Toby borrow his?

Really, there is no great difficulty about the whole matter of higher law. If there is no Higher Law than the Constitution, then there is no higher Law-Giver than the Convention, who framed the Constitution, or the States who ratified it. And if this be so, then the oath to support the Constitution ought not to be "so help me God," but so help me people, or so help me Congress! This would be a lower law oath.

FROM KANSAS. — Lecompton, Kansas, March 20.—Gov. Geary has not returned. The report that he had gone to Washington is confirmed by letters to this place.—Woodson is acting Governor. A great deal of pretended mystery is thrown around this departure of Gov. Geary. The other officers in charge give no satisfactory explanation. It is current in town that he has resigned. The chief topic is, who shall be his successor? A great many different persons are spoken of for that office. The pro-slavery men are confident that the next Governor will be more favorable to them. Gov. Geary's health has suffered greatly. He had a hemorrage of the lungs before he left Lecompton. We had a rumor here last night that he had died at Jefferson City. No one here supposes that he will ever be back—even if alive. Some say that he was to be removed.

A great deal of excitement exists about the collection of the taxes. A large amount has been collected in some localities; in others, the tax-gatherers have been warned to leave. A difficulty occurred on the opposite side of the river, some miles above this. The Assessor and Sheriff of Calhoun county have seized a lot of saw logs belonging to some free State men, for non-payment of taxes. They were removed before the owner was able to prevent it, and it is rumored that a fight will be the consequence, if the logs are not given up.

The pro-slavery men are dissatisfied with the position taken by the free State men at Topeka, in the late convention. They call it rebellious and treasonable. They had desired that the free State men should have voted, as they expected by the aid of imported votes, to out-vote them. The position taken gives general satisfaction to the free State men. Emigration is pouring into the Territory very rapidly. Every day brings a boat load of passengers up the river.—Correspondence of the Missouri Democrat.

CATER'S TRIAL.

On Thursday afternoon last, at the conclusion of Magee's trial, a jury was empannelled for the trial of Charles L. Cater. On the first panel the prisoner challenged ten. Seven were found to have formed an opinions on the subject, one was absent, and eight were accepted and sworn. The panel now being exhausted, the Sheriff was instructed to return four more jurors. Nine more were returned, out of which three were challenged and excused. One had opinions on capital punishment, which would prevent him from agreeing upon a verdict of guilty, and four were accepted and sworn.

The trial commenced on Friday morning, and continued through Saturday.—The argument of the defence was based upon insanity, which, his counsel contended, is hereditary in the Cater family. The Court room was thronged with spectators throughout the trial. Ten or twelve witnesses were examined, by whom the defence endeavored to establish the fact of hereditary insanity in Cater's family.—Among them was the Rev. Dr. Peabody; Dr. Wm. Laighton; Wm. Moses, superintendent of the City Farm, where Cater's mother died; Samuel W. Moses; John Tucker; and the testimony of Dr. Boardman, and Owen Head of South Berwick, was read.

The plea of the defending counsel was based on hereditary insanity, and occupied two hours; the argument for the State occupied an hour; and the charge of the Judge an hour and a quarter.

After Mr. Clifford closed his plea, Judge Shaw stated to Cater that he could say anything to the jury he wished, whereupon he rose in the prisoner's dock and spoke for some thirty-five minutes. He held in his hands full notes, taken during the trial, to which frequent reference was made. He reviewed from the time he was sent to the House of Correction, to the time he committed the murder, and stated what he contended were his grievances. He justiged the murder as one of self-defence, inasmuch as the officers of the House of Correction and State Prison had drugged his food to cause his death, and finding, after several appeals to the Inspector and the Warden, that no alteration in his treatment could be effected, he resolved to take justice into his own hands, and perform a deed that should excite the attention of the public, and bring him before a court of justice, where he could relate his sufferings and wrongs. He spoke of the death of the Warden with the same indifference he did of his food. He deliberately resolved to kill the Warden, and said he would commit another murder under similar circumstances. Cater's manner was calm and cool, and his delivery worthy of a better cause and man.

THE KALLOCH TRIAL was continued on Saturday. Several witnesses were examined, who testified to the good character of Mr. Kalloch. J. Frank Steen, of Brattleboro, Vermont, the husband of the lady with whom Mr. Kalloch went to Cambridge, testified that his wife was consumptive and had been quite sick, since the 23d of February last, and was confined to her bed when he left home on Monday. Dr. Higginson, who is the family physician of Mr. Steen, testified to the condition of Mrs. Steen, and nearly fainted away during his testimony, which was then suspended. He is subject to epilectic fits.

The government elicited on the cross-examination, that Mr. Kalloch was expelled from college, but the defence were not allowed to show the reasons of the expulsion.

The evidence for the defence was stated to be all in, on Saturday afternoon.

ANOTHER DESCENT UPON GAMBLING HOUSES.—Last Friday night, several officers made descents upon four gambling houses, located at No. 16 Portland street, Nos. 11 and 31 Howard street, and the Howard House, in Boston, and found thirty or forty persons who were engaged in various games of chance, twelve of whom they arrested. They also seized a quantity of gambling implements, and $177 in money, which was "up" and in the bank. On Saturday morning the twelve persons were brought before the Police Court charged with playing at an unlawful game called "props," and discharged on the ground that there was no law against prop shaking, and also that there is no law against gambling, except it be for $5 or upwards, and such gambling must be charged as being committed on the Lord's Day or the night preceding.

A faro table, bank, box, chips, cards, &c., being proved to be such as are used in playing props and faro, the order of the Court was given to destroy them.

WASHINGTON, 3d.—The Intelligencer of to-day publishes a card from Mr. Howard, reporter of the Supreme Court, stating that the volumes containing the Dred Scott decisions, will be published in three weeks.

OLD SINGERS.

A writer in a recent number of Dwight's Musical Journal remarks on this subject:

No man of middle age can have failed to have noticed the great depreciation of our church choirs, especially in the country, in one respect, namely, in their power of singing full flowing melody. Twenty-five years ago, however defective our singers may have been in other respects, there was hardly a little country meeting-house in which you could not hear the trebles carrying their part with great freedom and ease in such tunes as "New Sabbath," "Effingham," Rothwell," and others, where the melodic phrases ran up to F and G. But now I seldom hear a note above D and E, and these generally are given with a sort of half confident manner that makes the ear constantly await notes an eighth or a quarter of a tone flat. Have the powers of our soprani degenerated?—Are there no longer such good voices as our fathers and mothers possessed? This is not the case at all; there never were better voices in any age or country than our own New England possesses. I find the cause in the want of cultivating and developing the voice. At the "Old Folks' Concerts," as they are called, we hear the old tunes, however high they run, sung with as much ease as ever, and this simply because by practice the singers have learned to use their powers upon the high notes. In the days of the old "Bridgewater" and "Handel and Haydn" collections, and of the "Village Harmony," a full flowing melody was thought almost a necessity in a psalm tune, and every singer instinctively learned to use his or her vocal powers in such a manner as to sing such melodies with effect.

Uncle Toby well remembers the singing of forty-five or fifty years ago—and is quite certain that flatting, or falling from the key, was as common then as it is now. It was also as common twenty years ago. In New England, during many of these years, it was common to have the air or principal melody sung by men, and called the tenor.—It was also common for several years to have both men and women sing on all the parts except the bass. Strong and well-trained voices strike high notes, and hold them, better than those which are weak and uncertain. The writer in Dwight's Journal, no doubt remembers—some choirs which sung well up to the pitch, and made a good impression on his mind. But the poor tame singing, of other choirs, or of the same at other times, made little or no mark, because it never impresses any body.

It was not common, in any of those days, to hear the air of a tune sung by a single voice, but by a number, sometimes a large number.

☞ I. B. Woodbury, the musical composer, is journeying on horse back from Florida to Massachusetts, and has arrived in Augusta, Georgia,—his health having been already much benefitted by the exercise.

THERE IS AN ARTICLE SELLING Throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known at any season for Liver Complaints. We have reference to DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. It is, in truth the greatest remedy known for Dyspepsia, Jaundice, or a general debility that so often baffles the skill of our most eminent physicians.

Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the eminent physicians of New York, and it is said, most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with such invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a family medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, headache, languor, or slow, lingering fever, will try a bottle, we think they might save physician's bills, and days, perhaps years of suffering.

THE CHRONICLE STOPPED.—After nearly five years' regular issue of the Daily Chronicle, we are obliged to announce a suspension of publication—though we hope a very brief one. On Monday morning, at 7 o'clock, a large and efficient corps of "sappers and miners," under command of Mr. James Moses, 3d, commenced a vigorous attack on the Chronicle Building; and after a defence of the premises, throughout the day, relieved only at noon, when the besiegers were obliged to desist for a little time, to recruit their energies—by sundown we had decided to surrender "at discretion"—stipulating only for the right to issue our paper this morning.

The workmen raised all sorts of a dust—in fact, raised —— most everything, except type, in preparation for lifting the floors; and as we are afraid they will raze all our types too, we must "get out of the way" a day or two. We want the improvements made, as much as anybody; and intend to have the best printing office in this region, when we get through with the alterations to be made. We have no doubt that the crew who are banging away at our establishment, are as good as the best—and skillfully directed; but we wish the work could be done as was Solomon's Temple—without the sound of an axe or hammer being heard on the premises.

In plain English, therefore, we shall print no Chronicle on Wednesday morning, and probably none on Thursday. We hope to be able to resume on Friday, and issue our Daily and Weekly as usual on that day.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire on Monday morning was caused by the partial burning of the shed attached to the house of Com. Storer, corner of Middle and Auburn streets, now occupied by the family of Dr. Kellogg. The fire probably originated from "spontaneous combustion," caused by carelessness of servants with ashes, or some such thing. The damage was trifling. It is said that when first discovered, a bucket of water would have extinguished it, but the Dr.'s big dog refused to admit any one. ☞Engine No. 6 was first on the ground, and put the fire out. "Deeds, not words."

FOR KANSAS.—A party of stout-hearted and hard-handed mechanics left this city for Kansas, via P. & C. Railroad, on Monday morning—consisting of Hon. John Dame, Gen. Wm. B. Randall, D. Peirce Clark, Levi W. Adams, Andrew W. Kenney, and Robert S. Dame. They design locating in that territory, and will be valuable citizens anywhere. We are sorry to lose them.

We learn that Hon. James Pike, Messrs T. L. Tullock, John Christie, Oliver Hanscom, and Charles H. Chase, are also intending to at least visit Kansas, on a tour of examination—to start about the first of May.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—Trains leave this city for Boston at 7.15 and 11.15 A. M., and at 5.30 and 7.30 Leave for Portland at 10 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

Leave Boston for this city at 7.30 A. M., 3, and 5, P. M.

☞ Next Sunday being Easter—as is usual with that church, the Catholics observed last Sunday as Palm Sunday, and our streets were filled with devout Catholics of all ages, carrying bits of p——hemlock.

☞ Sanford's Ethiopian Opera Troupe, for which bills are stuck up everywhere, is to perform in Portsmouth on the evenings of May 5th and 6th.

☞ In our mention of the Gigantic Hemp, on Saturday, the types said it should not be "too much exposed to mud." We wrote "wind."

☞ There were in our port on Monday, 2 ships, with a tonnage of about 2175 tons; 3 brigs, with a tonnage of 496 tons; and 20 schooners, with a tonnage of 1770 tons; an aggregate of 4448 tons.

☞ If you would keep dry this rainy weather, buy one of the Patent Folding Umbrellas at Ham's. He sells them at cost.

☞ It rained yesterday. What rained?

SUSPECTED MURDER.—In the midst of the cases of conjugal murder reported almost daily; there is some suspicion of a painful case of this sort nearer home. Our readers will recollect that we reported the sudden death of a Mr Welch, in Kittery, a week or two since; his name we now learn was George Welch, his age about 50 years, and he has been for many years in the employ of Samuel Badger, Esq., as teamster. Since his burial, circumstances have led the neighbors to suspect that he was foully dealt with; as a little grandchild of his has stated that his wife struck him on the head with a poker, and killed him. We are told that the body was disinterred on Monday, after being buried several days; and that an inquest is to be held. We shall keep our readers informed of the facts in the case.

P. S.—We learn from Dr. Stedman, of York, who was at the house of the deceased on Monday, that it is his opinion, that no case can be made out of the matter, for any trial.

☞ John A. Snowden, formerly of Manchester, N. H., but who has lived at Kittery Point, Me., for the past year, and married a woman living there, has been the cause of considerable excitement in that quiet town, of late. About the first of March he was brought before Justice S. B. Allen, charged with breaking and entering the school-house, and was sent to York jail for fifteen days. His term of imprisonment expired March 24th, and on the 28th he was brought before Justice Otis, on complaint of his wife, charging him with assaltu on her with a dirk knife, and making threats of murder. S. B. Allen, Esq., appeared for State, and I. B. Clagget, Esq., for defence. He was ordered to give bonds in $100 to keep the peace, or go to jail six months. He procured bail, but the warrant under which he was held, was found to be defective; and ere another could be served, the prisoner escaped to New Hampshire. These statements we have from Mr. Jere. Gunnison, of Kittery Point.

POLICE COURT, NEWBURYPORT.—Thomas Brookings, proprietor of the Neptune Drinking Saloon, at the Market landing, and James W. Burnham, keeper of the California Restorateur, were before the Police Court on Friday, for violating the liquor law; Brookings was found guilty, and appealed; Burnham was discharged.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidim is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers, I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

YOUNG AMERICA'S LYCEUM.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Though not customary in Lyceums for the Secretary to bring in his report, the committee have thought that it would not prove uninteresting to the audience; and in compliance with their wish I have prepared the following account of the commencement, progression and close of the Young Americans' Lyceum.

The Granite State Club was first established about the middle of September as a political club.—This club continued in its original state three months, when about the middle of November a part of its members left and formed a new association under the name of the Young America Debating Club. This club on the 13th of December, 1856, thought of, started and formed the first public course of Lyceum lectures ever delivered in this city, by young men less than 20 years of age.

The committee having been nominated, proceeded at once to engage enough tickets to enable them to carry on the then novel scheme of a "Boys' Lyceum." They succeeded in securing subscribers, and before the first week in January, was finished, they had taken $26 50 for season tickets.—This exceeded their expectations by $15, but it shows conclusively the interest felt in the new Lyceum. On January 7, 1857, the first lecture was delivered by William H. Brackett, Esq. Though this gentleman is a little older than we at first intended to bring upon the forum, his lecture was listened to with marked attention by the audience, and we believe it proved as interesting as any during the course; and the committee feel themselves under great obligations to Mr. Brackett for the kindness with which he consented to lecture in place of Mr. William Gray Nowell, who was unavoidably prevented.

On the night of Mr. Nowell's lecture the audience were again disappointed by the committee announcing to them that Miss Miller and Mr. Jackson could not sing; their engagement, however, was admirably performed the next evening, for which they and the young ladies who accompanied them on the melodeon, have our sincere thanks. Following Mr. Nowell we have presented to the audience Mr. William A. Rice, Mr. Frank W. Hackett, Mr. John E. Rider and Mr. Charles C. Salter, to all of whom we feel duly thankful for their services in rendering the Young Americans' Lyceum what it is. And we hope that the lectures delivered by the several gentlemen named above have proved interesting to all who have heard them. We have given a course of six lectures, entirely by young men, all of whom but one are less than 20 years of age.

When we commenced we informed the ticket holders that we should give a course of six or more lectures. We have fulfilled the first part of our promise, we hope satisfactorily, and should certainly have fulfilled the latter part of it, had it been in our power; but we have tried in every way to procure more lecturers, but either from want of time or diffidence the gentlemen we have called upon have declined appearing in public. Among these are Mr. Thompson, Mr. Leighton, Mr. Rand, Mr. Haselton and Mr. Frenchwell, all of whom we thought, who would no doubt have given great satisfaction to the audience. So the committee have been obliged to content themselves with six lectures, and we hope the audience, now that they have heard a full statement of the facts, will not deem it strange that the Lyceum made no 8th dose.

As before stated, the whole amount received for season tickets was $26 50. For evening tickets the greatest amount of money taken on a single evening was $1 70. In all for six evenings $6 70, making a total of money received of $33 20. The entire expenses of the Lyceum have been $11 63, leaving $21 57, the whole amount of money now in the treasury, $20 of which will be given to the Howard Benevolent Society, to alleviate the sufferings of the poor of our city, who, while we have been here happy and interested, have been sitting in cold and comfortless houses; and the committee feel happy in being able to contribute a little to the comfort of these persons.

Though at the commencement of the Lyceum we met with some difficulties, we were not discouraged, and to you, ladies and gentlemen, we owe the success of our undertaking; and we would now thank you for your liberal patronage, for the attention with which you have listened to our lectures, and for the encouragement which your presence has afforded us.

SAMUEL J. NOWELL, Sec. & Treas.

A. F. SALTER, J. J. FRENCHWELL, C. C. MELCHER, J. FOSTER, } Committee.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION IN NEW-YORK.—The majority of the committee on temperance in the New York House of Representatives, have reported a bill which comprises many of the provisions of the old Licence law. Its principle feature is the creation of an entirely new board of license commissioners.—The license fees are fixed at $20 to $100.—The sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited to minors under eighteen years of age, and persons intoxicated in public streets or places.—Persons furnishing liquor to intoxicated persons are to be fined $18, and adulteration is punished by a penalty of $50. The husband or wife, on proof of habitual intoxication, may serve notice on tavern keepers not to furnish liquor to either for six months.

POTATOES.—It is time these were secured, and if an early crop is looked for, that they were sprouted in a warm room. If the soil is in fit condition for planting early in April, the potatoes may be set in a warm room ten days or two weeks previous. The eyes will start in a few days, and the potatoes treated in this way will mature sooner than those planted without sprouting. A portion of the crop, at least, should be early potatoes. They not only bring a better price, but are much less likely to rot. The varieties that have shown themselves to be subject to the rot should be discarded, upon the same principle that we would remove a diseased animal from our herds or flocks. The seed of the hardy varieties, and of sound crops, should be planted, even if it costs much more. This course, if it do not entirely eradicate this disease, will diminish its ravages, and make the potato a much safer crop for farmers to plant.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—At seven o'clock Monday morning, while Mr. Riley Gilman, the engineer of Messrs. A. Thompson & Co.'s tannery in Woburn, was engaged in oiling the machinery, fourteen feet from the floor, his frock caught in a shaft, drew him from a ladder on which he was standing, and he was whirled over the shaft, which was making about one hundred and thirty revolutions a minute. He however succeeded in regaining the ladder, and bracing himself. His leg came in contact with a pulley which cut a frightful gash in the calf. In this position he called to a man near by to shut off the steam from the engine, and help arriving, his clothes were cut off and he was relieved from impending death.—Boston Journal.

REMARKABLE MIRAGE.—The good people of Coburg, (Canada,) were treated, awhile since, to a grand mirage of the American shore, 65 miles distant. The village of Charlotte, light-house, steamers in the harbor, men, women, and children, could be seen distinctly—a magnificent panorama in rainbow colors—for an hour or more.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Parker & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is managed in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interest of every party who reside at a distance seems well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers wish to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. Any lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of whole tickets are $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket after the Havana plan, or Tertiary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 70 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston,

ATTENDS to the practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and to give their advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting Five Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be obtained elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none of the Boston Agents AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the undersigned during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I was in the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents, and there were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most faithful and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of prosecuting an application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Washington, Dec. 1, 1856. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 7, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have some commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is managed in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of whole tickets are $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success.

The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pains in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS,

and parents who value rest not fail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of this kind has long been needed, and I doubt not, will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
NATH'L BATCHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first produced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves successful in every case of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, CYRUS DALTON, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy, and a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

THE WILD KNIGHT:
OR,
THE UNKNOWN CRUSADER.

ale of Germany in the Days of the Empire.

CHAPTER I.

THE UNKNOWN AND HIS COMPANIONS.

t the time of which we write, the German pire was in anything but a tranquil state.
olph of Hapsburg had been elected Emp-r solely because he was a brave unscru-us man. He had accepted the imperi with the pledge that he would be d, unswerving tool of the church. T se Towns, or cities, were leagued together r mutual interest and protection, forming any almost independent governments.—
princes were in many instances reduced wer, holding the peasants in vassalage;
e over all, and carrying terror even to the cities, were those wild robber knights, e castles, like the eyries of the eagles, perched away upon mountains or rocks, whence their reckless lords looked down plain upon all who dwelt beneath. In last the Crusades were drawing to a Baldwin II. had been driven from rone of Byzantium; Jerusalem was in ands of the sons of Islam; Antioch had taken with the slaughter of seventeen and Christians, while a hundred thou-more were dragged away into slavery; ynia had been overrun and conquered; a portion of the army of Louis of hounra either died of disease, or by the a cft Saracen, and the remainder had returned eir Western homes. Yet there were ma-Christians in the Holy Land, and Gregory hard to send out more, but he did not ed. Even his pliant tool, the Emperor olph von Hapsburg, refused to obey him his.
was an afternoon in the spring of 1274.
e noon the heavens had been mantled clouds, and now, when the sun had some hours more to run, the wind had sprung nd the signs were that rain was near at
pon the dubious road from Brakenheim
Durmen, just in the north-eastern confines he Black Forest, rode four armed men.— who rode in advance—for the path was so ow here among the high rocks that two could not ride abreast—was a noble-look-knight, tall and powerfully built, clothed ompleto armor, with his heavy battle axe g in its becket by his side; his lance at
, and his helm suspended from a loop at saddle bow. The armor was black as ht—all save the gorget, which was of bur-hed gold, set with precious stones. Even casque was of the sable hue, though the e brilliant ostrich feathers which floated n the top relieved the sombre effect. Uphis head he wore a light cap of purple velwith no other ornament than a rich otch of gold and emeralds which secured crimson ostrich plume in its place. His was one of rare and startling beauty—one those faces which awaken envy in the bosof beaux, and quick love in the souls of gentler sex. His brow was high and full, about it and his fair neck floated glossy sses of light sunny hair. His eyes were of deep blue; his nose straight and finely carv-
; his lips fairly proportioned and wreathed th a half-waking smile; and his cheeks full, d flushed with the ruddy glow of health and
or. His surcoat, which hung across the saddle, bore upon the breast the red cross of the Crusaders. His shield bore a strange device. It was a child killing an eagle, with this inscription:—"QUOD DEUS BENE VERTAT," which may be rendered, — May God bring it to a good result. The child was upon its knees, with one hand clasped around the eagle's throat, while the other held a raised dagger. The knight could not have been over thirty years of age, though he had surely seen much of life.

And now what is this bold knight's name? In Palestine he was known as "THE KNIGHT OF THE EAGLE," and finally, to shorten the name, he was called "THE BLACK EAGLE." Since he had left the Holy Land he had received one other cognomen:—"THE UNKNOWN CRUSADER." And yet, with all these, he still remains without a Christian name. Even when all Palestine and half of Europe were filled with the song and story of his wondrous prowess, they could not tell his name, whence he came, nor where he belonged. Upon that point he had preserved a stern silence; and the most that the Emperor Baldwin could gain from him when he bestowed the honor of knighthood, was a simple declaration to this effect:—

'Upon my name there rests no stain—in my soul there is no wrong. I can look up to our God and implore His protection, feeling that I am worthy of it; and into the face of any honest knight of Christendom I can look without a blush. Call me Sir Knight of the Eagle, and the name shall not be dishonored.'

Baldwin had asked no more. With the memory of the youth's feats of noble daring fresh upon him, he gave him the magic stroke of the imperial sword, and with his own hands did he buckle on the golden spur.

Behind the Unknown rode a second knight of nearly the same age with the former. He was not quite so tall, but full as broad shouldered, and possessed a goodly share of manly beauty. In fact he was a noble, handsome-looking knight, and such an one as no mistress would have gazed upon but with gratitude and pride. His armor was of the same pattern as his companion's, but not of the same color. The casque was of burnished steel, the gorget of the same, and the rest of the armor—the cuirass, the tasses, the brassets, and the cuisses—of green and gold in color, though of good, well-tried steel in substance. He also wore a velvet cap upon his head, and carried across his saddle the surcoat of the Crusader. His name was ENGELBERT VON MARBURG, and he was known throughout the Holy Land as one of the bravest knights that ever couched a lance against the infidel Saracen. His weapons were the same as those carried by the Unknown, save that they were not quite as heavy.

Behind Sir Engelbert rode the two esquires. They were also well armed, and wore the brassets and cuisses in addition to the cuirass. Robert von Swingenhoffen was forty years of age; short and heavily framed; with great bones and sinews, almost like an ox; a red face and red hair; and possessed of much ready wit. He had served under Baldwin as an esquire, and during said service had performed many valorous deeds. One day, at the taking of a fortified town, he became surrounded by half a dozen stout Moslems, and had given himself up as lost, and said his prayers, when the Knight of the Eagle burst in upon him, slew his enemies, and bore him away in safety. Baldwin saw the deed, and from that hour he gave Robert von Swingenhoffen to the Black Eagle, to serve him as best he could. And he had been faithful. He loved his valiant master, and was ready at any moment to lay down his life for the good of him who once saved it.

The fourth person in the party was Bernard von Schafferhausen. He was some five years younger than Robert, and very unlike him in frame, being very tall—all of six feet and a half, and rather slim for such height. Yet he was strong, and over-running with fun and good nature. That he was a faithful and brave esquire Sir Engelbert well knew, for he had served the noble knight several years.

The road by which the party thus traveled was one of the wildest in the country. The giant trees stood thickly about where the surface was not of rock, and upon all hands the rugged mountains arose like sentinels of the empire.

At times the path was through a dense wood—then over a rugged cliff—then along a deep ravine—and anon upon the narrow pass that girded some perpendicular wall of rock. At length they reached a wide wood, through which the road was level and broad, and here Sir Engelbert rode up to his companion's side, and said,

'Do you not remember, once, in Constantinople, you told me when you reached Germany I might know your name, and who you were?'

'Yes,' returned the Black Knight 'I do remember it; but the time is not yet come.—I must first see how the wind blows. If I mistake not, this Rudolf von Hapsberg, whom the Pope has made Emperor, is a—a—mere puppet.'

'I think so too,' replied Marburg. 'And so you still mean to remain The Unknown?'

'For the present I must.'

'It's curious. Here we have been companions in arms for six long years—slept beneath the same tent—eaten from the same buckler when we had no plates—fought together, side by side, through a hundred bloody battles—nursed each other in sickness—and cheered each other in health,—and yet when I am asked—"Who is your friend?" I can only say "The Unknown."'

'And the thousand Musselmen, when they pass Al Sirat, and are asked by the recording angle who sent them thither, must give the same answer,' returned he of the Eagle with a smile.

'Aye—more than a thousand.'

'Stop, good Marburg. By my faith, I take no pleasure in thinking how many of the poor fellows I have slain.'

'Yes, Sir Unknown, the wondrous deeds of your arm have given you a name which you cannot hide so long as you wear the device upon your shield. I have been thinking glowing eye, while his hand instinctively sank to his sword hilt with a nervous clutch. "It was at Carthage, where I struck down the three stout emirs who had surrounded Prince Philip of France. And see—here is his royal feather's gift in token of his gratitude.'—And as he spoke he placed his hand upon the richly jeweled gorget that hung upon his neck.

'Ha!' cried Sir Engelbert, just as the ceased speaking, 'look there.'

The Unknown looked in the direction pointed out, and saw the turrets of a massive structure looming up against the darkened sky.

'What is it?' he asked.

'It is our good Convent of Saint Fulvia.'

'A female establishment?'

'Yes—in part. There are some Benedictines there, I believe, who performs the out-door labor. By my faith we are just in time, for see—the rain is already falling on the mountains.'

The party spurred up, and reached the convent gates just as the great drops of rain began to fall.

CHAPTER II.

AGNES OF LUXEMBURG.

of the last Moslem you slew. It does not trouble you to think of that?'

'Ah, no,' the Black Knight uttered, with a

The Convent of St. Fulvia was situated within the precincts of Maulbroun, though some miles from any other habitation. It was upon a small piece of table land, where there were a few acres fit for cultivation; and this limited piece, the Benedictines cultivated to so good a purpose, that the inhabitants of the building seldom had to go to any other market for the fruits or vegetables.

Within the large ante-room of the convent sat a middle-aged woman, whose garb bespoke her to be the abbess, or lady superior of the place. She was not far from fifty; stout and rugged; and wore upon her face a look of deep piety and goodness of heart.

By the side of the abbess sat a maiden, who could not have seen more than nineteen years of life. She was of medium height; full and plump in form, with a skin of almost dazzling purity; her long, flowing ringlets, of a deep, golden hue; and her eyes a mild liquid blue. Her dress was far from being gaudy or showy, but yet it plainly bespoke her as one of gentle blood and of noble family. Such was Agnes Von Luxemberg, an orphan, and sole heiress to the broad estates of the late count, her father, who was an own brother of the abbess. And she was accounted the fairest maiden in Swabia, as she might well be, for surely no being of human mould could be more beautiful. It was not so much the faultless carving of her features, nor yet the voluptuous symmetry of her form, for the first was exceeded by the pure and joyous essence of her smiles, while the latter was overbalanced by the atmosphere of stern and lofty virtue that surrounded her like a halo. Few men had ever Agnes of Luxemburg without loving her; and at her feet had been laid half the estates of Swabia. But she had not yet looked with favor upon any of the aspirants, though that may be accounted for upon the fact that ere her father died, he had expressed his wish that she should marry with the Count of Baden.

'Ah—there it comes,' spoke the abbess, as the great drops of rain began to drive against the casements. 'I knew it was near at hand, and our fire will not be out of place.'

'No,' returned Agnes, 'for it is already cold and cheerless without. I wonder if there are travelers among the mountains.'

'Very likely there may be. I suppose you are wondering if the Count of Baden will come for you.'

'No—no!' quickly uttered the maiden with a shudder.

'Ah Agnes—I have your secret. You love another.'

'No, my mother, you are mistaken there.' This was spoken in a tone which left no room for doubt, at least, in the mind of one who knew the speaker.

'But you do not love the Count Rudolf?'

Agnes hung down her head, and for a moment there was a tremulousness upon her. At length she raised her eyes to her companion's face, and in a tone of affectionate frankness, she said:

'You have spoken the truth, lady. I cannot love him.'

'Nor could I,' rejoined the abbess, emphatically. 'Not only is the seal of repulsiveness set upon his face, but he is a bad man.'

'You are right again, lady.'

'Then of course you will not become his wife.'

'Ho—I know not what to do!' the maiden cried, resting her head upon her companion's shoulder, and throwing her arms about her neck.

'Then let me advise you,' said the abbess, drawing the beautiful girl more closely to her bosom, and speaking in gentle tones; 'You are young and handsome. Your father's wish is left upon record that you should marry with Rudolph Von Baden—when you were ready to wed. I can appreciate your feelings in tutning away the scores of noble knights that have knelt at your feet.'

'I did not love them mother—indeed I did not.'

'But among them all, may there not have been one whom you would have loved, had you not been bound by this plan of your father's?

'I will not deny it.

'Then come and wed with our sisterhood.'

The maiden started as though something had frightened her. The abbess saw the movement, and she quickly comprehended its meaning.

'Does it make you tremble?' she asked.

'Oh! I am not prepared to answer now. I am not fit for communion with your holy sisterhood.'

'Then are there none on earth fit. h Agnes, I fear your pride prompted that speech.'

'My pride?'

'Yes, my child; for you must know that you are among the purest of our daughters.'

'Well, well—let it pass now. I am not ready to answer such a question.'

'And yet you know your father bade me to watch over you.'

'Because you were his own sister, and he knew you loved me.'

'Aye,' added the abbess, imprinting a kiss upon the fair girl's brow as she spoke, 'and he knew I should always love you. But—Hark! What sound is that?'

In a few moments more, the old porter appeared, and announced that two knights of the Cross and their esquires asked for shelter from the storm.

'Crusaders—are they?'

'They are.'

'And did ye leave them at the gate?'

'I did.'

'Out thick-head, and lead them in quickly Leave two knights of the Holy Cross in the storm with a shelter under their very eyes! Away—and lead them hither at once! and thou see that their horses are cared for.'

The porter retired, and then the abbess turned to Agnes.

'You will stay, my sweet child, and help me entertain the noble knights.'

'Certainly I will. Agnes Von Luxemburg holds not her hands nor purse from the brave soldiers of the cross.' The maiden's eyes burned with a generous glow as she spoke, and upon her cheeks arose a rich flush of grateful emotion. Her father had made one crusade, and from his lips, she had learned the fearful story of the dangers and privations which the devoted knights of the cross had to suffer.

'Welcome, noble sirs, and God's blessing fall upon you!' spoke the abbess, as she rose to greet the strangers.

'We thank thee lady; and will pray Heaven to bless this house!' responded the Black Knight.

'And your esquires—where are they?'

'With the groom, lady. They will find welcome with the porter, I think.'

'As you will. If they choose the porter's lodge, so be it.'

Ere Agnes was introduced, the abbess conducted her guests to an adjoining apartment, where they might lay aside their armor. When they had done this, their noble forms were shown to better advantage. The Unknown was habited in a garb of black velvet, which, though it possessed a sombre look, yet gave to his form and feature a lofty dignity and grandeur. Sir Engelbert's garb was of a less grave character, though far from rich or gaudy. When they returned to the large sitting room, even the abbess was startled by the strange beauty of her guests, but more particularly did she fasten her eyes upon the Unknown; and it was not until he of Marburg spoke, that she recollected herself.

'Your good convent was placed in the proper spot for us on this particular occasion,' he said.

'So I hope it may ever be for the good of noble knightslike you. Thit is the convent of Saint Fulvia, and I am its abbess.'

'And I am called Engelbert of Marburg. And,' the crusader added with a smile, 'my companion, you can only know him as you see him. He is The Knight of the Eagle.

'How!' cried the abbess, while Agnes started with mingled surprise and wonder. 'The noble Knight of the Eagle?—He of whom we have heard so much?—The savior of Baldwin, of Louis, of Brandenburg, and of even whole cities.'

'The same, lady.'

'Hold,' spoke the Unknown, with a faint smile. 'Let me rest easy, I pray thee. Lay no more flattery upon me.'

'If I do,' replied the abbess, quickly, 'I'll beg thy pardon beforehand. But let me introduce my niece, Agnes Von Luxemburg.'

Sir Engelbert took the maiden, s hand, and she smiled sweetly upon him, as he greeted her. Then the Black Knight approached, and his hand trembled, as he extended it. Agnes gazed into his face, and the smile faded from her lips, and a tremor shook her frame. For the life of her, she could not tell whence came the quick emotion; only she felt the slight trembling of the knight's hand, as her own rested within it, and she saw the sudden light that beamed in his deep blue eyes.

Supper was soon prepared, and after the meal was over the party returned to the large room. The Unknown was the last one to be seated, and if he would sit near the cheerful fire, he must take the only empty stool, and that was close by Agnes. He took it, and ere long the Knights were recounting their adventures to their willing listeners.

As the evening advanced, the Unknown turned his attention more particularly to Agnes, and with eager, generous looks, she listened to him. At her own request, he told her of his adventures, while his companion was conversing with the abbess.

'And now,' said the maiden, after the knight had told her of his last exploit in Carthage, 'you must be cheered by the thought that you are soon to return to your friends.'

'Friends?' repeated he, in a low, sad tone. 'Ah—my friends are ——. But I won't say that. This reception tells me that I have friends. I cannot believe that your generous hospitality is extended without some spark of friendship.'

'Indeed, Sir Knight,' uttered Agnes, speaking from her ardent impulse, and without, thought, 'you may be sure of that. My own poor life would be nobly given if t'were to save and succor thee.'

The Unknown started as these sweet words fell upon his ear, and for the moment the rich blood all left his face, and his heart seemed to have stopped its beating. But very soon the flood came rushing back, and the first bound of the heart gave a tremulousness to the whole frame.

'I—I—mean, sir——'

'Hold, lady,' he said, as the fair girl attempted to modify what she saw she had spoken quickly and from the heart, 'do not take back those words. They shall never leave me while life and reason last. They shall be with me to cheer and console me, and to give nerve to my arm and strength to my heart.—As true as God reigns, they are the sweetest words that have dropped upon my soul since my dying mother placed her thin hands upon my child head, and blessed me. Do not unsay them —— unless, indeed, they only came from a hope to please. But if they came from the heart, then let them be mine.'

'I will be frank, sir knight,' the fair girl returned, with a beaming, generous look. 'Had they not sprung from the heart, you would never have heard them. The heart set them free ere the cooler judgment had weighed them.'

'Thank you, lady; and henceforth you may rest assured that there is one knight who will protect the honor of your name with his life And though, for the present, circumstances prevent me from revealing my name, yet you will believe me when I say, that no stain rests upon me.'

Agnes bowed her head, and her whole frame trembled, but soon she recovered her composure, and once more her conversation was free and frank.

It was quite late when the party separated and an old monk conducted the two knights to their chamber.

CHAPTER III.

THE ROBBER KNIGHTS.

The two knights were aroused in the morning by a loud knocking at their door, and upon opening it, they found the same monk there, who had shown them up on the night before.

'Noble sirs,' the old man cried, 'a party of the robber knights have come to rob the convent.'

'How?' uttered the Unknown. 'Rob a nunnery? Rob the home of defenceless women?'

'Yes, noble sir. They are now at the gate, and demand admittance.,

'How many of them?'

'Full a score.'

'Then hasten down and tell the good lady abbess that we will be quickly with her.'

Ere long the two crusaders descended to the apartment where they had sat the evening before, and there they found not only the abbess and Agnes, but several other women, who had not yet taken the full vow.

'How is this?' asked he of the Eagle, as he entered the room.

'Do you not hear the noise at our gates, sir?' the abbess replied. 'That wicked knight, Otto von Metzinger, at the head of his companions, demands admittance here.'

'But he does not surely mean to rob you?'

'Yes sir. Ah—you know not the deep wickedness of these men. Yet there are few who would do this thing. That most bold and reckless man of them all—the Wild Knight of Wurtemburg—would never attack the home of women. He robs cities and wealthy monasteries. But this man stops at nothing. His vaults are already filled with gold, but yet he would rob us for more.'

'Then you have valuables here?'

'Yes, sir—shrines of gold and silver, besides a large amount of money which we have collected.'

'And have you any one here who can bear arms?'

'Yes—a dozen or more; but they could do nothing against the well armed knights.'

'Let them be armed as best they can, and trust the rest to us. Thus speaking the mystic knight passed over to where Agnes stood, and, taking her hand, he said in a low, deep tone—

'Fear not, lady. Whilst I have life thou art safe.'

Could he mistake the look she gave him then? Could that quick, holy, joyful expression have come from a heart that held no deep love? No. But mark that blanche spot that followed—that sudden show of fear. Why does she lay her fair, dimpled hand so nervously upon the stout knight's arm? Ah——

'But you—you sir. Oh! you will not expose yourself. There are many—you are only two.'

Many in the wrong—and two in the right. God is with us. But be not alarmed for me. He who will rob a woman can hold no terror for me.'

'Yet you will be careful.'

'Oh—thy love plants the strength of a thousand souls in my bosom!'

CORONER'S INQUEST IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, April 6, 1857.

Dear Chronicle: There has been quite an excitement in this town concerning the death of Mr. George Welch, who died very suddenly two weeks ago. During the past week suspicions have arisen that his death did not occur from sickness or accident, but from violence on the part of some member of his family. This rumor, at first faint and scarcely noticed, was caught up by some lovers of the marvellous and terrible and spread—as such stories always will in small villages—until it became a serious charge, and the authorities were compelled to investigate the matter.

To-day, Coroner M. F. Wentworth empanelled a jury of six of our most respectable and reliable citizens and held an inquest on the body of Mr Welch, which was disinterred for the purpose. A thorough post mortem examination was made by Dr. Robert O. Treadwell, of Portsmouth, assisted by Drs. Wentworth, Trafton, Jones and Eastman, and no wounds, bruises or marks of violence were found, or any symptoms of poison. A large number of witnesses, including the members of the deceased's family, were examined, and it appeared from all the testimony that the deceased was a strong, healthy man, neither complaining of or showing any symptoms of sickness until the moment of his death. That on the 22d of last March he was about home as usual, cheerful and pleasant: that he brought in an armful of wood and put it in the stove, and then rose and after taking three or four steps, suddenly fell dead without a word or motion. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury was as follows:

"An Inquisition taken at Kittery, within the County of York, this sixth day of April, in the year 1857, before Mark F. Wentworth, one of the Coroners of said county, upon the body of George Welch, there lying dead, by the oaths of Gowen Wilson, Charles G. Bellamy, Ephraim Otis, Daniel Pierce, John R. Haley and Alfred Turner, good and lawful men, who, being charged and sworn to inquire diligently for the State, when, how and by what means the said George Welch came to his death, upon their oaths say that the said George Welch died at said Kittery on the 22d day of March last past at about one o'clock in the afternoon, either in a fit or by reason of some sudden and violent sickness to the jurors unknown; and the jurors further find that the deceased had previously been in good health, and that, in their opinion, there was no other cause for his said death than the said fit or sickness."

Your correspondent was present as an assistant to the Coroner, and it his opinion and that of the Coroner and jury and of the several physicians in attendance, that the rumors which have prevailed in relation to Mr. Welch's death were entirely without foundation or the least shadow of probability. They all appeared to have arisen from a story told by a little grandson, Gardner Bragdon, about seven years old, and very far from being intelligent, even for his years, who happened to be on a visit to Mr. Welch at the time of his death, and who, on being examined to-day, denied all the statements which it is said that he has made, and who substantially agreed with the other witnesses in his account of the sad affair.

The stories which have been circulated have caused great grief to the bereaved family. But they cannot regret the investigation which leaves their innocence above the shadow of a doubt. It is to be hoped that the busy-bodies in whose hands the wicked story grew so formidable, will learn, in future, to "think before they speak."

Yours truly, TARR, JR.

VERMONT NEWS.—The Middlebury Register states that William T. Potter, while returning from that place to his home in Cornwall, was knocked down and robbed of $25 and a note for $100.

The store of S. C. Woolson, in Montpelier, was robbed of $500 to 600 worth of satins and broadcloths on the night of the 26th ult.

ALTERED BILLS.—A one dollar bill on the Pawtuckaway Bank of Epping, N. H., altered to a ten in such a manner as almost to defy detection, has been passed in Salem, Mass.

☞ We learn that the choir of the Methodist society in Epping, contemplate a series of Concerts, Sacred and Secular. The first will probably be an "Old Folks" entertainment, and be given soon.

☞ On Wednesday night, Magee, the State Prison murderer, on his second trial, in Boston, was found guilty, after the jury had been out two hours.

"Mother," said a little square-built urchin, five years old, "why don't the teacher make me monitor sometimes? I can lick every boy in my class, but one."

☞ The great trial of Mr. Kalloch, for adultery, at Cambridge, Mass., has closed by a disagreement of the jury.

The Boston Transcript of Wednesday evening, very briefly and neatly sums up the matter thus.

As was generally supposed after all the evidence in the case of Mr. Kalloch was in, the jury have not agreed upon a verdict, but stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. This is two-thirds of a discharge; and, under all the circumstances of the case, will be considered about right, we believe, by a majority of fair and candid minds.

Exactly so. His visit to any public house, instead of Mr. Holland's; his calling for liquor and wishing it kept secret, after he got there; his needless return to such a house as the Lechmere, after the lecture, and his second glass of whiskey after he got there; with Mr. Holland's testimony, as to his appearance, his acts, and his hurry home,—all leave him under a load of suspicion, not easily removed, and which will probably be followed by some clerical and church censure. Many of the witnesses, on both sides, damaged themselves by what they said, and by what they did not say. And the counsel on both sides, great men as they were, said several things quite uncalled for. The reputation of the Lechmere house does not seem to have suffered. The men who lived there have exhibited themselves—and done their worst,—yet the accused is not convicted, that's all. He has the benefit of reasonable doubts — very properly, — and will doubtless be discharged.

The Courier says:

No motion was made for a new trial and it is probable that the case will not be tried again.

The Boston Journal says:

We learn that Mr. Kalloch "has concluded, from a sense of duty which has an overbearing weight in his own mind, to abandon the field of the ministry, and to commence the study of law."

THE WAR IN NICARAGUA.—The account which we gave last week of Walker's desperate condition was followed almost immediately by news that he had completely routed the Costa Ricans, who were attacked in front and rear by Walker and Henningson, and 1100 out of 1200 of them killed and wounded; that the slaughter was so great that Walker could not bury the dead, but was compelled to have the bodies burned to prevent putrefaction and preserve the health of the city of Rivas. The loss of Walker in this sanguinary engagement was stated at only two killed and a few wounded. The account was evidently a complete fabrication or a ridiculous exaggeration calculate to deceive the sympathisers with the filibusters and encourage reinforcements to rescue him from his unfortunate predicament. The New Orleans Picayune has a letter from its correspondent at Panama, giving advices from Walker's camp, which, though not so late as the alleged great victory, still go to show that Walker was not in a position to achieve such a victory. The writer derives his information from one of Walker's men who is furloughed or discharged on account of a disabled arm, and who appeared to be a reliable witness. He probably left Walker's camp early in March, the letter being dated on the 10th:

"Walker, he says, had had, during the past month, several skirmishes with the Costa Ricans, attacking, or in reconnoitering them in their quarters at Saint George, one league from Rivas, in all of which he was defeated and driven back. Once he attempted to move down to Saint George some gun-boxes, filled with sand, for barricades, behind which to place cannon. The enemy attacked him, took his boxes, and killed and badly wounded not less than fifty of his little force. At another time, Col. Caycee was ordered to San Juan del Sur with a mail guarded by thirty men.—He was attacked by four hundred men on his return, on the Transit road, four miles from San Juan, lost two men, and was obliged to go back. Walker, hearing of this mishap, sent Gen. Sanders, with one hundred and fifty men, out on the Transit by way of the cross road of the Jecote ranch, where they fell in with the Costa Ricans. After a severe fight, in which Sanders lost fifty men killed, he was forced to retreat to Rivas. Some say he only reached Rivas with fifty men.

My informant says that since the first of February, when I wrote you that Walker had only 800 fighting men or less, he has lost in killed, wounded and by desertions, 400 men; leaving him, with the eighty men the Sierra Nevada brought down this trip, less than 500 effective soldiers. This soldier belonged to Capt. Garcelon's company. He cites as an example of the desertions, that twelve of his company deserted Feb. 28, at the battle of St. George, and fifteen more deserted in one body the 15th of March, from the same company. Three men who deserted from one company were taken and shot at San Juan Viejo—and a Frenchman, who was aiding as guide for them into Costa Rica, was shot at Rivas."

Letters direct from Rivas in the Picayune, dated March 3 and 5, confirm the above report of reverses. They state that Gen. Canas had been placed under arrest, a letter from him having been intercepted, addressed to Capt. Davis, of the U. S. ship St. Marys, desiring to meet Gen. Walker on board. This is the General who is reported to have made overtures to Walker.

CONNECTICUT.—The State election in Connecticut on Monday resulted in the election of the Union (Republican and American) State ticket, and a divided victory on members of Congress—two Republicans and two democrats being elected. The Union State ticket is 1000 ahead by the returns received, and the majority will be increased.

The Union party have elected 120, and the Democrats 78 Representatives, with 27 towns to hear from.

The Senate will stand as at present advised, 13 Union to 8 Democratic members.

THE ELECTION IN MICHIGAN.—Detroit, April 8.—Incomplete returns indicate the election of the Republican State Judicial ticket, by at least 10,000 majority.—Six of the eight Circuit Judges, and the Regents of the State University, are Republican. Not more than two-thirds of a full vote was polled.

CITY ELECTIONS.—At Cincinnati, on Tuesday, the Citizens Union ticket prevailed over the Democratic ticket for city officers. N. W. Thomas was chosen Mayor over C. J. W. Smith, and Bellamy Storer Judge of the Supreme Court over E. A. Ferguson.

☞ In Portland, Willis, repub. is elected Mayor by 1954 votes; Cummings, dem. had 1547; scat. 3.—The city government has changed hands.

VIVIA, OR THE SECRET OF POWER.—We have received from the publisher, T. B. Peterson, Philadelphia, an advance copy of this book. It fully sustains the reputation of its author, Mrs. Southworth, being fascinating even to one who eschews light reading in general; and a person must be devoid of feeling who fails of a deep interest in little Genevieve, the heroine of the story.

Throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known as a remedy for Liver Complaints. We have reference to DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. It is, in truth the greatest remedy known for Dyspepsia, Jaundice, or a general debility that so often baffles the skill of our most eminent physicians.

Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the eminent physicians of New York, and it is said, most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with much invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a family medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, headache, languor, or slow, lingering fever, will try a bottle, we think they might save physician's bills, and days, perhaps years of suffering.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

A good-looking friend of mine, who is on this side of forty, though somewhat hoary-headed, while absent from the city a few days used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and on his return called to see his lady love, but was amused to find she did not recognize him; and immediately determined to pass for a cousin of himself, but was mortually disgrinned to find he was supplanting his former self in the affections of the lady, which caused him to make himself known; but the lady still says that she likes the counterfeit better than the original, and insists that he continue (if necessary) to use the Hair Restorative.—(St. Louis Morning Herald.

LOCAL.

TEMPERANCE IN PORTSMOUTH.

DESCENT UPON LIQUOR SELLERS—GREAT EXCITEMENT AND ROWDYISM.—On Tuesday Sheriff Brown visited our city and called upon several persons suspected of selling intoxicating liquors in violation of law, and in accordance with precepts placed in his hands by Attorney General Sullivan, proceeded to search the premises and make arrests. In an inconceivably short space of time the liquor dealers all over the city were aroused, shops were closed, liquors put out of sight, and an excitement prevailed such as is rarely known in our usually quiet city. Towards evening a crowd of people gathered about the Franklin House, where the complainant, John G. Coult of Manchester, had taken up his residence, and an attempt was made to take him from the House. This did not succeed, but we understand a severe blow was dealt him.—During the night the windows in the store of Frederick W. Rogers, on Market square, were broken in, and this morning exhibited striking evidence of the desperation of the rum party. Mr. Rogers has rendered himself obnoxious to the supporters of the rum traffic by his exertions heretofore to suppress the traffic, and this assault upon his premises is undoubtedly designed to overawe our citizens who are disposed to sustain the officers of the law. The effect, however, will be the reverse of this; as all good citizens now feel that the question must be decided whether law or rowdyism shall prevail.

Wednesday morning Mr. Coult was followed again by some young men, knocked down and beaten, and then arrested on a charge of striking his assailant; who also, we understand, is complained of for the assault.

Wednesday forenoon Thomas Whalley was arraigned before the Police Court charged with violation of the law for the suppression of intemperance, and pleaded "not guilty." The trial commenced shortly after 11 o'clock, at which time the court room was densely crowded. C. H. Bell Esq., county attorney, appeared in behalf of the prosecution, and Albert R. Hatch for the defence. Miles Durgin of Newmarket, deputy sheriff, John G. Coult of Manchester, and John S. Brown, Sheriff of Rockingham, testified to a search of the store occupied by Whalley and the finding of decanters and casks containing liquids believed to be alcoholic. At one o'clock the evidence was stated to be all in, and the court took a recess until 2 o'clock, at which time Mr. Hatch was to decide whether he would argue the case for the defendant, or submit it to the court on the evidence.

At the opening of the court in the afternoon the counsel decided to submit the case to the court upon the evidence without argument; and before deciding it the court took up a similar complaint against Israel Marden Jr. The witnesses in this case are the same as in the first tried, and the testimony very similar in character. The examination of was going on when our form went to press, the court room being crowded with spectators.

P. S. Each of the respondents were bound over in the sum of $200.—Ballot.

To the above from the Ballot we add:

The accused were ably and earnestly defended by Albert R. Hatch, Esq., who subjected the complainant to a searching cross examination, implicating Mr. Ray of Manchester, and Mr. Rogers and T. H. Miller of Portsmouth, in these efforts to execute the law.

Nevertheless, the Court bound over both the Respondents, in the usual bonds of $200, to appear at the next term of the Supreme Judicial Court, to be holden in this city,—and not to violate the law in the mean time.

☞ On Wednesday morning, Mr. J. G. Coult, who was the complainant in both the cases which were tried in the police court on that day, went to the house of a well known citizen of this place, and expressed his desire to get out of town by one of the earliest trains of cars, as he had been attacked the night before, followed to the Franklin House where he put up, and assaulted; and he had also been watched, as he thought, by some suspicious looking persons. He thought he might get away on foot, and obtain conveyance to the railroad at some other station. The citizen went out with him, taking the North Road through Christian Shore. Two fellows were seen watching in Vaughan street, who disappeared to rally a force—and by the time they reached the North Mill, something like a dozen people were seen following. The foremost of the pursuers came up with the fugitives at Jones's Hill, and when they had gone a little way beyond the seat of Washington Williams, Esq., a young man whose name is said to be Pierce, the keeper of a grog shop here, assaulted, knocked down and severely injured Mr. Coult, who did not attempt much defence, but cried murder, which cry was loudly echoed by the citizen, who ordered Pierce to desist; and it was re-echoed by Pierce the assaulter, on this wise: "Murder, murder, yes, God damn you, you old greyheaded cuss, I'll murder you, if you don't be still."

The old citizen also called on the other persons as they came up, to bear witness, and to preserve the peace. No further violence was done, though Pierce was profuse in his threats, saying, with oaths and curses, "Let me catch you in Deer street, and I'll serve you the same, or any of your clique."

Pierce once took hold of the old citizen's sleeve, and greatly resented his interference, asking if he was an officer,—but desisted when he was answered "No! but any good citizen has a right to command peace on the cry of murder." The company all went back to the premises of the P. & C. Railroad, when the citizen called on the Mayor, who very promptly, in person, gave the protection of the city to Mr. Coult during the day, till he saw him safe on board the cars at half past four.

The noise and confusion made by two hundred men and boys, who had been drinking, during the day, was quite considerable; and the show they made of themselves, in the police court room and in the streets, was a sorry comment on our civilization and peculiar institutions.

QUARTERS. — We don't mean to cry "quarter," but only to announce our location. By the very accommodating spirit of our landlord, and the workmen engaged in repairing the Chronicle Building, we are enabled to print our paper "at home" this morning, though our press-room is by no means finished.

Through the courtesy of our neighbor of the Journal, we are furnished with the upper story of that office, in which to set our type. We are also under obligations to Mr. Fuller, of the Gazette, for a tender of like accommodations, and to Mr. Whittem for the loan of type, &c.

It will be several days before we can get all arranged again; but we expect to issue our paper regularly, and will do the best we can for readers and advertisers.

CITY PHALANX.—At a meeting of this Company, on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected:

Wm. O. Sides, Captain.
Chas. W. Marden, 1st Lieutenant.
Jacob Haddock, 2d " Joshua F. Downing 3d "
James Teague, 4th "
Havillah Downing, 1st Sergeant.
Stephen L. Davis, 2d "
Geo. Stokell, 3d "
Geo. Manent, 4th "

These gentlemen well understand military tactics, and we doubt not the Company will flourish.

☞ An invitation has been extended to Rev. Dr. Peabody to deliver the Commencement address before the Athenæan and Poucinian Societies, at Bowdoin College, next August.

☞ The old store in Market street, Nos. 10 & 12, which was offered for sale by Auction a few days ago, has been leased for a term of years by Mr. Asa S. Tilton, who is now fitting it up for a grocery on the cash or union plan, for family stores without intoxicating liquors.

☞ Any men who wishes for a pleasant country location, and with it an excellent farm, can find it in York, for which see advertisement signed J. Seawards, Kittery Point.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Administration has completed its arrangements relative to China, and Wm. B. Reed, Esq., of Philadelphia, who is now here, has been tendered the mission.

In addition to other vessels, the steamer Minnesota will proceed to China. The order for her preparation will be issued tomorrow.

Charles G. Greene, Esq. is re-appointed Naval Officer at Boston.

The Case of Commodore Ogden has been taken up in the Naval Court of Inquiry.

STEPPED OUT.—New Orleans, April 8.—John Oxnard, an exchange dealer, left the city in the Empire City for Havana on Sunday, after having swindled houses here to the amount of $100,000.

The recent cold weather, it is feared, has done damage to the sugar and cotton crops.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—Last night the new steamer boiler, recently put in the State Sentinel office, being tried for the first time, exploded, instantly killing a young man named Homer, and badly injuring five others. The east wall of the building was blown down, and the damage to the type, presses, etc., was very great.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—Full returns of our city election give Wismer, (Emancipationist) for Mayor, 5487; Pratt (Democrat) 3759; Lane (American) 1831. The Emancipationists have a large majority in both branches of the City Council, and all the city offices. It is now asserted that large numbers of the Americans voted for Pratt, believing him to be the only candidate able to beat the Emancipation ticket.

A man from the country, whose wife had eloped and carried off the feather bed, was in Louisville in search of them,—not that he cared anything about the wife, "but the feathers," says he, "them's worth 68 cts. a pound."

TRIAL FOR DESTROYING LIQUOR.—Eleven females were lately indicted in Richland county, Ohio, for riot, that is:for smashing the liquor casks and destroying the liquor of one Morris, in the town of Belleville, a practice which appears to be becoming quite frequent. The Sandusky Register gives the result of the trial:

"In about an hour the bell rung, announcing that they had decided upon their verdict; and the people who had manifested the most intense interest, crowding the court room during the whole trial, rushed from all quarters of the town, so that the court room could scarcely hold them. When the foreman of the jury rose to hand in the verdict, the most breathless silence prevailed; and when he responded to the clerk, 'Not guilty,' the words were caught up, and such shouting, clapping, laughing and shaking of hands was never before witnessed in that dignified hall of justice.—Although late at night, the young men from Belleville could not wait for the morning, or the cars, but footed it home to tell the news. When the ladies arrived the next day they were received with every demonstration of approval by the inhabitants of the village."

AGENTS OF SPAIN AND MEXICO IN NEW YORK.—The Herald says there are at present in the city of New York, a number of Spanish Agents who are actively engaged in raising provisions and munitions of war for shipment to Cuba, in view of the anticipated hostilities between Spain and Mexico, and to provide against the unwanted descent of a Mexican force upon that Island.

The Mexican Government have also their agents here, and also in New Orleans, for the purchase of arms and ammunition, and the enlistment of men, to be sent under the American flag to Tampico and Vera Cruz, in preparation for this contemplated invasion.

The democratic canvassers in Gloucester, R. I., previous to the election on Wednesday last, struck from the list of voters in that town all the names of colored citizens, alleging that they were justified in so doing by the decision in the case of Dred Scott. Legal proceedings will probably be commenced against the canvassers for the outrageous act.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.—A Cincinnati paper states that the recent election of democratic delegates in that city resulted thus:—"Of the whole number of delegates elected, seventy-nine were German!! forty-seven Irish!! and only forty-seven Americans, and a large portion of these Romanists, and elected as such."

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that—

The concerted laudation of Robert J. Walker's appointment is designed to operate on the public mind as preparatory to his promotion to the Department of State, which is contemplated, if any reasonable success attends his efforts in Kansas. Gen. Cass is doomed in any event.

A lot of cotton on the freight train over the Concord and Manchester Railroad took fire the other day, on the discovery of which Conductor Maynard ran over the cars and unshackled the one on fire before the train was stopped, when the cotton was thrown off before much damage was done to the cars. The cotton belonged to the Amoskeag Co. at Manchester.

FROM VERA CRUZ.—By arrival at New Orleans, advices from Vera Cruz to the 20th ult. are received.

The Government was in such straitened circumstances that it had been forced to suspend payment at the Custom House in Vera Cruz, and also at that in the City of Mexico.

The relations with Great Britain continue in an unsettled state.

The new Constitution was promulgated on the 11th of March.

Gen. Bancarte was a voluntary prisoner at Guadalajara, and would be tried by Court Martial.

Senor Fuenzo, Minister of Haciends, and Senor Garza, late Governor of Tampico, were about to visit the capital to defend themselves.

The mails were very irregular, and nothing had been heard of the rejection of the Forsyth treaty at the city of Mexico.

It was reported that Santa Anna had numerous emissaries in Mexico.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which B. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as fully guarded as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a fair chance, as tickets are sold in Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled at the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent out on money for the same is to be sent with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after the drawing.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and Papers on Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents, or Inventions,—and to give opinions or advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given are what may be MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF HIGH MORAL AND MENTAL ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate, so worthy, and more capable of gaining business during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond doubt, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and of employing Attorneys there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I have, from my personal knowledge of that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard his ability as one of the first order, and shall skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent, and more worthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 11, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent out on money for the same is to be sent with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

The whole number of tickets put in the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m13 ly

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success. The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a "Dose of Physic."

The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty, and it is prescribed very well, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.

The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhea, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaking and Teething; sure to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.

Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who value rest not fall to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children." Sold by country traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE,—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Fevers, with entire success, and from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted—a medicine of that kind having been needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
WM. NEVE, BACHELDER, M. D.

Epping, July 23, 1853.

MR. LAWRENCE:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral," and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the gallon. They have proved themselves extensively used, and approbated, I regard them as very valuable medicines.
JOSEPH DALTON, M. D.
Your truly,
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

MR. W. F. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir; We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

DR. CHESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, are the result of a long and extensive practice, they are mild in their operation, and certain for restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain, to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pain and debility attendant upon disease is healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Pain in the back, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption

THE WILD KNIGHT: OR, THE UNKNOWN CRUSADER.

A Tale of Germany in the Days of the Empire.

[Concluded from yesterday's paper.]

As the knight thus spoke he raised the small white hand to his lips, and as he impressed his first kiss thereon, Agnes of Luxemburg smiled.

Those were days when true men and maidens spent not long hours in senseless flirtation, nor tried to conceal the generous emotions of the heart. If the thought was right, 'twas spoken. So from that hour the Knight of the Eagle knew that he was welcomed by the only maiden who had ever won his heart. The emotion was a strange one, and under its influence his heart grew light and joyous, and his arm strong.

As soon as possible the two crusaders put on their armor, and then went out into the court where they found Robert and Bernard with the horses all caparisoned; and from the porter they learned that Von Metzinger was waiting for an answer from him. But just as the porter spoke the voice of the robber knight was heard in loud and angry tones:

'Hallo! Within there, thou creeping porter. What is the answer of thy mistress?—Will she give up the golden calves, or must we take them?'

'Oh, noble sirs,' spoke the old porter, trembling from head to foot, 'only last week Sir Otto and his crew robbed the convent of St. Mary, of Brabronn, carried off all the gold and silver, and killed four peasants who had come up to help to defend the place!'

'Say you so! Then, i' faith, we'll send them off how'ring now. Where is there a loop-hole from which I can count the vagrants.'

The porter led the way to a small wicket in which there was a square piece of chain netting. Through this the Black Knight could count the robbers. There were two knights and fourteen men-at-arms—the latter on foot, and armed with cross-bows and wearing the usual armor of the foot soldiers of the period—round shall caps of iron, with deep capes behind; cuirass of brass, with a joint at the neck, thus supplying the place of gorget; but no brassets or cuisses. They were stout-looking fellows, and from what our hero could see of their faces, he would have judged them to be just fit for some such work. Sir Otto was a stout, powerful man, and as he now wore his vizor up the crusader could see that he had a bold, bad look. The other knight, the porter said, was Sir John von Mainbardt; and that knight, our crusaders knew, had been placed under the ban of the empire for his evil deeds, but particularly for having robbed the Archbishop of Mayence.

'Call out your men,' said the Unknown, 'and have them arranged in the court here, to be ready for any one who may chance to dodge in. Now, Sir Engelbert, we will out upon them, while Robert and Bernard follow to scatter the hirelings.'

Thus speaking, the black knight closed his visor, and having loosened his axe and couched his lance, he called upon the porter to throw back the gate. As the way was thus opened, six of the men-at-arms were seen bringing up a heavy log with which they meant to batter down the wicket. The movement of Sir Otto and his companions, when they beheld this unexpected presence, was one of astonishment; but ere they could betray much emotion our hero spoke:

'How now, Sir Knights—what would ye here?'

'Who are you that dares question Otto of Metzinger?' retorted the robber. 'Just stand where you are, and I'll ride thee down as I would a praying nun.'

As Sir Otto spoke he gathered up his reins, and put spurs to his horse; and with his impious battle cry of—'the spoils to the mighty!' he dashed on.

"God and St. Fulvia!" shouted the Unknown, as he braced himself for the shock. He did not move from the place where he stood. He only bent a keen eye on the robber, and set his lance for the guard. He felt the power of a giant in his good right arm, and full well he knew that the oncoming knight only rushed upon defeat. He had received too many charges to miss his mark now; and even his horse had been so thoroughly trained, that a single word was sufficient for its guidance.

With a firm hand the Black Eagle held his lance, and as the robber came dashing upon him a stout quickly-spoken word his horse leaped upon one side, and at the same moment his lance, with a movement almost imperceptible, turned the point of the robber's weapon over the right shoulder, while the steel head of his own spear caught Sir Otto's helm just below the vizor, and rolled him from his horse upon the ground. Almost at the same moment Sir John von Mainbardt fell beneath the stroke of Engelbert.

The Unknown leaped from his saddle, and placed his sword at the throat of the fallen knight!

'Now yield thee, recreant knight!'

'But to whom?' asked Otto in struggling tones.

To the Black Eagle of Palestine!' shouted our hero.

'Mercy!' gasped the vanquished man.—'Why did n't you tell me so?'

'But do you yield?'

'Yes!'

'And If I spare thee, wilt thou give me thine oath, that thou wilt not trouble this place again?'

'The terms are hard.'

'But is not life valuable? Remember—I would kill thee as quickly as I would any other robber!'

'Spare me! I promise.'

'Then upon thy knees and take the oath.—That is the ordeal.'

Sir Otto hesitated awhile, but at length he got upon his knees, and with the cross of the crusader's sword before him, he took the prescribed oath.

'Well done! Sir Otto von Metzinger. Now call thy robber crew off, and go in search of some more legitimate game.'

In the meantime the two esquires had been doing a heavy work among the men-at-arms. Robert of Swingenoffen was like a wild bull among them, while Bernard stalked about like a stork among frogs. Their long experience against the Saracens, had given them notions of combat of which their huddling adversaries knew nothing. Three of the robber retainers were slain outright, while most of the others were either senseless upon the ground or crawling away with cracked and aching heads.

Sir von Mainbardt, as soon as he knew who his captor was readily took the same oath that his companions had taken, and then they were allowed to depart; though ere they did so the latter poured out his enmity and threats profusely.

'By the holy host, Sir Crusaders, you have ventured into a nest of hornets, as you shall find to your cost. If you get out of these mountains with a whole skin you'll be fortunate!'

With this threat upon his lips, the robber-knight turned to where his men-at-arms were searching for their senses, and ere long the whole party rode off—all save the three dead ones, their bodies being left for the monks to dispose of.

Blessings, deep and sincere, were showered upon the two crusaders when they returned to the convent; and when they heard of the oath they had made the marauders take, the abbess could not speak her gratitude.

A hearty breakfast was eaten, and after this the two knights signified their intention of departing. The storm of the previous evening had passed away, and the air of the spring morning was fresh and fragrant.

'Do you go near Stuttgart?' the abbess asked.

'Directly thither,' the Black Knight answered.

'Then you will easily reach it before dark if your horses are strong.'

'Certainly.'

'I have a favor to ask of thee,' the abbess resumed addressing him of the Eagle. 'The Lady Agnes had been for several days watching for some friends who had promised to come and conduct her to Stuttgart, where she would go to see her cousins, Constance of Baden, and Blance of Wurtemburg. They may not come for a long while, and if you will accept the charge I shall give her into thy keeping, for safe delivery at the castle of Everhard von Wurtemburg.'

'Everhard von Wurtemburg!' repeated the Black Eagle. 'The Wild Night of Swabia!'

'Yes, Sir Crusader. He is surely the wildest knight in all Christendom; and the most jealous of restraint. Even the Emperor he sets at defiance, and claims all mankind for his foes. He is a strange being, and a cousin of mine to boot. He stands at the head of the robber knights of the empire; but yet he is a brave man, and would scorn a mean action. He would lie down and die of starvation ere he would rob a woman; and his breast he would bare to the sword ere he would strike a foul blow. Be sure he will give thee a hearty welcome if you cross not his purpose. But wilt thou accept the charge?'

'Does the fair lady wish it.'

'She does.'

'Then I accept the trust, and you may feel that you hold my life in pledge for her safety.'

'I understand,' returned the abbess, with a smile, and thus speaking, she turned away.

Ere long, Agnes Von Luxemburg entered the keeping-room, all prepared for the journey; and both the knights started as they beheld her strange beauty when thus arrayed. Her riding-robe of purple velvet was bordered with gold, and the jaunty velvet cap, with its drooping ostrich plumes, cast a warm glow upon her face that was like a halo. She wore a small dagger in her girdle, and in her hand she carried a light whip. Her horse a noble barb, with a mixture of the Arabian in its veins, manifested the utmost delight when he saw his mistress approach; and when she had been assisted to her saddle, the pleased animal capered about with unmistakeable manifestations of joy.

'Now, mind you,' said the abbess, addressing the Black Knight, 'until you reach the castle of Everard, the Lady Agnes is my charge to you.'

'Then the Wild Knight has some control over her,' the Black Eagle said, in a tone so low that the maiden could not hear it.'

A dark shade rested upon the face of the abbess, and a slight shudder passed through her frame, as she replied:

'Yes, he is her guardian, made so by my brother in his last will. But I have authority now.'

Once more our hero promised to watch well his charge, and then the abbess turned to her niece. There were a few sincere blessings—a kiss—a cheerful farewell—and then the party rode away.

After the lapse of several hours, as a short silence ensued, the Crusader gazed upon his fair companion with an earnest, prayerful look. She looked up and met his gaze, and a warm glow suffused her face. She knew not that he was looking upon her, or she would not have gazed up then, for her eyes were beaming with the tale of love, and she knew it. And a less interested person than herself, and one with less perception, could not have failed to see that the knight's gaze was one of pure, devoted affection.

It was a moment of strange emotions. Each had detected the other in the act of pouring out the silent language of love. The knight was the first to speak.

'Gentle lady,' he said, in a tone made rich and musical by the deep feeling which sustained it, 'why should two honorable people whom fate has thrown together, hide the deepest, holiest emotions of their souls. I will not hide mine. You shall not say I could look what I dared not speak. Agnes of Luxemburg, I love thee with with the whole strength of my heart, and with the undivided power of my heart's first love. Thou art the first maiden who ever awoke the sweet whisper in my soul, and to thee I give my pure heart, with all its hopes, its aspirations, and its joys. I trust I have not offended.'

For some moments the fair girl gazed down upon the arched neck of her steed without speaking. She trembled violently, for there was a mighty struggle in her soul.

'Alas!' she at length uttered, raising her moistened eyes, to her companion's face, 'would that my love and my duty were united.'

'How, lady? Speak plainly, I beseech thee.'

'Knowest thou not that my father willed that I should wed with the Count of Baden?'

'I knew he had so wished. Did he lay the command upon thee?'

'He never commanded me, sir. His wish was always my law. When he expressed to me his desire, he knew that if it were in my power to do it, his desire would be accomplished.'

'But thy love, lady.'

'Thou art the first man who ever won my young heart. See I am frank—because thou hast been.'

'Bless thee, gentle Agnes—bless thee forever. Thou dost love me, then.'

'With all my heart.'

'Then soothe we still have ground for hope. If the Lord of Baden be an honorable man, he will not surely hold thee to a union from which love must ever be absent. He would not have such a wife if he could.'

'Ah—you know him not!' said Agnes, with a slight shake of the head. 'Nor do you know the man whom my father has placed over me as my guardian. Alas! they have no hearts of love or sympathy.'

The knight gazed upon his companion as she spoke, and when she ceased speaking, he bowed his head. There was a cloud upon his brow, and his lips were compressed; yet he seemed more worked upon by some firm purpose of his own, than by any fears of the powers of others. When he again raised his head, his bright eye beamed with more than ordinary meaning.

'Gentle Agnes,' he said, 'love me—love me well—love me as I love thee—and leave the rest to me. In this universe of good, there must be power enough to overcome all evil, if it could only be properly applied; and so why may we not hope that right and justice shall triumph here?'

'My love, I cannot control,' the maiden answered. 'Were I never to see thee again, from this hour my heart could never give up thine image—my soul could never forget this, my first holy love. As true as I live, I speak frankly and truthfully now. Were the painful chasse removed; could the barrier be broken down—honorably so—I would place my hand within thine own, and be thine forever!'

The noble knight raised his hand to his cheek and brushed away a tear, and when he spoke his voice was low and sweet.

'Among the blessings of God, and standing second only to the pure faith of the tried Christian, is bright sunny hope. Let us cling to it.'

Half the afternoon had passed away, and the travellers had just entered upon a broad table of level land, when Engelbert's horse, which was ahead, suddenly stopped and placed his nose to the ground; and in a moment more he raised his head and gave a wild, startling snort.

'Ah—that means that we are to meet somebody,' said the Black Knight, as Agnes gazed inquiringly towards him.

For a moment an expression of fear dwelt upon the maiden's face, but it quickly passed away.

'We have nothing to fear, surely,' the knight resumed. 'If they be robbers, we have nothing to lose, and if they be not robbers they must be friends. Yet I'll don my casque and take my shield; for war sometimes comes when when we least expect it.'

As he thus spoke he exchanged his velvet cap for the black steel helm with its triple plume, and then calling to his esquire, he took his shield. Just as Engelbert had made the same arrangements a party of three knights appeared upon the opposite side of the plain, which was nearly half a mile distant. As the distance became less, an exclamation of fear dropped from Agnes's lips, and when her companion looked upon her, he found her pale and trembling.

'What is it?' he asked, eagerly.

'The Count of Baden!' she uttered.

'The Count? Which one?'

'He that rides upon the right hand—the shortest one.'

'And do you know who are those other two?'

Agnes looked a few moments, and then she replied,—

'Aye—they are two of the most villainous knights that ever broke knightly vows. There is Sir Frederick von Bondorf, who came from Bavaria to save his head from the law; and Sir Marco Montano, a crafty, bloody, and unscrupulous Italian. They are the Count's tools, an do his bidding for hire.'

'They look like stout knights,' said the Eagle, ball to himself.

'And so they are,' responded Agnes.

'But you tremble, dearest.'

'Aye—the Count may be on his way to St. Fulvia.'

'Ah! for thee! Now I see. And why should he have come? Think you Everhard sent him?'

The maiden pondered a few moments ere she replied, and during her hesitation the Knight stopped.

'I'll tell thee all in a few words,' she at length said, 'and thus save thy questions. My guardian will do much for the Count of Baden. He would not for worlds directly do a deed to harm me; yet he loooks upon my marriage with a Count as a fixed fact, and he will help it on. Thrice have I refused to go to Baden's stout castle of Hiedelberg, and Rudolf has sworn that he would take me to his dwelling by force, if I would not go otherwise. The last time I saw my guardian he told me, in a laughing mood,—he laughed because he thinks my coyness of the Count is only the result of whim; he does not know that I despise him—he told me to beware of Rudolf of Baden, for that he meant to kidnap me on the first opportunity. So I think he has come now for that purpose.'

The new-comers were now within a few rods, and as the Count of Baden recognized Agnes, he put spurs to his horse. As he did so the Unknown dropped his vizor, and secretly loosened the strapping of his heavy battle axe. He of Baden was in full armor, only he wore his vizor up.

'Ha—my little truant!' the Count cried, as he drew up a few yards off. 'I have found thee most opportunely. I was after thee, sweet one.'

With a powerful effort Agnes overcame the tumultuous emotions that shook her frame and then in a respectful manner she replied—

'I am on my way to Stutgart. I am going to the castle of my guardian.'

'So you meant when you started. I saw the noble Count, thy guardian, this morning, and he bade me come and take thee. And so you see I have come. Sir Knight, I will relieve thee of thy charge.'

'Were I anxious to give up my charge I might thank thee for thy kindness,' returned our hero, calmly and modestly. 'But as I assumed the charge for a specified purpose, I must do my pledge. Still, you will allow me to thank you all the same.'

The young Count was at first puzzled by this. He was young for the place of power he occupied, being not yet thirty; but he had had much experience, and was accounted one of the best and surest lances in Baden.

Before he could answer, however, their attention was called in another direction, where two more knights had appeared upon the field. Agnes of Luxemburg drew a long, painful breath, and her cheek once more blanched with fear, for in the two horsemen who had thus made their appearance she recognized Sir Otto of Metzinger and John of Mainbardt! She knew that their souls were full of revenge against her noble lover; and is it a wonder that she trembled with the thought of her two faithful friends meeting these five full-armed knights? Her heart sank within her as the conviction came that she must now go with the hated Count von Baden!

But will the renowned Knight of the Eagle tamely yield her up, while the fire of his young first love is so fiercely burning in his valorous heart? 'Will he fight against such fearful odds?' asks Agnes of her trembling heart; and—'What if he should be overwhelmed and slain at my feet?' Yes—he will fight! She reads his determination in his flashing eye, and imperial bearing. Short is the angry parley. The visors are drawn down; the lances are couched, and the opposing battle-cries ring out upon the startled air! Agnes can only pray God to speed the right.

The above is all of this beautiful and highly interesting story that will be published in our columns. We give this as a sample. The continuation of it can be found only in the New York Ledger, the great family weekly paper, for which the most popular writers in the country contribute, and which can be found at all the stores throughout the city and country, where papers are sold.

Remember to ask for the New York Ledger of April 18, and in it you will get the continuation of the story from where it leaves off here. If you cannot get a copy at any news office, the publisher of the Ledger will mail you a copy on the receipt of five cents. Fanny Fern writes only for the New York Ledger; Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., writes only for it; Emerson Bennett writes only for it; and nearly all the eminent writers in the country, such as Mrs. Sigourney, Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth, and Alice Carey, contribute regularly to its columns. Mrs. Southworth will soon commence a new story in the New York Ledger—hereafter she will writes for no other paper. It is mailed to subscribers at $2 a year, or two copies for $3. It is one of the handsomest and best family papers in the country, elegantly illustrated, and is characterized by a high moral tone.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1857.

CLERICAL ITEMS.—Rev. Jonas Perkins, pastor of the Congregational Society at Weymouth Landing, where he has a life settlement, has, in consequence of his advanced age, offered to resign his charge, provided the Society would ensure to him the sum of $6000 during the remainder of his life. The society will probably accept the offer.

We learn from the Gloucester Telegraph that a few days since, Rev. David T. Kimball, senior pastor of the First Congregational Church in Ipswich, was suddenly thrown from his carriage by his horse taking fright, and so severely injured as to cause serious apprehensions for his recovery. He is now much improved and apparently out of danger. Mr. Kimball is in his 80th year.

On Sunday evening, March 29th, by invitation of Rev. Dr. Todd, the Rev. Dr. Humphrey preached a sermon in the First Congregational Church in Pittsfield, Mass., on the occasion of the completion by him of a half century of service in the gospel ministry. The Berkshire Co. Eagle says: "The usual services in the other churches were omitted in order that all who love and venerate Dr. Humphrey—as who that knows him does not?—might listen to him on so great an occasion. The church was filled to its utmost capacity with people of all denominations. The opening services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Dodd of that town, and President Hopkins of Williams College."

Rev. Edwin Davis of Marlboro, N. H., has accepted an invitation to become pastor of the Universalist society in Alstead, N. H., and has already commenced his labors there, though he is not to remove until some time next autumn.

Rev. E. W. Coffin of Shirley, Mass., has accepted the invitation of the Universalist society in Jeffrey, N. H., to become their pastor, and will commence his labors there the second Sunday in April.

LIQUOR CASE IN ROXBURY.—James Good was arraigned before the Police Court of Roxbury, on Thursday, and charged with violating the liquor law. He was found guilty, fined $10 and costs, and sentenced to hard labor in the House of Correction for twenty days. He appealed, and was ordered to give bonds in $200 for his appearance at Dedham at the April term of the Court, but soon after thought better of the affair, paid up the fine and costs, and was committed to Dedham in pursuance of sentence. So says the Boston Bee.

CHURCH TURNED INTO A THEATRE.—Messrs. Bidwell and Marston, the well known theatrical managers, have hired the church at the lower end of Elm Street, in Manchester, recently vacated by the 2d Baptist Church, for five years, and are converting it into a hall for theatrical purposes, to be called "Music Hall." The stage is to stand where the pulpit has been. Outside, in imitation of the Boston Museum, a line of gas-burners, covered with glass globes, inscribed with the name of the hall, will run across the front.

☞ At Manchester, on Sunday, as Mr. and Mrs. Weston, from Amherst, and a little boy, were riding near a bridge, their horse became restive, and backed the wagon up to an abutment, so that the hind wheels ran off. The gentleman and lady both jumped out, the lady falling and striking on her head, and being considerably hurt. The wagon seat with the boy on it, went over the side, falling ten feet. He was, however, apparently uninjured, though somewhat scared.

☞ The Manchester Mirror states that "Isaac Dowst, a respectable citizen of Epping, left his house on Sunday evening, and has not since been heard of, though sixty men have been hunting for him. A bloody razor was found near the house, and it is supposed that he committed, or attempted to commit suicide." We have heard nothing of this from any other source; though we have correspondents at Epping, from whom we should expect a report of such a case.

☞ On the 17th of February, Wm. Godfrey, Esq., of Pee Dee, South Carolina, received a letter that was mailed to him on the 18th of January, 1838, at Clio, in Marlboro district, about twenty miles from the former place. The letter had been nineteen years and eighteen days on its route, and contained a twenty dollar bill on the Merchant's Bank at Pee Dee, with a request to return the amount in U. S. Bank bills. So says the papers. Tough!

MANCHESTER.—The American of April 6, after noticing our item about Fast Day, says: "We are glad to be able to say that no such exhibitions occurred in Manchester on that day. The retailers of liquor last week kept shut up in good faith so far as we know, and there were none of the usual exhibitions of drunkenness in any part of the city."

The Mirror of the same day says: "For a wonder there is not now a single criminal at the House of Correction, this city. The rogues now know that we have not a bigoted, straight-jacket Mayor, but one who asks for only what is right, and that he will have."

The Milford Republican says: "The liquor dealers in Manchester, finding the city authorities in earnest, and fearing the penalties of the law, have closed up their shops. The authorities of any town or city in this state, can stop the sale of liquor within their jurisdiction."

The city authorities of Manchester, we hope and believe are doing well. We believe also that the petition of the 3000 women had something to do with it.

☞ The Dover Gazette says: Our citizens were startled on Saturday evening last by an alarm of fire, and seeing a woman run out of a house on Central street, completely enveloped in flames. We ascertained that a little girl had accidentally thrown over a fluid lamp by which Miss Almira Pinkham was reading, breaking it and setting the fluid and her clothes on fire. Miss Pinkham in her fright ran out of doors, which increased the flame. Dr. Hill who was passing, with assistance, succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not before she was badly burned about the arms, neck and face. We learn that she is now recovering.

REV. THEODORE PARKER'S COUNTRY.—At the annual meeting of the "Twenty-eighth Congregational Society," of Boston, held the 6th inst., it was voted to increase the yearly salary of the pastor, Rev. Theodore Parker, from $1500 to $2500. It was also voted to give Mr. Parker a vacation of six months on account of his health, and to supply the pulpit during that time.

CAUTION AGAINST LETTING THE WOMEN DRIVE.—Under this head, the Manchester Mirror states that a young gentlemen and lady of that city, started to visit some friends. The lady having prevailed upon her companion to allow her to "guide the prancing steed," our female charioteer met with a fate, not quite so bad as that of Phaeton, the youth who "Asked without delay,

To guide the sun's bright chariot for a day;"

but bad enough for practical purposes.—The carriage came in collision with another vehicle, and was completely smashed.—The lady and gentlemen were pitched headlong, not into the classic Eridanus, but into the common gutter. The lady came back on the team which had been the "source of all their woe,"—whether it was a job wagon or a lumber cart, deponent saith not,—and the gentleman picked up the remnants of his broken carriage, bound up his wounded face, and came back "a wiser, if not a better man."

We think this is more of a lesson to teach the women how to drive, than to refrain from letting them "hold the reins."

☞ Edward P. Manning, a shoemaker, in Newburyport, the other day robbed a fellow boarder of forty-eight dollars, and escaped to Boston. On Saturday in the Police Court he plead guilty. He went to jail to await the result of his folly and crime, at the next term of the Common Pleas Court. Manning has a wife in Newburyport, but was not living with her at the time.

PRACTICAL AND SCIENTIFIC DENTISTRY.—No place in this country has done more for this difficult branch of science than Boston, and we believe our indefatigable friends, Drs. Cummings & Flagg, stand before all others for their public spirit and enterprise in making so many desirable improvements in their profession. The present popular methods of preparing and inserting artificial teeth, plates and fillings, have been introduced by them; in fact, there are hardly any improvements now in use, but what are largely indebted to their practical skill and experience. Their preparations, such as Nerve Anodyne for the toothache, Powder for cleansing the teeth, Wash for hardening the gums and purifying the breath, are all well known to the public, and in general use. By analytical examination, they are declared free from any and all ingredients injurious to the teeth, while as a cleanser and purifier, they are superior to any in existence.

We have before spoken of the establishment of Drs. Cummings and Flagg, and alluded to the beauty of their specimens, the extent of their business, and the polite attentions all receive, who call upon them at their elegant apartments, 25 Tremont street, and it is therefore gratifying for us to notice their increasing prosperity and success, for we believe a discriminating public is always ready to encourage true merit, especially when accompanied by industry, intelligence and perseverance.—Boston Traveller.

GRAND MASONIC CELEBRATION.—Rising Sun Lodge, of the city of Nashua, N. H., contemplates celebrating "St. John's day," by a grand celebration; and a large number of Massachusetts Lodges, Chapters, Encampments, &c., are to be invited to take part.

The Nashua Telegraph learns that Rev. Wm. R. Alger of Boston will deliver the oration, and the attendance from abroad will be very large.

A couple of Rowley shoemakers, a little elated with city fashions, made as much of a row in the market place, Newburyport, on Saturday, as two fighting bull-dogs.—They were put in the lock-up, where they complained bitterly, that after being made drunk upon the worst of rot-gut, and gambled out of what little money they had, they should then be locked up and punished. It will learn them better next time.—Herald.

DISASTER.—Ship New Hamphire, of and for New York, from Glasgow, before reported ashore on Long Island, went on in a heavy snow storm at 2 A. M., 7th inst., high up on the outer bar, opposite South Oyster Bay, about a quarter of a mile from shore. The crew landed in their boats. She lies head on, has seven feet water in the hold, and if the weather should be favorable, may be got off after discharging; but she is 20 years old and is thought to be hogged. She was built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1837, is 505 tons, and is valued at about $15,000. She is owned by Zerega & Co., and there is no insurance on vessel money. Her cargo is 450 tons pig iron, 400 pkgs. rags, some soda ash, bleaching powders, &c. supposed to be insured.

CATER'S HEARTLESSNESS.—When Cater finished his address to the jury last Saturday night, he gave his manuscript, which he had written out during the trial, to our reporter. The writing, as we have said before, is bold and regular, and is something of a curiosity in its way. At the bottom of one of the pages, where he says that he has appealed to the Inspectors in vain and is resolved to take vengeance in his own hands, are the following remarkable words:—"End of confab—finis—and end—grand finale—Tragedy."

At the time that the wretched man was writing these words, witnesses were describing the death of Mr. Tenney, at the prison.—Boston Herald.

THERE IS AN ARTICLE SELLING

Throughout the country that has attained the widest celebrity ever known as a remedy for Liver Complaints. We have reference to DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY that has performed cures almost too great to believe, were it not for the undoubted evidence that accompany the testimonials. It is, in truth the greatest remedy known for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, or a general debility that so often baffles the skill of our most eminent physicians.

Dr. Sanford has been for a long time one of the eminent physicians of New York, and it is said, most of his cases were treated with the Invigorator with such invariable success that he has been induced to offer it as a family medicine, and let the world have the benefit of his discovery. If those who are troubled with debility, headache, languor, or slow, lingering fever, will try a bottle, we think they might save physician's bills, and days, perhaps years of suffering.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

THE NEW UNITED STATES DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—In the Circuit Court of the United States in Boston on Wednesday, Judge Sprague presiding, Hon. B. F. Hallet took his leave of the Court as United States Attorney, and introduced his successor, Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury, who took the oath of office.

NOT A CHURCH GOING COMMUNITY.—It has been ascertained that the population of New York exceeds 600,000, and the church sittings are not equal to 200,000. To meet the deficiency, it would require 600 new churches, to be built at an expense of more than eight million dollars.

☞ Rev. Rufus W. Clark of East Boston, has been dismissed by a Council from the Maverick Church—to be settled in Brooklyn, N. Y.

☞ Dr. Clarke's valuable SHERRY WINE BITTERS, for medical quality, fine flavor, and cheapness, is far ahead of any other medicine sold. His agents sell daily an almost incredible quantity. all 1w

"BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS"—A COUNTERFEIT. A person pretending to have been a partner with W. F. Fetridge in the above article, is palming off a spurious preparation on the public. All are counterfeits unless the name FETRIDGE & Co., is written on the side, and W. F. FETRIDGE & Co., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who frown down counterfeits and imposters.

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the Balm of a Thousand Flowers would render it sweet?

ENGINE No. Two.—At the meeting of Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, on Monday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

WM. B. Grogan, Foreman.
WM. M. Nowell, 2d "
Moses R. Hall, 3d " and 1st Pipesman.
Alexander Leach, 2d Pipesman.
Joseph H. Gardner, Clerk.
Stephen L. Marston, Steward.

The Laconia is a nice little tub, and well able to "stand on its own bottom;"—and has an excellent crew to man her.

Within the past year, this Company have run up a handsome flag-staff at their Engine House on Pleasant street, and procured a fine flag; and have evinced a commendable public spirit in other ways, especially by appearing out in such good shape, and so full ranks, at the Printing Celebration.

We owe the Twos a debt of gratitude for their promptness and efficiency in playing the first stream on the fire in the Chronicle Office; which service would have received more substantial acknowledgment than this at the time, but for our multiplicity of engagements just then. We may have some chance to reciprocate, yet.

☞ Rev. Thomas W. Brown, formerly of this city, and now Pastor of the Unitarian Society at Brewster, Mass., sailed from that port for London on Wednesday, the 9th inst., in the ship Brewster. His parishioners tendered him a free passage, that he might enjoy a tour through a portion of the old world. We have made arrangements to receive notes of his travels for publication in the Chronicle.

OBITUARY. — Died at Jamaica Plain, Mass., April 7, Mrs. Sarah Frost, a native of Portsmouth, widow of Mr. George Frost, who kept a Coffee House in Market street during the war of 1812, and daughter of Dea. Samuel Bowles, of the old Independent Church, under Mr. Walton's ministry.

☞ Advertisers will please send in their notices as early as convenient, (at the Journal office;) and we will do the best our circumstances will admit of for them.

☞ It has been suggested to Uncle Toby, that many gentlemen of this city would like to have a public meeting held at an early day, in which all those gentlemen and ladies who prefer a government of law to being governed by rum and outrage, should assemble, and be addressed by some able speakers among our own citizens, who wish to have not only our own people, but strangers, on lawful business, protected from insult and assault. Their idea is that the great mass of our people would like to see the groggeries closed, and order thereby secured. A memorial, something like the ladies' petition in Manchester, would be in order, and might be of service.

He thinks it would be well—but other important engagements stand first in order, naming the day.

☞ We understand that the Report of the Referees in the case of Pickering vs. Robinson has been opened, and a dividing line heretofore in dispute has been established. Mr. Pickering relied upon an air line, and Mr. Robinson upon an average line resulting from the division fence.—Such a line having been drawn by Mr. A. M. Hoyt, R. claimed up to it and did not transcend it. P. claimed up to the air line. Hence the dispute. The Referees upon establishing their line found that it was slightly north of Mr. Hoyt's line, and have awarded $5 damages to the plaintiff.—Something is to be hewn off from the southerly side of R.'s gate post, otherwise the fence is to remain as it is.

We are glad that this controversy is ended, and hope the parties may hereafter have no occasion for unpleasant or unchristian feelings towards each other. X.

A TALE WITH A MORAL.

PORTSMOUTH, April 10, 1857.

Messrs. Editors: Because Old Bullion, or Bayard Taylor, or Henry Ward Beecher unluckily did not happen to be born in this good city, it is no reason that we should be deprived of listening to their superior lectures. The Granite State Lyceum Committee, believing this to be a well-founded truth, and determining to have the very best article, regardless of expense, sent for a lecturer from abroad. He was engaged to appear on Monday evening last, and the far-reaching voice of the press was used to give everybody notice that such was the fact.

But here the truth contained in that pretty little advice about enumerating chickens too prematurely, was set forth in an unusually strong light. As was reasonably expected, Monday came aronnd in proper season—the world is not going to pieces, it will be recollected, till the 18th of June. But with that day came something else, and that was—a tremendous fall of rain. It sprinkled; it rained; it poured; it deluged! None but professional swimmers could have reached the lecture room. As nobody went to that place, we write this article to inform the anxious public whether the lecturer himself came down as punctually as the water did.

It won't do in future for the committee to obtain any but home-made lectures; as to procuring others—fata obstant. He who was to appear on the evening in question seated himself in the proper train of cars, it is true; but the conductor very dutifully omitted giving notice to the passengers of the various stations arrived at, and that the consequence was that our traveller was carried several miles beyond where he should have alighted and taken the train for Portsmouth. It is needless to mention how he sought in vain to arrive at his place of destination; how he got wet through in wandering around a lone village in quest of a sheltering roof; how he found one at last, and how much his mind was troubled when he pictured to himself an impatient audience in vain awaiting his appearance. Suffice it to say that he reached here on Tuesday morning, but, alas! too late for any practical good.

The facts are, therefore, that, on the appointed evening, the audience were missing; the lecturer ditto; the reasons thereof, respectively—a rainy night, and a non-conductor. Like as in the cases of railroad smash-ups, no blame is attached to any one. For the next lecture before this course see advertisement!

Yours, patiently, DON QUIXOTE.

☞ Messrs. Thomas Norton, and Benjamin Norton, with several others in their company, left this city for Winona, Minnesota, on Thursday morning. We are sorry to lose so many good working men, but wish them health and wealth wherever they go.

For sale in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Thacher.

All Fools Day.—This being the first of April, all sorts of pranks allowable on the occasion will be played off by those who take pleasure and derive sport from such an exercise of their wits. The origin of this time honored festival—if we may call it a festival—every one is perfectly familiar with, or ought to be; if they are not, they will probably derive some information on the subject by consulting the 20th chapter of Isaiah, 7th verse.—Newburyport Herald.

A gentleman in our office yesterday, on reading the above, took down our Bible to see for himself "the origin of the time honored festival." But on finding but six verses in the chapter aforesaid, he closed the book with a less edified expression of countenance than he is wont to show after scriptural examinations.—Portland Adv.

The Manchester Mirror on Wednesday (April fools' day) inserted a Munchausen story about some strange singing on Hanover Square, in that city, and next day said several hundreds were green enough to visit the square at the hour designated. All the singing they heard, was the "hum" of the bug "in their ears."

Domestic Tragedies in Kentucky.—At Louisville, on Friday morning last, an awning maker named Travers, a drunkard, who had been on a spree for several days, came home, cut his wife's throat, and then lay down beside her and remained in that position until the noonday, when he was arrested by the police, and attempted to kill himself. The wife was about 24 years old, and was honest and respectable. In Bullitt county, on Thursday, Julius Bukey, a respectable old man, shot his daughter, 17 years old, and then shot himself. She was enamored of a young man whom he disliked, and as he supposed from her saying that she was going out to spend the evening, that she was about to elope, he refused to let her leave the house. Angry words ensued, and in the heat of passion, he first struck her, and then drew a revolver and shot her twice, both shots taking effect. The unfortunate girl fell dead at his feet, in the presence of her mother. The wretched man rushed from the house, with the fatal weapon in his hand, pursued by a son. He tried to seize his father's arm to wrench the pistol from him, but he eluded his grasp, and after retreating a few steps, placed the pistol to his own head and blew his brains out.

Col. Benton.—The Newburyport Herald thus pays its respects to "Old Bullion:"

The report that Col. Benton has written a letter against emancipation in Missouri, surprises some people, after his talk to us last winter, in which he claimed that he was one of the best emancipationists. But the truth is, he is a supernaturated old granny. It is true that is not the most respectful language to be applied to a statesman who has really been useful to his country, and of whose patriotism there can be no doubt; but we have no patience with those old men who outlive themselves and all the common sense they ever had, and still want to regulate the world.

Almost an Accident.—A gentleman in Newburyport, employs an old man to do work about his house, who occasionally engages his leisure hours in fishing. The other day, the old fellow caught a fine lot of eels which he placed in a bag, and was trudging along home while the eels wound themselves into a living ball. It was late in the evening, and to save time he concluded to call at the gentleman's house before reaching home.—Unfortunately, he left his sack of eels squirming as they were upon the gentleman's steps, who returning home and finding in the dark a bundle, with something living and moving within it, was much alarmed, concluding that that some cast-away child had been forced upon his care. He rang his bell violently and called loudly to his wife—"Almira, come here, come quick!" The good woman terrified, and not stopping to reach the spot, asked—"what is the matter?" "Come here! bring a light! here is a foundling on the steps," and whether his conscience began to smite him, or what not—the man came near fainting; when the light approached, the mystery was explained, and the enraged husband kicked the bag of water-snakes into the street.—Herald.

Caution against Racing.—A story is going the rounds, of a traveler coming to a swollen stream, finding a floating log fastened with a grapevine to each shore, but a strong current ran between each end of the log and the shore, and after spending half a day and receiving a dozen duckings in getting across, he found nailed up the following placard:—

"Two dollars fine for crossing this bridge fast ter than a walk."

Rev. Mr. Kalloch.—The rumor that Mr. Kalloch is to withdraw from the ministry and devote himself to the study of law has no foundation. We learn from good authority that he intends to resume his pastoral duties, and that he will insist upon a new trial. He has no doubt that a new trial would result in an acquittal.—Boston Telegraph

A Lucky Negro.—A prize of thirty thousand dollars was drawn in Gregory Maury's lottery, at Louisville, by a ticket of which half was owned by a slave, whose master on learning it, sold him his freedom and let him off with the rest of the money.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Franck & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend, and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as carefully protected as if they were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the next drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tersey combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Possessing one of the Largest-Sized Cameras, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.
A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process for Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it.

MARRIAGE GUIDE,

BY DR. WM. YOUNG.

YOUNG'S great PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK, The POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One His Own Doctor, by WM. YOUNG, M.D. M. D. is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still it is a book that should be kept from the young, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents. Address Dr. WM. YOUNG, No. 1½ SPRUCE street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unexpended by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. THE PRESENT OFFICE is the subscriber's, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has every reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the usage of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have some commissioner appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected, with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the plan of scheme one number on every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
Below is a list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

Lawrence's Carminative,

OR

CHILD'S PAIN-KILLER.

THIS Invaluable Preparation is a favorite scientific prescription of one of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty in New England, and one who has been as successful as any other in the treating of

DISEASES OF CHILDREN,

and it has been used with never failing success.
The Carminative is emphatically

A CHILD'S MEDICINE,

and is the only child's medicine in this country; intended to do away with the excessive and injurious use of Paregoric, a remedy sure to be followed by a Dose of Opium.
The ingredients of which the Carminative is compounded are known to the Medical Faculty; and it is now extensively used, and approbated by the Physicians living in the vicinity of the Laboratory, where opportunity has been had to test its virtues.
The Carminative is offered in full confidence for the rapid cure of

Colic, Pain in the Bowels, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Green Stools, Diarrhœa, Nervous Affections, Sore Mouth, Restlessness,

and other disorders incident to Weaning and Teething; are to regulate derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, which often afflict young children; correct debilitated and sour Stomachs, relieve Pain and give tone, energy and strength to the whole system.
Due regard has been taken to have the price of the Carminative so low as to be within the reach of all.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS, and parents who value rest not lail to buy a bottle, as they may depend upon its giving relief to "worrisome children."

Sold by druggists, traders and all Apothecaries throughout the United States and Canada.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Mr. W. F. Lawrence.—Dear Sir;—Having made trial of your Carminative, in several severe and very critical cases of Bowel Complaints, attended with Prolapsus, with entire success, and, from a knowledge of its virtues, I cheerfully recommend it for the complaints for which it is designed, as the best medicine with which I am acquainted.—A medicine of the kind being often needed, and I doubt not will be a favorite with all mothers and the Medical Faculty as soon as known.
Nath'l Batchelder, M. D.
Epping, July 23, 1853.

Mr. Lawrence:—Dear Sir—I have used your "Cherry Pectoral" and "Carminative" ever since they were first introduced by you, and am now purchasing them by the pallon. They have proved themselves successful in every instance of trial, and I regard them as very valuable medicines.
Yours truly, Joseph Dalton, M. D.
Brentwood, Aug. 10, 1853.

Mr. W. F. Lawrence—Dear Sir: We find your Carminative to be a very valuable medicine for the diseases incident to infancy,—a class of complaints which often baffle the skill of experienced physicians.

Hutchins' Hair Dye.

The very best now in use, as the many thousands that have tried it will testify.
THE great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring it, gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is known to be a safe and sure remedy in all cases, they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to overcome obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deadly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the female health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, no time should be lost in the remedy of these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
Those who cannot conveniently call for boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. A. Cheeseman, Box No. 6381 Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

PHILLIPS ON TEMPERANCE.

The Boston Chronicle contains the following report of a late lecture in Boston, by Wendell Phillips:

Mercantile Hall was densely crowded on Sunday evening on the occasion of an address on temperance by Wendell Phillips.

In commencing, Mr. Phillips said he was glad to be able to be there to throw the least weight into the scale of this great movement. Twenty years ago he became a teetotaler, and it had become so much of an element in his nature that he had almost forgotten the arguments with which it was sustained. He had not been able to give much to the cause, other than an example, and that every one owed. He did not think with a man of forty a temperance speech could open a new light, for he could look back over his whole life and see in his own experience, the whole course of intemperance. Much had been gained in twenty years in this cause; a drinking life had come to be looked upon with disgust—this was a great step. Formerly you could not enter a public house but what in the very vestibule all the apparatus of intemperance stared you in the face. Twenty years ago if you went to the Astor House, you had only to enter its doors to see the character of an American gentleman; now you had to go down stairs in order to find it out. In this country public opinion was the controlling power—get the fleas right, and the customs will soon follow. He was in favor of prohibitory law, to stop the vice of intemperance.—Few young men were able to say "no;"—it was an angel wandered down from heaven who could say "no" under all temptations—it was the highest of human attainments. But as so few were gifted with the power, it was the duty of society to say "no," and thereby protect its members.

If a man lived through means of the liquor traffic, brand him with the name.—Nay if he died by it, and it was necessary to write an obituary, put it at the end.

It had been said that public opinion was not up to the law, but the difficulty was that those men who went for the law left it to stand alone. The gentleman who had spoken before him said he rejoiced in the success of the movement, but the reform could never be dispensed with—when we had saved that young man, we had not saved the one that comes directly behind him. He was inclined to believe that the temperance cause had been narrowed down too much.

It had been said that those who had visited Italy and Spain, and other European countries, that there was not so much drinking there as in this country; there was a good reason for it—they could not afford it; money was not so easily gained as it was in this country, and brandy was very dear. The great secret of so much intemperance in our country was that wealth was so easily gained by the masses. Temperance was not abstinence alone, it was cultivation and education. If you drive the devil out, you must supply the place with something nobler—tempt the higher faculties to expand.

If you cannot give a man the highest intellectual basis, give him the next position below—do not seek to narrow down and contract the workings of the minds. If we took away the amusement which was furnished by the custom of drinking, we must supply its place with something else. The will, great as it is, cannot stand alone; but he did not wish to doubt the power of the will. A little word accomplished great things at times. He once knew a man who, when a boy of nineteen, was about to start for the sea. When at the garden gate his mother came to him and said, "my boy, I never saw the sea, but those who have tell me that you a e going where the temptation to drink is great; promise me that you will never touch the cup." He said, "mother, I do." And he told me that this promise haunted him all round the world, and whenever he was tempted, that mother at the garden gate, with tears in her eyes, rose up before him, and he was saved. Years after, when he had settled down in life, a man came to him and thanked him for repeating the scene to him—it had saved him from a drunkard's grave.

It took long ages to develope great ideas. He supposed that it would take a hundred years to develope the sentiment in this country which would acknowledge that a man had the right to speak as he thought, and a hundred years longer to acknowledge that a negro has a right to his personal self. He never saw a young man at the threshold of manhood, without trembling at the gauntlet which was to be run. It was a glorious thing for a man to be able to say in the autumn of life, that if he had never spoken brave words for humanity, he had not committed a single act which had tended to lower his brother in the scale. If we knew the value of temperance to its opposite, we should welcome it, and support it with all the powers with which we were gifted.

His closing appeal to the young men present was a most beautiful production.

PRESIDENTIAL GALLANTRY—MR. BUCHANAN GETTING THE MITTENS.—We find in the last issue of the Frankfort Yeoman a letter from the President to a Mrs. Webber, of Wayne County, Indiana, acknowledging the receipt of a handsome pair of mittens. We copy the epistle in full.

WHEATLAND, PENN., Dec 12, '57.

My dear madam: I have received your favor of the 5th inst, with the mittens you were kind enough to send me. I accept them with much pleasure as a token of regard from one of the matrons of Indiana.

To your noble state the whole country is under great obligations for its triumphant support of the Constitution and the Union at the late Presidential election.

In compliance with your request, I transmit you a likeness of myself, and hope you will accept an additional present, the enclosed sum of $25. I trust that, under the blessing of Providence, I may continue to deserve your good opinion.

From your friend, very respectfully,
JAMES BUCHANAN.

Mrs. Phebe Webber.

NOTICE.—Temperance with its comprehensive Pledge.—The subscriber holds himself in readiness to lecture on the great and suffering cause of Temperance, wherever its friends solicit his labors.

The subjoined pledge, the pledge of the "Advance Guard of the Temperance Army," he administers at the close of his lectures to youth and all adults, who choose to take it.

"I ——— do solemnly promise totally to abstain from the use of all intoxicating liquors, as a drink, and from the manufacture and sale of them, except for medicinal and mechanical purposes." I also promise to abstain, totally, from the use of tobacco, in all forms; also, from profane language. I will, also, use my best endeavors to induce others to sign this pledge."

FITCHBURG, Mass. GEO. TRASK.

WIFE MURDER AND ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—Our city was startled yesterday, with the report that a tragedy had been consummated in Bond street. Thomas Traver, a native of Ireland, murdered his own wife by the infliction of a stab, with the blade of a large penknife, in her side, and then attempted his own destruction with the same implement. It was known to the neighbors that the couple had not lived amicably together, and at the hour of 4 o'clock, yesterday morning, a struggling noise was heard in the house, which led to the suspicion of foul play. It was not known until about one o'clock in the afternoon that the foul deed had been perpetrated, and even then only by the confession of the murderer. The woman was about 25 years of age. The murderer was arrested. —Louisville Democrat, 4th.

The Elmira Advertiser, in speaking of the fashions, says—"Strip all the men and women of our village of their fine clothes, and what a change would be apparent!"

"It is a solemn thing to be married," said Aunt Bethany. "Yes; but it's a deal more solemn not to be!" said her niece.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their uniform uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

GOING WEST.

Never within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant, has there been a time when so many persons have made, are making, or would like to make arrangements to emigrate to the Western States, as now. There always was, and probably always will be, such a desire to change locations, that whenever any inducement offers, based on superiority of soil, climate, or business facilities, a Yankee is ready to pull up stakes, and avail himself of it.

There are some men who have labored hard, and deprived themselves of the common comforts of life, to enable them to secure for themselves a home. They have neat and convenient houses, or good farms under such a state of cultivation, that with a moderate share of industry, they can obtain a living, and something more. They have everything heart could wish to make them contented and happy, except that they have a violent attack of Western fever. They have heard of a fairy land, where it is continued summer, and everything grows spontaneously, or with little cultivation! Dreams of large and fertile farms; of cattle and sheep in abundance; of large crops and ready market, haunt them by day and night; labor becomes irksome—old and familiar associations have lost their attractions, and there seems to be no remedy for their condition, but to sell out and go West. The farm is sold for half its value—the stock and utensils to the best advantage, and the household goods almost given away. The family are on their way to the West, and the first day's journey is sometimes sufficient to cure the fever, if it were not that they had sold out, and have too much pride to return.

They find a desirable location—put up a log cabin, and commence life anew. The women and children wish a thousand times a day they could be where they started from, but no such intimation is found in letters received, as it would afford a kind old aunt too much satisfaction, to find her prediction verified.

If all who emigrate with their families to the far West, could know, before taking the first step, what deprivations and sufferings they are to experience, before they are well settled, and acclimated, not more than one-fourth who now go, would ever leave their present endurable condition for one so uncertain in its ultimate results. There are undoubtedly many advantages in the West, not enjoyed in the Atlantic States, but there are, also, disadvantages known only to those who have become inured to prairie life.

As a general rule, a man who is enabled to make a comfortable living for himself and those dependent on him, by agricultural, mechanical or other pursuit, cannot do better, and would be really unwise to accept a deed of every acre of land Uncle Sam possesses. Even in New England, which is said by those suffering from a violent attack of Western fever, to be a hard country to get a living in, there is much more suffering from want of exercise, than from too much labor; and from overfeeding, than from want of food. The labor necessary to till the soil of New Hampshire, is one of the greatest blessings we enjoy, and contributes more to the health, vigor and moral purity of the people, than anything else.

With industry and economy, the means of living can be obtained almost anywhere. True happiness does not depend on the possession of large estates, bank stock, herds of cattle, or ships at sea; but on a confiding reliance on a beneficient Providence, while exercising the powers and faculties we possess in contributing to the wants of our physical, mental and moral nature. The man who has a business from which enough is made to meet the necessaries of life, and a little to spare for charitable purposes, often, aye, generally, has fewer ungratified desires than he who is the owner of a large estate, from which he derives a great income. It is the experience of nearly every rich man, that every dollar added to his possession, increases his desire for another, and lessens his disposition to part with anything valuable. It is not always a good reason for going West, that wealth can be more readily acquired there than here. Thus sensibly writes the Milford Republican.
